SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson II.—Third Quarter, For July 11, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, 1 Kings i, 28-40. Memory Verses, 39, 40—Golden Text. 1 Chron. xxviii, 9—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

To get the connection let us look at the important events since last lesson. After David's return to his throne there was a rebellion under a wicked man named Sheba, the son of Bichri, but he was overthrown and slain, and a city was saved through the influence of a wise woman who may be ranked with the wise woman of Tekoa and with Jael, the wife of Heber (II Sam. xx, 1, 16, 22). In II Sam. xxii we have one of David's great songs of deliverance, which is repeated in full in Ps. xviii. In II Sam. xxiii we have some of David's last words, which we may perhaps find space to consider in connection with the record of his death in today's lesson.

But there are some things which we must notice in II Sam. xxiv, such as the story of the threshing floor of Araunah, the Jebusite, over which the Lord stayed the hand of the destroying angel, saying, "It is enough," and which David bought for fifty shekels of silver and the whole place or hill for 600 shekels of gold (II Sam. xxiv, 16, 24; I Chron. xxi, 22-25). This hill was the identical mount Moriah on which Abraham offered up Isaac and received him back from the dead in a figure, and on this hill Solomon builded the temple which David desired to build, but was not permitted to, but God gave him the plans of it and allowed him to prepare abundantly for it. See carefully these passages, I Chron. xviii, 11, 12, 19; II Chron. iii, 1. In I Kings ii, 1-4, we have some of the last words of David, with a few of his words to Solomon, but much more fully in I Chron. xxviii and xxix, with his wonderful prayer in xxix, 10-19, which we found great pleasure in memorizing in the Bible classes not long ago. Oh, for a lesson on some of these portions teeming with the riches of His grace and glory instead of the less restful portions such as the lesson of today!

But let us notice before looking at this lesson that Moriah and the threshing floor of Araunah or Ornan, the same hill, are strongly suggestive of the great atonement of the Lord Jesus, so that the foundation of the temple was really the atonement. So also in the tabernacle of Moses every board stood on the silver which was paid as a ransom for their souls. The only foundation for an individual or for the church is the finished work of the Lord Jesus. In our lesson today David is said to be old, though he was only seventy (II Sam. v, 4; I Kings ii, 10, 11). He is said to have died in a good old age, full of days, riches and honor (I Chron. xxix, 28). Trouble seems to have followed him all the way, and now, at the very end, Adonijah, his fourth son, whom he had never displeased by even saying "Why hast thou done so?" (II Sam. iii, 2-5; I Kings i, 6), seeks the throne and has himself proclaimed king. This stirred Nathan the prophet, and he and Bathsheba, the mother of Solomon, appealed to David, with the result that Solomon was caused to ride upon King David's mule and was anointed king instead of his father. This caused great rejoicing, so that the earth rent with sound thereof and David himself said, "Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who hath given one to sit on my throne this day, mine eyes even seeing it" (verses 38, 40, 48). "Then Solomon sat on the throne of the Lord as king instead of David, his father, and prospered, and all Israel obeyed him" (I Chron. xxix, 23).

No throne on earth was ever called the throne of the Lord except the throne at Jerusalem, and we are fast approaching the time when Jerusalem shall again be the throne of the Lord and all nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the Lord, to Jerusalem (Jer. iii, 17). The Lord had told David before Solomon was born that he should be his successor and sit on his throne (I Chron. xxii, 7-9), and so it came to pass, for in some way or other every purpose of the Lord shall be performed (Jer. ii, 29). I have in mind always in this connection Ps. xxxiii, 10, 11; Isa. xiv, 24, and find great rest in such assurances. If the affections of all true believers were as fully set upon the building of the church and the bringing back of the king to set up His kingdom and we were as ready to prepare with all our might, as was David, for the temple (I Chron. xxix, 2, 3), how the mission treasures would overflow with funds to help give the gospel to every creature, and what a great company would be heard saying, "Here am I; send me!" (Isa. vi, 8). We need to remember that God tries the heart and has pleasure in uprightness and that in His hand are power and might and that all things come of Him (I Chron. xxix, 12, 14, 17).

In the last words of David in II Sam. xxiii, 1-5, he was filled with thoughts of all that God had done for him in taking him from his flocks to be king over Israel, and how all that he had written had been given to him by the Holy Spirit. He was conscious of his failures, but rejoiced in the faithfulness of God, and in the everlasting covenant ordered in all things and sure. He ever looked onward to the Christ who would sit upon His throne and rule righteously and to the morning when He would come for Israel's redemption.

TRAVERTON.

Some refreshing showers fell in this neighborhood on three evenings last week, greatly improving hay, root and grain crops.

Mr. Colin McArthur purchased a Karn organ from Mr. Snell of Durham, last week.

Mr. Will Banks of Alberta, who had been down to Montreal with a car load of hogs, spent a few days lately with his sisters, and brother James. Will has prospered most rapidly out there, but good fortune hasn't spoiled him in the least. He made a neat speech at the picnic.

The sales of autos may increase, but it lessens not the sale of new buggies. Vincent Paylor recently purchased one, and Basil Davis brought home a beauty from A. E. McLellan's shop on Friday.

Councillor Peart, W. J. Cook and R. Bryan have each improved the appearance of their property by erecting new wire fences. Councillor Peart's will add greatly to the winter road around that corner.

The electric storm on Wednesday afternoon of last week was a destructive one further north. Mr. Chas. Moran's barn was struck and burned, and Mr. I. Beatty's home a little further east was damaged by an electric bolt. A very heavy downpour of rain accompanied.

Mrs. Malcolm Black is visiting with her sister, Mrs. J. Lacey, at Chepstow.

Miss Muriel Correll of Toronto is a guest at the Edwards home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Kinsman of Toronto, are paying a flying visit to members of the Greenwood family.

Mrs. Bert Summers and two bright boys, of the Queen City, are holidaying at the cosy home of Mr. John McNally.

Mrs. Chas. Reed of Markdale spent the past week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A.G. Blair.

The fourth concession is being much improved in appearance this summer. Mrs. Herb. Allen's new home is completed and has been occupied for some weeks. Mr. Archie McArthur is erecting a new home on his fine farm and Mr. A. Fogarty is putting up a big addition to his home. Messrs Tom and Paul Nelson are reshingling their barn.

Mr. John Hudson and Miss Mary, of South Pentineck, visited the Peart families a couple of days last week. His two songs at Zion picnic will be pleasantly remembered through the years to come.

Rob. Anderson took a well-earned holiday and spent last week with kindred in Toronto and in Hamilton.

Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Will Henry of Flesherton with Dr. Murray acting as chauffeur, your scribe and better half had a most enjoyable auto trip to the home of Mr. George Henry below Lucknow, a week ago. The Dr. is an expert in handling a car and made the 61 miles in a little over three hours. Crops looked most promising all the way, but the fall wheat fields there were superior to those of this part of the country.

Rev. Mr. Moyer made a most favorable impression on Zionites on Sunday and exhibited a kindly sympathy and tact.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cook spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Falkingham at Orchard. Mrs. John Colbert, Mrs. McGovern and Mrs. Haug and three children, of Chicago, are summering at the Colbert homestead.

As the years go by, Zion's Sunday school picnic grows larger and more entertaining. This year upwards of 350 were present and many happy returns took place. Tuesday was an ideal day, warm quiet and beautiful. The program was more varied and specially interesting in music and song. Among those who helped to make it a splendid success were: Mr. J. Meagher, Jr., and his sister Miss Maggie, who were forced to respond to warm encores; Mrs. John G. Beaton, and daughter Muriel; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McFadden, Mr. John Hudson, Mr. Will Kenny and Miss Katie; Mr. Will Banks, the Zion choir and the school pupils. A big feast after the program, a candy treat to over 100 boys and girls, a list of hotly contested races, followed by big baseball matches, filled in a busy and happy afternoon and evening, until the gloaming. The booth's supplies were all disposed of early, the proceeds of the latter and the collection amounting to about $54. Everybody was happy and went home with gladder hearts.

Making the Little Farm Pay

By C. C. BOWSFIELD

Duck farming is becoming more profitable year by year. People are learning that ducks are the hardest of domestic fowls and are the easiest to feed. Matured ducks of the larger breeds are worth $1 to $1.25 each dressed. The feathers add a few cents to this.

Ducklings grow fast and reach a nice roasting size at two months, it being quite common to get a four pound fowl at this age. They are a great delicacy then, and as they bring a higher rate per pound than when matured it is considered most profitable to market them at a weight of three to four pounds. Their feed up to this time should consist mainly of bran or shorts wet to a thin mash with skim milk, adding a little cornmeal. Stale bread or crackers soaked with skim milk will also do nicely. They need a clover patch to run in. Garden stuff is excellent. A little cracked corn is needed in the last two weeks. In raising ducks to an age of six or eight months considerable grain is required in addition to the mash and green stuff.

From time of hatching to five days old provide the following mixture: Cracker or bread crumbs and cornmeal, equal parts by measure; hard boiled eggs, 15 per cent of the total bulk of crackers and meal; sand, 5 per cent of the total of crackers and meal. Mix with water or milk and feed four times a day.

From five to twenty days old the following mixture: Wheat bran or shorts, two parts by measure; cornmeal, one part; rolled oats, 50 per cent of this bulk; beef scraps, 5 per cent;

AYLESBURY DRAKE.

sand, 5 per cent; green food, 10 per cent. Mix with water to a dry, crumbly state and feed four times a day.

From twenty to forty-two days old the following mixture: Wheat bran or shorts, two parts by measure; cornmeal, one part; beef scraps, 5 per cent of this bulk; sand, 5 per cent; green food, 10 per cent. Mix with water to a dry, crumbly state and feed four times a day.

From forty-two to seventy days old the following mixture: Cornmeal, two parts by measure; wheat bran or shorts, one part; beef scraps, 10 per cent of this bulk; coarse sand or grit, 5 per cent; green food, 10 per cent. Mix with water to a dry, crumbly state and feed four times a day.

Of all ducks for farm and practical purposes none stands higher in popular esteem than the White Peking. It is valuable for raising on a large scale and is the most easily raised of all. It is a very timid bird and must be handled quite carefully. It was imported from China in the early seventies and has steadily grown in popularity since its introduction into this country.

The White Aylesbury ducks are second to the popular Peking for market purposes and are bred in large numbers in Europe. In this country they are not so extensively bred as the Peking; neither have they been found so good as the latter.

The Colored Rouen duck is called deservedly popular throughout this country and is considered one of the most profitable varieties to keep. By some raisers the Cayuga is considered to be as good as the Peking for early markets, and the claim is made that it can be grown as cheaply. The Indian Runner is best for egg production, but is not equal to the others for meat.

Ducks should have a snug shelter for nights. A swimming pond or creek is not needed, but they need a trough for splashing and washing. They consume a lot of clean water.

Ducks usually lay their eggs early in the morning, and they often prefer to drop those eggs in any mud puddle about the barn lot, or as they swim in the creek. But if a house is provided they will lay in their nests if kept up until 9 or 10 o'clock in the morning. Nests can be made for the layers along one of the walls by nailing little boards about fifteen inches apart to this wall. These form a sort of stall into which you place straw. Nail a low cleat along the nest fronts, close to the floor. This prevents the eggs rolling out and does not hinder the duck stepping into her laying stall.

Keep the Bull In Bounds.

The bullpen is a necessity on every farm. It is unwise and injudicious to allow the bull to run at liberty with the cattle.
