FLIMSY GOLD LEAF.

It Would Take 150,000 Sheets to Make a Pile an Inch High.

Gold beating is one of the oldest trades in Birmingham. The work is done entirely by hand. The leaf is hammered out in small home work shops from twenty four carat gold, but is first sent to the rolling mills, whence it is returned in long, thin ribbons one and a quarter inches wide and a thousandth part of an inch in thickness.

The thin square is placed in the center of a vegetable parchment pad, consisting of 100 sheets on top and the same number beneath. This is beaten with a fourteen pound hammer, and the gold, when considerably reduced in thickness, is placed between leaves of goldbeater's skin—skin prepared from a thin but tough membrane found in the large intestine of the ox.

Eight hundred pieces of the hammered leaf are arranged over each other between leaves of the skin, the whole being placed between parchment bands and beaten for a couple of hours with a seven pound hammer. Then the 800 pieces are cut up into 3,200 pieces and again beaten. When the work is done the leaf is 150,000 part of an inch in thickness and almost as light as air.—London Ideas

A DARING BASE RUNNER.

One of the Desperate and Winning Chances Mike Kelly Took.

Hugh S. Fullerton, the baseball writer for the American Magazine, tells a story about Mike Kelly, the famous player of Boston and Chicago, a generation ago, as follows:

"I believe the most desperate and brilliant bit of base running I ever witnessed and the climax of taking chances was by Kelly. The score was a tie late in the game. Runners were on second and third bases, one out, and the opposing infield was drawn in to cut off the runner from the plate. Kelly was the man on second. As the ball was pitched Kelly was on a run at top speed toward third. The ball was hit sharply to the shortstop, who scooped it perfectly and threw home. The runner going from third slid desperately toward the plate, where the catcher was waiting. Kelly had rounded third base at top speed and was coming up the path behind the other runner, screaming 'Look out for Kel!' at the top of his voice.

"As the runner from third slid behind the plate, trying to get past the catcher, he was tagged out, but before the catcher could touch him and dive back to protect the plate Kelly slid in front of the rubber, dodged under the catcher and scored the winning run."

Stormy Cape Horn.

The waters of Cape Horn have never been revisited by storms for more than a week or two at a stretch within the memory of man. Standing on the outposts of the world, Cape Horn is the meeting place of ocean currents of very different temperature, from the icy cold waters of the Antarctic drift to the warmth of the Brazilian and Peruvian return currents.

low level to which the glaciers of Tierra del Fuego descend, the perpetual congelation of the subsoil, the meeting of conflicting winds at very different temperatures, are all direct or indirect causes combining to make this the most constantly stormy region of the world.

She Had Money.

"And why," she asked, "do you think the world is better now than it was twenty-five years ago?"

"Because you were not in it then," he replied.

"Ah, I am afraid you wish to flatter me. I am nearly twenty-eight."

"Is it possible? Well, in a way I'm glad of it."

"Why?" "You see, I'm thirty-seven, and I don't believe that any man ought to be more than eight or nine years older than his wife."

"Oh, Horace! How romantic you are! I wonder if any other man ever adopted such a lovely way to let a girl know that he cared for her."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Stung!

The amateur gardener saw an ad. in a farm paper. The ad read as follows: "How to remove weeds without labor. Ten minutes does the trick. Send $2 for recipe."

The amateur gardener sent the $2. Two days later he received the recipe. It read as follows: "Marry a widow."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Ought to Work.

"I'm afraid these boiled eggs ain't very fresh."

"Write the name 'Genevieve' on one of them," suggested the head waiter. "Mr. Wopsey is romantic, and that will distract his attention if the eggs are not so good."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Hereditary.

"That fellow boy is never here when he is wanted."

"That's not altogether his fault."

"What do you mean?"

"It's hereditary. His father was a polychaem."—Boston Post.

Misunderstood.

The baby was slow about talking and his aunt was deploring that fact. Four-year-old Elizabeth listened anxiously.

"Oh, mother," she ventured at length, "do you think he'll grow up English? We couldn't any of us understand him if he turned out to be French."—Lippincott's.

Reassured.

"Daughter," called the irate father from his position at the top of the stairs, at the well known hour of 11:55 p. m., "doesn't that young man know how to say good night?"

"Does he?" echoed the young lady in the darkened hall. "Well, I should say he does."—Pittsburgh Post.

Poverty.

"The advantages of poverty are overrated," said a man who had experienced it. "The rich declare that poverty brings out a man's good points. Well, so it does—by the roots."
