Rev. A. Logan, a Presbyterian minister, has resigned his charge at Chelsea to become editor of the Warrton Echo. To even the thing up as it were, Rev. Mr. Thynne, of Arthur, has sold out the Enterprise there, to accept a call from the Presbyterian congregation at Underwood.—Markdale Standard.

A lot of fellows in an Ohio town had a good time with a tramp recently. They took him to a shed, gave him a bath, shaved him and cut his hair. They then bought a new suit of clothes, white shirt and stand up collar and dressed him up complete, but when they attempted to burn his clothes he objected and began to fight with such desperation that their suspicions were aroused, and upon searching they found $1,400 sewed up in the coat.—Ex.

The semi-annual meeting of the Rural Deacons of South Grey and the Convention of the W. A. of the entire county were held at Markdale, Sept. 1st. Services were held in a Christ church at 11 o'clock, when a very able and comprehensive sermon on missions in general was preached by the Rural Dean, the Rev. F. Ryan, B. D., from St. Matt. XXIV, 14. There was Holy Communion, the celebrant being the Rural Dean assisted by the Rev. Messrs. Newell and Hinde. In the afternoon at 2:30 the chapter met in the church, all the clergy of the deanery being present and a fair attendance of the laity. The business before the meeting was of a routine nature and was pleasantly transacted. The W. A., which was convened in the basement of the church, was quite largely attended, a large contingent having come from Durham and Owen Sound. Many of the members desired that the Association should remain one society as it had been in the past before the division of the country into two rural deaneries; but this proposition was voted down. Consequently North and South Grey shall have each a separate Association. The members of the Rural deanery and of the W. A. were hospitably entertained by the Markdale W. A., and a most enjoyable day was spent.—Markdale Standard.

On Thursday night of last week some cowardly thieves entered the farm belonging to Geo. Geddes, Con. 2, Bruce, where Gottchalk's threshing outfit was left for the night and stripped it of all the fixtures that could be removed and carried them away with them. Besides doing this they turned the tap on the water glass so it would show a sufficient quantity of water required for the boiler and then nearly emptied the boiler by turning the blow-off tap. The nefarious scoundrels no doubt thought that Mr. Gottchalk would fire up first thing in the morning and leave the engine till steam would get up, as is often done and thereby ruin his boiler. Such a dastardly trick to take place in law-abiding Bruce has created no little excitement and is the talk of the community. The general belief is that the party or parties are not foreigners but are residents of the township. An officer should be put to work to ferret out the case and punish the thieves severely. Some of the belt and engine fixtures were found on the roadside on Saturday at noon near twenty sideline, where it is supposed they were left by the guilty parties who had them hid in a small swamp. It cost Mr. Gottchalk $90 to replace the missing articles and had just got his machine in running order when the stuff was found. The fact that the articles were recovered does not clear the thieves, and if they are found out punish them to the full extent of the law. That is the public sentiment.—Kincardine Review.

As the rush of harvest is over once more we will try and send in a few more items.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Sowerby are among the many sightseers at Toronto this week. Mrs. Sowerby's sister, Miss Mumby, of Sullivan, is looking after the household duties in their absence.

Mr. Matthew Scott and his son Will took the morning train on Tuesday for Temiscaming Districts where they may probably locate.

Mr. John Duncan, Sr., has been ill of late, the trouble being water around the heart. sorry to report him not much better.

Miss Mable Bradley is improving as well as can be expected after a very severe attack of appendicitis. We expect the Traverston scribe will give full particulars.

Miss Nicholson, teacher at Sowerby's School, returned last week from an eight weeks visit among the principal cities of England and Scotland. She speaks highly of the friendliness and sociability of the people on the other side of the pond.

Mr. Joseph Boyle and T. Abbott are rushing the carpenter work of R. E. English's new house.

Mr. Joseph Sproule is showing signs of prosperity. He completed his new barn about a month ago and is now building an addition to his house. John Duncan has the contract.

Flesherton.

(Intended for last week.)

Commercial reciprocity with Canada and a better understanding between the two countries is a subject now attracting much attention throughout the United States. Many Canadian-born Americans are taking an active interest in the movement, among whom we notice is Mr. Herb. Strain, of Great Falls, Mont., a Flesherton "old boy," who is to be congratulated on his excellent address before the Trans-Mississippi Congress in its fourteenth annual session at Seattle on the 19th ult. In editorial comment on Mr. Strain's address the Great Falls Daily Tribune says "it must be some satisfaction to him that the Congress took his view of the question and indorsed his speech." Mr. Strain introduced his subject with an allusion to his 20 years of residence in the United States, his loyalty to the Stars and stripes and his affection to the flag of Canada. Continuing, he said in part, "geographically we are a unit; we speak the same language and have similarly of government in township, county and city. Look at the magnitude of the empire north of us: it has 3,500,000 square miles and is capable of maintaining 75,000,000 of inhabitants. Western Canada has been rightly called the future bread supply of North America, as it is estimated that three-quarters of the wheat growing area is situated north of the international boundary line. Canada's export in this cereal alone will soon amount to 250,000 bushels annually. Few places offer such opportunities for capital as does that vast undeveloped country, and to-day the largest smelters, the richest mines and the most extensive pulp mills are controlled by American capital. In wood pulp we are largely dependant on Canada for our paper supply, and from their vast spruce forests an almost unlimited quantity may be obtained." After referring to the commercial treaty in force from 1854 to 1866, the abrogation of which was largely due to political irritation, Mr. Strain entered the realm of figures to show that trade with Canada, which is the third largest customer they have, was worth cultivating. "It is estimated," said he, "that imports from the United States for 1903 will go over the $150,000,000 mark. With fuller and fewer trade relations we cannot but obtain full compensation for whatever effort we put forth, and what better way to promote the good will, which we all so much desire between the two countries." The waste of effort in long transportation and the natural trading points between the two countries, separated only by an imaginary line, were then dealt with, after which, said Mr. Strain, "I might continue to enumerate benefits to be derived by having closer relations with Canada. Our rapidly disappearing forests would be checked by the free admission of lumber, and in times of emergency, such as total failure of our crops or the destruction of our forests by fire, it would not only be desirable but necessary. "How then," asked he, "are we to proceed to the commercial capture of Canada? A healthy sentiment will have to be created, there must be mutual forbearance and consideration, a principle of give and take, for we are dealing with a people who are our equals in courage and intelligence. Already enthusiastic reciprocity clubs are at work, and if there is anything more accomplished at this congress than a stimulus to bring into closer commercial relations these two countries, our efforts will be amply repaid. In conclusion, said Mr. Strain, I would that the banners of the two nations were entwined, not for the purpose of conquest, but in the social and commercial development of this great North American continent."

"Let us speak to each other face to face, and answer as man to man, and loyally love and trust each other as none but free men can."

Miss Martha Wauchob, youngest daughter of the late Samuel Wauchob, of Artemesia, passed away on Monday of last week at the home of her brother, near Protox Station. The funeral took place at the Flesherton cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, the burial services being conducted by Rev. L. W. Thom, of this place. Deceased was thirty seven years of age and had been suffering for some time with dropsy. Her aged mother has the sympathy of many friends in her bereavement.

A little daughter of Mr. Wm. Pedlar's, Collingwood Road, who a couple of weeks ago broke her collar bone while playing with her little brother, is, we are pleased to learn, improving nicely.

The new cement tile bridge over the Saugeen River at Stinson's was completed some days ago and is said by those who have seen it to be a well done and substantial job. The new bridge on the same river at Boyd's mill, which is a substantial structure on solidly built stone butments, is almost completed. Mr. Holley did the masonry and Mr. Jno. Whitea is doing the woodwork. The total cost will be about $800. Reeve McTavish has had a busy summer superintending contracts.

The Methodist church choir here were at Priceville on Thursday evening last entertaining at a garden party given by the Methodist church there.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid are going to have a garden party at Mr. Jacob Thompson's, east back line, on Friday evening of next week.

In general with other crops, potatoes in this locality are a good crop this year, but are being affected by rot, due, it is thought, to so much rain of late. The tubers are being harvested as quickly as possible to prevent further decay.

There was no school here on Monday—Labor Day—but otherwise it was not observed as a holiday. Artemesia Council met for the transaction of business.

An administrator's sale of the real estate of the late Charles Hales, of the Durham Road, was held on Saturday last. The homestead was sold to the deceased's sister Miss Maggie Hales, but the farm on the 4th line, Osprey, was not disposed of.

Rev. D. A. Holman, of Freeport, Mich., is, after an absence of 12 years, visiting his mother and other relatives here. Mr. Holman preached in the Methodist church on Sabbath evening and gave a fluently delivered and interesting sermon on "Future Recognition."

Mrs. C. W. Chadwick, of Toronto, is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Bulmer, here.

Mr. Donald McRae, of near Ottawa, who lived here 34 years ago, was in town last week while visiting his brother. Mr. Alex. McRae, Sr., at Ceylon.

Rev. John Osborn, who has been a pastor in Michigan the past five years, was also in town last week while visiting his sister, Mrs. Robt. Waller, west back line. Mr. Osborn spent his early days in this township leaving here about 30 years ago.

Miss Lizzie Gordon, of Brooklyn, N. Y., after an absence of six years, spent from Friday till Monday with old friends here, who found it a real pleasure to meet her again and thought her visit all too short. Miss Gordon was returning east from a few weeks' holidays up the lakes and taking in the Mackinaw trip.

Mr. Andrew Wilson was called to Toronto last week to attend the funeral of his sister, who met her death when alighting from a street car. We extend to Mr. Wilson our sincere sympathy in his trouble.

Mr. W. Allen, of Toledo, Ohio, paid his mother-in-law, Mrs. George

Rocky Saugeen.

The harvest is now safely stored away in this section and the hum of the thrashing machine can now be heard in all directions.

We omitted to mention in our last budget the departure of Mrs. Middleton for Durham where she will remain and keep house for her son, Walter, for some time.

Mr. Neil McLean has been assisting his brother-in-law, Mr. David Watson for the last two weeks of the harvest.

Mr. William Heugan, who is fairly well settled at Harness Making in your town spent Sunday at the parental home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hewitt took a business trip to Owen Sound Thursday.

Mr. Dan McDonald, of Welbeck Mills, accompanied by Mr. John Nelson, passed through here a week ago Sunday.

Mr. George Collinson, of Aberdeen, accompanied by Miss Cassie McDonald of Durham, attended church at the Rocky week ago Sunday.

When the people of this place were awakened a week ago Friday night by whooping and cheering they probably thought that the country was taken by a tribe of Coma Indians but by investigation we found that it was the Durham Lacrosse Team who had crossed sticks with the Owen Sound Team that day, and no doubt was in good humor on account of having held their own with the big fellows of the Sound, but was sorry to learn that the Durham boys received such bad treatment.

Mr. Malcolm Stewart, of Welbeck, was renewing old acquaintance around the Rocky one evening last week. Come again Mack.

Wedding Bells are ringing if reports are true. Particulars later on. Mr. Dan McKechnie visited friends in Toronto and took in the Exhibition last week.

Glenmont.

Despite the unfavorable weather the wheat has at last been all garnered in, and the hum of the thrashing machine is again heard in our neighborhood.

Miss Minnie Halfpenny visited friends in Normandy last week. Ebenezer Choir spent an enjoyable evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ramage one evening lately.

Miss Ada Brown, of Henry's Corner's, spent a few days last week visiting the Misses Dixon, and also took in the Choir practise at Mr. Ramage's.

Miss Mary Hargrave of Vicker's was home a few days this week attending the wedding of her cousin in Proton.

Mr. W. L. Dixon, teacher, at Top Cliff, is busy preparing for an entertainment to be held in his school about the end of this month.

The Institute meeting held at Mrs. W. L. Dixon's on Thursday last was quite a success although the attendance was not so large as might have been expected owing to the disagreeable weather.

Rev. Mr. Roach attended the League Meeting on Monday night and gave a very interesting address.

It Will Give You an Appetite, And a stomach to take care of it, a digestion that will fill your veins with rich blood; if weak, it will strengthen the heart; will make the liver discharge its proper functions. Ferrozene will do all this, and more too. Ferrozene will increase your nerve force, and capacity for mental labor, and will make work a real pleasure. Every man, woman and child can derive benefit from Ferrozene. At all druggists.
