Lesson VII.—Second Quarter, For May 17, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Luke xvi, 19-31. Memory Verses, 30, 31—Golden Text, Prov. xxi, 13—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

This is the only record of the spirit world given us by our Lord except His saying to the thief on the cross, "Today shalt thou be with me in paradise" (Luke xxiii, 43). There are other words of the Spirit on which the righteous may rest as on a firm foundation, such as "Willing rather to be absent from the body and to be present with the Lord;" "To die is gain; * * * to depart and to be with Christ is very far better" (1 Cor. v, 8; Phil. i, 23, R. V.).

Personally I am as sure from these and other texts and from our lesson today of the conscious existence of those who go out from these mortal bodies as I am of my own present existence in this body. I know that resurrection and not death will be the time of full reward for the righteous and full torment for the lost, but nothing could be more plain than this lesson concerning the conscious happiness or unhappiness of those whom we call dead. Note also in Rev. vi, 9-11, that some who had been slain for the word of God and the testimony which they held are told to rest and wait until their fellow servants should be killed. When our Lord told His disciples not to fear them which kill the body (Luke xii, 4) He evidently did not consider the death of the body a great calamity.

In our lesson the contrast between these two men, both in this life and in the life beyond, is most marked and striking. What could be a greater contrast than that of a man living in the luxury of this rich man, with all that money could obtain in the way of food and raiment and a mansion to correspond, and the poor, suffering, homeless beggar desiring the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table, a companion of the dogs? What multitudes would gladly share the rich man's portion, but where could one be found to take the beggar's place? How often the ungodly prosper in the world and increase in riches, but it is also true that often they are brought into desolation as in a moment and utterly consumed with terrors (Ps. lxxiii, 12, 19).

Both men died, and now we see the realities of eternity. We may easily imagine the pomp of the funeral of the rich man, though our Lord makes no reference to it beyond saying that he was buried. He does not say that the beggar had even a burial; but, leaving the bodies, He does show us the men who had departed from them. Angels carry the beggar to a place of happiness, but the rich man finds himself in the torments of the lost in hades crying out for a drop of water. It is an awful scene, a fearful change from the comfort of wealth on earth to the sufferings of the lost. Who would not be glad of the beggar's portion now, but who would not escape, if he could, the doom of the other?

I conclude from verse 25 that memory will play an important part in the sufferings of the lost between death and resurrection—the thought of what might have been—but now it is too late. Already there is a foretaste of the unquenchable fire of Gehenna, where their worm dieth not and the fire is not quenched (Mark ix, 43, 44). Part of the false teaching of our day is that there is no hell fire and that those who die in their sins can be saved after death, but our Lord brings before us a great gulf fixed between the saved and the lost, with the impossibility of passing from one place to the other. Elsewhere He taught that those who die in their sins cannot come where He is (John viii, 21, 24). In what may perhaps be the oldest book in the Bible we read, "Because there is wrath, beware lest He take thee away with His stroke; then a great ransom cannot deliver thee" (Job xxxvi, 18).

Having found out the awful reality of being lost, he becomes desirous that his brethren still on earth may be saved a like fate and begs that one may be sent to them from the dead lest they also come into the place of torment. He is assured that if they will not believe Moses and the prophets they will not believe though one should go to them from the dead. Here we see the cause of his being in the place of torment. There was not necessarily any sin in his being rich or in his having fine clothes and good food, but it is evident that he had no use for the word of God or for its warnings or entreaties.

Our lesson ought to be a very solemn word to all despisers of His word in our day, but who will lay it to heart? Even some who are Bible students and are sound on many points call this a parable, though it is not so called in the text, and endeavor to give it some other meaning. To me it is a simple and, in the case of the unbeliever, an awful statement of facts—our Lord drawing aside the veil for us and showing us the unseen. There came a time when another Lazarus came back from the dead, but it did no good to the unbelievers who were despisers, for they wanted to kill him over again because by reason of him many of the Jews went away and believed on Jesus (John xii, 10, 11).

In this life is the time to believe and be saved, and the word of God ought to suffice. Those who believe, not the record made God a liar (1 John v, 10).

DORNOCH.

Mrs. G. Ross and two daughters, Alice and Olive, of the west, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Will Smith, of this place.

Messrs. A. McIntosh and B. Dargavel spent Saturday in Durham. We were pleased to see the smiling faces of Dr. Jamieson and Ye Editor in Dornoch on Saturday last.

Miss Margaret Mortley of Edge Hill, Sundayed at her home south of here.

Misses Dargavel and McAuliffe, of Durham, visited friends in this burg Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. J. Ledingham, and Misses L. Mortley and L. McKnight spent the week-end at home.

The lantern slides given Friday night on "Scenes from the Orient" were excellent. The address and explanation given on the slides by Rev. McQueen, M.A., was also very instructive.

Miss Jennie Little is spending a few days with friends around here. Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart of Bentinck, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Colin McIntyre of this vicinity.

Miss Mamie Sullivan spent the week end with her aunt, Mrs. John Sullivan.

Mr. Elmer Trafford of Durham Sundayed at home.

Mr. A. Allan of Popular Valley, also Misses C. and L. Mortley, spent Sunday evening in Williamsford.

While driving past the mill last week, Mr. Jas. Ledingham's horse shied at an auto on the side of the road. It went off the road and into a deep ditch, thereby breaking the buggy and the harness. Luckily, the driver escaped without injury.

Sorry to learn that Mr. Will Smith had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse last week. Mr. R. J. Corlett a cow, and Mr. John Lang a cow.

The farmers are busy ploughing and seeding, and the sports of the burg are busy fishing. The fish and also the fish stories are very scarce.

Watch a Summer Cold

COMPLICATIONS MAY SET IN. That feverish summer cold may be cured with a dose or two of Kephaldol. Keep this prescription in the house because, not only in cases of cold or "Grippe," but for nervous headache or neuralgia it is a certain and immediate cure. Most Headache Cures are decidedly bad for the heart and other vital organs but Kephaldol is absolutely harmless.

This total absence of cardiac depression after the use of Kephaldol is one reason why the medical profession endorse it. If you find it difficult to obtain this prescription locally, write direct to the Manufacturers enclosing 50c. for a large tube.

HIS PLAN

"Some of your constituents are disagreeing with you," said the trusted lieutenant. "Well, keep tab on them," said Senator Sorghum. "When enough disagree with me to constitute a reliable majority, I'm going to turn around and agree with them."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

OF INTEREST TO BOXHOLDERS ON RURAL MAIL ROUTES

As a result of the establishment of the parcel post in Canada, the post office department has decided to adopt a new rural mail combined letter and parcel post box to meet the new conditions. A supply of these new boxes will be ready for delivery on or about the 15th June, 1914. The price per box will be $4.50.

In order that the holders of the present box may not suffer any hardship by reason of their having already paid $2 for the "King Edward" box, they will be allowed, on their returning the automatic self-locking signal device and their paying an additional $1.50 to the department, to get the new box, the department having undertaken to make good the balance of the purchase price, thus enabling the present boxholders to procure a new box at the same price required of new subscribers. The automatic self-locking device is the circular piece of mechanism attached to the end of the arm on which the box rests and turns.

Boxholders desiring to exchange their present box for the new one should forward the self-locking signal device and the addition of $1.50 to the Post Office Inspector of their Division, who will then forward a box of the new pattern.

Regularity

of the bowels is an absolute necessity for good health. Unless the waste matter from the food which collects there is got rid of at least once a day, it decays and poisons the whole body, causing biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches. Salts and other harsh mineral purgatives irritate the delicate lining of the bowels. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills—entirely vegetable—regulate the bowels effectively without weakening, sickening or griping. Use

PAINTED WITH MARTIN-SENOUR 100% PURE PAINT

ORDINARY PAINT REQUIRES 3 GALLONS MORE

How To Paint For Less Money

PAINT is not cheap simply because the price is low—if you would economize on paint, you must look beyond the purchase price per gallon.

The cheapest paint for you to use is the paint that takes the least amount for the job. It may cost a little more per gallon, but because it thoroughly covers more surface, wears better and stays bright longer, it is the most economical in the long run.

Martin-Senour 100% Pure Paint—
"The Paint for wear and weather", is absolutely the cheapest paint to use, because it goes farthest, and endures longest.

"100% Pure" Paint has a covering capacity of 900 sq. ft. of surface one coat, per gallon, as against a covering capacity of hand-mixed-by-guess lead and oil paint of only 500 to 550 sq. ft. of surface, per gallon, or the lower priced Prepared Paint with a covering capacity of not more than 600 sq. ft. of surface per gallon.

Give us the dimensions of your house—let us tell you how few gallons of "100% Pure" Paint it will take to cover it thoroughly—then, you will realize that it pays to use the best.
