DON'T DIE AT 45.

Cure the Indigestion Which Is So Liable to Lead to Apoplexy.

Rush of business, eating too fast and too much, excesses of any kind, soon result in indigestion. Then when the digestive organs cannot care for the food properly the coats of the blood vessels in the brain get little nourishment, become brittle, and finally yield to the fierce blood pressure. One is then said to have a "shock," to be paralyzed, or die from apoplexy.

People suffering with headaches, giddiness, palpitation, sleeplessness, bad taste in the mouth, drowsiness, coated tongue, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, and any other of the many distressing results of a weakened stomach, should profit by the discovery of Mi-o-na stomach tablets

In recent years the greatest advance in medicine has been in the study of diseases of indigestion and nutrition and no other prescription has proven itself of as much value as Mi-o-na. It is relied upon as a certainty today in relieving the worst troubles of digestion and assimilation and making a complete cure.

We absolutely agree that your money will be refunded should you buy a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and not be satisfied with the results. Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents. Booth's Miona Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

DEATH OF THOS. GILRAY.

Mr. Thos. Gilray, whose death occurred at Toronto Saturday, was well known in this country many years ago. He was sixty-four years of age. For many years a farmer, he took an active part in municipal affairs, being reeve of Euphrasia township for 13 years, and also Warden of Grey. Giving up his farm a few years ago to his sons, he entered the insurance business in the County of Simcoe. The deceased is survived by many relatives. His wife died some eight or nine years ago, but there are left three daughters and two sons: Mrs. Edward Donnell, living in this county; Messrs. Fraser and Thomas Gilray in Euphrasia township, and Miss Lila and Annie at their present home in Toronto. There also survives besides Rev. Dr. Gilray, four other brothers and five sisters, viz: Mrs. Margaret McMaster, of Toronto Junction; Mrs. Katie Youmans, of Boise, Idaho; Mrs. W. A. Malcolm, Elmvale; Miss Alice Gilray, residing with Dr. Gilray, and Mrs. George Wright, of Vandeleur; and Messrs. James, near Buffalo, N. Y.; John in Coaldale, Colo.; Robert, Chicago, and William, Toronto. The remains were taken to Thornbury on Monday for interment.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, Better Than Three Doctors.

"Three years ago we had three doctors with our little boy and everything that they could do seemed in vain. At last when all hope seemed to be gone we began using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and in a few hours he began to improve. To-day he is as healthy a child as parents could wish for."—MRS. B. J. JOHNSTON, Linton, Miss. For sale at Parker's Drug Store.

AN INDIAN'S RUSE.

The Indian who is camped up at the station is the well known Cephas Cabbage. He is the interpreter of the Saugeen band, and talks English as perfectly as a white man. They tell this rather good story on Cephas. Some years ago he bought a lot of apple trees from a nursery agent, but did not pay for them as per contract. He was repeatedly billed through the post, but dunning letters didn't disturb him any, and at last the account was placed in the hands of a collecting agency. Soon after a representative of the agency visited the reserve and one of the first men he met was Cephas himself. The stranger, of course, did not know him, and proceeded to inquire if he knew a man named Cephas Cabbage. "Oh, yes," was the reply, "I knew him well. He was a good man, but poor fellow he's dead! He died yesterday. Too bad, too bad." That was enough, the stranger left the reserve without collecting his bill.—Telescope.

A modern dude with narrow striped clothes, saddle colored shoes, a loud necktie, hair parted over his nose, and smoking a cigarette, addressed his best girl thus: If you was me and I was you what would you do? She hesitatingly said with a smile: I would take off that hideous tie, put that cigarette in the stove, part my hair on one side, then pray to God for brains.

FLIES AS DISEASE BEARERS.

The Common House Variety Are a Menace to Health.

The United States Department of Agriculture has started a crusade against the common house fly and is carrying on extensive experiments as to the best way of banishing it from the abodes of man. The fly has been found to be not only a nuisance, but a menace to man's health. Its hairy body carries both disease and death. Many epidemics which sweep over communities in the hot season have been traced to the fly. Having its origin in filth, it brings with it the bacteria which breed in filth. And as it moves about, now crawling over refuse, now over the food on the table, flying from the lips of the sick to the lips of the healthy; it is said to be more dangerous to modern society than were the wild beasts to primitive man.

The high mortality among children in the congested districts of a city where families are closely crowded together, where refuse accumulates fast, where food is often kept in living rooms, is due to a large degree, so scientists now say, to the fly. Infant diseases chiefly prevail in the season when the flies abound. Dr. J. T. C. Nash, in The Journal of the Royal Sanitary Institute, giving his experience as an English health officer, says that the fly is responsible for the death of many children because of polluting the milk which they drink.

"It is a matter that has been entirely overlooked," said Dr. C. O. Probst, recently, "but we now know that the common house fly is an agent of importance in carrying the germs of typhoid fever. It was formerly believed that the germs were only carried in water, milk or other liquid food. Flies both breed and feed in places where the germs are to be found, and then, flying into our houses, no doubt often carry the germs and deposit them on our food."

Remedy for Diarrhoea Never Known to Fail.

"I want to say a few words for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used this prescription in my family for the past five years and have recommended it to a number of people in York county and have never known it to fail to effect a cure in any instance. I feel that I can not say too much for the best remedy of the kind in the world."—S. JEMISON, Spring Grove, York County, Pa. This remedy is for sale at Parker's Drug Store.

POOR FELLOWS.

Lives of editors remind us Honest toil stands little chance, The more we work we leave behind us. Bigger patches on our pants. On our trousers once so stylish. Now are stripes of varied hue. All because subscribers tarry. And don't pay us what is due. Then let them be up and doing. Send your mite however small. Or when winds of winter hit us. We will have no pants at all.

ADVICE TO BOYS.

The young man starting out for himself ought to make a study of his power of penetration, of his character-reading ability. He ought to make it a business to study men, estimate their capabilities and motives which actuate them. He should study them, scrutinize their actions, watch their tendencies in little things and learn to read them as an open book. The involuntary acts and natural manner of a man indicate more than does his studied conversation. The eye cannot lie. It speaks the truth in all languages. It often contradicts the tongue. While the man is often trying to deceive you with his words, his eyes are telling you the truth; his actions are indicative of the real man, while the tongue may only represent the diplomat, the man who is acting.

"ALMOST PERSUADED"

Mrs. Harry Grant, of Toronto, is Quite Positive That "Clarence" Grant Was Her Husband.

(Meaford Express.)

Mrs. Harry Grant, of Toronto, whose husband has been missing since some time early in the spring, was among the excursionists to town on Saturday. She came up to have a talk with Constable Owen regarding the unknown man "Clarence" Grant, who died as a result of injuries received at Emary's barn raising, and who, it is generally believed, was her missing husband. Mrs. Grant is a woman of slight stature, rather prepossessing in manner and appearance and apparently about 25 or 28 years of age. After interviewing Constable Owen she visited the home of Mr. James Emary on the 7th line and made further inquiries of that gentleman concerning the man who was fatally injured on his premises.

The description of the man in question as also that of the husband of the Toronto woman have already been published and commented upon at length in the columns of this paper. In fact the Express was the first paper to show from the description of the clothes worn by the deceased as well as from a cooked foot and certain marks under the chin and upon the right arm that the body was none other than that of Harry Grant, of Toronto, the husband of the woman who came here on Saturday.

Mrs. Grant is almost certain that such is the case, but realizing that she may be mistaken she has decided to prob the matter to the bottom. With this end in view she will consult a certain dentist in an eastern town who did some work for her supposed husband over a year ago, and whose testimony will, it is believed, serve to clear up the mystery. If everything turns out as anticipated Mrs. Grant will return to Meaford and have the body exhumed.

For an Impaired Appetite.

To improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion try a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Mr. J. H. Seitz, of Detroit, Mich., says: "They restored my appetite when impaired, relieved me of a bloated feeling and caused a pleasant and satisfactory movement of the bowels." Price, 25 cents. Samples free. For sale at Parker's Drug Store.

EXCURSION CARS.

(The News.)

It is worthy of notice that when the freight train collided with the excursion train on the Pere Marquette Railway, near Salem, Mich., the passenger cars were crushed like eggshells. Excursion cars are generally frail, rickety, and old. Often they are no longer suitable for use in regular passenger traffic. If there is an accident of any kind they go to matchwood, and the passengers are killed by dozens. There is only one remedy for this danger, the gradual replacement of all wooden coaches by steel cars. It has been proved in the New York subway and elsewhere that the all-steel car is not only practical, but desirable. It is capable of all necessary decoration, can be made exceedingly comfortable and is vastly more sanitary than the wooden car. Its great rigidity would be a protection to passengers. The records of railway wrecks show that passengers in sleepers or parlor cars seldom sustain injuries of a serious nature because of the solidity and strength of the cars in which they are riding. Yet the Pullman Company has begun experimenting with an all-steel car in the hope of still further reducing the danger.

THE WORLD WAS ON.

That the world is moving on in all human activities with astonishing rapidity is emphatically expressed the family. From the point of cleavage. Every morning the record of the world's doings of the previous day is laid on the breakfast table, in that marvel of the age, the daily paper. Nothing escapes the keen-sighted vision of the correspondents and the searchers for news in every nook and corner of the globe. And what a record it is! Intense activity everywhere, with gold as the objective and motive force and universal unrest because of unjust conditions. There is a plane of cleavage in the human family. From the point of cleavage there are two scales, the one of descent through every phase of degeneracy down to the quintessence of diabolism, and from the same point upwards through all forms of uplifting to the verge of the divine and godlike. That is the great saving element of humanity, which possibly saves the world from a fate like that of Sodom and Gomorrah. The world's history for a day is absolutely bewildering to the sane brain. Its murders, its suicides, its infinite variety of crimes, its drunkenness, its gluttony, its debaucheries, its poverty, its misery, its slum life, its gambling, its universal dishonesty in act or thought, its overreaching and jealousies in business, its extravagance, its disregard and waste of human life, and the thousand other things on the downward degenerating scale, makes one wonder whether the grand agents on the upward scale, which are trying to uplift and purify the impure, the wretched and the godless, to a higher plane of clean honest living, will every gain the victory—Ex.

An old Scotch lady used to be attended by a doctor to whom she invariably gave a guinea when he went to see her. He had told the friends with whom she lived that her death would probably be sudden, and one day he was hurriedly sent for, as she appeared to have become unconscious. On his arrival he saw at once that the old lady was dead, and, taking hold of her right hand, which was closed, but not rigid, he calmly extracted from it the fee which she had provided for him, and as he did so he murmured, "Sensible to the last!"

Eczema.

For the good of those suffering with eczema or other such trouble, I wish to say, my wife had something of that kind and after using the doctor's remedies for some time concluded to try Chamberlain's Salve, and it proved to be better than anything she has tried. For sale at Parker's Drug Store.
