TWO ARTISTS MEET.

County Constable Wm. Marshall last week had two peddlers up for selling men's suits without the necessary license. One appeared at Grand Valley before Police Magistrate Tate, who, according to the game of law. took 25 simoleons and the cost, time, paper, etc., from him. The other, by a wonderful stroke of fortune, had the honor of appearing before the ever-smiling Police Magistrate Falconer, by far the best looking gentleman who ever left Shelburne by the C. P. R. As Mr. Falconer was in town attending the sessions of the county council and being a clothing merchant of some ability the constable thought it would be well to have these two gentlemen meet.
