The law now requires that butter wrappers be printed. If you leave your orders at The Chronicle office the work will be done properly and promptly.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. J. N. Murdock, who was taken seriously ill the first of the week is making good progress toward recovery. For a time, her condition was serious.

We learn that Mr. Carl Walker, who was engaged on the staff here a year or so ago, has purchased the Hillsburg Beaver, and is now running a paper of his own. We wish him every success and hope he may grow rich and corpulent like the rest of us.

Quite a number from here attended the Orillia-Wiarton hockey match at the latter place on Wednesday night. Though Wiarton were three goals ahead on the game, they could not overcome Orillia's four-goal lead, and as a consequence, Orillia are the 1915 champions of the O. H. A.

Congratulations to Col. D. C. McKenzie, a former Durham boy, who was again elected mayor of Fort Frances, on Monday, over L. Christie, the Citizen's League candidate, by a majority of 68. Col. McKenzie was disqualified by the local court, but appealed to Toronto, where the disqualification was removed. The election is reported as one of the hottest in years.

Durhamites will be interested in the news that Mr. E. L. Knight better known here as "Tod," who was a member of the first Canadian expeditionary force in the South African war, has been given an appointment in the second contingent with the Eaton machine gun motor corps. He will hold the rank of lieutenant. Mr. Knight is the eldest son of the Collingwood town clerk, and is a son-in-law of Mrs. J. A. Munro of this town. He is now in Toronto with his battery, and expects to leave for France shortly.

Grey County Assizes opened at Owen Sound on Tuesday, the list including four criminal and two civil cases. Robert Knoll of Griersville, and Joseph Hamlet of this place face charges of manslaughter. Knoll fatally shot Joseph Ferry, who, with other youths, was carrying on pranks about his house on Halloween. The charge against Hamlet is for the accidental shooting of Edgar Lawrence, son of Mr. T. H. Lawrence, near Vickers, on Thanksgiving Day. A Hanover man named Theodor is charged with assaulting H. H. Elliott last fall and taking $15 from him. A Meaford man is charged with rape. Just as we go to press we learn that Hamlet has been acquitted.

In this issue we publish an article on Patriotism and Production that should inspire our agricultural readers to greater efforts in the pursuit of their labors. The statistics at the close of the article may appear like dry reeding, but they are very significant and full of meaning. Notice particularly the immense shortages that are likely to grow from the disturbance caused by the war that to-day is playing havoc with so large a portion of Europe. This shortage must be made up some place to preserve the equilibrium. Canada is one of the countries in a position to take advantage of the situation and it seems like wisdom on her part to get in on the ground floor.

Dr. Eucken, of Jena, writing in the Berliner Tageblatt, says that in the United States the people have been under a misapprehension about Germany. To which 'On the Side' remarks in The Toronto News: "True enough. The Americans thought it was a civilized country."

Rev. S. M. Whaley gave a very interesting address at the Epworth League in the Methodist church on Monday evening. The topic assigned was, "What does the Presbyterian Church stand for." This is the first of a series of similar topics to be taken up by the different ministers of the town.

Dr. J. F. Grant concluded a deal last week by which he purchased the fine brick residence of Mr. Robert Aljoe on Bruce street, but arrangements are such that possession will not be given before September next. Mr. Aljoe is at present undecided as to whether he will build or buy another house during the interval. Some have an idea that he intends moving to Toronto, where all the members of his family are now engaged, but on that question Mr. Aljoe is entirely non-committal. We congratulate buyer and seller, both of whom are satisfied.

Rev. Mr. Hartley of Delaware was in town Tuesday and Wednesday and the meeting of many of his friends was a real mutual enjoyment. He is well, and reports Mrs. Hartley well also. Though in Delaware since last October, he is learning to like the place and people. The village, which has a population of only four or five hundred, recently installed the Hydro-Electric, and Mr. Hartley speaks in high terms of the excellent light furnished. He is not yet in a position to say anything about its cost to the consumers. One chief object of Mr. Hartley's visit was to be present at the meeting of the Masonic Lodge on Tuesday. We were pleased to have him call on us and spend a half hour in his usual pleasant mood. He returned to his home this morning.

Special Optical Sale.—For two days only, on Friday and Saturday, March 19th and 20th, at R. L. Saunders' Variety Store, Durham we will again sell genuine gold-filled rimmed spectacles and eye-glasses for $1.00, same as are sold regularly for from $3.50 to $5. These special sales have been conducted at our store several times during the past year by Messrs. Hughson & Baker, graduate opticians, of Toronto, who have never failed to give entire satisfaction, and we are very fortunate in again securing their services to conduct this sale. Eyes tested free and best possible vision guaranteed. Lowest prices for double vision and special ground lenses. This is your opportunity to economize during the present money stringency. Notice—Come early, and avoid crowding during the afternoon and evening.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The ladies of the Durham branch of the South Grey Women's Institute, held a social meeting, entertainment, and luncheon in the town hall on Friday evening. This has become an annual event, and many look forward to it with pleasure. The attendance was good, consisting of ladies of the Institute and their invited friends. A good program was provided, and we are safe in saying it was enjoyed by all. Ye Editor was chairman, and as he filled the same position on a number of previous occasions he will soon come to feel the position as his by Divine Right.

After a few rambling remarks by the chairman, the entertainment was opened by Miss Rita Irwin, who played a patriotic medley on the piano. Mr. E. D. McClocklin contributed a couple of rousing songs that were undoubtedly enjoyed by everybody. Miss Annie Graham gave a couple of pleasing recitals, Mr. Peter Ramage gave a well rendered and appreciated solo, and Miss Ida Wilson, a talented young vocalist, sustained her reputation as a musical artist, and Mr. Allan Bell contributed a couple of good vocal numbers. Rev. Mr. Wylie is extremely humorous for a Scotchman, and delighted the audience with an address that was both entertaining and edifying.

During the program, Drs. Wolfe and Grant, two members of the council, were called to the platform, when an address was read by Mrs. McCannel, and a handsome new stage curtain presented to the council. In the absence of the mayor, who should have been there, and who either forgot or neglected to respond to an invitation. Councillors Wolfe and Grant responded very graciously to the ladies and expressed the hearty thanks of the Council for the very handsome, appropriate and much needed gift.

In due time the program was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem, after which all joined in disposing of a liberal luncheon provided by the ladies of the Institute. Supper over, the ministers went to their several homes, but we younger ones looked with longing eyes at the floor was cleared, and we enjoyed ourselves for a short time in the most intricate terpsichorean exercises.

HYMENEAL

BLYTH—RITCHIE.

Last evening, at half-past six, a very pretty wedding was quietly solemnized at the home of Mrs. Ritchie here, when her daughter, Sarah, joined heart and hand with Mr. Wilbert G. Blyth, a rising and prosperous young farmer of Normanby, just west of Varney.

The bride was gracefully given away by her brother, Mr. John Ritchie, and little Nellie McGirr acted as a charming little flower girl. The nuptial knot was well and securely tied by the bride's pastor, Rev. S. M. Whaley, in the presence of only immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The numerous valuable, useful and handsome presents attest the esteem in which the bride was held by her friends and acquaintances. The happy young couple will move at once to their fine commodious home, and enter the duties of life. We voice the sentiments of the community in tendering felicitations, and wishing the young couple a full, overflowing measure of all life's joys.

WASS—SANFORD

A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday, March 3, at Euclid avenue Methodist church, Toronto, when Gladys, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sanford, Moore Park, Toronto, was married to Mr. Harold H. Wass, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wass of Oakville. The Rev. J. W. Magwood officiated. The bride wore a sand colored suit, with hat to match, and point fox furs, and carried a bouquet of lilies and roses. She was attended by Miss Irene Wass, sister of the groom. Mr. Joseph M. Moore, cousin of the bride, was best man. The wedding was very quiet, owing to serious illness in the bride's family.

LIEUT. CECIL WOLFE

Durham Boy now in the Army Veterinary Hospital Corps at Aldershot, England.

BUILD UP YOUR OWN TOWN

You can never build up your town by making your purchases elsewhere and sending all the money away from home.

The bigger a town grows, the more valuable do the adjacent farms become. Farmers should patronize their home towns, and thus increase the consuming population and the market for their own products.

If Durham had a population ten times as large as it is, there would be ten times as many consumers as there are, and producers would have an enlarged and better market.

Nearly everything the farmer produces is needed by the consumers in the towns, most of whom are non-producers of food-stuffs. The larger the number of consumers, the producers remaining unchanged, the greater the demand for the productions and the higher the prices. Increase profits by increasing the consuming population.

Spent your money in your own community and it will likely return to you again. Send it to some other town or city and you'll likely never see it again. Help your town and help yourself by keeping your money at home.

Don't forget the Library concert on St. Patrick's Night. A good program will be provided.

The ladies of St. Peter's church made over $40 at their sale of home-made baking in Calder's Hall on Saturday.

If you think of having a sale don't forget that The Chronicle can print your bills, no matter what auctioneer you decide on.

Having installed a weigh scales in future I will grind by the hundred, weighing in and out. Grinding every day. G. A. Watson, Priceville, Ontario. 2184

Mr. G. A. Clark, of McMaster University, a Baptist theological student, well known here, has almost fully recovered from an operation in Grace Hospital, Toronto, for appendicitis.

Owing to the Library concert on Wednesday of next week, the regular practice of the Choral Society will be changed to Friday evening instead of Wednesday, as usual.

Mr. Cowan, D.D.G.M. of Galt, paid an official visit to Durham Lodge No. 308, A.F. & A.M. Tuesday night. About 40 of the brethren were present, and enjoyed a banquet of oysters, turkeys and other tempting edibles at the close of the regular meeting.
