

WESTON ARE CHAMPIONS

By defeating Orangeville on Saturday with a 4 to 2 score, the Weston intermediates again climbed to the top of the O.A.L.A. ladder and are the champions for 1915.

In Weston on Tuesday of last week, they beat Orangeville 12 to 2, and the round was won by 16 to 4, or a lead of 12 goals.

From the start, Orangeville never had a chance to win, though at that, they have a well-balanced team and had, if anything, a bit more of the ball than the victors.

The game at Orangeville has convinced us of one thing, and that is, that lacrosse, the good old national game as played by the average rural team, will never more win a championship against a Toronto or near-Toronto team.

The Weston team are a big, heavy aggregation and, being close to the city where they can take advantage of the professional games, have adopted that mode of attack and defence.

Whether we like it or not, we have to admit it, and the cool, calculating, and systematic playing of Weston's professionally trained team, snatched away the victory from the team playing the snappy, fielding game that we up in this part of the country so like to see.

Not that we accuse Weston of professionalism. But Weston is trained and coached by Fred Rowntree, of the Tecumseh professionals, and his handwork is noticeable at every angle of the game.

We have seen here quite often and the other night we had a dandy. It was given by the C. A. M. C. They took one of their ambulance waggons, furred up the side facing the audience, decorated the inside with flags and pennants and had two large flags on the outside and with two auto lamps for footlights.

So you see you can always remember that while we are at the front, it doesn't mean that we have such an awful hard time. We have jolly times and then some things that I would not miss for anything.

I'm really pleased that Alex Bell and Ernest McGirr are coming. I always thought the McGirrs would show up. And I think it is about time some of the other Durham and Glenelg boys show what they think of their country.

Life and Times at the Front

Beaugum, Sept. 2, 1915

Dear Father and Mother: Received your letter with the snaps enclosed a few days ago, so I must hustle and get it answered, so will try to scribble a few lines though I have not much to tell. Times out here are very quiet these days, nothing stirring, except regiments relieving each other every little while in the trenches.

Sept. 6. This is four days later, so must try to finish. I was ordered out for a trip up to the trenches and have been on the hustle ever since.

I expect by the time you get this you will be thrashing—a hard, dirty job this year by what you tell me of the wet weather and state of the crops. The weather here is also very wet and the last few days the ground has been so slippery that I've tried to measure myself in the mud several times.

We are busy now (in spare minutes) drawing bricks from the cottages of a ruined village not far off. So I expect we will be laying them soon, and we will be able to laugh at the mud when our horses are standing on brick floors, high and dry.

I must tell you of some of our feeds. Nelson Campbell is still with us, as the major would not give him his transfer into the gun section, so when we have anything on the side he is our chef (cook). We had an old bouncer of a rice pudding the other day. There are seven in our tent and we each donated half a franc to purchase the necessary ingredients.

I was so pleased to get a letter from Stewart Mc. a few days ago. He seems to be the same old Stewart as ever. I am glad he is such a worker in the church and that he is sticking to the right. He deserves every credit and I'm hoping he will write again soon as we enjoy letters from our old pals.

I see Percy Bryan every little while. He is a fine young fellow but I didn't know he was a Greenwood bro-in-law till you told me.

I had a letter from Bella Lee lately a regular dandy—all the news of Durham, Zion, the Lake district and all the surrounding country. We have concerts here quite often and the other night we had a dandy. It was given by the C. A. M. C. They took one of their ambulance waggons, furred up the side facing the audience, decorated the inside with flags and pennants and had two large flags on the outside and with two auto lamps for footlights.

So you see you can always remember that while we are at the front, it doesn't mean that we have such an awful hard time. We have jolly times and then some things that I would not miss for anything.

I'm really pleased that Alex Bell and Ernest McGirr are coming. I always thought the McGirrs would show up. And I think it is about time some of the other Durham and Glenelg boys show what they think of their country.

Sept. 18, 1915 Well here I am again. Have received two more letters from you. You are certainly kind to remember me so often. I am never very long without letters so I cannot get very lonely.

Our Batt. has had exceptionally hard luck with its officers, losing them very fast. The machine gun section has just buried its third one. The last one was a young man only with us a week and was killed by a shell when coming out of the trenches for rest.

No I am not in need of anything just now but if I do I'll be sure to tell you. I won't get away on pass for a while yet; we drew for it and of course I had to be on the tail end, so won't get to England for some time. We saw an air flight this morning. Our attention was drawn to it by our auto air craft gun firing. We noticed a German aeroplane coming. They fired shrapnel after him in lively fashion for a time, still it came on right over us. In a minute or two we noticed one of our planes come out to head him off. They got quite close to each other and began to pepper away with their guns. We soon noticed the German give a lurch and he began to plane down and landed about three miles from us. They were still game though and began to fire on a column of soldiers that chanced to be passing. Of course the soldiers gave them a "rapid" and charged them. I don't think either of the Germans lived after the charge.

Say I wouldn't mind getting into your garden for a few cucumbers but our tents have had lots of corn in it lately. There is a corn field quite handy and we lay in a stock when we have a chance.

I have just had a visit from Percy Bryan. We think a lot of him and he is a real nice young fellow. He came over to our lines to bring me a bunch of "Onwards" to read. Be sure to remember me to all the friends around Durham, Glenelg, Egremont and Mt Forest and trusting to see you again some time in the future when this war is over.

I will remain as ever, Yours, Will Address Pte. Wm R. Faikingham 1st batt, 1st brigade 7226 1st Can. Contingent. B. E. F. War Dept. G. P. O., England

FIELD CROP COMPETITION

The judging of the field crop of mangels in the competition carried on under the auspices of the South Grey Agricultural Society, took place on Tuesday and Wednesday. In the contest, each competitor was required to have at least one acre under cultivation, and so far as we have learned, the crop this year is good. Thos Deiworth of Weston placed the awards and his decisions gave general satisfaction. The following is the list of prize winners, the names being arranged in the order in which the prizes were awarded: Archie Park, Alex. Grierson, C. & A. Smith, Alex. Herd, Geo. Ritchie, T. H. Einnie, Geo. Finney.

THE PRICEVILLE FAIR

Priceville fair was held Thursday and Friday last, but the unfavorable weather on Friday had the effect, no doubt, of reducing the attendance. The exhibits were good generally in quality, but in some lines there was a lack in the quantity.

The Police Band of Toronto, seven strong, was in attendance, and delighted the crowd with their splendid Scottish airs. Pipers from Owen Sound were also in attendance, with a staff of recruiting officers, and they, too, lent a musical charm to the afternoon attractions. Miss Munro, the celebrated Scottish dancer, and ventriloquist Kelly, were in attendance, and contributed their quota as best they could under the circumstances.

Mr. H. H. Miller of Hanover, acted as chairman, and made a good patriotic address in support of the recruiting officers. Mr. R. J. Ball, Dr. Jamieson, E. Lemon of Owen Sound, Lieut. Mercer of Markdale, the local clergymen and others, made strong appeals to the young men to do their duty in support of their country. And the appeals were not in vain, as a number of young men enlisted at the close of the meeting.

There was a concert in the evening. Miss Munro, Mr. Kelly and the Police Pipe Band being the chief entertainers.
