How to Get a Homestead in the West.

So many people are settling in this country that in a short time it will be difficult to obtain land along the line of railway. Anyone wishing to have a homestead here will do well to have us select and enter it for him as soon as it is surveyed. We can locate you in any part of Saskatchewan. For full particulars write at once to

Farmers of South Grey

Do any of you want to sell your farms? Have you got rich and now want to retire? Do you want to sell out and go West? Do you, for any reason, wish to sell? Then let me place your property on my list. No charge if no sale. I have sold a great deal of land lately and have just now but little left thought I always have inquiries from persons wishing to buy. It will pay you to deal through me. Con. Knapp advertised his farm a long time in several papers but couldn't sell it. He placed it with me and I sold it at once. I have had many similar experiences.

I Have 100 acres just now that is a particularly good snap. It has fine barn, dwelling and other improvements and one of the best pieces of bush in Bentinck. Price about $2,000.

I lend money at lowest rates, smallest cost, shortest notice and on your own terms. All kinds of debts and claims collected. No charge if no money made. Any and every kind of business transaction attented to carefully and with strictest privacy.

MOTTO: "Always prompt, never negligent." Four years in David Jackson's office in Durham; 20 years in the same business at Hanover. That experience should count for something, shouldn't it.

The exporter, on the other hand, looking to his own immediate profit on the transaction, buys cheese that should be left in the curing-room to ripen. The salesman is disposed to blame the exporter for the present condition of things, and vice versa, but it takes two to make a bargain, and it is safe to assume that both parties are to blame in this case. It is greatly to be regretted that for the sake of a little temperory advantage both factory men and exporters should be willing to endanger a trade which has required so many years to reach its present high standard, and which means so many millions of dollars to the farmers of Canada. The patrons of factories would be consulting their own interests by insisting that their cheese should be held in the curing-room until it is in the best condition to please the British consumer,

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Seven Persons Saved from a Watery Grave.

Markdale Standard.

Messrs. W. L. McFarland, of this place, and R. O. Whitby, of Rochester, N. Y., who had been recently visiting his old home here, were spending a week at Portland, Ont., which is situated on the Rideau Lake. On Saturday, the 8th inst., they were joined by Dr. and Mrs, Robertson, of Montreal, Dr. and Miss Ethel Mc-Dowell and Mr. Walden, of Kingston, and went for a trip down the Rideau River to Smith's Falls, some twenty miles, with a gasoline launch. The gaged with his pastorate duties on wind was blowing a gale, and when this circuit, his little boy having ensome five miles from Smith's Falls tirely recovered from his severe illthe boat struck some hidden obstruct ness. tion which tore a hole in the hull, They had no row boat along, as is customery, and their situation can be better imagined than told. The boat was sinking rapidly. Dr. Mc-Dowell grasped the the tow line and sprang into the water towards a floating buoy near by, swam to it and pulled the boat alongside when the stration as "pure-bred registered occupants climbed upon the buoy which latter was made of cedar and about four feet square. As soon as the seven got upon this it began to sink, going down gradually but surely until they were up to the neck in water. The sea of cold surging water with land half a mile or more distant and no means of escape was certainly a dismal outlook. Dr. Robertssn tried to swim ashore but the whitecaps were too much for him and he returned. Then McFarland struck out. The water was cold and the waves dashed over him, but it was a struggle for life, yea, for lives, and success was his reward, but he was almost exhausted when he reached the shore. A farm house some threequarters of a mile distant was sighted, and though he had to wade water, plunge through marsh and a dismal thicket, he reached the home of Messrs. Robert and James Ogilvy, two bachelors, who had a row boat, the only one on that shore, and with it rescued the party, after a fourhour stand on the buoy under water. These hospitable bachelors rendered every possible assistance with food and fire, and drove the seven five miles to Smith's Falls. Here, great excitement prevailed, word having been brought by a regular boat of the evidence of a lost party having been sighted on the billows. Fully two hundred people lined the dock eager to learn who had been drowned, but overjoyed to find all alive. The party lost various articles of wearing apparel. among them a coat belonging to Dr. Robertson with $130 in the pocket.

W. L. McFarland was deluged with compliments for his strength and bravery in rescuing the party. He attributes his success largely to the experience he has had swimming in Bell's Lake ever since he was a boy. His many friends were pleased to see Green Cheese not Wanted in Britain. him arrive home safely on Saturday last.

> Dr. and Mrs. Robertson were quite exhausted on reaching land, the latter having to be carried to the farm house, but one and all escaped serious injury from their perilous experience.

The Great Western Fair.

The Western draws near again with every prospect of maintaining. It is simply another case of "killing or surpassing the high average of success and proficiency attained in the past few years. As an Agricultural and Live Stock Exhibition it is generally conceded to be second to none. It has become almost indispensable to the farmers of Western Ontario, as an educational factor in all that relates to husbandry in its highest development. A special reason why this year's exhibition should make a new record in patronage is the general diffusion of prosperity which marks "the growing time." Work is more plentiful among the laboring classes and wages higher then for years, while for nearly all their products, combined with fairly abundant crops. Naturally all are in a cheerful frame of mind and have more money to spend, so that the Fair should profit correspondingly, and doubtless will.
