SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson VI.—Fourth Quarter, For Nov. 8, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Gal. vi, 1-10—Memory Verses, 1, 2—Golden Text, Gal. vi, 7—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The Golden Text is awfully true, even for redeemed people, that "Whoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." We have recently seen in our studies Judas Iscariot reaping something of the reward of iniquity.

The reaping is generally more than we sow, as it is written in Hos. viii, 7, "They have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind." Again, in Hos. x, 13, "Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of lies, because thou didst trust in thy way."

The two aspects are seen in Jer. xvii, 5, 7, "Cursed be the man that trusteth in man and maketh flesh his arm and whose heart departeth from the Lord." "Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord and whose hope the Lord is."

According to the epistle in which we find our lesson, the age is evil. The devil, who is the god of this age, has a gospel of his own and enough religion to satisfy most people. But all mere good works of men leave all under the curse, for the law requires absolute perfection in every detail and is intended to turn us from ourselves to Christ.

When we are made free from the curse and have become children of God by faith in Christ Jesus then it is our privilege to walk in the Spirit, be led of the Spirit, stand fast in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free and not do the things which the flesh that is still in us would have us do.

When we see others overtaken in a fault, as all are apt to be at one time or another, it is not for us to condemn them, but meekly restore them, remembering that we might some day need similar kindness and restoration.

There is a sense in which we must bear our own burden (verse 5), "Every one of us shall give account of himself to God" (Rom. xiv, 12). If we have been redeemed from the curse of the law we are here to do good unto all as we have opportunity, having reference first to believers, the household of faith; never weary in well doing, knowing that the reaping time is sure and that our labor is never in vain in the Lord (verses 9, 10; 1 Cor. xv, 58).

We may not see nor do the reaping, for we may sow for another to reap, or we may reap from another's sowing. But both sower and reaper shall rejoice together and gather fruit unto life eternal (John iv, 36-38). Whoever may plant or water, God alone can give the increase, but what an honor to be laborers together with God (1 Cor. iii, 5-9). Another verse comes to mind on sowing and reaping. See II Cor. ix, 6, and lay it to heart, "He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly, and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully."

FARMER KILLS YOU WHO ANNOYED HIM

Meaford, Nov. 1.—Hallowe'en pranks at Griersville, five miles south of here, last night ended fatally. G. H. Knols, a farmer, shot Jos. Ferry, aged 17 years, of Griersville, who with several others was sporting himself at the expense of Knols, who, it is said, lost his temper and fired his rifle at the crowd. The bullet found its mark between the eyes of the deceased, who died in a neighbor's house at 6.30 this morning.

Knols was arrested this morning by Chief of Police Clarke of Meaford on a charge of murder. He declares that several young fellows tormented him by continually throwing stones after he had asked them to desist.

"They refused to take any notice of me," he is reported to have said, "so I reached for my rifle and fired two shots in the air but they continued, so I fired two shots at the ground." He declared that he did not deliberately fire at Ferry.

Dr. Jordan of Meaford was hurried to the scene of the shooting, and had Ferry carried into a nearby house, but the bullet had penetrated the skull and he was beyond human aid.

A later despatch says that on the strength of the finding by the coroner's jury a charge of manslaughter has been charged against Knols.

BLYTH'S CORNERS.

The annual Sunday school entertainment held in Knox church on Friday evening was a pleasant and profitable affair. The night being excellent for weather, the church was comfortably filled.

Rev. B. M. Smyth occupied the chair most efficiently, and called off a lengthy and varied program of recitations, songs, instrumental, etc. We took no notes but will try to give it as it all happened. A recitation by Florence McIlvride, song of welcome by the children, recitation by Edna McIlvride, instrumental by Mr. Yandt and daughter, which brought forth a furious encore, recitation by Miss Neila Marshall, song, "The Maple Leaf Forever" by the children recitation by Mr. Robt. Webber, which was good.

Tenting To-night, by Messrs. Jas. Watson, Arch. McDonald and the Gander's Weathercock, instrumental again by Mr. Yandt and daughter, song by Jas. Watson, which was encored. Refreshments were then served, and as usual for old Knox, lots of good things left over.

Mr. Wm. Allan made a short pithy speech along the line of Sunday school work. The average attendance was about 90. He thanked those present for their presence at the annual entertainment and announced the proceeds of the evening, $20. The choir sang three selections during the evening, but we would rather tell you, Mr. Editor, privately, just an honest opinion of the rendering and effect. Two of the speakers of the evening, Rev. Dr. Marsh and Mr. Newnam, failed to appear, for some reason. The meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem and the benediction.

The Sunday school in Knox church closed for another season on Sunday last. The lack of accommodation during the winter

NECESSITATES THIS RATHER BAD CUSTOM.

Notwithstanding that our spirit has been rather dampened by having to haul out of the stable by the heels this afternoon our prize-winning filly rising two years old, the death of which we presume was caused by a severe case of scouring, which is so prevalent among horses this fall, we are still bubbling over with the rousing sermon yesterday by Rev. B. M. Smyth, text, John xx:24, "But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came."

Will the gardener please copy? On the side, Mr Editor, if it was true that Rev. Mr Morris was able to make even the slightest impression on the tough old skate, we feel encouraged to advise him to take a six-months' course under Mr Smyth. Peradventure, he may be able to get him at least past the danger zone, and if so, how much easier it would be for us to pass away and know that the royal old Gander was coming dawdling along, even though away back in the rear, as he usually is.

We were checked up the other day with giving a fraudulent 10c piece, by a certain young man. Unawares to us, we received it at the door on the night of the entertainment, and on examination, we found it was only good for one cent in goods in a certain store in your town. It resembled as near as possible the genuine stuff, and one can readily understand what a nuisance it makes if a person, and there are always some mean enough to make use of them. We know the merchant well, and are surprised at him circulating such trash.

FLESHERTON.

Another old resident has passed away in the person of Mrs. Hewitt, relict of the late Mr. Henry Hewitt, who died at her late home on the Meaford Road on Thursday morning last, aged 83 years. The funeral took place on Saturday last at Dundalk, service being conducted at the house by Rev. Mr. Dudgeon, and at the grave by Rev. C. L. Abbott, Anglican minister, Dundalk, to which communion deceased belonged. Among the floral tributes was a very handsome wreath from Mr. and Mrs. G. Mitchell, warm friends of the deceased. Mrs. Hewitt, who was a native of Ireland, settled with her husband near Dundalk over 50 years ago. From there they moved some years ago to their farm home, "Closewood," on the Meaford Road, where their last days were spent. Mr. Hewitt died over 11 years ago. Two daughters survive, Mrs. Patterson, near Meaford, and Miss Hewitt, at home.

Mr. Jos. Cornfield is spending a few days in the city, and was accompanied by his daughter Gladys, who returns to resume her studies in Harbord Collegiate.

Rev. Andrew Wilson, who has been visiting here, leaves this week for his home in Dexter, Michigan.

Mr. Mark Wilson, Jr., employed with his uncle in the butcher shop, received a bad cut in the hand with a sharp knife on Monday.

Mrs. Scott of Toronto is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. Buskin.

Mrs. C. F. Ottewill and babe of Toronto, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilcock.

Miss Francis Alexander of Faversham is visiting Miss Amanda Stewart.

Miss Mabel Herderson has returned from visiting in Toronto.

Mr. Fred McTavish is ill with inflammatory rheumatism, and your scribe is enduring the distress of sciatica.

The Women's Institute here held their annual free fowl supper for the members and their husbands at the home of the ex-president, Mrs. Robt. Best, on Wednesday evening of last week, and a very pleasant social time was spent.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Sledt last week, and another son was added to their former family of two boys.

Mr. Roy Piper, who was married about three weeks ago, had a narrow escape from serious injury last week, when his team of horses ran away and he was thrown from the wagon, sustaining injury to the shoulder, and a severe shaking up.

Mr. Walter Marr, blacksmith, who has been for a number of years with Mr. D. McTavish, has bought out a business at Proton Station, and will move to that village soon.

Mr. Geo. Bellamy is moving his family this week to Markdale, where he has been employed for some time.

Saturday was Tag Day here, in behalf of the Children's Aid work in the county and over $40 were collected by the ladies, who had charge of the work.

Among those who left here on Friday on their annual hunting holiday in Parry Sound were in one party, Editor Thurston, Dr. Murray, C. N. Richardson, F. Mathewson, and W. Morton, joined by Dr. C. F. Ottewill of Toronto, Geo. Mitchell, John Wright, S. Pedlar and J. W. McKee were in another party.

Communion service was held in the Methodist church on Sunday morning, when the pastor was assisted by Rev. Mr. Wilson, who preached the sermon. Nine new members were received by letter, and two on profession of faith. In the evening, Rev. Mr. Jones preached, the pastor supplying his pulpit at Eugenia, administering the sacrament.

The Hydro-Electric by-law, to raise $5,500, voted on here last week, was carried without an opposing vote.

Mr. John Porteous received the sad news on Saturday of the death of his daughter, Mrs. M. Sherwood, at Collingwood.

The boys were out for their usual round of Hallowe'en pranks on Saturday night, but for their good name, some of their escapades had better be cut out.

MR. THOS. SHERWOOD, NEAR PORT-LAW, MET WITH A BIG LOSS ON SUNDAY MORNING ABOUT FIVE O'CLOCK, WHEN HIS BARN, CONTAINING THE SEASON'S CROP, TOGETHER WITH TWO HORSES, A COIT, AND ABOUT 125 FOWL, WERE DESTROYED BY FIRE FROM CAUSE UNKNOWN.

Mr. Thos. Sherwood, near Port-law, met with a big loss on Sunday morning about five o'clock, when his barn, containing the season's crop, together with two horses, a colt, and about 125 fowl, were destroyed by fire from cause unknown. Mr. Sherwood had risen early to go to his mother's funeral at Collingwood, and discovered the building on fire, which had made such headway that he was able to save one horse only. Insurance on building and contents, $700. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood in their loss.

The Presbyterian Guild elected officers last week as follows: Pres., G. Stewart; 1st Vice, C. Stewart; 2nd Vice, Mrs. McVicar; 3rd Vice, T. Chard; 4th Vice, Miss M. McTavish; Rec. Sec., Miss L. Duncan; Cor. Sec., D. McVicar; Treas., C. Stewart; Organist, Miss R. Buskin; Assistant, Miss L.

Duncan; Devotional Com., C. Stewart; convener, Mrs. Radley, J. Harrison; Missionary, Mrs. McVicar; convener, Miss Loucks, G. McTavish; Educational, T. Chard, convener, Miss Holmes, Miss Wilson, F. Duncan; Social, Miss McTavish; convener, Miss Buskin, Mrs. Goldhawk, L. Whitehead, J. LeGard, R. Chard; Flower, Mrs. Goldhawk, convener, Amanda Stewart, A. Sparks, Mrs. T. Wilson.

On Friday and Saturday two cars were loaded at Flesherton Station with oats and potatoes, part of Grey county's donation to the British Government in the war crisis.

One of the workmen at Eugenia Hydro dam lost the thumb of one hand last week, getting caught in the machinery.

The news of the sudden death of Mr. W. G. Pickell of Markdale, was a shock to his old friends here, who deeply sympathize with his widow in her loss.
