

Alone From Uscilug to Milwaukee Via Canada

Eleven-year-old Polish Boy Makes Long Voyage Alone.

TRAVELLING does not tire or trouble this little fellow. Though he does not speak any English other than two or three words which he picked up en-route, he travelled alone from his home at Uscilug on the Russia-Austrian boundary to Milwaukee, burdened only with a small valise and a sheaf of tickets and immigration documents. Koeth Hars is his name. Orphaned by his mother's death three years ago, he was going to his father in Milwaukee, who had made arrangements for his transportation.

When Koeth arrived at Warsaw he was conducted by an agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway to Antwerp.

There he was given a ticket almost as long as himself which would carry him through to his destination. Crossing to England he sailed on the "Metagama," being, from the time he left Warsaw, under the care of the Canadian Pacific. The direct mileage from Milwaukee to Uscilug is not by any means the full mileage of his travels. The ship's officers estimate that he ran at least twenty miles a day over the vessel, and the port officials had an anxious time when he made surreptitious peregrinations in search of someone who spoke his own tongue. He was glad, of course, to meet his father, but what an adventure it is to travel far and alone!

COULD NOT EAT COOKED FOOD

Acute Digestive Troubles Ended by Dreco—London Woman's Case Typical of the Benefits Offered by this Splendid Remedy.

Mrs. James Weir of 373 Grey St., London, Ont., tells a story that will strike home with thousands of men and women, for there are many who suffer from one or the other of the symptoms she describes. They are due to a weakened condition of the organs brought about by persistent indigestion and constipation. Remedy these two ailments and the whole body responds. Mrs. Weir will tell you how Dreco accomplished this desirable result in her case.

"For the past year," states Mrs. Weir, "I have suffered agonies caused by gastritis. The food I ate lay in my stomach. It would not digest. Gas would bloat me and press against my heart causing palpitation and shortness of breath, and it seemed at times that I would smother. For months I was unable to eat potatoes or meat cooked in any way. Pains would shoot through my back and across my kidneys. I couldn't sleep and dizzy spells often attacked me and everything seemed to go round in front of my eyes. It was a fact that I hated at times to venture out alone as I never knew when a gastric or dizzy spell would attack me. My entire system seemed tired out. I had no energy and was hardly able to do my work some days.

"Now after four bottles of Dreco, I am like a new person. To eat is a pleasure and I take whatever I wish with no bad after effects. I have no pains or dizzy spells. I can rest just fine and get up in the mornings feeling refreshed. My neighbors even remark how well I am looking and gladly do I tell them Dreco has brought me these wondrous results. Dreco gets my praise at every available opportunity.

Dreco is prepared from herbs, roots, bark and leaves of established medicinal value and contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs. It is a scientific combination of Nature's own remedies for all disorders of the stomach, kidney, liver and bowels and restores them to healthy action in an entirely natural way.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Durham by McFadden's Drug Store and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

"KID" MCCOY, QUONDAM PRIZE-FIGHTER, NOW A SLEUTH IN "OATHBOUND"

Norman Selby, who became famous in the prize ring under the name of "Kid" McCoy, and who supports Dustin Farnum in his latest photoplay offering, "Oathbound," was one of the foremost fighters of his day. The "Kid", as he was familiarly known, came near being the heavyweight champion of the world. It happened in 1900. McCoy was matched to fight James J. Corbett for the heavyweight championship.

Durham High School

The School is thoroughly equipped to take up the following courses: (1) Junior Matriculation. (2) Entrance to Normal School. Each member of the Staff is a University Graduate and experienced Teacher. The School has a creditable record in the past which it hopes to maintain in the future. Durham is an attractive and healthy town and good accommodation can be obtained at reasonable rates. C. H. DANARD, B. A., Principal. C. L. GRANT, Chairman.

McCoy lost the fight and his chance for the world's title. The "Kid," using his famous corkscrew punch, had a short time before won the middle-weight championship of the world when he knocked out Tommy Ryan, who was one of the greatest fighters who ever held the middleweight title.
