Prof. Hewitt of the O.A.C. says the Niagara district peach crop is a total loss; peaches should be a good crop, and fancy plums look promising. Strawberries may prove a big crop, but will bring high prices, as canners want them.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson IX.—Second Quarter, For May 31, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Luke xvii, 11-19. Memory Verses, 17-19—Golden Text, Luke xvii, 18—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Before we consider the grateful Samaritan it will be helpful to look at the Whitsuntide lesson on the revealing spirit in 1 Cor. ii, 1-10. Whether it be the Old Testament or the New, the great truth stands that "the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God," but what a comfort it is that the believer has received the Spirit of God that he may know the things that are freely given of God. To the natural man who has not been born again these things of God are all foolishness, for only the spiritual man can discern the things of the Spirit (1 Cor. ii, 11-14). The whole Bible has been written by the Spirit of God and is forever settled in heaven (II Tim. iii, 16; Ps. cxix, 89), so that it may truly be said to be the Spirit's Bible copyrighted in heaven. He therein tells us of the living and true God, His love for the lost, His great salvation, His coming kingdom and glory. He also tells us of the devil as the great enemy of God and man, the father of lies, the murderer, the god of this world, who will to the last make war with the Lord and the saints, but who will finally be sent to the lake of fire forever.

As to the inability of the wisdom of this world to grasp things spiritual, consider the revelations of God given to the kings of Egypt and Babylon, the utter helplessness of all the wise men of those lands to grapple with them, and the ease with which Joseph and Daniel, men of God filled with the Spirit of God, solved every difficulty. The Spirit is ever ready to convince of sin and lead the sinner to Jesus Christ, the Saviour. Then by His word He gives assurance of salvation, then makes the body of the believer His temple, revealing Christ to him and through him and working in him all the good pleasure of the Lord unless hindered by pride, unbelief or self in some form of working.

No one was ever so filled with and controlled by the Holy Spirit as the Lord Jesus Christ, and in Him the Spirit wrought perfectly and unhindered (Acts x, 38). It was so in some measure with prophets and apostles, (II Pet. i, 21; Acts i, 8; ii, 4; iv, 31; v, 32; vi, 3; vii, 55; xiii, 2), and there is nothing we should so earnestly and constantly desire as to be filled with and controlled by the Holy Spirit, remembering that nothing can ever be accomplished for God by the might or power or wisdom of man, but only by the Spirit of God (Zech. iv, 6).

Turning to the regular lesson, we see our Lord on His way to Jerusalem, whither His face was steadfastly set, for the time was drawing near for Him to be received up, or, in other words, to be slain and be raised the third day (Luke ix, 22, 51). Although He and His messengers were sent primarily to the lost sheep of the house of Israel and not to gentiles or Samaritans (Matt. x, 5, 6; xv, 24), for the kingdom was for Israel, and He was Israel's Messiah, yet He was ever ready to bless all, and the time was drawing near when He would be rejected and crucified by the Jews, then the kingdom would be postponed and the gospel given to all the world to gather from thence in this age of "the mystery" his body, the church, to share with Him His kingdom and glory. As these ten lepers stood afar off and cried, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us," His heart of compassion went out to them, and He sent them to the priests, which implied that their request was granted and the work was done (Luke v, 14; Matt. viii, 4). They evidently so understood it and started on their way, and as they went they were cleansed. One of the ten was so full of joy and gratitude that he at once turned back to thank his healer, and glorifying God with a loud voice fell on his face at Jesus' feet and gave Him thanks. He was a Samaritan, which seems to imply that the rest were Jews. How pathetic seems our Lord's question, "Were there not ten cleansed, but where are the nine?" None to give glory to God save this stranger. Is it so still that He finds gratitude only in one out of ten? How is it with you?

Leprosy was one of the emblems of Israel's national condition before God, as when Moses' hand was made leprous and then healed (Ex. iv, 6, 7) God would teach Moses and Pharaoh that, though Israel was in the sight of Egypt as unclean as a nation of lepers, He could easily cleanse and deliver them. The serpent sign was to teach Moses not to fear to approach the king of Egypt, and the water of the Nile turned to blood that God would humble the pride of Egypt.

How happy this grateful leper must have been to hear the Lord Jesus say to him, "Arise; go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole." We think of His word to the penitent woman in the house of Simon, the Pharisee, "Thy sins are forgiven; * * * Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace." Also to the woman who had been twelve years sick and growing worse. "Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace" (Luke vii, 48, 50; viii, 48).

Victoria Day passed off very nicely. All was comparative quietness till the afternoon, when the youth and beauty of the vicinity began to assemble, and by 4 o'clock there was quite an assemblage in the park. The program was of a varied character, consisting of races for the little folks, with the prizes of popcorn, nuts and oranges. The contests for the older ones were pretty keenly contested, especially in the standing and running broad jumps. The running high jump was probably the most interesting of all, John Brown and Gilbert Durant being tied at 5 feet. Lunch was provided by the ladies, after which the local and Orchard football teams tried conclusions, resulting in a win for the locals by a score of 1-0. Mr. Holliday of Gleneden acted as referee. Night was now approaching, and hence the time for the display of fireworks, and a short program. As is too often the case, the burden of the management of the day's sports fell on a few, which makes it really toilsome for the few. The gate receipts amounted to about $90.

A record yield of cherries, plums and apples is predicted in the neighborhood of London.

BEARDED OR SHAVEN FACE.

We need not go so far back as the 15th century to find Englishmen who held that shaving was 'agen God and Nature.' In the 19th, James Ward, Royal Academy, in a 'Defense of the beard,' set forth 18 reasons for retaining it, mainly scriptural, reinforced by artistic considerations. "What would a Jupiter be without a beard? Who would countenance the idea of a shaved Christ?" As late as 1860 Theologos published a treatise entitled, 'Shaving, a breach of the Sabbath and a hindrance to the spread of the Gospel.' One of his points was that Providence had manifestly designed the beard as a protection for the throat and chest. But what about the woman's throat? Nowhere was there more prejudice centuries ago against beards than at the Inns of the Court. The 'black books' of the Inns tell us how offenders were fined for wearing beards, and sometimes compulsorily shaved by order of court. And the prejudice against the bearded barrister still lingers. Vice-Chancellor Bacon carried his dislike to bearded or mustached barristers so far that he always refused to hear them. Even now there are very few leading counsel with beards, and I can remember only one unshaved barrister of the greatest eminence, the late Judah Philip Benjamin, who wore a mustache and a goatee.—London Chronicle.
