EXPERIMENTS IN HORTICULTURE

FLESHERTON.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Henderson at high noon on Victoria Day, when their daughter Margaret Leone, was married to Mr. Richard J. Whan, of the C. P. R. offices, Toronto. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in her neat travelling costume of Belgian blue cloth which had stylish hat to match. Rev. R. C. Kerr, pastor of the Baptist church here, performed the ceremony, and the bride's sister, Miss Olaf Henderson, played the wedding march. After the marriage a choice wedding dinner was served, and the young couple left on the afternoon train for their new home in the city, followed by many good wishes for their future happiness. The bride received a large number of beautiful wedding gifts.

The executive of the Artemesia, Markdale and Flesherton Sunday School Association met in the Methodist church here last week and arranged the program for the annual convention, to be held at Eugenia on June 24. Rev. Mr. Dayfoot of Toronto will be the special speaker for the occasion. Born—At Weyburn, Sask., May 21 to Mr. and Mrs. Percy J. Russell, a son.

HOW BIG GUNS ARE MADE

Steel for gunmaking is made in an open hearth furnace from which ingots weighing up to 70 tons can readily be cast.

Then comes the forging of the ingot. For small guns the ingot is forged solid, but for six-inch and larger the ingot is forged hollow. The steam hammers which do the work can give blows equal to 700 tons.

Tests begin. Small pieces of the steel are cut off, hardened in oil and pulled asunder in the jaws of a hydraulic press. The strain runs up to 46 tons per square inch.

If the tests are satisfactory the ingot goes on to the lathe to be "rough bored" inside and "rough turned" outside.

Then the barrels are hardened by being heated in oil at a temperature of 1,500 degrees Fahrenheit. For this purpose rapeseed oil is used. The cooling must be very slow, and this is managed by burying the barrels in sand.

Then comes the final boring, which leaves the barrels smooth inside and out, and next a fresh heating and cooling. This is called "annealing," and is most necessary to preserve the toughness of the steel.

Now the heart of the gun is ready and it goes elsewhere to be built up to the required strength by adding successive layers of steel hoops. These are put on hot and when they cool shrink into place.

Our big naval guns are all "wire-wound." The barrel revolves on a lathe while steel tape a quarter-inch wide and one-eighth inch thick is wound on at a tension of something like 40 tons. This process gives the gun enormous strength and entirely does away with any possibility of an accident due to any flaw there might be in the body of the gun.

The annual congregational meeting of the Methodist church was held on Thursday evening, and fairly well attended. Reports from the various organizations were presented and showed that the year had been a successful one. At the close the ladies served refreshments.

At a meeting in the town hall, one evening last week it was resolved that Dominion Day be celebrated here this year under the auspices of the baseball club. It is expected that a good program of athletic sports will be provided.

Dr. Bibby has had erected this spring a very neat stable, on fine stone basement, and also has the cellar excavation for new residence done.

Over six dollars were realized by the Red Cross Society at a cake and candy sale on the parsonage grounds on Saturday.

The Presbyterian congregation had the pleasure of listening to their fine new organ on Sunday, and very favorable comments were made on the music produced. The instrument, which is the gift of the Ladies' Aid, was made by the Karn Company, Woodstock.

It is both sweet and powerful in tone and is a handsome piece of furniture for the church.

Rev. T. F. Barker, for 14 years a missionary in Turkey, and compelled to leave recently on account of the present conditions, supplied the Methodist pulpit on Sunday, preaching a very able sermon in the morning, and in the evening speaking on missionary life among the Turks. Some trying experiences were related. This Monday evening he will give an illustrated lecture on Turkey.

The funeral of the late Thos. Pallister, who died suddenly at his late home near Berkeley last week, took place to the public cemetery here on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Pallister formerly lived on the Toronto line, west of this village, and a number of his old neighbors assembled at the cemetery to express their sympathy to his bereaved family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson McMullen were at Creemore last week, attending the funeral of the latter's aged father, who passed away suddenly. The deceased had for a number of years made his home with his daughter, Mrs. McMullen and was well known to many in the community, who sympathize with her in her bereavement.

Miss Robinson of Dundalk was a visitor at Mr. W. Wilck's over Sunday.

Mr. Geo. Murphy, a respected old gentleman, and one of the early settlers in Artemesia, passed away at his late home near this village on Saturday morning, aged 76 years. The funeral took place to Flesherton cemetery on Monday afternoon, when service was conducted at the house by Rev. J. Dudgeon, pastor of the deceased who was a member of the Methodist church. Mr. Murphy was born in the county Fermanagh, Ireland. When a young man, he came to Canada, and soon after settled in Artemesia, near this village, where, over 50 years ago, he was married to Miss Margaret Irwin, daughter of the late Charles Irwin, who survives him, and has the sympathy of many friends in her bereavement. To them were born five sons and four daughters, of whom the following survive: Mrs. Alf. Carter and Mrs. F. Wight, Toronto; Mrs. J. Garnett Cabri, Sask.; Mrs. C. Sykes Swift Current, Sask.; William, Burlington, Ont.; Oliver, Vancouver, B.C.; Daniel, Regina, Sask. and Samuel, Feversham, Ont. Thomas died some years ago. Those from a distance at the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wight, Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Carter, and Mrs. Garnett, Toronto; Mr. S. Murphy, Feversham, and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Thompson, Markdale.
