TELLS HOW TO MIX IT.

A well-known authority on Rheu- matism gives the readers of a large New York daily paper the following valuable, yet simple and harmless prescription, which anyone can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one-ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and taking a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescrip- tion pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture if taken regularly for a few days, it is said to overcome almost any case of Rheu- matism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach.

While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medi- cines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescrip- tion for our readers if asked to.

Power From Sun's Rays.

Frank Shuman, an engineer and chemist of Philadelphia, thinks he has solved the old problem of con- verting the heat of the sun into power at such low cost that its com- mercial use is near at hand. His plant is simply a big wooden box sunk into the ground and covered with a double top of ordinary hot house glass with a one-inch air space between the layers. It is filled with coiled iron pipes painted black, and this is the power plant from which the inventor expects great results. The pipes filled with ether connect with a small upright engine. The ether in the pipes is converted to va- por in the big box, passes through the engine, developing three and a half horse-power, thence into a con- denser and back again to the hot box. No fuel is used, the heat of the sun being sufficient to convert the liquid into vapor.

How to Cure a Cold.

The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time in which we are all more or less inter- ested, for the quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger of pneu- monia and other serious diseases. Mr. E. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., has used Chamberlain's Cough Rem- edy for years and says: "I firmly be- lieve Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recom- mended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale at Park- er's Drug Store.

YOU'LL MISS ME WHEN I'M DEAD

When I am wrapped in slumber sweet And laid in earth's lone bed, Away from those who love me here, You'll miss me when I'm dead.

You'll see the pallid hue of death Stamped on my lifeless brow, And will your heart be constant true And love me then as now.

You'll miss me when I'm gone from earth, With angels bright and fair; As I have leaned on you while here, You'll lean on me up there.

I've been a burden many years, To you a constant care, And it will be relief at la-t, When I am called up there.

But not a selfish thought I know Has dimmed your heart of love; You've been so good and true on earth, You'll come to me above.

God grant that I may lend you aid To bear each burden sore Until I clasp your hand in love Upon the other shore.

And then together we will sing The songs of angels bright, And dwell forever with the blest, Where love shall be the light.

But while I sleep within the grave, And round my curtained bed, You'll think of one you loved on earth, You'll miss me when I'm dead.

Exchange Clippings.

Some ancient, perhaps it was Solo- man or Mother Shipton, has said that there's nothing new under the sun, and an equally reliable authority hath said that wonders will never cease. We are a convert to the latter belief. The other day when our wife's back was turned (she being discussing Mrs. Pye's mitinery opening with a friend) a stalwart farmer stealthily approached the premises, deposited a sack of huge potatoes and silently stole away. This was no measly bag of spuds, mind you, with the big ones on top, but a sack full, about as big as an old fashioned straw tick. Why does this generous young man hide his light under a bushel—or four bushels for that matter? He should be held up as a shining light to his neighbors. We can now fully appreciate the feelings that swell the Y town Rep and Durham Chronicle when they acknowledge a gift of a pumpkin or a gooseberry pie—only more so—a sack of potatoes for ours, every time. Still, we would like to know the name of the mysterious individual who goes about distributing sacks of potatoes in broad day light—like to return the empty sack, so he can fill it again next year.—Har- riston Review.

Richmond, Ind., October 4.—A $10,000 deal was closed yesterday, when the Alford Drug Company was sold to Dr. J. A. Conkey, an Indian- apolis druggist. It is understood that Dr. Conkey will continue his Indianapolis store as heretofore.— Indianapolis News.

Mr. C. M. Bowman, M. P. P., in an interview in the Toronto News, says this has been a great year for the farmers of Bruce County, and backs up the statement by referring to the fall wheat yield, which he says beats anything in that line for the last 20 years. He further adds that the wheat which took the prize at the Port Elgin fair weighed 65 lbs to the bushel. That is all right, but one swallow doesn't make a summer. A short hay crop, a short potato crop, and with practically no turnip crop at all, rather offsets the wheat yield. This is not the best year the farmers of Bruce have had in the last 20 years, and Mr. Bowman, when he says it is talking through his hat.— Walkerton Telescope.

The Telescope is in receipt of a let- ter from Mr. J. H. Caswell, late of Walkerton, but now of Francis, Sa- katchewan, that pictures the crop situation there in rather sombre col- ors. He says:—"This is rather a hard year for the farmers in this part of the country. Lots of farmers are not through harvesting yet. There has been 12 degrees of frost now, so you see wheat will be a poor sample. It is better at Swift Current, which is about three weeks ahead of this district in harvesting."—Telescope.

There were only two cases on the docket, at the Division Court here on Saturday, and both were adjourned until next court. One of these suits is of a rather interesting character, and is the outcome of the refusal of two farmers, John Craig and Joe Brocklebank both of Brant Tp., to pay for certain stock for which they sub- scribed in the now defunct Palmers- ton Pork Factory. This stock was subscribed for in March 1903, but as we have said, was never paid for on the grounds that the promoters had not carried out the promises made at the time the stock was subscribed for. One thing the promoters or company were to do was to put up a canning factory. This they have not done. The company were to buy the farmers' hogs. This it seems they have not done, for several years. In the third place the stock was to be paid for out of the first load of which the subscribers sold to the factory. But as these men have had no oppor- tunity to sell the hogs to the factory, of course, they haven't sold any, and so couldn't pay for their stock out of nothing. On the other hand the stock has in the meantime passed in- to the hands of the Bank of Hamil- ton which may be regarded as an inno- cent purchaser is generally protected by the law. The hearing of the case has been adjourned for another month, and it will be interesting to watch how it comes out.—Walkerton Telescope.

Hon. A. G. MacKay, who just suc- ceeded to the leadership of the Liber- al party in provincial politics, had a most disconcerting experience in the course of one of his earlier campaigns in North Grey. His supporters had made arrangements for a meeting of electors in one of the smaller centres of the riding, and Mr. MacKay had invited a well known Liberal lawyer from Western Ontario to "come over into Macedonia" and help him. This spell-binder had the reputation of de- livering speeches which were some- times more noted for sound than for sense, but Mr. MacKay never dream- ed that his coadjutor would show himself so ill informed upon Canadian politics as proved to be the case. The visiting orator after the usual barefaced appeal, to local vanity which are always introduced under the guise of references to the honored chairman, the ladies present and the fertility of the surrounding district, launched at once into a vehement de- nunciation of administrative corrup- tion and graft. Unfortunately, he chose as a concrete example the Mer- cier Government of Quebec, proving by his words that he was under the im- pression that Honore Mercier was a pillar of the Conservative party. Mr. MacKay, in common with the majority of those present, immedi- ately perceived the egregious blunder that the speaker was making, but it was too late to interfere and for half an hour the candidate had to writhe in his seat while the zealous co-work- er in the Liberal vineyard continued to rail against the Liberals of Que- bec. It is needless to say that the edge was completely taken off the speech with which Mr. MacKay fol- lowed the doughty but misguided champion.—Saturday Night.

Toronto Saturday Night: In a little Ontario settlement the Presbyterians were discussing the matter of more modern improvements. One of the newcomers remarked that he thought it would be a good idea to have some cuspidors installed, meaning thereby a gentle hint to certain members who were addicted to the use of chewing tobacco. A canny Scot, whose zeal for the church outran his knowledge, immediately expressed himself pleas- ed with the suggestion, and said: "I am heartily in favor w' the remarks o' the last speaker, and in order to bring this matter to a vote, I now move that John McTavish and Alex- ander Macpherson be appointed cus- pidors for the ensuing year."

The Edge Hill Fresh Beef Associa- tion held their annual meeting recent- ly. The business of 1907 was satis- factorily disposed of and the orga- nized again for 1908.

Rev. Mr. Farquharson conducted a prayer meeting in Grange Hall last Wednesday evening. It was well attended.

After an absence of five years in Owen Sound, Mr. and Mrs. Thos Banks have moved to their farm here again. We welcome them back to our neighborhood.

"Can you tell me what sort of weather we may expect next month?" wrote a farmer to the editor of his county paper, and the editor replied as follows: "It is my belief that the weather next month will be very like your subscription bill." The farmer wondered for an hour what the editor was driving at, when he happened to think of the word "unsettled." He sent a postal note.

HOME-MADE MEDICINE Said to Relieve Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism. One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion; One ounce Compound Salate; Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla; Mixed and taken in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime, is stated by a prominent physician to give most excellent results in kidney or urinary affluions, and also in rheumatism and sciatica. The mixture opens the clogged pores of the kidneys, thus assisting them in their work of filtering all waste and poison- ous matter from the blood, and expels these in the urine. To allow this poisonous matter to remain means that it will settle in the muscular tissues or joints, and cause the untold misery known as rheumatism. The mixture is composed of harm- less vegetable ingredients which can be purchased at any good drug store, and mixed at home. Anyone suffering from any of these affluions will no doubt be pleased to learn of so simple and highly recom- mended remedy.
