KILLED BY A LOBSTER

A Chicago chef has just died from blood poisoning following upon a nip from a lobster. Zam-Buk applied immediately after that trivial accident would have saved that man's life! Zam-Buk is just as fatal to poison and disease germs, as these are fatal to us, and a little more so; because, while we sometimes get germs into our system and still live, when those germs get Zam-Buk they give up the ghost without a struggle. One of England's leading analysts has proved this. Write to us for his report. Meanwhile, when you sustain a cut, a burn, a bruise, a scratch, or any injury, just apply Zam-Buk. Two processes right away—cleanses the sore, thus preventing blood poison and suppuration, and commences to heal. Incidentally it takes out soreness. Soreness is not necessary to Nature's healing processes. See free sample offer in adjoining column. All stores and druggists sell at fifty cents a box. Nothing like it.

THE MAGISTRATE IS RIGHT

Magistrate Perry, of Goldfields, B.C., believes in making a good thing known, and we do not blame him either. Writing of Zam-Buk, he says: "After a very fair trial I have proved Zam-Buk eminently satisfactory. In my case it cured a skin rash of five years' standing which no doctor had been able to do any good for. I would certainly encourage any person to keep Zam-Buk in his home." He is quite right. Every home needs it. Is it in your home? If not, why not? All stores and druggists sell at 50 cents a box.

A GENUINE OFFER

Test Zam-Buk at Our Expense

We appreciate the position taken by the man or woman who says to us: "If your preparation is what you claim, you should have no objection to letting us try it before spending money on it." To every person taking this view we say, "We agree!" Send us one cent stamp (to pay return postage) and name and date of this paper, and we will mail you a free trial box of Zam-Buk.

CHRONICLES OF THE KHAN.

THE GOOD OLD STATUTE LABOR TIME.

June is the month of marriages and statute labor—indeed, statute labor is a sort of nuptial arrangement, being the wedding of Industry with Intelligence. But it always has been an unhappy marriage, and there isn't a road division in Ontario but has its scandal. Moreover, the progeny of this couple is a sloppy, muddy, dusty lop sided, rutty, and crooked monstrosity the terror of every countryside.

The Government appointed a talented young man to go about the country and give the horny-handed sons of toil a few pointers on how to build roads, but you can't teach your grandmother to feed ducks.

But the roads are better than they used to be, and it is time. The majority of pathmasters have made the discovery that mud is not nearly so good a material for road-making as gravel or broken stone. Mud won't stay where it is put; you can't fence it in, you can't nail it down, it won't stick—or, rather, it will stick to your buggy wheels.

Most of the statute labor done last summer got a nice ride over. Niagara Falls this spring, and east of the Falls it went to shallowing up the harbors of Lake Ontario. The Government may build dredges till the crack of doom but they will never have deep water harbors till they get the pathmasters to quit putting mud on the concession lines.

Some people would like to do away with statute labor. I think it would be a mistake. It is educative, like the jury system. Every farmer serves on the jury once every two or three years, and he comes to town for a week and sees the elephant, gets acquainted with the law, and becomes familiar with its forms; and it does him good.

Every June the farmers foregather on the "beat" to do their statute labor, and exchange chewing tobacco and neighborhood news, the price of hogs, wool cheese, etc. It is a combination of bee and picnic. Once in a while there is a cantankerous old codger for pathmaster, and statute labor becomes mighty strenuous, but, as a rule, it is simply an undignified, but necessary, work, like fatigue duty at camp. There is always a humorist on every side line, and if not, there is a fool whom everybody can poke fun at, and the horny-handed sons of toil are not particular. If these are wanting, there is always a great arguer, either political or religious—it doesn't matter which—and if that fails the audience, then there is a farmer with a grievance. There is a fortune for the playwright who puts the farmer with a grievance on the stage.

There are roads in Ontario which are mute arguments against municipal ownership. The people living along the roads have owned them ever since they were opened, shortly after Columbus discovered America; and they are no better, I am told, than they were at the time of MacKenzie's rebellion.

But it's hard to believe that.

Every Man His Own Doctor.

The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, as so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment, which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoy a good reputation.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm (an antiseptic liniment) for cuts, bruises, burns, sprains swellings, lame back and rheumatic swellings.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for constipation, biliousness and stomach troubles.

Chamberlain's Salve for diseases of the skin.
One bottle of each five preparations costs but $1.25. For sale at Parker's Drug Store.

A JOKER'S LITTLE RACKET.

Jack Pringle is a man who never wasted an opportunity, or puts off for to-morrow the joke that can be done to-day. Going down street last Wednesday he was accosted by a little nervous man who had an impediment in his speech.

Said the stranger: "C can you t tell me w where I can g get s some t-t-tin tacks?"

"With much pleasure, sir," replied Jack, who realized the position at once, and, having directed his interlocutor to the shop of a neighboring hardwareman by a somewhat circuitous route, he himself hurried off to the spot by a short cut. Now the merchant was having his dinner in a little back parlor, but when Jack entered the premises he came forward briskly, bowing and rubbing his hands together in that peculiarly servile manner that is characteristic of the British shopkeeper.

"Do you s sell t-t-tin tacks?" said Jack, assuming a stammer.

"Oh yes, sir; certainly, sir."

"G g good long ones?"

"Yes, sir; all sizes, sir."

"W with s s sharp points?"

"Yes, sir, very sharp points."

"W w-well then, s s sit down on 'em and w w wait till I c call again."

Having "given his order," Jack thought it prudent to retire at once, as there were several heavy articles within easy access of the proprietor's hands.

The old man had hardly cooled down and returned to his meal, which had also cooled down unpleasantly, when the real "Simon pure" entered the shop, and again the merchant came forth, "washing his hands with invisible soap in imperceptible water."

"Do y-you s-sell t-t-tin tacks? said the little man.

Luckily the door was open, so the customer successfully avoided the two flat-irons hurled at him.

As to the remarks made by the dealer in ferruginous goods, the printer says that they "run too much on sorts," and "he is not going to cut up a lot of rule to make dashes."—Detroit Free Press.
