

Guaranteed Cough Cure

No cough remedy has ever been discovered which will cure every cough, but we think we have one that comes a little nearer to doing it than any other made. We have been sole agents for it for years; it has been tried in all manner of cases, and it has given the most universal satisfaction. We ask you to remember and try Carr's

- BECAUSE it is safe;
- BECAUSE it is the most certain to cure;
- BECAUSE it is pleasant to take;
- BECAUSE it is equally good for children and adults, and
- BECAUSE if it ever fails you get your money back.

THE DURHAM CHRONICLE

H. IRWIN, Editor and Proprietor.

DURHAM, JANUARY 31, 1907

LOOKING FORWARD.

(From the Chronicle of 1927.)

January 21.—The by-law for the granting of $100,000 bonus to the underground railway was carried yesterday by an overwhelming majority. Never in the history of the city has the opinion been so unanimous, only three votes being recorded against it.

Mayor Swallow started this morning in his new air ship to confer with some of the leading engineers of Paris, London and New York with a view to having plans and specifications prepared for the road which will be commenced about the first of March.

Since the referendum vote closed up the bar-rooms of the city very little drunkenness has been noticed. During the past couple of weeks the citizens are having pneumatic tubes installed in their homes and the drinks are sent up on application. This is considered a great improvement on the old system as it prevents large crowds assembling in one place to create a disturbance.

Senator Miller, of Campbell's Corners, a fashionable suburb of the city, is home from Ottawa and spent yesterday afternoon with the Honorable Robert Morice, Ex-Minister of Marine and Fisheries. Since Mr. Morice was elected to the Federal House for the South Ward of the City, he has been most active in the discharge of his duties and should the Liberal party be again returned to power he stands a good chance for the Premiership. The Conservative party under the premiership of Sir Wm. Calder is evidently losing ground and a change is almost sure to result from the elections next year. Sir William was an old time Liberal and it's hard for Conservatives to believe in the sincerity of his conversion to the party he now leads.

Yesterday at high noon, a very pretty wedding was solemnized in Holy Trinity when Evaline Augusta Constance, eldest daughter of Sir Edward Kress, was united in holy matrimony to Herr Von Molke, German Ambassador. The bride was beautifully attired in eolian silk and was assisted by four younger sisters, all of whom were most artistically gowned in cream satin. Two little tots, younger members of the family, acted as flower girls and the scene was extremely pretty. The Reverend Archbishop Bicycle was the officiating clergyman assisted by Rev. Austin Doolittle, of St. Paul's Cathedral, and the Reverend Bishop Young of old St. James. The ringing of all the bells in the city announced with joy the very happy union. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Von Molke took the elevated railway to New York and on arrival will take their air ship to Germany and other European countries.

It is rumored that John M. Towner, President and General Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway System will resign his position about the first of July next, provided a competent man can be found to fill the situation. Mr. Towner has grown old in the service and feels that it is time for his retirement into quieter life. For the past twenty years the company has had a period of uninterrupted progress and as a railway magnate and railway manager Mr. Towner stands on the highest pinnacle of fame.

The Gas and Oil Company had a meeting of the Board yesterday afternoon and declared a dividend of 14% for the last quarter of 1926. This makes 44% paid out in dividends to the stockholders during the year and places the Gas and Oil Co. as the best paying institution in the city. Twenty years ago the Company seemed as though it would never be placed on a paying basis and was about to go into liquidation when Arthur Henry Pierpoint Jackson and John D. Rockefeller Kelly came to the rescue. From a capitalization of $25,000 they had the charter increased to $25,000,000, and success was at once assured. They are now operating 6742 wells with an average output of fifteen hundred gallons per hour from each well.

The Farmers Manufacturing & Supply Co., whose factory now covers twenty-one acres of ground, decided at the Board meeting last night to add four more stories to the main factory. They have now fourteen thousand hands on the pay roll, but intend to increase the number to twenty thousand before the end of the present year. Tom Livingston is still general manager of the business, and the old gentleman sees great prospects for the Company. He shows a pardonable pride when he looks back to 1902 when the little company started out on a very small scale. They have now eight thousand men engaged in the manufacture of Oxford Cream Separators and though the factory is running full capacity night and day they are unable to book orders for delivery before the fifteenth of August next.

HEALTH FOR RUN-DOWN WOMEN

From the experience of Mrs. John Panke, Saskatoon, nothing compares with Ferrozone. "At times I was confined to my bed and couldn't do any work. I was run down in flesh, lost strength, my appetite failed, my color was pallid. Weary and cast-down. It seemed I couldn't catch up. Ferrozone started a new kind of life in my blood, built me up, vitalized and strengthened my nerves, and finally cured my heart and stomach pains." Ferrozone is a re-builder that has special virtue in female ailments. Sold everywhere in 50c boxes; try Ferrozone.

ARE YOU SUBJECT TO STIFFNESS?

Perhaps it is in the neck or shoulders. First thing is a good rub with Nerviline. No more speedy remedy can be adopted. When applied to the muscles Nerviline gives them flexibility and vigor; inflammation, soreness and stiffness disappear. "Whether in the chest or throat nothing can surpass Nerviline," writes O. B. Denton, Lumber Merchant at Oak Bay, N. B. "Rubbed on at night, trouble is gone by morning. I have proved Nerviline a great medicine." Everyone says the same, and Nerviline always makes good, 25c bottles sold everywhere.

DEATH OF ALEX. CRAWFORD.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford had a long wait before getting particulars regarding the death of their son who was reported frozen on the prairies two or three weeks ago. On Saturday night the information below was received by Mr. Crawford, with whose permission we publish it for the benefit of our readers, many of whom are in deep sympathy with the bereaved family. The letter is written under very trying circumstances, but gives as good an account as will likely ever be given of the sad circumstances under which the young man met death. At best we can only imagine the awful night spent as he doubtless wandered too and fro in the awful storm. We can only imagine, too, the awful feeling of his young wife, to whom he was married only a couple of months. The whole community is in deep sympathy with Mr. and Mrs. Crawford and all the relatives who are so sorely afflicted. The letter reads as follows and explains itself—

North Battleford, Jan. 17, Thursday 4:15 p. m.

MY DEAR UNCLE AND AUNTIE:

I can scarcely write I am so nervous and upset, but I know you will pardon my blunders under those sad sad circumstances. We just arrived to-day from Swathmore at 1 p. m. and brought Margaret and poor Alex.'s remains to N. Battleford. We received the news on Friday afternoon, Jan. 11th, and Mac, Will and myself started for Swathmore Saturday morning. Did not reach there till Monday night. The roads were in a terrible condition and over 40° below zero. It took us six days to make the round trip. Poor Margaret is terribly broken up. Poor girl, she has had a very trying experience. She is surely a brave girl. We found her at Howey's. Mrs. Howey was very kind and did all in her power for her. You see it was almost a week before we got out to her. It was John Howey who brought us the word, and we telegraphed to Pete and Mortimer and had them wire you.

Poor Alex. went to get a load of hay on Monday morning, Jan. 7th, with two yoke of oxen. It was a very cold morning, and Margaret begged of him not to go as it was so cold and the snow very deep, but he thought he could manage all right. He left the house at 10:30 a. m., and about 3 p. m. it began to storm and came up a terrible blizzard. He got back to within a mile and a half from the house, when we think the oxen had got tired out and he unhitched and left the load and had tried to reach home without it, and must have lost his way as he was found about 1/4 of a mile from the trail, and the oxen were found the following Thursday evening at that old sod stable east of your place—you will know the place.

Poor Margaret was alone all night, and went out and shouted several times and made the dog bark, thinking if he was lost he would hear them. In the morning she started for Howey's, and it took her two hours to walk it. The snow was almost to her waist, and John Howey and Jack Nightly immediately started to look for him. They found him about 11:30 still alive but unconscious, and John galloped home for the team and sleigh, but he breathed his last just before they reached the house. They worked with him a long time to try to bring him too, but it was useless. Poor fellow, his life had fled.

The oxen are all right, but were pretty weak when they found them. They had tramped their lines into the snow and they had frozen in and held them there. Alex. Bowie is going to look after the stock. Pete is not here yet. The trains have been blocked and very irregular. We wired him to-day to come if possible, and we will hold funeral till he comes. Margaret would like to have him here. Alex. was not frozen, just his toes; the rest of his body was all right and still warm when they got him to Howey's. We think he must have died from worry and fatigue as well as exposure, but we will really never know just how it happened. Margaret will write herself after she gets a little more reconciled. Just at present she is not fit to write. We expect a message from Peter any minute. In the meantime we will do all we can for Margaret, and Mac and Will are seeing to arrangements for the funeral. My heart aches for poor auntie. I am sure she must be terribly upset and in suspense so long. I feel that this letter is a very disconnected narrative, yet it will give you a few particulars, and hope it will be a little consolation. Now I will close for this time. Will write you again after the funeral with more particulars. With kindest love and sympathy to all, I am

Your loving niece,
FANNY.

[The Mac mentioned is Malcolm Henderson, brother-in-law of the writer, Mrs. Wm. Ellis. Will is Wm. Ellis, the writer's husband. The writer is a niece of Mr. Crawford's, Fanny Keith, a former resident of Egremont, near Yeovil. Mr. Crawford was at the homestead where the sad incident occurred during the summer, having left there 50 miles S. W. of Battleford on the 9th of December, not a month before his son's death.—Ed.]

To stop a Cold with "Preventics" is safer than to let it run and cure it afterwards. Taken at the "sneeze stage" Preventics will head off all colds and Grippe, and perhaps save you from Pneumonia or Bronchitis. Preventics are little toothsome candy cold cure tablets selling in 5 cent and 25c. boxes. If you are chilly, if you begin to sneeze, try Preventics. They will surely check the cold, and please you. #### THE ZORRA FARMER SPEAKS.

Ay, Tammas, there's important news Upon Th' Globe th' day, A mon ca'd Graham wears th' shoes O' Geordie Ross. They say He's apt an' maist intelligent, An' speaks exceedin' weel, An' honest—Wadna tak' a cent To buy himsel' a meal.

But, Tammas, I'm no' satisfied, Me temper's unco' hot. The paper says—it's no denied— That Graham's no a Scot. I'm fearfu' worrit, Tammas, lad, Nay, nay, I wadna joke, I didna like his family For they were Irish Folk.

But thot is no' the worst. Eh mon, It a'most mak's me greet, T' think—a screechin' Irishman 'Wull sit in Mowat's seat! He's no' a Presbyterian, The light o' life he's missed, He canna be an honest man, For he's—a Methodist.

For any disease of the skin we can recommend Chamberlain's Salve. It relieves the itching and burning sensation instantly and soon effects a cure. This salve is also invaluable for sore nipples. Sold at Parker's Drug Store.
