There came pretty nearly being a bad accident at the residence of Mr. R. B. Clement a few days ago. Part of Mr. Clement's house occupied by a tenant named Oscar Singer. Mr. Singer went away to work the other morning and Mrs. Singer went down a few minutes afterwards to fix up the furnace door, there was a puff of gas and a blinding flash of flame, and Mrs. Singer was unable for a few seconds to realize what had happened. Then she discovered that her hair and eye brows had been badly singed, and her face blistered. Had her clothing caught fire, being alone the chances are she would have been burned to death.—Walker- ton Telescope.

The report of Rev. Jas. Lediard, agent of the Children's Aid Society, which was presented at the annual meeting of the society on Friday evening last, was as usual an interesting and varied one. It showed that during the year three children had been committed by the courts to the Society's care; thirty-two have had their condition bettered as the result of the agent's interference; twenty-six children have been cared for in the shelter; eighteen new homes have been found; one hundred homes have been visited. And Mr. Lediard has travelled over two thousand miles in visiting homes or investigating complaints. Two important additions were made to the Board of Management in the persons of Messrs. H. H. Burgess and N. W. Campbell, public school inspectors of the county. The treasurer's statement showed a successful year financially, closing with a balance of fifty-six dollars. It is a help to the management to know that the society retains the confidence of the people of both Owen Sound and the county and that both friends and contributors are steadily increasing in number.—Advertiser.

Mr. James Hughes returned a few days ago from the vicinity of Didsbury in Alberta, just north of Calgary. Mr. Hughes has 480 acres of land there, and has been engaged for the past few months doing carpenter work in the vicinity of Didsbury. He likes the country very well, and purposes moving there with his family in the spring. Mr. Wm. Peppler a former Hanover boy, is a resident land owner in that vicinity, as is also Mr. Henry Braun, late of the township of Bentinck. We notice that Mr. Braun has been appointed treasurer of the school district.—Hanover Post.

Last Friday morning, while James Howard, of Everett was engaged in threshing at Wm. Harper's, below Rosemond, he met with what might have been a serious accident. Mr. Howard was standing on the road gear of his traction engine oiling a pinion, and in order to better accomplish this he reached over to shift the pinion on the shaft. In mistake he threw in the friction which runs the gearing, both levers being alike. The result was that the motion of the gearing completely pulverized his toes, and in order to release his foot he had to reverse the engine, an operation which must have been very painful to the injured man. Drs. Leader and Isard were quickly summoned, and at last accounts Mr. Howard was doing as well as could be expected under the conditions.—Shelburne Free Press.

All youthful offenders or homeless children should be removed entirely from the jurisdiction of the regular Police Court and dealt with by a specially organized Children's Court. In connection with this Court there should be probation officers, usually ladies, to investigate charges of youth full wrong doing and homelessness, etc., and submit to the Judge a report of each case. Children charged with petty offences should be placed temporarily under the care of these officers, who would supervise the home life, help to procure employment, or take what steps might be necessary to remove the cause of offence. Judge Tuthill, who has charge of the Children's Court in Chicago, was asked what he thought about the born criminals and degenerates. He is quoted as replying: "There are no born criminals. If I felt that I should lose my faith in God. Society makes criminals, and environment and education makes criminals, but they are not born so." He further expressed the opinion that if the best children in the world were submitted to the same influences as the children daily brought before him they would commit the same offences. The home surroundings and early training of children are all important factors in determining their subsequent career. When children get into conflict with the law it is rarely their fault, and their cases should be studied in a kindly parental way by persons whose love of childhood is greater than their sense of so called justice.—J. J. Kelso, Toronto.

Another change will take place on the teaching staff of the Hanover school at Christmas. Miss McLean has tendered her resignation and will remove to Guelph where she has obtained a position as teacher, and where many family friends reside. The school has obtained the services of Miss Mabel Donaghy, of Mount Forest, to fill the vacancy. The many friends of Miss McLean in this town will regret her removal from the staff. We regret to say that Miss Maudie McLean is very ill with typhoid fever.—Hanover Post.

Wm. Silver has a sand pit in the west end of the town, and on Monday forenoon he went to this pit for a load of the aforesaid building material. He had the load nearly on when, without knowing why he did it, he suddenly stopped work and started for the mouth of the pit. Before he had taken half a dozen steps the whole top of the pit came down with a tremendous thud. So close was Mr. Silver to the falling earth that a stone of considerable size struck him on the back of the head, almost stunning him. Had he been buried in this mass of sand and stone he would never have got out alive for there was more than a ton of it. And now the question arises what was it that caused Mr. Silver to thus suddenly cease work and move away? He does not know himself for the load was only half on. Was he so prompted by some kind guardian—Walker- ton Telescope.

On Saturday of last week Mr. John Earle, of Badjeros, delivered a load of oats at McCullough's warehouse that contained 184 bushels 20 pounds. It was record breaker. Mr. Earle at so delivered on Tuesday 134 bushels and 20 pounds of peas in one load. On Thursday Mr. Wm. Richardson of Swinton Park, delivered a load containing 169 bus. oats to Mr. Sinclair. These are loads that are not often equalled as regards weight.—Dundalk Herald.

On Tuesday night the First Presbyterian Church of Chatham, Ont., balloted for a new pastor. There were three candidates, one of whom retired after the first vote. In the following round Rev. Mr. Anderson of Shelburne and Rev. Mr. Findlay of Niagara Falls had an equal number of supporters. Just then somebody discovered that more ballots were cast than there were people qualified to vote, and a motion was passed that every member of the church should sign the ballot paper before depositing it. Mr. Anderson was elected by five of a majority, and then an attempt was made to ballot him against Mr. McGillivray, which made a large number of Mr. Anderson's followers so hot they left the church. When ballot frauds creep into church elections, particularly amongst our staid Presbyterian brethren, it would seem as if we had got pretty near to the point where an honest vote on anything is well-nigh impossible.—Saturday Night.

An Ingenious Orillia Lady.

One day about two weeks ago a prominent young lady of Orillia lost her postoffice key and soon after complained repeatedly of not receiving any mail. The postmaster and clerks assured her that parcels and letters had been put in her box as before, so she immediately suspected that some dishonest person had found her key and was appropriating her mail. Last Friday she wrote a decoy letter, stating that a certain amount of money would be sent through the office on Saturday and would reach Orillia at noon. On Friday the lady saw the decoy letter in her box but left it there, and soon it disappeared in the usual way. That night she again complained to the postmaster and told about sending the decoy letter and told how it had disappeared from her box; so he said he would immediately send word to Ottawa and a detective would be sent to attend to the matter. The lady, however saw the necessity of immediate action, and on Saturday morning asked to be allowed to set a trap, so she put a parcel in her box with a bell fastened to the far end by a long cord, which allowed the bell to extend to the floor of the postmaster's department where she waited to see what the result would be. At noon when the decoy letter said the money would be there, the parcel in the box was interfered with, the bell gave the alarm and the person found there was arrested on the charge of being caught robbing the mail.

Another Pioneer Gone.

Another pioneer has gone to rest in the person of Mrs. James Young, who died November 24th. Deceased was born in the city of Glasgow in the year 1823. At the age of twenty-three years she was married to Mr. James Young, and came to Canada with him in 1858, settling in Galt until 1880 when they moved up to the bush and settled on the lot on which the Latona school now stands. After living there about three years they took up the second division of Lot 10, Concession 1, Bentinck, where Mr. Young died about twelve years ago. Mrs. Young leaves to mourn her death, six sons and one daughter. The sons are David, Joseph, James, Archibald, John and Robert. The daughter is Mrs. Gillen Boyd with whom the deceased lived for the past eight years.

Mrs. Young was an honored member of the Presbyterian Church; she was of a kind unassuming disposition; had a good word for everybody with whom she came in contact, and was ready and willing to meet her God.

Amongst those who followed the remains to their last resting place were two sons and three Grand sons from West Superior. The funeral took place on Saturday, 28th, at Latona cemetery, followed by a very large number of friends. She died as she had lived, a good and faithful christian life. She was one of the pioneers of Bentinck, and bore all her troubles and trials without a murmur. The sympathy of this community is extended to the bereaved relatives.—Com.

Modern Printing Statistics

THE ECONOMIC SIDE OF THE INDUSTRY.

The development of the "art preservative of all arts" has been very rapid during the last decade, and many of the changes have been revolutionary, resulting in enormously increased product, manufactured in quicker time and at a much lower cost. The quality of the work has also improved. The far more general dissemination of intelligence, the rapid and efficient means of inter-communication between all parts of the world, with the cheapening and broadening of educational facilities, constitute one of the most notable features in the progress of the world during the past fifty years; and the one most vitally contributing to all our great industries is the printing press. Some idea of the volume or business may be gained when it is stated that in 1900, the census year, the value of the finished product was $347,055,050. The sum was almost equally divided between newspapers on the one hand and book and job printing on the other. In the United States there are 22,312 establishments, 13,905 of which publish or print newspapers. The total capital invested is $292,517,072. A large clerical force is necessary to transact this amount of business; 37,799 salaried, officials, clerks, etc., draw $36,090,719 in salaries, while the actual work is done by 162,992 persons. Miscellaneous expenses of these establishments were $55,897,529, and the cost of materials used was $86,856,990.

Or the total value of products, advertising forms 43 per cent, subscriptions and sales 35.8 per cent, and book and job printing, including miscellaneous products, 21.2 per cent. The total circulation of daily papers is enough to supply one for every five inhabitants, and the total circulation per issue of weeklies and monthlies is one to each two inhabitants, ninety four per cent of all the publications are printed in the English language. One and a quarter billion pounds of paper were used in the census year. Of this amount 77.6 per cent was consumed for news papers and 16.4 per cent for books and periodicals, and only 6 per cent for job printing. On analyzing the total circulation of each State it is found that the ten leading States supply four-fifths of the circulation per issue of all publication, thus indicating the concentration of circulation in certain populous States. Weekly publications are more numerous in proportion to the inhabitants in the West and Northwest. New England ranks high in dailies but low in circulation, suggesting that in that densely settled region the daily has to some extent supplanted the weekly.

There were 18,226 publications reported to the census authorities, while 3,046 publications failed to report. This would give a remarkable total of 21,272 periodicals, and the aggregate circulation of those reporting was 114,229,334 per issue, while the aggregate number of copies issued during the census year was 8,168,148,749.—From the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN'S Special Number on "Modern Aids to Printing."
