Mr. WM. BLACK, an employee at the Cement Works, purchased the residence of Mr. R. T. Whelan.

FOR quality and quantity ask your dealer for the new big plugs of "Bobs" "Stag" and "Currency" Chewing Tobaccos.

WE congratulate Otto Knapp, of the Soo, who recently kicked over the traces of bachelorhood and joyously entered the band of benedictines. We notice that our young townsman Bob Hughes officiated in the ceremony and it is not improbable that he, too, has got the notion and may soon follow the lead set by Otto.

WE see that Mr. Thomas Morton is nursing a sore hand which will give him an opportunity to rest for some weeks yet. He got his finger caught in the knotted of his binder where it was pretty badly smashed. Mr. Morton can afford to be idle, but the difficulty in securing help makes it hard for him to do so, especially in harvest time. We hope he will soon be able to keep up his end.

MR. BERT STONEHOUSE had his two storey frame cottage moved from George street to a lot near the corner of George and Countess street. Mr. Rogers of Moorefield had the contract of the moving and the family did not move out nor did the clock stop during the operation. From the size of the foundation we presume Mr. Stonehouse intends to brick veneer the house later on.

THE Women's Institute held a very successful meeting at the home of Mrs. T. Allen, Varney, on Aug. 26th, when about forty ladies met and discussed housekeeping in its various details. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Thos. McGirr on Sept. 5th, subjects "What we Learn by Attending Exhibitions," "Inventions to Save Work," "A Talk on Peaches and Plums."

As previously intimated in these columns, Mrs. Thos. Fox sold her property in town and left last week for Toronto. She was a very honorable and unassuming lady, but a lady with whom we had very slight acquaintance. The greater portion of her life was spent in Durham and vicinity and those who know her best have nothing but kind words to say of her. We wish her every success through the remainder of life's journey.

THE house in which Dr. Hutton has lived for the past two or three years is now being prepared for moving and the citizens are anxiously waiting to see how the contractor, Mr. Reuben Rogers, is going to handle the job. The house is a scantling frame, brick veneered and built on a some foundation. This is the first moving of the kind ever tri-d in Durham or vicinity, so far as we know, and we hope that Mr. Rogers will retain his good reputation as a house mover. The frame structures so far have been yanked along nicely and without much damage, but the one he is at now is a combination of frame and brick which makes the moving of it seem almost impossible to the uninitiated. Mr. Smith bought the house and let the contract of moving.

FURNISHED ROOMS to let—See classified ads on page 2.

MR. ARCHIE BROWNING has moved into the Vair residence recently purchased by him.

As the result of one week's advertising Mr. Laidlaw sold three houses and he now offers for sale a valuable property on Mill Street consisting of 110 feet frontage and containing a comfortable residence. It pays to advertise.

Two neat looking frame houses are being erected on Bruce Street by Mr. George Sparling. One of them is nearing completion, and the other is following on. Both are in the fire limits and rumors are afloat that trouble will follow. In case he has to Mr. Sparling can brick veneer both buildings as the foundation walls are sufficiently extended.

A BRAND new distillery is to be added to the industries of the local option town of Owen Sound. To the British Canadian Distillery Company of that place, capitalized at $250,000, has been granted a provincial charter. The Ontario Gazette contains this information.

It's painful for citizens with any pride in them to see the unsightly shacks that are being moved from the line of the railway and placed on good eligible sites in other parts of the town. They would need to be got very cheap to pay for the moving and necessary fixing up. Wonder if the fire by-law is being violated in any case?

WE are requested by Mr. Anthony Holmes to express thanks to his neighbors in Durham for their kind treatment during his late bereavement on the loss of his little girl, Ethel, who died at the age of fourteen months. We are quite sure that Mr. and Mrs. Holmes have the sympathy of the community in the loss of their little one, who died on the 23rd instant after a brief illness.

SAM, the Irish hostler at the Mid-daugh House went to Joe Michlhausen, the proprietor, a few days ago to enquire about what kind of wood he got a day or two previous, when Joe in turn enquired if it wasn't all right. "It may be all right" returned Sam, "but bejabers it must have legs for it walked away during the night." The wood was stolen but Sam had his own way of breaking the sad news to poor Joe.

THE Railroaders are making a big push just now, but the sound of the C. P. R. whistle is not yet within ear-shot of the town. Various opinions are expressed as to when the rolling stock will be in town. Some say inside of three months, but we are not so hopeful and do not expect to see the train run till some time next summer. We may be off the mark but there is certainly a lot of work to do yet. It was reported here a couple of weeks ago that the rails would soon be laid to Priceville, but a Priceville caller the other day told us it would be months yet. Mechanics are now at work on the bridge across the Saugeen here and from the progress they are making it will not be long till they get through with the work. We do not feel like predicting the arrival even of a construction train for some time yet.

MR. WHELAN bought the double house belonging to Mr. Wm. Laidlaw on College avenue.

GIANT Triplets "Currency" "Bobs" and "Stag" Chewing Tobaccos, in big plugs. Quality always the same.

MR. JAMES DAVIDSON has sold a piece of his property to the C. P. R., and George Yiirs will be placed so high and dry when the street and road are completed, that he will need an elevator to get up to his residence. We understand he is after the C. P. R. to make good the damages they will do to his property. Elevated as he is he will always have a good dry yard.

It is very commendable to see people take an interest in the graves of their departed relatives. A lady in town tries to keep in order the sacred spot in our cemetery here and goes out every week to perform some little act of kindness in honor of the dead. Among other things she had a few vases containing flowers as a sweet reminder of her affection, but would you believe it, dear reader, that some miserable miscreant emptied out the flowers and carried off the vases? Any person who would do a trick like that is not fit to live in civilized society, and we think there is not a person who lays claim to any degree or respectability who would not like to see him well punished.

SOMETIME this, Wednesday, morning early the Men's furnishing store of Mr. John Rose was entered by a thief or thieves and a few articles of clothing stolen. In addition to the stock carried by Mr. Rose, Mr. Nichol has a stock of tweeds and carries on a tailoring business in the rear of the store. Mr. Nichol lives upstairs and locks up the store at night. Like many others he simply turns the key and leaves it in the lock. The key can be seen from the outside through the glass in the door. With a large stone found on the door step the thief evidently broke in the glass and unlocked the door which gave him free access. A pair of trousers, a coat and a pair of boots were the only articles missed. The thief left the tickets that were attached to the stolen clothing and also his pipe, jack-knife and a few pieces of tobacco, which he evidently took from the pockets of his old clothes intending to put them into the new ones, but forgot. It seems as if only one person was engaged in the work, or more goods might have been taken. The poor thief may have wanted a suit of clothes to go to the exhibition and as Mr. Rose doesn't advertise, he may have thought the notices in the local newspapers would repay him for the loss of a few articles of clothing. Later.—The old clothes consisting of shirt, trousers, boots and coat which were stowed away on the shelving and found a little later revealed the thief's identity. Search is being made for him, and we hope to see him caught.
