HETTY GREEN UNIQUE AS A BUSINESS WOMAN.

Hetty Green, the world's most unique heiress, is undoubtedly the most shrewd business woman living to-day. Although she is not "self-made," as her mode of living has led many to believe, she has succeeded in increasing her original fortune of $10,000,000 to ten times its size in 50 years of her business career.

Despite her mammoth fortune, Hetty Green lives almost as frugally as a shop girl. For more than a half century she has not been established in a real home, but has drifted about in cheap hotels or lodging houses, sometimes registering under the name of her pet dog and putting his name on the door plate. Occasionally she takes a flat in some obscure corner in New York.

In her garb she is as unpretentious as in her abode. She invariably wears black—a worn rusty black. Her costume consists of a black dress of an obselete cut, a short black cape and a little bonnet of a design calculated to give the greatest amount of service. The face of the heiress of millions is so unfamiliar to the public that she is seldom recognized on the street.

Hetty Green infrequently rides anywhere. She never appears in a carriage or automobile and she will not ride in a street car when she can walk. Her whereabouts is a constant problem to the tax collector, whom she freely admits that she dodges whenever possible. Her assessed property, however, is generally limited. She maintains very little real estate. The property of stocks that she acquires she sells quickly. Her simple formula for business success is to buy when cheap and sell when high. She will sell at a small profit rather than run the slightest risk for a higher one.

Much of her fortune she has made by the lending of money and the sale of the properties secured through foreclosures. She has never lost money in lending. She invariably investigates mortgages in person and will accept only unquestionable security. One of the most successful foreclosures in which Hetty Green figured was that of Chicago property. She sold for millions of dollars hundreds of acres of land in the heart of the city that she had obtained as a mortgage for a few thousands of dollars.

She made a fabulous profit from the panic of 1907, when she lent money to wealthy New Yorkers, tiding them over the crisis and later reaping a rich interest. Hetty Green was born in 1834 in New Bedford, Mass., of Quaker parentage. At the age of 30 she became heiress of $10,000,000 by the death of her father. During her early girlhood she was a belle of New York. She would go to the great social functions on foot with woolen hose drawn over her shoes to keep the snow out, rather than incur the cost of riding.

She was married in 1867 to Howard H. Green, a wealthy silk trader, with the understanding that Green should not share his wife's fortune. They both played Wall street heavily on separate accounts. The wife won, and her husband lost, dying almost penniless. At one time Hetty Green rode into New York on a special engine, to transact a deal of hundreds of thousands of dollars. She chose the engine rather than pay $5 more for the coach.

"ON THE FIELD OF HONOR."

The publishers of The Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal are making a strong bid for that beautiful picture, full of pathos, entitled "On the Field of Honor." It is assumed the publishers of the Family Herald have in mind using it as a presentation plate. If that is so there is a great treat in store for readers of The Family Herald and Weekly Star this autumn. In past years The Family Herald of Montreal has been noted not only for the wonderful excellence of that journal but for many beautiful pictures it has presented to its readers. The Family Herald has a name for succeeding in anything it undertakes, and we feel sure if it is humanly possible to secure "On the Field of Honor" that the publishers will succeed in getting it. "On the Field of Honor" is attracting widespread attention in Europe.

WHAT HE WAS.

The applicant for the post of butler seemed somewhat dense, but in other respects fairly suitable. Almost as an afterthought the mistress of the house put a final query: "I suppose you are a single man?" she asked.

"Er—er, no, ma'am," he stammered, "I'm twins."
