FEMALE INEBRIATES.

Increase of Drunkenness Among Englishwomen.

Careful observers of social conditions in both the upper and the lower classes of society cannot fail to have noted of late a decided increase in the addiction to alcoholic liquors on the part of women. Published statistics relating to the number and ages of women convicted of drunkenness give one no real idea of the extent of the evil, for only a very small fraction of the intemperate fall into the hands of the police. Moreover, though a woman does not become drunk unless she has been intemperate, she may easily be highly intemperate without ever becoming drunk. It is notorious that a drunken woman is reclaimed only with the greatest difficulty, for she knows that she has unsexed herself. The inebriated woman injures her reputation, the intemperate woman her health.

ONE OF THE SADDEST STORIES.

First it was a cold, neglected of course and catarrh developed. Nothing was done and consumption followed. Watch the little cold, keep it from growing by using "Catarrh-zone." Nothing simpler than inhaling the germ killing vapor of this grand remedy. Colds and catarrh flee as before fire. Every trace of throat trouble yields immediately. Catarrh-zone is scientific and absolutely guaranteed for preventing and curing catarrh and kindred ills. Two sizes, 25c and $1.00 at all dealers.

A KNOCK FOR WESTERN FROST CROAKERS.

Winnipeg, Aug. 26—A gentleman of the highest standing in the grain trade has within the past week concluded by special train a tour of about 1,000 miles through many of the finest wheat sections in Manitoba and portions of Saskatchewan.

"I did not see any sign of damage by frost," was his statement to The News. "The tenderest garden stuff and flowers were untouched, and it is therefore reasonable to suppose that the wheat has not been damaged."

"It is impossible to say in a day or two what damage might be done to wheat by an examination of the wheat plants, but all outward evidence go to show that the wheat is perfectly safe and sound."

"The country is looking fine, and prospects are very good, but no one, not even the most expert of present-day prophets, can foretell the ultimate result of the harvest."

There is a strong feeling among many grain men that frost croakers should be shown no quarter.

They have no ground for their scares up to date, and their predictions so far have not been fulfilled. The trouble with most of them is that they are loaded with wheat. Little can be added to the above.

The situation to-day is perfect, so far as the weather is concerned. If frost keeps off, harvesting will be general in ten days.—Toronto News.

Classic City Chronicles.

The G. T. R. have a large number of men busily engaged enlarging the shops here. The new building extends close up to the edge of Nelson street, which has been closed at that point much to the dissatisfaction of the residents of that section. However, the city will likely make reparation for the depreciation in value of all properties affected by the closing of the street near the crossing. It is a case of the greatest good to the greatest number. There are some people who look upon the G. T. R. as a sort of tremendous greedy monster that gobbles up everything in sight. They evidently forget that the existence of Stratford practically depends on the great railway shops here. People who are so dainty and delicate that they cannot stand the smoke and noise of a great factory or foundry should move out to some quiet little hamlet; where the grass grows on the street, where the music of the birds and bees charm the ear instead of the rattle and roar of machinery; where the only smoke that is seen is the thin soft white cloud from a kitchen wood fire, moving heavyward from the chimneys of cottages instead of the great rolling black volumes of carbon and gas that pour from the vents of tall dizzy smoke stacks; where the inhabitants go about in a happy-go-lucky dreamy manner with nothing worse to shock their nerves than an occasional clap of thunder, instead of a rushing mighty cloud of black shirted workmen with faces darkened by smoke and glistening with sweat. Yes! Yes! it actually makes one sick to listen to people grumbling about the smoke nuisances and dear knows what else. Why in the name of common sense don't such people get out and be done with. In most cases the city doesn't bring the factory, etc. The factory comes first and the people follow. On the other hand, as is often the case of course, the city invites the factory, then it seems to me a piece of utter nonsense to condemn it after it has begun operation because forsooth everything about its management is not perfect. However, I am forgetting myself, as I intended to describe the mode of laying the foundation for the new structure but dropped into moralizing instead. The new building will rest upon cement piles which are about 20 ft. in the ground. Instead of having to dig holes for these concrete columns a very strong cylindrical steel tube having an alligator mouth is driven into the ground by a pile driver 50 ft. high with a 3000 lbs. weight as a hammer. When this tube reaches hard pan it is filled with soft cement and then drawn out. While being pulled out the alligator mouth opens thus leaving the slushy mixture behind, which completely fills the opening left by the tube. This material soon hardens and a solid concrete foundation is the result. The superstructure will also be cement, which goes to prove that this substance is fast taking the place of brick and stone as a building material.

The following excerpts from a letter received from my father, who is visiting his son Sidney at Rapid River, Manitoba, concisely sums up the state of the crops in that section of the Prairie Province. In the letter which was dated Aug. 26 he says, "Everybody is busy getting their hay in stacks and their summer fallows ready for next spring. The harvest is going to be late around here. It will be 10 days before the regular harvest begins unless we get very warm weather. It has been cold this month and we have had two or three light frosts but they didn't do much harm. The crops around here are not so good as they were last year as a rule, but some of them are very good. I go past a field of wheat every day that I take Zella (a grand-daughter) to school, and it is half a mile long and one quarter of a mile wide. I think it will go 30 bushels to the acre if nothing happens to it. Sidney thinks his wheat will yield from 18 to 20 bus. per acre. He has some very good wheat and some not so good. His barley and oats are a fair crop. The barley will be ready to cut in a week. There will be lots of hay left uncut this year as the "sloughs" or swales did not go dry enough for them to be cut. There will be lots of work here soon as men are scarce and hard to get. The railroads take so many men." I trust my paterfamilias will forgive me for taking such liberty with his manuscript. Probably if I were near enough I would receive an old-fashioned "touse" on the ear for my impudence.

Owing to the dry weather the City Council have discontinued street watering and have notified all the citizens to cease watering their lawns and gardens with city water. For some time the waterworks have been supplying us with a mixture of well and river water, but the latter became so impure that it was feared an outbreak of typhoid might result, so well water alone was turned on, but the supply is not sufficient for lawns and street watering hence the interdiction referred to.

of the Souvenir completely changes the air therein every few minutes without lessening the heat one iota.

Pure, cold air is drawn into the aerated flue and heated to the exact temperature of the oven before it enters it.

This Aerated Oven can only be had on the SOUVENIR RANGE

The ventilating principle of other ranges simply draws in cold air direct to the oven, heats it and allows it to escape. Suppose you have a pan of biscuits or a sponge cake in the oven, and a gust of cold air strikes them—they fall flat at once and the whole baking is spoiled.

Every Souvenir is absolutely guaranteed by the makers.
