Corner Concerns.

Sheep being worried by dogs last winter was a common occurrence until the farmers became exasperated and went to Durham and spotted out the dogs seen running about and had them killed, and from then until last week the trouble was ended. But we hear Mr. E. Johnston had some killed on Tuesday night. It would be a great obligation to farmers if Durhamites would destroy many of the half starved curs in that place. This has the appearance of being a hard winter anyway, and very few will be able to winter one right through so might just as well do away with them at once and save annoyance.

The Ritchie brothers are now engaged building the basement of the new church. The stonework on reaching a foot or two above ground will be faced with brick. The main part of the building will be 28x50.

It has been customary here when crops are short to look to the vicinity of Mt. Forest for cheaper hay than can be procured at home, and while it is a rather better crop there than here it is still not a first class crop, and other crops, oats especially, are not so good and they may have none to spare.

Mr. Wm. Johnston went to Fergus last week for medical examination.

A private picnic from this part enjoyed, or rather spent, Friday at Hayward's Falls. Among them were members of the Watson family, of London. The weather conditions that day were not desirable for such an occasion.

Mr. Robt. Barbour and son Wilfred were on the sick list last week, in fact the latter has been down for some time. Joe Lehnock also required the skill of Dr. Brown to prevent an attack of inflammation.

Mr. Robt. Aitkens, of Fairbairn, and Mrs. Watson, of Normandy, visited the old home beginning of the week.

You asked for crop reports from every neighborhood, and that is the only correct way an estimate could be had. As summer showers were local, consequently crops differ very much in a short distance. Yet to get a true account is not so easily obtained, especially in parts where there is a decided scarcity farmers learned how unwise it was to let those with abundance know too much of them being in dire need until after they had purchased their supply. It has always been supposed the wail of starvation carried through the county in 1895 cost us thousands of dollars more than it otherwise would have done, but here is a correct report of crops in our part, at least according to the judgment of many. Hay about a ton per acre or a little over it, fall wheat good but rather small acreage sown, peas and barley also a good crop, oats rather poor, short of straw and the blight having effected the grain slightly, root crop prospects at present are excellent, corn fodder good and a somewhat larger acreage than usual sown. An idea of places of scarcity will be had by them keeping silent.

The date of laying the corner stone of the new church, St. Paul's Church, Egremont, it is to be called, will take place on the afternoon of Aug. the 16th. The leading officer of the Masonic Order will perform the ceremony at 3:30, after which a hot supper will be served in Jim Johnston's orchard. The best of sports and a good program is being arranged to give enjoyment for the rest of the evening. The fourteen different committees are doing their best to make it a grand success. We have decided to make the department we have been appointed to preside over a huge success by letting everyone who comes along in for 25c to have an excellent hot supper, hear one of the best programs that has ever been presented in this part, and witness some games that will be of interest, and if an occasional one wishes to climb the fence to a free show we will not kick as the fence around the place is a barb wire one and we like fun occasionally just as well as money. Don't forget the date, Friday, August 16th.

Loyal Saugeen No. 244, C. O. O. F.
 From the large number of secret societies in this town the ordinary citizen would think it impossible to crowd in another. The idea, however, has been exploded as a Lodge of the Canadian Order of Foresters was instituted and organized on the 31st of July last, through the energy and ability as an organizer of Mr. Roos who has been spending some time and who has been having good success. On the night mentioned the Lodge was organized with thirty charter members, twenty of whom were initiated here and ten more on Monday night in Mt. Forest where a splendid initiation was performed by the Hamilton Degree team. Besides these there are eleven other applications which practically means that the C. O. O. F. begin here with a membership of forty-one, provided they all stand for initiation. The organization here was performed by the Organizer Mr. Roos assisted by Mr. Wm. Irwin, Deputy Grand Master of St. Thomas and Messrs. Mott, Herbert, Grier, Pickering and Montcrieff, of Mt. Forest. The Lodge will be known as Loyal Saugeen No. 244, and will meet twice a month in the hall of the Independent Order of Oddfellows.

Traverston.

A big crowd from here took in the I. O. F. picnic on Thursday last and had a "buster of a time" at the supper hour.

Mr. Hill and Miss Low, of Toronto, are guests at the present time of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Arrowsmith. They are bright young folk.

'Twas last fall that Roy McNally left home for Toronto, where he has ably filled a position in the T. Eaton Co. store since. He gave the home folk a surprise on Saturday by dropping in unexpectedly for his holidays. He has developed into a fine-looking, strapping fellow.

It is nine years this autumn since Mrs. Harold Clark went West to Edmonton. She and her two youngest children arrived at the old Robson home here on Sunday, coming from Owen Sound by steamboat express. Mr. and Mrs. Clark have been most successful out there.

Miss Sue Timmins was under medical care all last week, but is now somewhat better.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClocklin, with Master Ray and Miss Edna, visited Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wilson, in Flesherston, one day lately.

Relative to the crops in this vicinity, they are somewhat as follows:—Fall wheat of good quality and a heavy crop, spring wheat not much sown but what there is promises a good yield, barley and peas are both heavy crops and well filled, but the oat crop is light and thin in straw and thinner still in head. They won't average more than a 60% crop. Hay is all in and well saved. Has averaged about three quarters of a ton per acre. All kinds of roots give promise of a full yield. Corn is doing fairly well. The apple crop is heavy, but all other fruits are almost a failure.

Henry's Corners.

The farmers are all busy haying, but as the crop is not very heavy this year it is not going to be a very long job. Quite a number finished last week.

Mr. Alex McLean, of Bentinck, visited at Mr. Wm. Hunter's a week ago last Sunday.

Mr. Mat. Hooper went to Mt. Forest one day recently and had his teeth pulled. He will have to gum it now.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Admason and little daughter Jean, of Toronto, came up last week to spend their holidays with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charter Smith, of your town, visited at Mr. Wm. Hunter's on Sunday; also Mrs. D. and Miss Gilmore, of Hampden.

George and Florence Patterson, of London, who have been visiting with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Patterson, intend going this week to Elora to visit friends.

Mrs. David Hamilton, with two of her children, Mary and John, visited friends in Guelph and Elora for a week.

Mr. Jas. Finnigan's home has been brightened with a young son since we last wrote, who says he has come to stay. Success Jim.

Once more we hear from that Hillydale prophetess who still has so much anxiety over our condition. As for her there would be no danger of the red wagon ever calling for her as there would be nothing in it, for she will be like the majority of old maids, dry up and blow away.

Misses Mary and Bell Patterson accompanied by their cousin Miss Florence Patterson, of London, visited at Mr. C. Reid's one day recently.

Mr. Jas. Finnigan has purchased a dandy new buggy from Mr. John Murdoch of your town.

Mr. Wm. T. Patterson who is now a full fledged station agent and has been working in Markdale at the C. P. R. station, is now home for a few holidays.

Mrs. Seaman, James and Louise, of Ithaca, N. Y. are at present visiting their many friends around our burg.

Sackett's Corners.

The farmers in this vicinity are well on with their hay crop. Some have finished. They report a very good average crop. Rain is much needed to improve the other grains as well as the root crops.

The Sabbath School at this place still continues to prosper, which is very encouraging for those interested. If the young people would organize a Christian Endeavor to pass the Sabbath evenings it would be a good move. We trust some one will take it up.

We regret to learn that Miss Mary McDonald, of this place, is still very ill. Dr. Sneath, of Dromore, is in attendance, and we trust under his skillful care to hear of her recovery soon.

Mr. W. M. Sackett is engaged as head sawyer at Sims' mill in Normandy. Will think he had better learn German or he will come little end of the horn out.

The Orangemen of L. O. L. 1136 intend to hold their annual picnic in Mrs. Hardie's bush on the 19th inst. A good time is expected.

Miss Margaret Ferguson is home from the Queen City at present.
