For The Quiet Hour

MANY THERE BE WHO SAY BY WORD OR ACT: "A man must live!" Pray tell me why Life at such cost you have to buy? In what religion were you told A man must live? There is a time when man must die.

Imagine for a battle cry For soldiers with the flag unrolled, For soldiers with a sword to hold, This coward's whine, this liar's lie,

"A man must live"! Fellow Christian, take account of your stewardship, and see if you have a right to live!

An old Chinese lady of fourscore years, body worn with suf-fering, but face radiant, was told she must take it easy and rest more. This was her reply, in substance: "We rest when we go to heaven. See, I am still strong! I can work. With this cane I can walk a little. On Monday I go out on the street and walk until I find some one to whom I can talk about Jesus. On Tuesday I go to the women's prayer-meeting, and always try to speak a word for Jesus. On Thursday I go to the house of a young Christian and teach her the 'Peep of Day.' On Friday I teach another woman about Jesus. On Saturday I go out and invite people to come to church the next day, and on Sunday I go to church to learn more about Jesus myself." This woman numbers her converts by hundreds. Her motto is: "I surrender

A CERTAIN GODLY WOMAN UNEXPECTEDLY RECEIVED a legacy of $5,000. True to her practice maintained in poverty, she at once put $500 into her Tenth Box. She never mentioned this disposal of the tenth, but after her death there was found entered in her diary the day she received the legacy: "Quick, quick, before my heart gets hard!"

IT IS THE PRACTICE AMONG THE BUSHMEN IN SOUTH Africa if a man dies his brother inherits his bow and the wife and children. If there is no brother and the relatives do not want the widow to live with the tribe, a man is sent to engage her in conversation and he shoots an arrow into her heart. The poor woman, though she knows the man's errand, does not try to escape. If she has a little child, that is buried with the mother. The older children are parceled out among the tribe.

KING KHAMA, CHIEF OF THE BAMAGWATO, AND OVER ninety years of age, made a noticeable speech recently, on achieving his jubilee as chief, in which he said: "I have not many words to say, but I have a word of joy and thanksgiving. First to the King because of his goodness to me and my people.

.....I speak my joy for the kind words of the High Commissioner, and thank God for the missionaries, and what they have done for us; for we are just a people without understanding. They brought us the light, and taught us to pray for light. Even though we may have failed, what we are doing to-day shows we have some hold on what they have taught us, and we believe that with their help we shall do better. They know the way and they show us the road...... I am an old man and I pray that the young may find salvation, for otherwise they are lost. To the young men I say, 'Let those words enter your hearts. The work that has been done here is the work of God. Depart from disputes; think like men; seek to know the road; let your hearts depart from drink and from the initiaion ceremonies; get to know the true knowledge about marriage, that it is an oath before God'."

> SERVICE I shall not count my life as vain If only in some quiet way I find my chance to serve the Lord, My debt of love for Him to pay.

An unnamed man supplied the beast Whereon the lonely Saviour passed Along the way triumphantly, Acclaimed the promised king at last.

An unnamed man supplied the room Where once the Saviour broke the bread And gave the wine-His flesh and blood-His life-by which our lives are fed.

And unnamed crosses mark the spot Where common soldiers chance to lie, Who for the world's true brotherhood A Sacrifice, feared not to die.

O grant me, Lord, the grace I pray, If I the quiet paths must lead,

To give my humble gift to Thee. And know I, too, have met Thy need. -The Congregationalist.

THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT HAVING DEclared unconstitutional both the first and second Federal laws directed against child labor, though praising their purpose, a resolution has been introduced in the Senate to meet the need for a Constitutional Amendment, giving Congress power to pass a direct child labor law. How great is the evil which enlightened public sentiment in the United States is thus demanding shall in some way be brought to an end, the following statistics show: One out of every twelve children between the ages of ten and fifteen years in the United States, is gainfully employed, according to the census of 1920. No one knows how many child laborers there are under ten because no official count has been made. Hundreds as young as five years are found working in sugar beet, onion and cotton fields, on streets and in tenement home work. Out of 1,000 children recently examined in Colorado beet fields, 700 were found with deformities more or less serious. Of the children from ten to fifteen years working in the canneries of the Gulf Coast one, out of every four is illiterate. One half of the 5,000 children between the ages of five and fifteen doing factory work in their homes in Rhode Island could not earn as much as five cents an hour.

WE SHOULD LIKE TO HAVE THE DESPISERS OF THE Bible explain this phenomenon. Why are there now so few copies of the best ancient writings in circulation, or easily obtainable? On the other hand, millions of Bibles in numerous lands and languages are to be had for the asking. What means this vitality of a book, burned, and chained, and expurgated, yet never suppressed!

THE JEW WILL NOT BE WON AS LONG AS THE PREACHing of the gospel to him is made the business of a few enthusiasts within the church,-the rest indifferent to or coldly disparaging of their zeal. There must be no sniping in the rear. The whole church must be in the work, each member believing in it as he believes in Christ himself. When that happens, the Jew can do no other: he must accept Christ.—J. M. Richardson.

WE SAW CLEARLY THAT THERE IS A GREAT DEAL OF patient study and hard thinking yet to be done if we Chinese Christians really are to understand what Christianity means. In a way this is a revelation to us. Hitherto we have thought that the West had the monopoly in understanding and expounding Christianity, but it is left to ourselves to probe the depth and discover the richness of the religion of Jesus Christ .- T. Z. Koo.

IN OUR OBSCURE CORNER, BY MERE FAITHFULNESS TO Christ's commission, we may accomplish an immortal work. When the rest of what our labor has wrought has gone to dust, the human soul which we have molded in fellowship with Christ will abide, the nobles and only lasting product of the time.-Sunday School Chronicle.

EVERY ONE OF US WHO HAS RECEIVED LIFE FROM Christ has thereby in possession what may give life to many other human souls.....It is not the privilege of the more en-lightened or more fervent disciple, but of all. He who receives from the Lord what is enough for himself holds the lives of some of his fellows in his hands.—Marcus Dods.

AT THE CLOSE OF A THRILLING ADDRESS BY A RETURNed missionary, a young man stepped up to him and said: "We will try and send you something more substantial than our prayers." Quick came the reply, in deep earnestness: "My friend, you can't do that! We shall be glad of anything you may send, but more than all else we need your prayers." For prayer is the channel through which the pent-up energies of the Almighty flow.

"BYGONE DAYS"

The following parody on "Old Black Joe" was composed by Miss Bella McGirr and sung as a chorus by the Old-fashioned Choir in the "Martha Made Over" concerts given here and at Holstein by members of the Women's Institute:

Gone are the days when our hair was brown and dark,

Gone are the curls we wore when on a lark. Gone are the ear-rings, the bonnets and the shawls. But our love for fun and music changeth not at all.
