Darkie's Corners.

We are sorry to report no improvement in the health of Mr. Joseph Atkinson, Sr., time of writing Monday. Miss Jennie Staples visited friend on the second con. and south line, last week.

Mr. Albert Davis had a runaway one day last week. He and Hiram Dean were hauling wood from Lime Kiln Valley, and their loads being heavy doubling was resorted to on Vinegar Hill. The two teams were put on Albert's load and succeeded in getting it to the top. On going back to bring Hiram's load up at the bottom Albert dropped his lines to arrange the chain in some way, when his horses started running all the way to John Staple's gate where they turned in and were soon safely stalled in the stable. Everything turned out all right with the exception of the harness, some of it being broken up but the horses escaped without injury.

Mr. Wm. Borneau left this Tuesday morning for Invermay, Northwest after spending a few weeks with friends in this section of Glenelg.

Mr. Arthur Lawrence accompanied by Miss Nellie Grasby visited at Mr. and Mrs. David Ritchie's a week ago Sunday.

Wedding bells will soon be ringing if reports are true.

OBITUARY.

With sadness and deep melancholy we must now chronicle the death of another of our old pioneers, Hinman Johnston, who, on Feb. 20th, passed peacefully away to the land from which no traveller has yet returned.

The deceased was born in Lincolnshire, Nortolk County, England, in 1821, where he spent part of his boyhood days. At the age of fourteen he set sail for America and first settled in the vicinity of Ottawa. He remained there but a short time and came to Grey Co. where he took up several homesteads. He finally settled in the township of Bentinck where he resided until death.

The deceased was always a hard-working, persevering man, who lived an honorable life and made an effort to do for his fellow men as much as lay in his power.

He leaves to mourn his loss a large family, Mrs. Wm. Heslop, Port Huron Mich.; Marshall, of West Superior, Wis.; Edmond, of Fort Erie, Ontario; Woodthorp, of Hillman, Mich.; Archibald, of Port Huron; Lena, of Marine City; William, of Mt. Forest; James, of West Superior, Wis.; and Robert, who resides on the homestead.—Com.
