Mrs. Joseph Neal of Weyburn, Sask., and Mrs. Joseph Gillespie of Galt, were guests of Mr. John Kirby and family for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Horsburgh and children spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. P. Cornish.

Colds and la grippe are all the fashion these days, even the Mayor of the town has been somewhat used up. We are glad to say he is on the mend.

Glad to report Mrs. M. Kinney, Mrs. W. McEachnie, Elmer and Irene Smith improving.

Flesherton

(Our own correspondent.)

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thurston, recently married, were given a shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. deCudmore on Tuesday evening last week when they were presented with a handsome library electric lamp and pretty cut glass vase. There was a large gathering of the young couple's friends and a merry time was spent until midnight. The Band, of which the groom is a member, serenaded the happy couple.

There was a large attendance at the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening last week when Proton Guild paid the Guild here a fraternal visit. Devotional exercises were first conducted by the visitors, Miss Maud Acheson presiding. Miss Ada Acheson gave an excellent paper on Prayer. Afterwards the programme was varied and very pleasing with music, games, etc. Proton orchestra and Spring Hill orchestra supplied music. The home Guild served refreshments and the event was pronounced a great success.

Mrs. W. J. Boyd entertained the Sewing Circle at her home on Wednesday evening last when over 25 ladies spent a pleasant time at the weekly social event.

A moccasin dance put on at the rink on Wednesday night last met with limited patronage, but we learn those who took part enjoyed the event.

The friends here of the Rev. G. Sydney Smith, pastor of the Methodist Church, Woodbridge, who was born and brought up at Flesherton, sympathize with him in his bereavement by the death of his beloved wife, who had been an invalid for many years. Her girlhood was spent at Bradford, where her remains were taken for burial.

Rev. Henry Miller of Vancouver, B.C., has numerous relatives in this place and vicinity who deeply sympathize with him in his loss by the death of his beloved wife a few days after an operation. The deceased was brought up at Thornton, Simcoe County, and Mr. Miller brought the remains East last week for interment at Cookstown.

The annual meeting of Chalmers Church held Thursday afternoon last was well attended and very harmonious. The pastor, Rev. F. G. Fowler, presided, and Mr. T. R. McKenzie was secretary. The reports presented showed a prosperous year, there being an increase in giving over the previous year. The Session reported about 80 per cent. of the membership regular in attendance at the church services. Nine new members were added, seven on profession of faith. Baptisms 23, deaths 14. The financial report showed all liabilities met and a good balance on hand in each department. The giving to Missions both by envelope contributions and the W.M.S. exceeded well the previous year. In the election of officers D. McTavish, George Cairns, James Harrison and George Stewart were re-elected on the managing board and Charles Stewart was elected Chairman of the board. A. M. Gilchrist was re-elected secretary-treasurer and J. E. McKee and Ward Harrison auditors. Mrs. Joseph Blackburn was re-elected organist and choir leader and Mrs. McCallum assistant organist. Ward Harrison and Will Irwin were appointed to receive the offerings and to act as ushers with James Harrison and Geo. Stewart. A resolution was adopted conveying the thanks of the congregation to Mr. Robert Purvis, of Eugenia, for the use of his machine and his time gratuitously given at the building of the manse cement garage.

The Women's Institute here gave a good entertainment in the High School on Wednesday evening last, but the attendance was not as large as hoped for, there being other attractions. The proceeds, however, were over $30. Reeve McTavish occupied the chair and the program was pleasing throughout. The young people of Spring Hill put on two plays which were humorous and well given, the actors all taking their parts splendidly. Mr. G. W. Littlejohns gave two very taking Scotch songs in which he was recalled, and later, by request, sang one over again. Mr. and Mrs. McFadden sang a humorous duet which was heartily enjoyed and Mr. McFadden responded with a well-rendered solo. Two readings by Mrs. Bairnes were well given and heartily applauded. Mrs. Blackburn and Miss Mildred Caswell gave a pretty piano duet in which they were recalled. The Maple Leaf was heartily sung by the audience.

After a lengthy illness Mr. Jacob Thompson, a lifelong and well-known resident of Artemesia, passed away at his late home on the East Back Line on Friday, February 2, aged 66 years. Mr. Thompson spent most of his life on the farm, industrious and hard working, but on account of his health conducted the Park House here for a few years and also lived at Markdale. In religion he was a Presbyterian and a member of Chalmers Church here. He was married near this village 45 years ago to Miss Sarah Irwin, who survives him, together with two sons and two daughters, Fred, in the West; Robert, near Flesherton; Mrs. B. O. Ferris, Flesherton; and Mrs. W. H. Holley, Markdale. Mr. David Thompson of this place, who is very ill, is a brother. The funeral took place on Monday to Meaford Road cemetery, service being conducted at the house by the family pastor, Rev. F. G. Fowler.

The press dispatch from Vancouver in the daily papers last week reporting the mysterious disappearance for a few days of Dr. J. W. Mahan, was a surprise to his old friends here, who hope he may not have met with misadventure. Dr. Mahan resided here 25 years ago when his father was pastor of the Methodist Church. He made many friends and was popular with all.

A snow automobile invented and built by Mr. George Brackenbury, mechanic in the McTavish garage here, is attracting much attention. The front is built on two runners, with steering wheel attached and the rear end is supported by double tire wheels with deep flanges, to prevent sliding. The machine will travel through one to two feet of loose snow and on fairly firm roads a speed of twenty to thirty miles can be made. Mr. Eaton of Chatsworth was in town last week with a similar car which also attracted attention.

Miss King's Sunday school class in the Methodist Church held a candy sale on Saturday afternoon and realized $5 for their work.

We learned with pleasure last week that Mrs. (Rev.) Delfry of Huntsville, formerly of this place, was presented with a valuable wrist watch by the church choir of which she is leader.

Mr. Jack Higginbotham of Winnipeg, grandson of the late R. J. Sproule of this place, who is in the legal profession, received his call to the bar recently. Congratulations to the young barrister.

Owing to the very inclement weather on Sunday the congregations at the churches were small and services were held in the school rooms of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches owing to the difficulty in heating above. In the latter church communion was postponed until next Sunday.

Miss Reynolds of Beeton has been engaged as assistant in the Public school in the place of Miss Nelson, who has resigned owing to the severe illness of her brother at Mono, whom she visited over the week-end.

Mrs. T. E. Aikenhead of Toronto visited her sister, Mrs. Hickling, and other relatives part of last week.

Mrs. Wilfred Graham of Markdale spent part of last week with her mother, Mrs. S. Irwin.

Mrs. Henry Down's friends are pleased to see her recovered from recent severe illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Plewes are ill with gripe and under the doctor's care.

Mrs. W. Trimble whom we reported ill last week with a paralytic stroke is, we are pleased to learn, showing some improvement. Her daughter, Mrs. Hodgson of Islington is with her to assist in nursing.

A number of the hockey players here took in the hockey match at Shelburne on Friday night last.

Mrs. George Stewart of Weyburn, Sask., is visiting her sister, Mrs. T. Lewis and family.

Miss Edna Ferris was home from Toronto over the week-end and to attend the funeral of her grandfather Mr. Jacob Thompson.

Mrs. (Dr.) Turnbull is visiting for a few days with friends in Toronto.

Mr. J. A. Cairns, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stevens, Mrs. Alex. Ketching and Mrs. McNeill of McTier were week-end visitors with the Cairns families and were entertained at a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Cairns on Monday evening.

Miss Shirley Murray came up from Toronto to spend the week-end at her home and attend the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs. W. J. Henderson.

Mrs. (Dr.) Murray and Miss Oke visited Mrs. Lundy Johnston, Meaford Road, a day last week.

The executive of the Presbyterian Guild were entertained at the home of the president, James Harrison, on Monday evening when plans were made for the Guild's annual Valentine social.

At the Methodist Young People's meeting on Monday night the first sixteen chapters of Acts were given special study and with profit.

Mr. Robert Trimble is home from Stratford visiting his mother in her illness.

Mr. Samuel Henderson, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston, Dundalk, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Morton, Wareham, attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Henderson on Tuesday.

After an illness of four months' duration from a paralytic stroke, Mrs. William J. Henderson passed away at her late home in Flesherton on Saturday, February 3, 1923, aged 67 years. The deceased, whose maiden name was Jane Isabella Morton, was born at Napanee, but when only a few weeks old was brought by her parents to Wareham neighborhood, where they settled and where she was brought up and lived until thirteen years ago when she came with her husband to this village. In 1876 she was married by the late Rev. H. S. Matthews to Mr. Henderson, who survives her together with the following children: Robert, at Moose Jaw, Sask.; Mrs. Harry Lowick, Batterum, Sask.; Mrs. Percy Russell and Miss Mabelle, at Weyburn, Sask.; Mrs. George Blackburn, near Flesherton, and Mrs. Christina and Agnes at home. A little son, Hartley, died 22 years ago, and the eldest daughter, Mrs. E. C. Murray, died nearly seven years ago. Mr. William Morton, Wareham, and Mrs. James Johnston, Dundalk, are the last surviving members of their family. The bereft ones all have the sympathy of many friends in their sorrow. From girlhood Mrs. Henderson was a faithful member of the Methodist Church, taught in the Sunday school and was interested in all Christian work. She was a devoted wife and mother whose memory will long be cherished by her husband and children. Outside her home she was beloved by all for her kindly spirit and unselfish disposition, always ready to serve wherever she could. The funeral took place to Flesherton cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, service being held in the Methodist Church conducted by the Rev. F. G. Fowler in behalf of the pastor, who was ill. The text for the sermon was Mark 1:35, and favorite hymns of the deceased were sung. An appropriate selection was rendered by the choir. Beautiful floral tributes were given, among them being wreaths from the family; son Robert and wife; James Orr; Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Henderson; the Sunday school and Adult Bible class; sickle and sheaf, Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Murray; sprays, F. H. W. Hickling and staff; the telephone staff, and the church choir and others.

"HER MAJESTY" THIS WEEK

How strong is the bond between sisters? Is it stronger if they are twins? "Her Majesty," the Playgoers' feature presenting Mollie King and Creighton Hale at the Veterans' Star Theatre Thursday and Friday of this week depicts the romance of twin sisters.

A college youth meets one sister and falls in love with her. Then he meets the other twin and thinks she is the same girl. The second sister keeps up the deception, for this flirtation enables her to carry on a clandestine romance with a man whom her aunt has forbidden her to see. A mix-up in hearts naturally results. "Her Majesty" contains comedy, drama and romance galore. Miss King plays both sisters.

The comedy this week will be the Hall Room Boys, Percy and Ferdie in "All At Sea."
