TEMS OF INTEREST CLIPPED AND RE-WRITTEN FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

A charge of cruelly beating a child was laid at the Police Court, Stratford, against a farmer named Levi. of Fullarton. The Humane Society of the city took the matter up. The defendant was fined $100 and costs. Levi adopted the girl, and in an endeavor to cure her of telling lies used a shingle with such force and perto whom the girl ran for safety, fainted at the sight of her injuries. His Worship decided that one-tenth of the fine be collected now, the rement be repeated .- Ayton Advance.

Mrs. Wm. Berry, of Bentinck, had been ill in the neighborhood of a couple of years and her friends feared that she had gone into decline. She frequently had severe spasms of coughing. During one of these violent efforts a couple of weeks ago she coughed up a black animal about three inches long which resembled a lizard in a great degree. The Berry water and it is thought that Mrs. Berry swallowed the egg in this way. Since the event she has shown marked improvement in health,-Shallow Lake Advertiser.

It has been reported that a chemist at the Wiarton sugar factory tested some of the water from Mr. Armour's spring and found it contained 5 per cent. of sugar. The great query is: what is the cause of this very strange coincidence? An investigation was made and the following is the result of their deliberations: That Overholt Bros. and S. E. Foster have thirty-six acres of beets just above the rock and over the land from whence the spring takes its rise, and as the cells in the beets that store the saccharine matter had been filled they overflowed and soaked into the soil, and the soil became so sweetened that it affected the water in the spring. The company owning the beets expect a very high sugar percentage, and consequently are very jubilant over the prospect of receiving a handsome pile of money this fall. The man who owns the farm now asks $7,000 for it. -Wiarton Echo.

The crew and passengers on the late train Wednesday last week will never know just how near they came to being carried over the high bridge. Two horses got through the cattle guard, that is easily enough done. and on the track. The engineer could not discern them till it was too late to stop the train. One horse was struck about 10 feet from the entrance to the bridge and carried nearly half way across. The second horse had evidently walked down the platform of the bridge, and when attempting to cross the track was caught between the rails and carried nearly across the bridge. The engineer had to stop loughby had to pay the note, which the train, because part of the carcass was caught underneath the smokebox of the engine and had to be chopped out. The bridge was bespattered with hair, blood, flesh and entrails. It is a miracle the train was not thrown off the track. As has been known for some time, Mr. Turnbull, of Cleveland, Ohio, an oil expert of wide experience, has been in the city and interesting himself in the local gas and oil prospects. In conversation with a Journal representative this morning, Mr. Turnbull stated that the prospects for finding oil in the near vicinity of Lincoln and Welland counties is increasingly bright. About three weeks ago he made a personal inspection of the gas fields, about five miles northeast of Dunnville, and has in his possession a bottle of oil taken from one of the wells in that neighborhood, which he showed to the reporter, and which he stated was crude petroleum of the same quality as that from which American oil is made. Pursuant to adjournment last week Gabriel Goodman's case came before Peter McGregor, J. P., Tuesday morning, The charge against the Jew was one of fraud in connection with a promissory note. Mr. Chas. H. Willoughby, of Proton, brought the action and his evidence was to the following effect. Goodman representing himself as the owner of property worth $3,000 induced Willoughby to endorse his note in the Bank of Hamilton for $100. Wilmatured in April last, Enquiry brought out the fact that Goodman did not own any Toronto property hence the charge and arrest, Goodman pleaded not guilty and swore he did not state to Willoughby or to any one else at any time that he owned property in Toronto.
