THE RADIO OF THE FUTURE

The radio is rapidly becoming a great fad.

This new invention is really worth while. It will soon become as great a necessity as the automobile is to-day.

The farmer on his isolated acres can sit in his easy chair and listen to the stock reports, receive notice of weather changes, learn just what his produce is worth that day, and wind up by listening to a high-grade concert.

If he is tired on Sunday morning, he can take life easy and listen to a sermon by some noted divine a thousand miles away.

And when the family jar becomes too lively, he can turn on the radio and drown it out.

There are wonderful possibilities in this invention, and it no doubt will have a very great use in the future.

WORKING THE MOWER

Practical Instructions on Running This Useful Machine.

Give the Cutting Bar and Steel Plate Attention—Keep the Knife Sharp—Go Over the Machine Daily—Returns From Bees.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

This machine has given splendid service to the farmers of the past and present generations. Fifty years ago the mower was a perfected machine, and the improvements since that date have not been of a revolutionary nature.

Watch the Cutting Bar.

This machine is subjected to a number of abuses, traceable to the carelessness of the average farm hand, lack of attention in oiling, dull ledger plates and knife operated over rough or stony ground. With the knife running close to the soil surface, injury from contact with gravel, sand and small stones is frequent. The watchfulness of the operator to avoid subjecting the cutter bar to injury is the best protection when the mower is in use on rough ground. The cutter bar with its numerous guards can be elevated or tilted quickly by an experienced operator and obstructions avoided. The guards should be kept tight and in perfect alignment.

Give the Steel Plate Attention.

The small steel plate that is riveted to the guard at the point where the knife edge performs the scissor movement should be kept sharp or at least not permitted to wear round. These plates, commonly known as ledger plates, become dull with use, a condition that greatly reduces the efficiency of the mower and increases the draft. A mower with dull or rounded ledger plates will stick in heavy cutting or damp grass. A sharp knife and sharp edged ledger plates means light draft for the team and clean, free cutting of the crop.

The Knife Must Be Kept Sharp.

Too much attention cannot be given to the cutter bar with its attached guards and quick moving knife. If the mower sticks at every mouse-nest or tuft of grass, the place to look for the trouble is in the dull knife, the ledger plates, the worn guards, or the keepers that hold the knife down in place. With the new mower it will be noted that the cutting edges are sharp, that there is but little play for the knife other than as intended. In the past too little attention has been given to keeping the ledger plates sharp. With these dull, no matter how good the knife is, tough material will be drawn beneath the knife instead of being cut, forcing the blade up against the guard causing wear that gives a loose fitting knife, poor work and greatly increased draft.

Why the New Mower Cuts Best.

The experience of all is that the mower cuts better the first season than ever after. This experience is largely due to the fact that too little attention is paid to the parts that are responsible for the cutting. The wear on the section points of the mower knife is greatest near the point. This wear, together with the grinding necessary to keep the knife sharp, changes the shape of the section considerably, and in such a way as to reduce its efficiency as a cutting implement. The man doing the grinding should endeavor to keep the original shape of the section in so far as possible. Many of the emery grinders used in sharpening mower knives grind away the points of the section to a serious extent without doing very much sharpening. A specially shaped emery or carborundum stone or file should be used and the work done in the farm shop. A spare knife should always be at hand in the field.

Go Over the Machine Daily.

The mower should be gone over carefully twice each day and all bolts tightened. The main bearings should be oiled at least once each hour, and the pitman bearings at least every half hour. When the mower is not in use the knife should be removed. The cutter bar should be elevated to the vertical position when the machine is not in use. A little heavy mineral oil should be brushed over all parts that are likely to rust. Don't use paint oils. The mower, like the binder, to give its best service, should be given good care.—L. Stevenson, Sec., Dept. of Agriculture.

Returns From Bees.

Good returns are obtained from keeping bees in Canada, the conditions in many parts of the country being particularly favorable for honey production. Yet much uncertainty exists, and misconceptions have arisen as to the returns to be expected. One sometimes hears that a colony of bees has produced in one season four or five hundred pounds of honey. Such yields, however, are exceptional, and are the result of a combination of fortunate circumstances, abundant flowers of alsike and white clover, fireweed, or other important honey plants, a particularly industrious colony, a well trained and experienced beekeeper, and, above all, favorable weather. They cannot be obtained from every hive, nor can they be repeated year after year. Sometimes a year of failure follows a year of plenty.

To get reliable figures it is necessary to average the returns from the colonies in the apiary for a number of years. The latest figures show that the average annual yield of honey has varied from 18 pounds per colony in the least profitable apiary to 133 pounds per colony in the most profitable apiary. The average annual production for all the apiaries was 63 pounds per colony, which is high enough to make a satisfactory profit. These figures indicate the importance of good management, the returns of only 18 pounds having been due to inexperience.

A Successful Egg Circle.

Recent enactments from Ottawa calling for the grading of eggs for domestic trade as well as for export will revive interest in co-operative marketing. Producers will now find it necessary to co-operate in marketing to provide a grading agency whereby they will get the benefit of the higher prices paid for higher grades. Perhaps the most ambitious project of this nature is already near completion in Oxford County, Ontario, where the local egg circles have already formed a central grading agency to deliver all their eggs to the circle for a three year period.

There are upwards of 25 Egg Circles in Oxford County. These are all federated under one central selling agency.

However, there are some egg circles operating alone. One of these is at Belmont, Peterborough County, and the Agricultural Representative, Mr. F. C. McRae, gives the following information through the columns of the Farm and Dairy: "The Belmont Egg Circle was organized in the spring of 1918 with a membership of 13. By 1919 the membership had increased to 30. In 1920 there was a membership of 75 and they shipped 20,000 dozens of eggs and received an average price of 40.3 cents a dozen for the year, this being five cents a dozen above the local store price. This five cents a dozen was secured by dividends which are paid back to members every three months. In 1921 the membership reached to 90 and they shipped 21,000 dozens. The average price received for the year was 33.2 cents per dozen.

"In the beginning of 1922 a contract was adopted and a change in the management took place. There was a drop in the membership to 38 owing to this change. During 1922 11,000 dozens were shipped with a record of only three dozen bad eggs charged back to the producer responsible. The average price received for the year was 33 cents a dozen and the dividends for the year amounted to six cents a dozen. Last fall the directors of the Circle decided to canvass all the producers in the township and asked assistance from the Live Stock Branch, Ottawa, to help them. They accompanied the representative of the Department while he was doing this work. The result is that after this canvass they have secured 112 members, all having signed a contract.

"The Live Stock Branch a number of years ago learned from reports of the packing plants that there was an enormous loss through bad eggs, 90 per cent. of which could be traced back to the old system of marketing. The object of the Circle is to eliminate this loss and, as shown in the Belmont Egg Circle operations, where only three dozen bad eggs were found in 11,000 dozens shipped, proves conclusively the efficiency of an egg circle in improving the quality of the product and at the same time giving to the producer an increased price. A portion of the contract reads as follows:

"THIS AGREEMENT made and entered into this first day of January, A.D. 1923, by and between the Belmont Egg Circle, hereinafter called the "Circle" of the First Part, and the undersigned, hereinafter called the "Producer" of the Second Part.

"WITNESSETH that the Producer hereby agrees to deliver and the Circle to accept all eggs produced by the Producer from the date hereof until December 31, 1923, excepting only such eggs produced from breeding stock as may be suitable for hatching purposes, used or sold for incubation, and such eggs as may be retained by the Producer for his own personal use.

"INASMUCH as it will be extremely difficult to determine the actual damage resulting to the Circle should the Producer fail to deliver to the Circle the eggs herein agreed to be delivered, the Producer hereby agrees to pay to the Circle five cents for each dozen eggs sold, consigned or marketed by or for him to or through any medium other than this Circle.

"I HEREBY APPLY for membership in the Belmont Egg Circle, and if admitted to membership I agree to be bound by this agreement and subject to all rules and regulations laid down by the Constitution and By-laws of this Egg Circle."

"The 112 members which we have signed up includes practically 90 per cent of the entire producers of the township," writes Mr. McRae. The Egg Circle does not find it of advantage to undertake canning, grading or storing eggs owing to the limited supply. They are, however, endeavoring to get a sufficiently large number of units organized throughout the county that in time they can be brought together as one, when a larger concern will be able to function. The grading is now done at the wholesale to which the eggs are sold. All the eggs are delivered to the manager at least once each week. There is no local storage of eggs, all being shipped out at least once a week. The eggs are sold on the open market. No eggs have been stored by the Circle.

An effort is being made in Grey County to get this work started. The Department at Markdale is very anxious that farmers should know about this successful branch of work. Write them for information.

Marketing Wool.

During the week beginning June 4 the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers are loading cars at many shipping points in Grey County. It is hoped farmers will avail themselves of the opportunity to dispose of their wool through their own wool selling system.

Letters announcing the dates have been mailed to 1,058 farmers. Although this association will take wool at any time during the whole year it will save the farmers considerable money to ship their wool in car load lots.

The market is firm and tending higher according to their letter mailed a month ago. Grey County farmers should sell theirs through the association which has sought the highest prices. Remember, 206 farmers from Grey County shipped their wool last year.
