SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson IX.—Fourth Quarter, For Nov. 29, 1914

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Mark xv, 22-37. Memory Verses. 25-27—Golden Text, Isa. liii, 4—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

We have seen our blessed Lord in the hands of the band who arrested Him; in the hands of the religious hypocrites called chief priests and scribes and elders; in the hands of the Roman governor, who chose to please the people rather than do what he knew to be right, and now He is in the hands of the soldiers whose orders are to kill Him. They crucified the Lord of Glory (1 Cor. ii, 8). They had no pity, and He could truly say, "I looked for some to take pity, but there was none, and for comforters, but I found none" (Ps. lxxix, 20, 21).

Let us consider Him in the hands of the soldiers, and through it all let our hearts keep saying, "For me, all for me, that I, redeemed by His great sacrifice, might learn how to bear something for His sake and be content to be killed all the day long." See the whole band gathered about Him, clothing Him with purple, crowning Him with thorns, putting a reed in His right hand, mockingly saluting Him as king of the Jews, smiting Him and spitting upon Him.

Then they took off the purple and put His own clothing on Him and led Him out to crucify Him, and He, bearing His cross, went forth (verse 20; John xix, 17). Imagine, if you can, what it meant to have clothing roughly put on and removed from a scourged back and to have a heavy cross laid upon it. Did you ever take a piece of cloth from a wound unhealed? Then think of Him.

The story of Simon the Cyrenian compelled to bear the cross—His cross—seems to indicate that Jesus either stumbled because of weakness or fainted under His heavy load and sufferings. Simon was coming out of the country into the city, but had to turn back and bear a little for Christ's sake. When we are turned about in our plans or compelled by adverse people or circumstances to do differently from what we had intended it will help us to remember Simon and say, "Amen, O Lord."

It is recorded in Luke xxiii, 27-32, that a great company of people and of women followed Him, bewailing and lamenting Him, and that He said to the women, "Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children," and He told them of the terrible days ahead of them, which days and things in due time came upon their city. Even more terrible things such as never have been or ever will be again are awaiting this world, but few believe it (Matt. xxiv, 21; Zeph. i, 14-18; III, 8; Isa. xlii, 9-13).

Luke also tells us in the same passage that there were two malefactors led with Him to be put to death. Thus He was numbered with transgressors (Isa. liii, 12), and we must be contented to be so numbered for His sake.

If we will let Him live His life in us we must be content to suffer with Him and to be mis-called, misjudged, misunderstood, falsely accused and in every way ill treated for all who will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution (II Tim. iii, 12).

They came to the place of crucifixion, the place of a skull, called in Matthew, Mark and John "Golgotha" and in Luke "Calvary," and there they crucified Him, on either side one of the malefactors and Jesus in the midst. Never did so few words have such awful significance. The Son of God, the Holy One of Israel, treated as the vilest criminal, but it was for us He suffered, let each one say "for me," and consider, if you can, the cost of your redemption.

It was all foretold, the pierced hands and feet, the parted garments, the casting of lots and all else (Pa. xxii, Isa. liii and elsewhere). Though God foresaw it all, that did not mitigate the guilt of cruel hands (Acts ii, 23; iv, 27, 28). He was crucified at the third hour, or 9 a. m. (verse 25). The passersby railed on Him, the chief priests and scribes mocked Him, the soldiers also mocked Him and offered Him vinegar, and they that were crucified with Him reviled Him (verses 25-32; Luke xxiii, 36-39). One of the two thieves repented and went to Paradise with Him that day (Luke xxiii, 40-43).

With hands and feet nailed to the cross, without baptism or any good works, he believed, confessed Christ, and went to glory. There was darkness from the sixth hour to the ninth hour, and at that hour He died.

Then was the veil of the temple rent in twain from the top to the bottom, the earth did quake, and the rocks were rent, graves were opened, and after His resurrection many bodies of the saints arose and appeared to many in the holy city (verses 37, 38; Matt. xxvii, 51-53). These probably went with Him to glory.

Fail not to notice with much prayer the seven sayings from the cross recorded in Matt. xxvii, 46; Mark xv, 34; Luke xxiii, 34, 43, 46; John xix, 28-30. These texts do not give them in the order of utterance. The first is forgiveness, the second is glory, and the third covers all that we need while here on earth. Each of the other sayings has its message for our hearts.

THE WORLD-WIDE WAR.

The world wide war now being waged between practically all the civilized nations and which is the biggest and most terrible in the history of the world, has created interest unparalleled. The demands of the public for early and prompt reports of the war happenings are such that we have arranged to club The Chronicle with The Toronto World, which will enable the residents of this county to keep in close touch with the happenings in the war zone.

The World is the only morning paper in Toronto taking the full leased wire copyrighted service of the Central News, which is the most conservative and at the same time the most reliable news service in the world. In addition they receive the war cables of The New York World, acknowledged to be among the best published in America, together with the full Canadian Press service and Canadian Associated Press cable. The Chronicle will publish a weekly review of the war news and with these two newspapers you will be supplied with every event of interest.

The clubbing offer of The Chronicle and the Toronto Morning World is advertised in another part of this paper, and is of vital interest to you from an economic standpoint, for in view of prevailing conditions this very advantageous offer may be withdrawn at any time.

THE BELGIAN RELIEF FUND

The following letter was intended for publication last week, but reached us too late for last issue:

Dear Sir,—
Elsewhere in this issue will be found a statement of what I have received for Belgian relief up to date. Apart from the Thanksgiving Day offering, no special appeal has been made. Those interested have passed in their contributions, and all has been forwarded. At first I permitted through the Women's Patriotic League of Toronto, but since larger amounts have come in I have sent direct to the Belgian Consulate in Montreal. A letter of acknowledgement appears elsewhere.

I was told by several that if an appeal were made for funds for this purpose, many would give gladly. The farmers of the surrounding townships have sent car loads of produce. In addition to what I have handled, other organizations of the town have sent worthy sums. If it will facilitate matters, I shall still gladly forward any amounts placed at my disposal, or, if anyone wishes to send direct, let him address Mr. Hector Prud'homme, Hon. Treas. of the Executive Committee handling this matter. His office is the Belgian Consulate, Montreal, 59 St. Peter St.

The need is certainly great. The supply of food in Belgium is almost exhausted. At least 7,000,000 people, almost as many as in our whole Dominion, must be fed some way. Winter is coming on, to add to the distress. No adjacent country is able to render much assistance, unless it be Holland, and already her resources are taxed to care for 1,000,000 refugees. As many as 400,000 children have been adopted in Dutch families. It is estimated that fully 80 per cent. of the people of Belgium are out of work, and many of these out of homes as well. It will not only be a good advertisement for Canada, but a good investment as well.

W. W. PRUDHAM,
Durham, November 17, 1914.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR—A CLEAN, COOL SCALP.

Use Parisian Sage. It Makes the Hair Fluffy and Abundant. It is needless for you to have hair that is anything short of perfect. If it is falling out, losing color, splitting, or if the scalp burns and itches, immediately get from Macfarlane & Co. or any drug counter a 50-cent bottle of Parisian Sage—use it frequently—the first application removes dandruff, invigorates the scalp, and beautifies the hair until it is gloriously radiant.

Parisian Sage supplies hair needs—is perfectly harmless. It contains the exact elements required to make the hair soft, wavy, glossy and to make it grow thick and beautiful.

You will surely like Parisian Sage. It is one of the best and most delightful hair tonics known.

THE COMPANION IN CANADA

One of our Canadian subscribers writes us: "No other paper or magazine coming to our house is so highly prized as The Youth's Companion. It is welcomed by every member of the family—and our ages run from seven to eighty-seven."

Some of Canada's best-known writers of fiction are contributors to The Companion, besides many of the most prominent figures in politics and literature in the old country. The whole world is scoured for the best that is to be said on any subject of general interest.

The Boys' Own Page, the Girls' Own Page, the Family Page treating of farming, gardening, domestic economy, cookery, the use of tools, etc., the doctor's weekly health talk—these and a score of other features make The Companion almost indispensable when it has once found its way into a home.

If you do not know The Companion, let us send you one or two current issues with the forecast for 1915. Every new Canadian subscriber for 1915 who sends $2.25 for the 52 weekly issues of 1915 will receive free all the issues of the paper for the remaining weeks of 1914: also The Companion Home Calendar for 1915.

VALUE OF RHEUMA FROM THE COURT.

Judge Barhorst was Relieved of Rheumatism After Doctors Failed.

If you have tried many other remedies and doctors' treatments for Rheumatism and found they failed, do not be skeptical about trying RHEUMA. Read the testimony of Judge John Barhorst of Fort Laramie, O.

"After treatment by three doctors without result, I have been cured of a very bad case of Rheumatism by using two bottles of RHEUMA. It is now two years since I used the remedy, and I am still as well as ever. Previously, I was a cripple, walking with crutches."

Such testimony should be convincing. 50 cents of Macfarlane & Co. guaranteed.
