GREY COUNTY BREEDERS CLUB TO HOLD ANOTHER SALE

On the 17th of March, 1915, there was held in the village of Markdale a sale of pure bred beef breeds of cattle. These animals were contributed to the sale by the breeders of the county of Grey. This sale was not the success that could have been desired but it paved the wav for sales bigger and better.

The breeders had their annual meeting on July 3rd last and decided to have their annual sale for 1916 on the 3rd of March. This is sale and should catch many of the after the Moorish invasion. OF THE PEACH

(By Peter McArthur)

It is sometimes a mistake to consult the Encyclopædia before writing an article. The misinformation in the world is much more picturesque than the facts. Facts have a tendency to make one prosy and commonplace. I am moved to make these observations because for some time past I had been meditating a little essay on the peach, and I remembered a story I had heard or read somewhere about the origin of this most delicious fruit. According to the best of my information and belief up to fifteen minutes ago the peach originated in Spain can conquerors brought with them bitter almonds with which to poison their arrows and planted the pits in the newly conquered country so that they might have an unfailing supply of this method of spreading Moorish Kultur. As they had no Hague Tribunal in those days there were no international agreements against using poisoned weapons-and it probably wouldn't have mattered much if there had been.

But to resume. According to the pretty tale I remembered, the bitter almond developed in the salubrious climate of Spain and lost its ancient character, ceased to be poisonous and became a peach. With this as a text I had proposed to show that the peach is the one really good thing in: the world has ever derived from war, but alas. I needed a few more facts and I consulted the Encyclopædia where I found no mention of my pretty Spanish tale. I found both Greek and Latin references to the peach and a learned discussion as to whether the fruit had been first developed to perfection in Persia or in China. The only among the ratepayers and dissenreference to the bitter almond was a note to the effect that Darwi regard- sions among themselves, the ed the peach as a relation of the alnot only raise peaches of excellent indeed had troublous times for the They have a flat peach in which the past year or two. The woman who was fortunate enough to get some from a sheltered orchard or from a lone tree that was so fortunately situated that it escaped the frost put up a few to have for such special occasions as the visit of the preacher. In those days the minister was a much more welcome visitor on the farm than the agent of get-rich-quick concerns and mining promoters and there is a moral to that if I only had time to work it out. Because peaches were person or persons unknown. saved for such extra special occasions a tradition has grown up about them in many parts of the country. Some housewives, otherwise very bright, and a credit to the Farmer's Institutes vious to the incident noted, and to which they belong, consider it an extravagance to preserve peaches unless they get them at sacrifice prices. Yet these same women will pay from 'that Belgium was responsible for ten to fifteen cents a quart for cur- the war.
