Lesson VII.—First Quarter, For Feb. 15, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Luke xi, 37-54. Memory Verse, 42—Golden Text, Gal. vi, 7—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

When we remember that our blessed Lord knew all men and knew what was in man and every thought of man's heart (John ii, 24, 25; Ezek. xi, 5) we wonder how He in His purity and righteousness could live among men as He did and not be utterly discouraged. But He came to save sinners, knowing that every imagination of the thoughts of man's heart is only evil continually and that every man at his best state is altogether vanity and that an man's righteousness is only filthy rags (Gen. vi, 5; Ps. xxxix).

As to these Pharisees, if we note what He says of them in Matt. xxiii as well as in our lesson we wonder that He could think of entering one of their homes. If He was only a man, however good, He could not tolerate them, but being God in human form, God manifest in the flesh, He was not willing that even such should perish and would save them if they would let Him. But they, being ignorant of God's righteousness and going about to establish their own righteousness, would not submit themselves unto the righteousness of God (Rom. x, 3). They rejected the counsel of God against themselves and decided Him.

Yet when they invited Him into their homes He went, as in our lesson and in Luke vii, 36, but he was always "the faithful witness" (Rev. iii, 14), testifying to the love of God and the sinfulness of man. The word "Pharisee" means a separated one, but their separation was not from sin unto God, but from all who did not think as they did and were to them common and unclean, as when one of them said, "God, I thank thee that I am not as other men * * * or even as this publican" (Luke xviii, 11). We may become well acquainted with them by considering our Lord's estimate of them in the "woes" of our lesson and Matt. xxiii and Isa. v. They knew not the love of God, but they did love the praise of men. Their religion was wholly outward, seeking only human approval, utterly regardless of what God thought of them or knew them to be (Matt. xxiii, 5, 28). Like their ancestors, they regarded not the work of the Lord, neither considered the operation of His hands. They cast away the law of the Lord of hosts and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel (Isa. v, 12, 24).

BIDS PAIN DEFIANCE. This remedy, new to Canada, though well known in Great Britain and on the Continent, brings to all who are "tost" on the thorny bed of pain" a means of speedy and grateful relief. Kephaldol offers the sufferer from Lumbago, Sciatica, or Rheumatism quick and certain cure, even where the case is of long standing. No more is it necessary to endure the agony, enforced immobility, backwacking and exhaustion of Lumbago attacks, the torture of Sciatica-ridden limbs, the cramping grip of Rheumatism. Kephaldol is not only a sure, safe and natural remedy, but an exceptionally prompt-acting cure. Kephaldol may be taken without fear. There is nothing in it to give rise to bad after-effects—nothing to injure the heart or other organs. Thousands of letters from medical men testify to the wonderful power of Kephaldol to dispel pain and banish agonizing disease. Get a 50c package of Kephaldol tablets yourself and experience these benefits. Kephaldol Limited, 31 La-tour St., Montreal.

GIVE THAT PUNY CHILD THIS GUARANTEED REMEDY.

If your child is under-weight, listless, ailing, liable to get sick easily, it needs a medicine to build its weight and strength. For this purpose there is nothing else we know of that we can so strongly endorse as Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. The remarkable success of this splendid medicine is due to the fact that it contains ingredients that tone the nerves, enrich the blood and furnish to the entire system the strength, weight and health-building substances it needs. And it does all this without injuring the stomach. In fact, Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is not only pleasant to take, but even the most sensitive stomach is benefited by it, and the digestion improved. On the other hand it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs, which most parents object to giving their children. It does its good work by taking hold of the weakness and builds the body up to its natural strength, at the same time making it strong to resist disease. If Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion does not build your child up, feed the stunted, puny muscles, and make the little one lively strong, well, and full of the animal spirits children are meant by nature to have come back and tell us and get your money back. We don't want you to lose a cent. We think this is no more than fair, and it leaves you no cause to hesitate. For old people also—for convalescents—for all who are nervous, tired-out, run-down, no matter what the cause, we offer Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion with the same guarantee of entire satisfaction or money back. Sold only at the 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00. Macfarlane & Co.

The proprietors of smaller groceries in London presented a petition containing the necessary 30 per cent, asking for the repeal of the early-closing-by-law which went into effect in December last, and the Board of Control acquiesced.

Mrs. Lydia Pritchard, wife of Wm. Pritchard of Tillsonburg, Ont., was shot and instantly killed by an admirer in Calistoga, California, on February 3. The murderer then committed suicide. The woman's 10-year-old son was a witness of the shooting.

Thunder Bay riding is to be divided into two ridings in the forthcoming Federal redistribution. Fort William, Fort Frances and Rainy River will comprise one of these districts, and Port Arthur and the balance of the present district of Thunder Bay the other.

Some score of steamship subsidies affecting services between Canada and different countries are soon to expire, and negotiations looking to their renewal are now being carried on with the Department of Trade. In practically every instance an additional amount is sought.

FATHER OF PHRENOLOGY.

Dr. Gall at One Time Had the Whole of Europe in a Furore.

The first public notice of the "Father of Phrenology" appeared in Weitman's "Dutch Mercury" on Aug. 14, 1785. Gall was a practicing physician of Vienna, and early in his career he became a firm believer in the idea that the talents and disposition of men are dependent upon the functions of the brain and, furthermore, that they may be inferred with perfect exactitude and precision from the external appearance of the skull.

Gall was an able man. He set forth his theory in a graphic, apt manner, and in a very brief period he had all Europe at the top notch of excitement. The idea spread like wildfire, and in all grades of society people were discussing "the greatest of all discoveries." The new theory had to meet the customary opposition from the custodians of truth and the preservers of morality, but the opposition only increased the popularity of the theory, and Gall's celebrity increased by leaps and bounds. His lectures were interdicted, and he was threatened with the direst penalties unless he ceased his "immoral and atheistical" teachings, but he kept on with his propaganda, visiting all the large towns of Germany and the continent, and by 1805 all of Europe was interested in the Vienna doctor.

In 1828, the year of Gall's death, phrenology was in vogue everywhere. But after a great and glorious flood, tide of popularity it began to wane, and today it is but seldom heard of. —New York American.

BANISH THE RATS.

They Are Not Only Disease Carriers, but Thieves as Well. Almost unbelievable are some of the things done by the rat. The squealing, filthy, glutinous rat pervading, and destroying brown rat Rats often gnaw the hoofs of horses until the blood comes. They have been known to attack fat hogs and eat holes in their bodies, causing death. They will fight human beings if cornered. They often steal valuable articles to use in building nests.

The following were found in a single nest: Three bedroom towels, two serviettes, five dust cloths, two pairs of linen knickerbockers, six linen pocket handkerchiefs and one silk handkerchief. This same rat, which was a model of industry and thrift, had carried away and stored near its nest a pound and a half of sugar, a pudding, a stalk of celery, a beet, carrots, turnips and potatoes.

In the last dozen years over 5,000,000 human beings have died of plague in India alone. The India plague commission, after careful inquiry, found that bubonic plague in man is entirely dependent on the disease in the rat! Marvelous in its destructiveness is the common house mouse, closely related to the rat, and, like it, imported from Europe. The field mouse, too, is highly destructive, the most destructive to agriculture of all the rodents. —Farm and Fireside.

Missed the Bird and Lost.

The Glasgow News records a singular incident during a lawn tennis tie. The two players, who may be termed A and B, were very evenly matched. The game was long, and sometimes one and sometimes the other narrowly led. At length when A was within a stroke of defeat he returned a ball softly, and it looked as if his fate was sealed. So it would have been, but just at that moment a bird flew across the court in a line parallel with the ball.

As all good tennis players can well understand, B mistook the bird for the ball and "smashed" at it vigorously. It swiftly rose and he missed it by a feather's breadth, and ere he could recover his balance the ball had dropped on his court.

This stroke proved the turning point in the tie, as A thereafter played up strongly and ran out winner.

The Sheep in the Grass.

Lord Palmerston once inspected "Summer in the Lowlands," a picture by Sir John Watson Gordon. "Look here," said Lord Palmerston to the artist, "why should the grass in that field be so long when there are so many sheep in the field?" "My lord," replied the artist, "those sheep were only turned into the field last night!" Lord Palmerston bought the picture at a high price.

Penny Gone! No Warts.

Maurice, aged six, was weeping bitterly, and mother inquired as to the cause of the deluge. "I bought two warts from Vincent for a penny," he wailed, "and Vincent hasn't given me the warts and won't give my penny back."—Indianapolis News.

Round and Square.

"The mode of expression plays a very important part in diplomatic negotiations." "Yes, but there is not much use of trying to make a well rounded sentence take the place of a square deal." —Washington Star.

Entertaining.

One of the most entertaining sights in life is to see two people who know it all attempting to instruct each other. —Puck.

A moral, sensible, well bred man will not insult me. No other can. —Cowper.

All Growing Children are dependent on nourishment for growth. Their health as men and women is largely established in childhood. If your child is languid, bloodless, tired when rising, without ambition or rosy cheeks, Scott's Emulsion is a wonderful help. It possesses nature's grandest body-building fats so delicately predigested that the blood absorbs its strength and carries it to every organ and tissue and fibre. First it increases their appetite, then it adds flesh—strengthens the bones—makes them sturdy, active and healthy. No alcohol or narcotic in Scott's Emulsion, just purity and strength.

Concrete walks need no repairs THEY are not only best at first but are cheaper in the end than any other kind of walk. They are clean, permanent and safe. There is nothing to become loose nor are they slippery. They improve the general appearance of a house and are a source of great satisfaction to every housewife because they keep children out of the mud, prevent colds from wet feet and prevent dirt from being "tracked in" on floors and carpets. Equally important is the fact that they never wear out and never need repairs. This free book "What the Farmer can do with Concrete" tells all about concrete walks and how to build them, and a score of other things needed on every farm. Write for it to-day.
