HEALTHY HAIR—NO MORE DANDRUFF.

—Use Parisian Sage.—
 It's entirely needless to have unsightly, matted, thin or faded hair. A little care is all that is needed to make it thick, soft, pretty perfectly healthy and free from dandruff.
 Use Parisian Sage—it supplies hair needs and is absolutely harmless. It quickly stops itching head and falling hair, and is one of the best tonics to invigorate the scalp and make the hair grow long and beautiful.
 Get a bottle of Parisian Sage to-day from Macfarlane & Co. or at any drug counter. It costs but 50 cents. Rub it into the scalp—all dandruff disappears—your head feels fine—the hair is pretty and perfectly healthy.

Garnament, the imported French coach stallion, formerly owned by Walpole & McKechnie here, and now the property of F. J. Hintze, Allan Park, will be at the Hahn House stables every Friday night during the season of 1914.

CORNER CONCERNS.

Mrs. Dodson returned home to Palmerston last week, after spending a few days with her father, sisters and brothers.
 Mr. Robt. Wilson was so unfortunate last week as to have a valuable young horse injured severely by a barb-wire fence. He took down next day, all the barb-wire fences on his farm, and anyone wanting that kind of goods can have it at sacrifice prices.
 The very heavy rain of last Monday no doubt did a lot of good, although we hear more of the supposed harm it did and the extra work it caused.
 Mr. Ben. Sharp, with his gang of men, are busy on their contract of framing Mr. R. Mead's barn.
 The teacher and scholars paid due observance to Arbor Day in fixing up the school-house and grounds. The ladies of St. Paul's church were also taken with the same good spirit, and on Wednesday last put the church in apple pie order.
 Sunday was the first time most of our people had the pleasure of meeting Rev. Mr. Whaley, and he left the impression of being a good speaker, and faithful, honest divine.

Last Friday morning, another esteemed old pioneer passed away in the person of Mr. Jos. Lennox, at the age of 82. He was a native of Donegal, born in the County of Donegal, but came to this country at the age of 23, and soon started life in Arthur, and in that place, as well as Fergus, Hamilton and Mt. Forest, he was well known and highly esteemed for honest and courteous dealings with those with whom he came in contact. Fifty-five years ago he purchased lot 8, concession 2, Egremont, on which he died, at the home of his nephew, Mr. Jos. Lennox, to whom he sold the farm some years ago, and when he came to the time of life that he wished to be free to either work or rest at will, he took up his abode there. In fact, he has been a constant resident from the time he first made the purchase, and although he bought and sold other farms, he looked on this one as home. He was a true friend to all worthy acquaintances and never let them slip from his memory, and always felt a deep feeling of gratitude for Mrs. Lennox, with whom he has lived for more than ten years, for the very great care she has given him. His family consisted of three brothers and one sister, all of whom have predeceased him, and his only relatives in this place are his brother William's family, the other brother having died when young. Joe, on the old place, Alice, Mrs. John McNally of Traverston, and William and Robert of Elbow, Sask., all of whom he remembered with his means, of which he had gained a fair share. His religious leanings were towards the Anglican church, but in the absence of Rev. Mr. Hartley, Rev. Mr. Whaley conducted the services in the home and at the graveside, on Sunday. He was a lifelong Orangeman, and the Order conducted their service around the open grave in Maplewood cemetery, where the remains were laid to rest. A large concourse of friends was present to pay a last tribute of respect.

Pickpockets were busy in the crowds which greeted the Duke of Connaught in Berlin.

TRAVERSTON.

We've been enjoying reading the other scribe's items the past few weeks, but too t'arnal tired or busy to pen a line from our own hamlet.
 Mr. R. Jack of town is enjoying a few days among old friends and neighbors.
 It was a pleasant, profitable and highly appreciated visit that Inspector Campbell paid to No. 5 school lately. W. R. Wallace is proving a painstaking and progressive teacher and grows more popular as the months speed by.
 On crossing over to his other farm one day recently, Mr. Will Jack was surprised to find a strange two-year-old steer lying dead near the barnyard. Whose it is, or what caused its death was a mystery to him. Somebody is out.
 Mrs. J. J. Peart received word on Saturday evening of the death of her uncle, Mr. Joseph Hodgson, of Owen Sound. He has been seriously ill for some months.
 Quite a number along the 4th concession are invited to the marriage of Mr. Herb Allen to Miss May Hopkins, on Tuesday of this week. Herb is one of our most gifted and progressive young farmers, and the neighborhood welcomes his fair bride and wishes the young couple the best joys and every prosperity. There are quite a number of other bachelor chaps on the 4th concession that should follow Herb's example.
 About half our farmers finished seeding last week, the other half will sow the last fields this one. Fall wheat looks most promising, clover is growing fast, but last season's timothy is nowhere to be found.
 It was an inspiring and eloquent address that Rev. W. W. Prudham gave in Zion on Sunday. The subject was Good Mothers."

Mr. John McNally dropped out of being one of Zion's stewards on Tuesday of last week. For about 30 years he has been closely connected with the handling of Zion's finances and a good deal of the success attending it has been due to his tact, energy and sunny social qualities. Messrs. W. J. Greenwood and Chas. McClocklin are the new officials.

Miss Mary McArthur of the 10th concession was recently elected president of Zion's Epworth League.

Mr. T. Glencross is seeding on his third farm this week. He and his able assistant, Mr. Earle Ritchie, put in 38 acres last week, and did it well, to boot.
 Zion Sunday school is branching out this year, having added three departments, namely, Home Department, Cradle Roll and Missionary, under Mrs. W. J. Greenwood, Mrs. J. J. Peart and Mrs. John O. Greenwood. The classes of the regular school have Misses Jennie Cook, Ena McNally, Mary McArthur, Mrs. W. Jack and the Superintendent for teachers. Miss Mary Peart is organist, Miss Myrtle McClocklin sec.-treas., and if Mr. Will Jack won't act as librarian why we'll have to get some lassie to take charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jesson of Stratford were blessed with twins on Friday, who will be named Duke and Connaught in honor of the royal visitors of the day.

Keeping Out of the Ruts

The blood of a business which advertises regularly runs faster than the blood of a business which rarely or never opens its mouth.

Men who grow in ruts grow to like ruts. There is a certain comfort and contentment in routine—which word is very close to "rutine."

Advertising compels the advertiser to bestir himself—and since he advertises to YOU, since he wants your favor and custom, you can be pretty sure that he is doing his best to deserve your favor and custom.

A WORD TO THE PUBLIC

Give your custom to those who solicit it—who tell you they want it; who tell you what they are doing in your interests. Encourage those who serve you best and most.
