McWILLIAMS.

Too late for last week.
We are having beautiful weather for the season of the year.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Brown of Bunnessan were guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. W. R. Watson.
We are glad to report Mrs. Jas. Hopkins some better, after her recent severe illness.
Last Thursday evening the home of Mrs. W. Lee was the scene of a pleasant gathering, when the neighbors met to say good-bye to Mrs. Lee and family, before leaving for their new home, and to present to her a slight token of respect. They will be much missed as they were kind and obliging neighbors.

We extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Herb Allen, who lost their house and contents by fire on Saturday last.
Mrs. Sproule is visiting her mother, Mrs. John Whitmore, at present, who, we are sorry to say, is not enjoying the best of health.
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lawrence are moving this week to their new home on the 20th of Egremont. We are sorry to lose them from our midst, but hope that happiness and prosperity will attend them in their new place of abode.
Mrs. M. C. Scott of town visited for a couple of days last week with her daughter, and attended the wedding of her grandson, Mr. Reuben C. Watson, to Miss E. Morrison.

Mr. Tom Moore had the misfortune to have a couple of head of cattle injured by the train, last week, one so badly that it had to be killed.
Mr. G. A. Watson was so unfortunate last week as to lose a valuable horse.
Mr. Reuben C. Watson and bride are moving to the farm vacated by Mr. Joe Lawrence. We wish them an abundance of happiness and prosperity.
Mr. Geo. Lawrence has been confined to the house this last three weeks with an attack of sciatica. We hope he will soon be able to be around as the spring work will soon be on.

The Red Cross Column

At the present time there are about 22,000 Canadian soldiers in France. Eleven hundred of these are members of the Princess Patricia Light Infantry, and have already been in action three times. The remainder are probably in the concentration camps, while it is not improbable that by this time a fairly large force is on the lines of communication. It will not be long before the greater part of the force is in the trenches and under fire.

Whether the members of the first Canadian contingent are in action in the course of a few days or a few weeks matters little as regards the medical and surgical supplies as well as warm clothing that will be needed. For a force of over 20,000 men an enormous amount of these supplies will be required and it falls to the lot of the Canadian Red Cross Society to send out sufficient supplies to enable the Army Medical Corps to meet the requirements. Upon the people of Canada devolves a great and solemn duty and the society believes that they will fulfil it to the utmost.

While supplies and warm clothing are arriving at headquarters in large consignments it is impossible to sufficiently impress upon the supporters of the Red Cross the urgent need of supplies at the present time. If every woman in Canada were to make one pair of socks, and every man were to buy one pair there would be over four million pairs sent to the soldiers. What a magnificent quantity of supplies could be sent to our brave soldiers at the front if every adult in Canada were to do something for the great cause. All cannot knit, all cannot give large sums of money, but all can do something.

For the past two weeks enormous quantities of old linen and new cotton have been sent to headquarters. These are eminently suitable for making into dressings and bandages, and those who cannot knit or give donations can do their little part in the work of mercy, even if it is only rolling bandages. While the Canadian contingent was in camp at Salisbury the demand for supplies was not particularly heavy, but now that the soldiers are about to enter the trenches and take an active part in this terrible war the society will have all it can do to keep them warm and look after them when they are wounded or sick.

Since the Canadian Red Cross Society issued its appeal for funds and supplies a wonderful answer has been made. We are filled with thankfulness and pride at the result. We were confident from the first that it would be magnificent, and it is a splendid example of the liberality, humanity and patriotism of our people. But though the response has been magnificent it is not enough. We appeal again to these noble qualities of the British race and again we are confident that our appeal will be heard. We shall continue to call upon our countrymen and countrywomen to give for this sacred cause so long as the need for money and material lasts and we feel certain that they will continue to give for it to the utmost of their ability.

It is an immense need and an urgent need. The statement of the British losses, which the Prime Minister of England, Rt. Hon. H. H. Asquith, made recently in the House of Commons, is a poignant reminder of the havoc of modern war. The casualties up to October 31, were approximately 57,000. There has been much heavy fighting since, which appears to have been to the full as deadly as that of the earlier engagements. The long lists which are being published each day show what numbers of our best are being daily laid low round the positions they so gloriously hold. It is to relieve those amongst them who are not past relief that we ask for money and supplies. The sufferings of our soldiers will be great and only by a lavish and prompt expenditure will their pains be mitigated and their prospects of recovery improved.

A recent article written by the medical correspondent of The Times describes the work that has lately been done by the R.A.M.C. at Boulogne. Lord Knutsford stated a few days ago after a personal visit to that place that it was amazingly perfect. That is high praise coming from a life-long expert in hospital management. The medical correspondent confirms it to the full. When the correspondent wrote a few days ago, every wounded British soldier in Boulogne was receiving the best which skill and equipment could give him. The numbers of wounded were great after the prolonged and furious fighting around Ypres, which had been waged for many days. But the authorities have risen to the occasion and one great result is that the severe cases can now be treated in France, and so spared the suffering and the dangers of a cross-channel passage.

A Few Hints Regarding Health Act

Communicable diseases mean any contagious or infectious disease, and includes as follows:

Small Pox, Chicken Pox, Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever, Typhoid Fever, Measles, Glanders, German Measles, Cholera, Erysipelas, Tuberculosis, Mumps, Anthrax, Bubonic Plague, Rabies, Polio Myelitis, Cerebro Spinal Meningitis, and any other diseases which may be declared by the Regulations to be communicable.

Communicable diseases that are Quarantined, but NOT Placarded:

1. Whooping Cough.—Persons suffering from this disease must not leave premises, cannot mix with the public or attend school for six weeks after commencement of whooping. If characteristic, spasmodic cough has ceased, a shorter period of quarantine may be permitted by the M. O. H.

2. Chicken Pox.—Persons suffering from this disease cannot leave premises, mix with public, or go to school until all scabs have fallen off and have permission from the M. O. H.

3. Mumps.—Persons suffering from this disease cannot leave premises, mix with public, or go to school for four weeks from the commencement of the attack, and until all swellings has subsided. Under favorable conditions a shorter period may be allowed by M. O. H.

Communicable Diseases that Must be Placarded:

1. Diphtheria.—Suspicious cases quarantined until diagnosis is confirmed or disproved. An undoubted case must be quarantined even if laboratory examinations give negative findings. Periods of quarantine of undoubted diphtheria, three weeks, if convalescence is complete and no sore throat, nasal or aural discharges remain, or if after 12 days' duration, two negative swabs with a 12-hour interval are shown to the satisfaction of the M.O.H.

2. Scarlet Fever (Scarlatina).—Suspected cases quarantined until diagnosis is confirmed or disproved. Undoubted cases quarantined for six weeks, or until desquamation or peeling of the skin is complete, or no sore throat, no nasal or aural discharge remain.

3. Measles.—Period of quarantine three weeks, if all desquamation or peeling of skin and cough has ceased.

4. Small Pox.—Quarantine till all scabs have fallen off, and permission from M. O. H. to remove placard.

Notice of existence of communicable or contagious disease must be made in writing by the attending physician to the M.O.H. in 12 hours. Notice of recovery or death, must also be made in the same manner to M.O.H. by attending physician (Sec. 55 Health Act).

Physicians in attendance must make their own diagnosis. If in doubt, quarantine till diagnosis is confirmed or disproved; if confirmed, placard; if disproved, release through the M.O.H. The M. O. H. is not compelled, by reason of his office, to visit and confirm, or otherwise, the diagnosis already made by the attending physician. If, however, the M. O. H. has brought to his attention by notice in writing that communicable diseases of one kind or other were being neglected in respect to quarantine, it would be his duty, without fee, to notify the attending physician, and visit such cases to judge whether or not the diagnosis was correct, and take proceedings accordingly.

Whenever a householder knows or has reason to suspect that any person within his family or household, or boarding or lodging with him, has any communicable disease, he shall, within 12 hours, give notice to the Secretary of the Board of Health, or M. O. H., in writing, or the notice may be given to the Secretary of the Board of Health or the M. O. H. in his office. No householder in whose dwelling there occurs any communicable disease shall permit any person suffering from such disease to leave, or any clothing or other personal property removed, without the consent of M. O. H., who may forbid such removal, or may prescribe the conditions for removal (Secs. 53 and 54, Health Act).

The penalty is the same to householder as it is to the physician for neglect to report suspicious cases.
All cases of Typhoid and Tuberculosis must be reported to the Secretary of the Board of Health by the attending physician and thereafter week by week of the progress or otherwise. The notice must specify the location in the municipality where the diseased person lives.
School teachers must exclude all pupils from attending school who have a suspicious rash, sore throat or other symptoms of a suspicious nature, until such pupil or pupils shall furnish a physician's certificate that the disease or symptoms are not communicable or contagious.

All wells in use, whether public or private, must be cleaned out before the 1st of July in each year. No old well shall be used as a privy, privy vault or cesspool.
No privy-vault, cesspool or reservoir into which a privy, water closet, stable or sink is drained shall be established until the approval of M. O. H. has been obtained.
Householders (owners or occupants) must have premises cleaned up on or before the 1st of May in each year of all putrid and decaying animal and vegetable matter, filth and manure, on which date the Health Inspector commences to make his rounds of inspection. Subsequently through the year, the Health Inspector, upon notice in writing, will visit and correct any premises whereon or wherein default has been made in this respect.
No more than two wagon loads of manure will be allowed to accumulate on any premises at any one time, and this kept in a properly covered receptacle. Stables must be kept clean.
Swine shall not be kept within the limits of the municipality except in pens, with floors kept free from standing water, and regularly cleaned and disinfected and distant at least 100 feet from dwelling house, school house or church.
Slaughter houses are subject to inspection under direction of the Board of Health. No person shall keep slaughter houses, except by permission in writing, of the Board of Health. Slaughter houses must be 200 yards from dwelling house, and 75 yards from public street.
No filth, sweepings, paper or other matter shall be allowed to be deposited on the streets.

DORNOCH.

We regret to learn that Mrs. T. McKnight is not improving as fast as her many friends would desire.

Mr. Robt. G. Ledingham attended a sale in Holland township last week, and brought home a very handsome draught horse. Stock is not selling at very high prices at present around here, when one takes into consideration the price of grain and hay.

Messrs. Rabb and Walpole of Durham were through these parts some time lately and disposed of a manure spreader to R. Ledingham and also a number of cultivators to farmers near the village. They are a popular pair of agents, and seem to get the lion's share of the business here.

Mr. W. Smith spent a couple of days the latter end of last week in Bruce county.

Mr. W. Boyie of Stroungfield, Sask., who lately joined the ranks of the benedicts, with his charming bride spent a few evenings in the vicinity. We congratulate the estimable couple and wish them all happiness.

Mrs. W. Buchanan of Elderslie, who has been spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith, left last week for her home.

Mr. J. Smith of Arthur, brother of Dr. J. L. Smith, is spending a few days in the village.

A meeting of the Dornoch fresh beef association is called for Thursday night of this week. It appears there are a couple of shares not taken up, a matter which the members regret.

Mrs. Jas. Buchanan, nee Miss Cora Johnston, is spending a week with her aged grandfather, Mr. Robt. Corlett, west of the village.

Mr. H. Hughes and sister left for Chatsworth, where they intend to make their home, last Monday. On the eve of their departure, the old home was invaded by a number of their neighbors and friends, to express regret at their departure and to wish them happiness in their new home.
