FOUND DEAD IN HIS ROOM.

Death made a sudden and unexpected call on Andrew Vass Hamilton in this town sometime between 7:30 Saturday evening and 10:30 Sunday morning. Deceased, who was well known in Mt. Forest, Durham and throughout this section of country as an agent for nursery stock, walked in from the country Saturday afternoon, where he had been in the Drew neighborhood on a regular canvassing trip. He was around the streets awhile and was heard to complain that he wasn't much good any more, couldn't stand walking as he formerly could and was afraid he had had a slight attack of paralysis as his hand was stiff and somewhat numb. He went to his boarding house, the Station hotel; ate a hearty supper, took a bath afterwards and retired to his room about 7:30 p. m. This was the last seen of him alive. As he did not appear in the morning, the proprietor, Mr. John J. Heipel, went to his room and found his lifeless body stretched at full length on the floor. His bed had not been disturbed and it is thought he was overcome by a further stroke of paralysis or by heart failure shortly after reaching his room. Dr. Jones, coroner, was notified, but after examining the body assured himself death had resulted from natural causes and that an inquest was unnecessary. As no relatives of the dead man live in this country his employer of a number of years ago, Mr. W. G. Scott, made the arrangements for his funeral which took place Tuesday forenoon to the Mt. Forest cemetery. Rev. W. G. Hanna presided and the following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. W. G. Scott, T. H. Collins, J. T. Allen, T. Clarke, Rich. Scott and J. A. Lambert. There was a goodly turnout of acquaintances from town and country who had learned to respect and esteem the quiet, well-behaved man. Deceased was a native of Ayrshire, Scotland, and came to these parts about 28 years ago, his first work here being on the construction of the Durham branch of the G. T. R. It is understood that he has one or two brothers in Glasgow and that his father died only a few years ago. Deceased, as nearly as can be ascertained, was about 68 years of age; he was very fond of curling, a good shot with the rifle and an ardent admirer and supporter of our national game, lacrosse. "Andy," as he was familiarly named, will be missed by more people than many more pretentious men.—Mt. Forest Rep.

Relief From Rheumatic Pains

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Roland Curry, a patrolman of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale at Parker's Drug Store.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

It is interesting to examine the Liberal handbook of 1896. How the virtue of those days has declined! How the temper has been moderated by the ease and the indolence of office. For example, we are told in an eloquent passage on "The Leader and his Policy," that "the man who cannot vote against his party for his country is unworthy of the franchise and unfit for citizenship in a free community." How high and fine and beautiful. Now, however, if a Liberal votes against the party the leader withdraws the patronage and his allies hit him with heavy clubs, cancel his meal tickets, and accuse him of all sorts of treason to the flag and the country. Turning over the leaves of this interesting publication we find that we were to have reduced taxation, reciprocity with the United States, purity of administration, decreased expenditure, independence of Parliament, the land for the settler, and a reformed Senate. Then came many passages devoted to "Facts for the Electors," which in the course of years have become fiction for the electors and rather poor fiction at that. We have instructive comparisons between the expenditures of 1878 and 1893 which, interesting as they are, certainly are not more interesting than similar comparisons between the expenditures of 1895 and those of 1907. The failure of the National Policy is declared in impressive and eloquent language. This has been overlooked by certain Liberal journals which now argue that the National Policy has been operated much more successfully by a Liberal Government than ever it was operated by Conserva tive Ministers. We set aside for the moment those curious papers which laboriously insist, with comic zeal, that the National Policy has been abolished and that the recent prosperity of the country has been produced by a long course of free trade and British preference.

We have chapters on special class favors on drawbacks on free agricultural implements, on the combines and on the iniquity of the coal oil duty. There is no better reading in the pamphlet and no reason, except the Protectionist tenets of the party, why Conservatives should not adopt the language and apply it to the tariff and the conditions which now exist. A singularly interesting passage is that devoted to the iron duties and it is instructive to find that "every manufacturer and every consumer in the Dominion would be greatly benefited by the removal of the duty on coal as manufacturers have been benefited by the removal in 1894 of the Canadian duty on coke."

Finally the Patron platform is judiciously introduced in which we find declarations in favor of the abolition of the Senate, for tariff for revenue only and for prohibition of railway bonuses.

Now it is not intended for a moment to argue that the Government should have kept the expenditure at the figure at which it stood ten or twelve years ago or should have hesitated to prosecute great public works which make for the unity, stability and prosperity of the Confederation. But in many other respects a greater measure of consistency could easily have been observed by the Government and something like fidelity to the principles and traditions of the historic Liberal party have been maintained. The truth is that the Government is in very much the position which the Conservative leaders occupied in 1896—save for the great treason which maimed that combination so mortally—and the Opposition drifts steadily towards the ground occupied by the Liberal leaders twelve or fourteen years ago. There is, however, when all is said and done, a Liberal creed and a Conservative creed, and the chances are that there are thousands of Liberals all over Canada who, when the final test comes, will desert their leaders rather than their principles, even though the leaders would have done less wisely by adhering with cast iron rigidity to some of their old pretensions and professions.

LOSS OF APPETITE AND ENERGY.

Singly they are worry—combined they become a burden, telling that waste has been immensely greater than the body's power to rebuild. The first need is to reconstruct the blood, make good the deficiency of red cells. Ferrozone improves digestion, makes blood, the kind that nourishes and rebuilds. Quickly the nervous system responds to the new power supplied by Nerviline. Strength returns, ambition revives, energy and endurance give the system just what it needs to maintain the balance of health. No tonic better than Ferrozone, 50c per box at all dealers.

A Magistrate Investigates Zam-Buk

SAYS IS A WONDERFUL HEALER AND DOES MORE THAN IS CLAIMED FOR IT.

Probably no household remedy in existence has won such glowing tributes from people in high places as has Zam-Buk. Mr. Roger F. Perry, Justice of the Peace for British Columbia, recently tested this famous balm, and this is what he says of it:

"The Pavilion, Goldfields, B. C. To the Zam-Buk Co.

"Gentlemen.—After a very fair trial I have proved Zam-Buk eminently satisfactory. In my case it cured a skin rash of five years standing which no doctor had been able to do any good for.

"I would certainly encourage any person to keep Zam-Buk in their home. It truly does even more than you claim for it. For my own part I would not now be without it in the house. Yours very truly, (Signed) Roger F. Perry, Justice of the Peace for B. C.

Zam-Buk differs from ordinary salves and embrocations, for while these mostly contain animal oils and fat Zam-Buk is purely herbal. It closes and heals cuts, festering sores, ulcers, eruptions, boils, eczema, chafing sores, etc. In the household it is the handiest possible remedy for burns, scalds, children's injuries. It instantly cleanses any wound to which it is applied; prevents festering, inflammation or blood poison. It cures piles, varicose ulcers, and fistula. All druggists and stores sell at 50 cents a box, or from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 6 boxes for $2.50.

END OF MYSTERY.

Mr. Chas. Williams, of Southampton grist mill fame who abandoned from that town under rather peculiar circumstances and who, his wife suspected had met foul play in a swamp near Walkerton has since turned up in Detroit. When Williams left Southampton, his pocket bulged out with $700 of good Canadian currency. He was going to pay $200 on a house in Hanover and the balance was to be invested in second hand machinery. His route lay through Walkerton and as nothing was afterwards heard of him it was thought he had become the victim of foul tragedy. Through a dream or some premonition his wife became possessed with the idea that his body was putrifying in a swamp near Walkerton, and she called on the authorities here to assist her in the dismal hunt for a dead husband. The constables got busy, made enquiries, but got no clue, other than a doubtful looking character who might be taken either for a tramp or a mill-honour had been seen in this neighborhood at that time, sporting money in a rather suspicious manner. The snow was on the ground when the search began and a corpse might easily hide under the covering of the "beautiful," and defy the efforts of the best trained detective that ever tramped the earth. Sherlock Holmes would have done the same as our constables did—that is give up the hunt and wait for Spring to work out their salvation. Spring came along, lifted its robes, and revealed not the empty skin of a slaughtered victim. Again was the situation shrouded in darkness, again were the dreams of Mrs. Williams frustrated and again was the whole police force of Bruce County set at naught. The theme was beginning to get interesting and was fast shaping itself into an excellent subject for tragedy, when Williams suddenly spoiled the stage-effect of the whole business by appearing at a race track meeting in Detroit.—Bruce Times.

Good Words for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips, of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl, Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This remedy is for sale at Parker's Drug Store.

LOCAL OPTION.

Local option is certainly spreading. Forty-four new municipalities additional became subject to it on May 1st. The Whitney Government has done the square thing in giving effect to the expressed wish of the people wherever the liquor interests put up a fight in technicalities, by asking the commissioners to refuse to issue licenses. So far there has been no agitation here for local option, but there is a deep feeling for it, which might easily be organized. The one thing that will keep matters as at present will be a careful observance of the law by all interested. We have always deplored the fact that bars can now remain open till 11 p. m. since Chesley became a town. It is a dear price to pay for a higher municipal standing, which was pushed for largely as a matter of pride and sentiment. In view of this we would respectfully suggest that it would be a good idea for the vendors to bow to public sentiment and close the bars at 10 p. m. as before.—Chesley Enterprise.

AN EARNEST APPEAL.

We have reason to believe that there is a considerable number of deaf children in this Province of school age who are not attending our Institution, but who should be doing so. We are desirous of obtaining the names and addresses of the parents of such children and we earnestly appeal to the readers of these lines to assist us in securing this information. Clergymen of all denominations, physicians, assessors, inspectors of schools and public school teachers are in an especially favorable position to assist us in this direction, and by so doing they would be conferring an inestimable boon to these silent members of the community. Our desire is to enter into correspondence with the parents of all deaf children with the hope of inducing them to send them to our school at Belleville, where they may receive such training and instruction as will fit them to become useful, self-supporting and respected citizens. It is a lamentable thing that any deaf boy or girl should be deprived of the advantages of such an education when it is freely provided for them by the people of the Province. We earnestly hope the newspapers throughout Ontario will call attention to this matter as emphatically as possible and thus aid in this good work.—Canadian Mute.
