Flesherton

The bimonthly sitting of the Fifth Division Court was held here on Wednesday of last week, Judge Hutton presiding. The docket was light and was cleared at noon. Among the cases disposed of were: Cockshutt vs Teeter—Action to recover note signed by Aaron Teeter, Sr., and his son Aaron, a minor. As against the latter the case was dismissed.

Boyd vs. Rutledge—J & W. Boyd sued Mrs. Robert Rutledge for an account purchased by them from the assignee of the Richardson assignment and were given judgment for $14.57 and costs.

Vessey vs. Watson—James Vessey, of Ayr, who formerly lived near Durham, sued Herbert Watson, of Priceville, for $28, the price to be paid for seven hives of bees and a large quantity of supplies. The defendant's claim was that the supplies were given with the bees, which were sold to him to be in good condition and proved diseased, all dying but one hive. Judgment for plaintiff $10 without costs.

John Heard vs. Herman Radley, both of this place. This was a replevin suit arising out of the plaintiff's mare having been impounded with the defendant, who at the time had not been legally appointed poundkeeper. No damages were allowed the plaintiff, and the costs will be paid by the defendant, who was acting for the police trustees of the village.

The U-Need A Concert Company entertained big crowds here every night last week. Mr. Bert Johnston, the manager, is a clever ventriloquist and magician, and his assistants, Messrs Cyril and Hewitt, are comedians who can keep a crowd in laughter. The Company did a thriving business selling their medicines. The pie eating contest on Friday evening, in which six boys took part, was won by Master Joe LeGard. This was amusing and of course pleasing to the palates of the boys. On Saturday evening the nail driving contest by six ladies was also amusing. The contestants were each given six 4 inch nails to drive into a 4 inch plank and Mrs James McClocklin was the winner, the prize being a beautiful parlor lamp. The $25 diamond ring given to the most popular child was won by Mr. and Mrs. Ranstadler's little daughter Marguerite, who in a keen contest had a majority of about 800 votes.

A threatened disaster which would have entailed much expense and might have caused loss of life was by being noticed in nick of time averted last week. The Mansard roof on M. K. Richardson's corner block, apparently from insufficient collar ties to the rafters supporting the heavy roof above, had given way pushing outward the top of the brick wall which had gone out of plumb over twelve inches. Under the hand of Architect Large and Contractor Wright the roof has been raised to proper position and the top of the wall, which was at first feared might have to be rebuilt, has been successfully sprung back to plumb and the whole securely tied. Mr. Richardson's friends are pleased to see the alarming conditions so successfully overcome.

Mr. Jacob Thompson, east back line, we learn, lost about fifteen cords of wood a few days ago by a fire which spread from a fallow. About twenty rods of fence belonging to Mr. Geo. Clark we learn was also burnt.

Mr. Wilson McMullen's buildings, near Flesherton Station, had a close call from fire started in the stubble by a spark from a C. P. R. engine. The wind was in the direction of the barn, and it was with a strenuous fight Mr. McMullen and his brother's family, who fortunately saw the danger, kept the running fire from the buildings.

Work on the Flesher mill dam washed away last winter was completed last week and is a substantial looking job. Some repairs have yet to be made to the tail race and mill, but it won't be long till the Boyd & Blakeley factory will be in operation again.

Sunday last was Missionary day in the Methodist church, the pastor taking advantage of the presence of Rev. S. D. Gaudin, Missionary at Cross Lake, Keewatin. Mr. Gaudin, who has spent the past seventeen years in the far north, spoke morning and evening on the missionary work among the Indians, and his discourses were very interesting. The speaker and his little daughter each sang a hymn in the Cree language, with which they are familiar. Mr. Gaudin, wife and two children are visiting his sister, Mrs. W. H. Thurston, on their return from Quebec to their missionary home, and to which they expect to be accompanied from here by Mr. Gaudin's mother.

A very heavy thunder storm passed over here on Sunday evening about five, when the rain fell in torrents. During the storm Mr. John Martin's barn, near Eugenia, was struck with lightning and burned together with the season's crop, most of his implements and some pigs. The loss is estimated nearly $2000, partly insured. The loss is very great to Mr. Martin as this is the second time in a few years he has suffered by fire. Mr. Martin and son were both stunned by the lightning, the former being rendered unconsciousness for some time, but is recovering.

Labor Day was observed as a holiday by the public school and Standard Bank, and post office, but other business went on as usual.

The Toronto Exhibition has the usual attraction, and large numbers from this point are visitors to the city.

For Thin, Poor Blood

You can trust a medicine tested 60 years! Sixty years of experience, think of that! Experience with Ayer's Sarsaparilla; the original Sarsaparilla; the Sarsaparilla the doctors endorse for thin blood, weak nerves, general debility.

But even this grand old medicine cannot do its best work if the liver is inactive and the bowels constipated. For the best possible results, you should take laxative doses of Ayer's Pills while taking the Sarsaparilla.
