THE BALLAD OF HENRY FORD

With apologies to "John Gilpin," "The Nancy Bell," "Wreck of the Hesperus," "The Ancient Mariner," and all the ballads ever written. Hen Ford, he was a citizen Of credit and of cash. A brass band artist eke was he, Of bluff and balderdash.

In Europe's camp a war broke out On earth and sea and sky; Sir Edward Grey would have it stopped, "Too late," the Germans cry.

And fragrant field and teeming town Were blasted by the Hun; But in the end the allies got The Kaiser on the run.

And then Ford Henry awakened up "Von Hindenburg," says he, "Has held the stage by far too long, And Joffre wearies me.

"Since libraries have cornered been By Carnegie so wise, I'll make this peace my specialty— It pays to advertise."

He wrote to get a blessing from His Holiness the Pope; The Pontiff sighed, and then replied, "Go buy yourself a rope."

A ship to bring a Christmas peace Should bear a mission mild— No sooner thought than it was done; Off sailed the Oscar Wild(e).

A squirrel mascot in a cage Good luck would bring—tut, tut! The people only sent it 'cause Poor Henry was a "nut."

'Twas in the cabin of the ship The guests assembled were To drink a toast to the Christmas boast, And hear Hen Ford's hot air.

"Oh, I am the man who tied on can, I'm the wizard of gasoline, A philanthropist and a pacifist, I am yellow, and yet I'm green."

And he shook his fist and he tore his hair, Till I really felt afraid, For I couldn't help thinking the man had been drinking Grape juice or lemonade.

Grape juice, grape juice everywhere, And all the guests did shrink, Grape juice everywhere, "Come on boys and have a drink"

Grape juice everywhere, Peace thoughts to make them think, Their thoughts they mask and each one asked, "Is this 'Hotel De Gink?'"

"Where's Rosie Schwimmer?" Henry called, "She's sea-sick," someone cried, "Let Missus Ford go overboard, So Rosie's by my side."

The typists smote the clicking keys The secretaries quilled, Committees sat, reports grew fat, Twelve minute books were filled.

Anon they worked the wireless To monarchs near and far, But the monarchs answered never a word. They wanted a touring car.

Each night a scene of revelry: Dull care aside was thrown, Till the captain came in and banished the grin— "Were in the danger zone."

Fair was the day as the rose at dawn, Crisp was the curling wave, Low flew the birds as they neared the place Of the Lusitania's grave.

On sailed the ship past the Peerless Isle, Old England's happy homes, Cleaving the waters that hid the floor Of ships and dead men's bones.

Solemn their thoughts on the ship of peace? Angry at villainy?—Nay, Keeping his mind off the painful past, Rosie chattered away.

On the horizon loomed a ship, Rakish was she and low, Fluttered the hearts of those doves of peace— Most of them went below.

"Oh Henry! I hear the sound of guns, Oh, say, what may it be?" "Tis the British Navy signalling 'Stop,' And we are stopping—see?"

"O Henry! What dismal sound and drear By the wailing winds is blown?" "Tis a record of Bryan's Chautaugua speech On Edison's graphophone."

The searching-party nigh approached And climbed up hand over hand; "Though your music consists of pipes of peace, You may have some contraband.

"Hither to Kirkwall come with me, Thorough and quick is our plan, Britons will show hospitality 'E'en to the tin can man.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Correspondents and others will please note that on and after the first day of January, 1916, all notices of meetings whether a charge is made or not will be charged for at the nominal rate of five cents per line for first insertion and three cents for each subsequent insertion. About six words on the average will constitute a line and remittances will be made on this basis. These rates will apply to notices of lodge meetings, Women's Institutes box socials, Patriotic Meetings, Sunday School Entertainments, Church gatherings, Cards of thanks etc. A minimum charge of twenty five cents will be made. We feel that we have been very lenient in our charges for the nineteen years just drawing to a close, but of late the drain on our generosity has been rather heavy, and we are forced to protect ourselves by charging for our advertising space. Auction sale notices up to fifty words will be inserted for fifty cents for one insertion, or seventy-five cents for two insertions.
