Where Oxford Cream Separators are Made.

The above cut gives a good idea of the new cement block building in which the famous Oxford Cream Separators are now being made. Six months ago there was not a sign of a building, but, once operations began there was no time lost, and in less than four months the work of manufacturing was in progress. The main building is 100 feet long on each street by 30 feet wide, in the form of an "L" and only one story high (as may be seen.) For the manufacture of iron goods the company decided on the one-story type, to avoid excessive heavy labor, the interior is well equipped with the best machinery procurable, and they now are unable to fill orders although they have thirty-seven men on the pay roll and manufacture between twenty and thirty machines a week. The foundation is of solid concrete, while the walls are of hollow cement blocks, made from National Portland Cement, a material that is rapidly coming to the front for all structures where brick, stone, wood and iron were formerly used. The casting is done at present in the foundry of C. Smith and Sons of this town, and all the rest of the work in the building here shown. The Company has already established the reputation of the Oxford, made in four or five different sizes, and without being boastful we feel that no better machine can to-day be found on the market.

Priceville.

Prof. Stewart, a representative of the Professional Horseshoers' Association, lectured in Union Hall last week to arouse the enthusiasm of the tradesmen here. The object of the Association is to establish a College for horseshoers in Toronto and to grant all graduates a license for the practice of their profession. They will petition the Local Legislature for protection and the establishment of a tariff of fees. They claim that no blacksmith can do good work at present rates and the consequence is that so many horses are maimed. Spavins, ring bones, splints, sidebones are usually the result of shoeing. But it is not always the fault of the blacksmith. Horse-owners have sometimes the faculty of leaving shoes on too long, etc., thus thinking to save a few cents, and the smith shoulders the responsibility. Mr. Reiley, though admitting that Prof. Stewart had a splendid collection of diseased hoofs and bones, nevertheless could not agree to all the Professor's arguments. 'Tis reported that the Association has offered our renowned smith a Professorship in the new College and we are sure that they will certainly profit by Mr. Reiley's vast experience, not only in this country but in Ireland and the British army. We hope he will see his way clear to accept the honored chair of Professorship. Our Veterinary Surgeon did not attend the lecture. He does not believe in "septicis."

The Watson brothers who had the contract of repairing the school building, have completed their job very satisfactory indeed. Charlie is undoubtedly a master of his trade. Mr. Eastman, Principal of the Public School and master of all ceremonies, is at present introducing a singing school in the village. Eastman, though but a short time here, has brought about many reforms. He goes about with his eyes open. He is not afraid to make the bold statement that the citizens of the community are without any doubt, clever, especially the young ladies. He notes that their voices are powerfully sweet and musical. He is sure that with proper training they will achieve success in the singing world. We hope that his efforts to establish a school will be successful.

It was rather up-hill work starting a Public Library in Priceville. A great many could not at first see how a few books were going to be of any great benefit to them, yet these people were not bigoted. They were quite willing to be taught and finally accepted the Library. Owing to the heavy expense which of necessity was experienced in the initiatory steps, the management were unable to buy as many books as they would have liked. They did the best they could under the circumstances, however, hoping to add more in a very short time, that time has arrived and they are bound to raise the money. Therefore, on the 4th of November (Wednesday) they will give an exceptionally fine concert in Watson's Hall. It will indeed be a treat in the musical line. Mr. Donald C. MacGregor, the Scottish Baritone, who is well known here has been engaged for the occasion. Miss Maude Buschlen, one of Canada's greatest Violinists, has also promised her services. She stands so high in her profession that Priceville might be proud to welcome her. Their will be Highland piping and Highland dancing. Mr. Eastman has been working hard in getting his Cadets up in new Military movements. Aside from the ordinary we understand that the management has secured a piano for the occasion. Miss Allan, Professional Accompanist, will preside. It is to be hoped that the people will come and support the cause and take in one of the finest entertainments that has ever been in Priceville. The plan of the hall will be in McArthur's store.

Mr. Reiley has laid a complaint before the Officials of our Village which is of much interest and importance. His horse and buggy was taken from his stable about three weeks ago and Mr. Reiley is unable to locate it. Now, it is reported, the outfit has been seen on Main street, Pomona, but a short time ago and Mr. Reiley would do well to make inquiry. He has the sympathy of the village.

Dr. Dixon is very busy just now and we are pleased to hear his patients are all doing fine. The Dr. is without doubt one of the cleverest physicians we have ever had in Priceville.

There is a movement on foot which promises to be one of the most important schemes undertaken in the village for a long time. We are very much handicapped in our Public meetings by not having a hall that will permit of any kind of accommodation. Now the plans have been drawn out for re-erecting the Agricultural Hall. This building is splendidly located. It is built of good strong timber, and being new, will permit of the necessary alterations most satisfactorily. The plan to be pursued is this—building to be raised, floored, covered on inside with suitable sheet iron and a gallery placed at north end. The stage to be erected at south end without interfering with the body of the Hall. The promoters of this scheme have decided that these changes can be made with the least possible expense. We would like to give them every encouragement in their task and hope they will be successful.

Mr. Charlie McKinnon, of Port Arthur, is visiting at his old home on the South Line for a few weeks. Glad to see Charlie back again.

Mrs. Grieves, of Buffalo, is at present visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McRae.

Mr. Peter F. McArthur is making preparations for a couple of weeks' deer hunting. Pete is a crack shot with the rifle. We hope he will bring home the Venison. Our friend is a noted "deer" hunter.

Flesherton.

After but a few days of confinement to his room during which the sands of life rapidly ran out, there passed away in peace at his home here on Saturday evening last, Mr. George Park, a highly respected old gentleman of eighty-four years, over fifty-three of which he has spent in Artemesia township. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon when a public service was held in the Methodist Church, the pastor, Rev. Iverson Wilson delivering an appropriate address from Acts 13:36. Rev. Mr. Thom assisted in the service at the close of which the remains were followed to the public cemetery and laid by the side of his wife who preceded him in death about a year and a half ago. Messrs. Wm. Clayton, W. E. Richardson, W. J. Bellamy, E. J. Sproule, John Clinton, and Alexander Stewart acted as pall bearers.

Mr. Park was born in 1819 in the County of Derry, Ireland, and was there married to Miss Ann Mayberry who was a devoted wife and helpful companion throughout their long life together. To them were born the following children: Eliza, (Mrs. W. J. Herd,) Manitoba; John M. Port Huron; James, deceased; Mattie, (Mrs.

Madame Livinski Palmist Psychic

LEAVING for Mount Forest on Monday morning next.

Why not have your Palm read by this lady before she leaves.

John Fogg, Toronto; George C. Manitoba; Maggie E. (Mrs. M. G. Hawken,) Euphrasia, deceased; Annie E. M., at home; Richard A., at Eugenia; and Lydia M., deceased.

Mr. Park came to Canada in 1847 and lived three years in Darlington, County of Durham. In 1850 he came to Artemesia and settled in the then almost unbroken forest where Flesherton now stands. A few years later he purchased a farm near Eugenia and there lived until he, with his wife and daughter, retired to this place a few years ago.

Deceased was a man of retiring nature but of genial disposition and upright life. During the great revival here about fifty years ago he united with the Methodist Church and has continued a faithful member ever since, leaving to his children a "good name" which, says the proverb, "is rather to be chosen than great riches." The entire family has the sympathy of many friends, but to the devoted daughter who nursed and comforted her parents in their last days goes out special sympathy for the loss and loneliness she must now feel.

Mr. George Mitchell and Dr. Carter each received sad news last week, the former being advised of the death of his brother John at New Lowell and the latter of the death of his brother-in-law, Mr. R. R. Fulton, of Woodstock. Your correspondent had the pleasure of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Fulton when on a visit here in August last and we sincerely sympathise with Mrs. Fulton and daughters in the irreparable loss they have sustained.

Mr. R. Henderson, of Toronto, was in town last week visiting his sister, Mrs. (Dr.) Murray. Mr. Henderson left his home near Wareham on Monday to drive to the city with a valuable horse purchased from Mr. Andrew Beattie, Toronto Line, for the Toronto Electric Light Company.

The birth of a daughter brought added joy to the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sheppard on Monday. A pair each of boys and girls make now a nicely balanced family tree. Congratulations to the happy parents.

Prof. Stewart who is in the employ of Reeve McTavish gave an illustrated lecture on the horse's hoof in the townhall on Wednesday evening of last week. The lecture was lengthy and we are informed, both interesting and instructive.

Rev. J. S. I. Wilson exchanged pulpits with Rev. T. Scott and conducted anniversary services at Maxwell on Sabbath last. He was also a speaker at their entertainment on Monday evening. Miss Allie Joy assisted with her rare vocal powers on both Sunday and Monday. Mr. Scott preached thoughtful and interesting sermons here.

Rev. L. W. Thom preached a Missionary sermon in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon last, and Rev. C. L. Mills was at Dundalk in the evening supplying for Rev. Mr. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grainger are retiring from their farm on the west back line and becoming residents of this place. Mr. Grainger has, we understand, purchased Mrs. Boyd Thompson's residence near the Baptist Church, and has been in town for some days painting and fixing up generally.

Mrs. F. W. Hickling is spending a few days with friends in Toronto. Mr. Damude, of Toronto, spent Sunday in town and worshipped, as of old, in Chalmers Church.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McFarland, of Markdale, spent part of Sunday with the former's aunt, Mrs. M. K. Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. VanDusen, of Dundalk, visited the former's parents on Sunday and attended the Presbyterian Church. Mr. John Park, of Port Huron, and Mr. and Mrs. Fogg, of Toronto, attended the funeral of their father on Monday.
