GATHERED DURING THE PAST WEEK FOR CHRONICLE READERS.

THE people say their feet are O. K. because they wear Peel's boots.

TAKE off that straw hat and inspect Theobald's stock of head gear.

L. O. L.—Regular meeting next Wednesday night, at the Orange Hall, in Durham.—T. Noble, Master.

REMEMBER East Lynne in the Town Hall to-morrow evening (Friday). Admission 10c. and 20c.

WANTED.—Two gentlemen boarders at private residence. Enquire at this office.

FOR SALE.—One horse wagon heavy, one democrat, both in good condition, will be sold cheap to a cash buyer. Apply to John Wright, taker.—2pd.

If you didn't call when you were in at the fall fair, its not too late yet to inspect our money savers, Theobald, the Clothier.

"WHAT kind of a girl do I want for a wife" will be discussed by Pastor Newton next Sunday evening in the Baptist church.

STAND by the "Lacrosse Boys" by patronizing their high-class Concert next Monday evening. Admission 35c and 25c. Go before the rush.

MR. S. F. MORLOCK promises one of the best Millinery Openings of the season on Friday and Saturday of this week. All are invited. See ad.

THE Rev. H. R. Diehl, rector of Tara, will preach special sermons and conduct Harvest Thanksgiving services next Sunday at 11 a.m., and 7 p.m. in Trinity church, and at 3 o'clock in Allan's school house. Trinity church will be suitably decorated with the fruits and flowers of the season. The choir, assisted by Dr. Brown of Holstein, will render special music.

SUNDAY evening the seating capacity of the Baptist church was taxed to its utmost, the drawing card being a special sermon to young people—"What must the young man be who asks my hand in marriage?" The pastor gave some good advice to the young ladies as to the right kind of men they should "get after," and spoke of the many unhappy marriages that have been made by not knowing the partner they were taking for life. Mr. Newton on this occasion was in a happy mood and gave the large audience the benefit of his pithy sayings.

COMING MONDAY EVENING.—The Gauthier-Brownridge Concert Co. will give a high-class entertainment in the Town Hall, on Monday evening, Sept. 28th, under the auspices of the Durham Lacrosse Club. The Company is certainly one of the best on the road and should be liberally patronized. Miss Adra Luton, Soprano, is an artist above the average. The Mail and Empire in commenting on her singing says that she possesses a rich dramatic voice of great range. The other artists are also well to the front. The price of admission is within the reach of all—35c and 25c. Plan of Hall at Darling's Drug Store.

THE concert given by the ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening was among the best if not the very best ever given here under their auspices. The musical part was provided mostly from local talent and it is safe to say that never before were their songs better rendered or better received by a large and sympathetic audience. Limited space forbids going into details of excellence. Miss Emma T. Irons, of Toronto, an elocutionist of rare power and unusual force, rendered, in our opinion, some of the best selections ever given here and her rendering was marked by originality of expression and dignity of bearing coupled with a keen sense of the heroic and the humorous. Her rendering of a Russian Love Story and of "How the Lerou Stakes were lost"—a Western Jockey tale, were especially good and brought down the house. She was encored again and again in every case gracefully responded. We bespeak for her a full house if she should again come to Durham. Mrs. Newton played the accompaniments with her usual grace and refined taste. Her closing solo was full of tender pathos, and that it touched a chord of sympathy in the audience could not be doubted from the oppressive silence that was maintained throughout. Messrs Telford and Drysdale, Mrs. Lauder, and Misses Crawford, Sun and Hunter were the local musicians that took part.

THE World's Fair at Holstein will be held on Tuesday, the 29th.

MONEY at 4 1/2%. MacKay & Dunn, Durham.—t.

JUST arrived a new stock of New Williams sewing machines at Barclay & Bell's.

MR FRED A. LEWIS, piano tuner of Berlin, expects to be in Durham in October.

THE most prompt attention given to your shoe orders and repairing at Peel's.

It's funny some ads you read guaranteeing $3 a day sure, easy work, etc. But Theobald's ad if read and followed out, will save you $3 or more on your suit or overcoat.

HEAR Massay Hall Artists in the Town Hall next Monday evening, under the auspices of the Durham Lacrosse Club. The plan is filling up fast at Darling's Drug Store.

DID you see Barclay & Bell's display at the Fall Show last Tuesday? I tell you what, they have the right kind of cutters and buggies for a man to buy.

A SUIT for damages arising out of poor fences, between some Bentinck farmers, was tried here Wednesday, but as full particulars are not at hand we refrain from further comment for the present.

MISS BANKS has been in the city on a business and pleasure trip. During her absence she made extensive purchases of the newest things in Fancy goods, Wools, patterns, etc. Remember the place, at Miss Dick's, McIntyre Block.

THE cement sidewalk men are husters on the shovel, and we heard a man say the other evening they were a nice lot of fellows and never a bad word out of them. If they work the way we saw them work they won't have much time for anything else.

REV. J. C. CAMERON, the assistant Superintendent for Baptist Home Missions, gave an illustrated address in the Baptist church last Friday evening. The attendance was small, but the lecturer and views were both interesting and profitable, as they told of early Missionary work in the Ottawa Valley by faithful servants.

POLICE Magistrate Telford is beginning to have his hands full of legal knots to unravel. To-day (Thursday) a suit under the criminal act is in progress with closed doors. The parties concerned are from near Glenora. It is a pity that paltry miserable things like this should be ventilated in the courts.

MR. HARRY BENTON is the first one in town to secure a diploma for Engineering from the International School at Scranton, Penn. Harry, we understand, was very successful at the examinations, and as a reward for his cleverness the school placed him in a good position in Toronto this week at a fat salary. Congratulations.

A PARAGRAPH is going the rounds of some of the local papers to the effect that a horse stolen from a liveryman in Harriston has been swapped in Durham to some farmer in Bentinck. We may state for the information of all these editors and others interested that the horse has been recovered by the owner and since sold to a dealer here. All the shady work in connection with this affair was done before the horse-thief struck Durham. The insinuation that there is "somebody back" here a horse exchange that deals in such stuff is in harmony with the editor that invented it.

THE following moral tributes of love and affection to Miss Maud Irwin were presented. These expressions of friendship and love deeply touched the heart of the bereaved father and sister, and they desire hereby to express their heartfelt thanks for the kindness shown. Floral Harp by the Epworth League and Methodist Sunday School. Anchor by Lena and Phebe Wolfe. Sickle by Mary Ferguson, Mt. Forest. Pillow of Roses by the girls. Three Links by the Rebekah's. Star by Margery, Marion and Edie McKenzie. Wreaths by Mrs. Benton, Mrs. Wolfe Mrs. Campbell, Miss S. McKinnon Mrs. Mocker. Bouquets by Jessie Barnett, Amie McCreary, Mr. and Mrs. Calder, Olivene Marshall, Miss King, Robert and Nellie Edwards, Edith and Arthur Allan, Jean Crawford and Mrs. A. McLaughlan. Besides these Mrs. Smith sent from the flower country three beautiful bouquets which were intended for the living, rather than for the casket of the dead.

People We Know

THE GOING AND COMING OF VISITORS IN THE MONTH OF SEPTEMBER.

Mrs. W. H. Bean is visiting friends in Howick township.

Mr. and Mrs. Karns of Toronto are visiting at Mrs. Smith's, lower town. Miss Jennie Stewart, of Toronto, is visiting Miss Ida Williams.

Miss Cora Derby, returned from Hamilton last week.

Mr. Joshua Woodland is on a short visit to his many friends in Durham and vicinity.

President Cowham, of the National Portland Cement Company, was in town over Sunday.

Mr. Samuel Wright, of Kincardine, and his son, Samuel, of Henfryn, are visiting friends in town.

Mr. J. L. Browne and Mr. W. H. Bean have been on the sick list but are again able to attend to business.

The obliging Secretary of the E. Grey Agricultural Society, Mr. R. J. Sproule paid a visit to our fair and gave us a friendly call.

Miss Maud and Master Fred Saunders returned home after an extended visit with friends in Winona and Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. Colin McDougall, who has been ill for some time, is slowly recovering and in about two weeks' time expects to be around again.

Mr. and Mrs. John Topham of Keldon, formerly of Glenelg, were the guests of Mr. James Davidson during the fair.

Mr. John Calder and his daughter Miss Calder of Yeovil, were the guests of Inspector Campbell on Tuesday.

Miss Eno Davidson returned this week after spending a couple of weeks pleasantly with friends in Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton, of Flesherton, gave THE CHRONICLE a friendly call on their way to Walkerton, Tuesday to attend the funeral of the late Mr. Thos. Long.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Yeomans of Mt. Forest, who acted as Judges at the fair, were the guests of Mrs. A. McKenzie, during Monday and Tuesday.

D. McNichol ex-M.P.P., of Lam-lash returned recently from an extended trip to Ottawa and other eastern points, much improved in health. He visited friends in Durham and vicinity during the fair and gave THE CHRONICLE a pleasant call.

We regret to learn that little Annie Russel is lying ill with typhoid fever at Fergus. She took sick about a week ago leaving home. Her case appears to be a light one and latest reports state she is making satisfactory progress towards recovery.

Rev. Wray R. Smith and Mrs. Smith were spending a few days' holiday among friends in the garden of Ontario—Winona and Grimby districts. The unexpected death of Miss Maud Irwin caused their return earlier than first intended and cut short a much needed rest.

Miss Martinoni, trained nurse, who was in attendance in the Editor's home returned to the hospital in Fergus on Monday afternoon. She has caught the spirit of a true nurse and by her willingness and kindness did much to soothe the last days of the departed girl.

We are pleased to learn of the safe return of Miss Belle McKenzie from her trip to Denver, Kansas City, and other great western centres. Miss McKenzie looks well and has evidently enjoyed the trip. Her brother and many other friends there are reported well and still remembering with pleasant recollections the home town. Miss McKenzie had many amusing experiences from mountain climbing on the backs of insignificant-looking burros to meandering in the flooded and mud-covered Bottoms of Kansas City. With her many friends THE CHRONICLE welcomes her back.

THE old saying that a fool and his money are soon parted was illustrated in many ways on our fair grounds Tuesday. While we have no sympathy whatever with the green suckers—and they were five deep around some of these gambling fakirs—who bite at the remote chance of getting something for nothing, we cannot close our eyes to the disgrace of it all, to the stir cast upon our Society for permitting such rascality on the grounds. No amount of fee paid for admission should induce any self-respecting management to consider the application for one moment, unless the business is legitimate and morally clean. We trust that next year a different course will be pursued, and that the special attractions will be other than the games of chance and other abominable features so much in evidence this year.

It's up to you to read Theobald's ad.

GRAND Millinery Opening and Fall Style display on Friday and Saturday of this week. You are invited to call and see display.—Jas. Ireland.

It's never too late to mend. If they don't get too bad in that case we can save money by buying a new suit at Theobald's.

REV. H. CALDWELL, of Burford, will preach in the Methodist church next Sunday morning and evening, and at Zion in the afternoon.

GENTLEMEN, you should call at Peel's shoe store and see the new fall lines in Box and Valour calf, laced and gaiters. They are simply grand.

You had better stop and look through our Dress Goods department when you come to our Millinery Openings.—Jas. Ireland.

THE slander case of Mrs. Brown vs. Horsburg, which came up for hearing at the Fall Assizes in Owen Sound last week, resulted in a verdict for the defendant.

It is now coming on towards fall when you will be starting to feed your roots, and in order to have your roots properly cut you ought to get a Maxwell turnip pulper. They are all the way.

Do not forget to call and see Barclay & Bell's stock of heaters, stoves and ranges. I am sure you will buy if you need a stove, as they have all kinds and at prices that will suit everybody.

EAST LYNNE, that old-time favorite drama, will be presented in the Town Hall on the evening of Friday, Sept. 25th, by a clean and clever Company which is touring the cities and large towns in this province. The admission is 10c. and 20c. Go and hear it. The press speak highly of it.

MISS DICK'S Millinery Opening will be held on Friday and Saturday. The latest styles and effects, the newest goods and the most charming varieties of design will be open for inspection. Don't fail to see this the brightest opening of the season, in the McIntyre Block.

GARAFRAXA ST. is gradually changing its old-time appearance with the changing times. The old warehouse on the south half of the Mockler property, recently purchased by Mr. Limin, is being refitted for a butcher shop, where doubtless the new proprietor will soon cater to the wants of his many customers. It is a pity the old building could not be replaced by a brick structure more in harmony with its closest neighbor, the Beggs' Block.

THE CHRONICLE will reach its readers late this week. No apology is made beyond saying that in our opinion before the issue is read through and the unfortunate bereavement of the Editor which compelled his absence from the office is known, none will be needed. The Fall Fair prize list has taken much time, and the grouping of such untoward circumstances is entirely beyond our control. The several departments of the paper which have made it characteristic of the Editor, are necessarily omitted. The office staff—and a fine courteous lot of young people they are too—and the temporary scribbler, have done their best. If you like the paper, tell the Editor about it, if you do not like it bury your dislike in the oblivion of silence and pray that sorrow may never again darken the dim recesses of the editor's sanctum.

THE Collingwood Enterprise-Messenger speaks of the Concert Co. which will appear in the Town Hall, Durham, under the auspices of the Lacrosse Club, on the evening of Monday, Sept. 28th, as follows:—"A well-pleased audience of Collingwood's representative citizens enjoyed the excellent programme furnished by the Gauthier-Brownridge Co. at the Grand Opera House last night. The artists without an exception proved themselves worthy of the highest praise. Miss Adra Luton, the Soprano, possesses a beautiful voice of exceptional range and sweetness, and she received an ovation after each number. Kathryn Chattoe Morton, the Contralto, charmed all her audience with her grand voice. Mr. Emerson Martin is a violin player of rare ability and expression. Mr. J. H. Brownridge, the comic singer and monologist, kept the audience in good humor whenever he appeared. The enjoyment was added to not a little by the excellent accompanist, Miss Gussie Roe. It is to be hoped that the Co. will visit Collingwood again shortly, and they can always be sure of a hearty welcome." Secure your seat at once. Plan at Darling's Drug Store. Admission 35c and 25c.
