

West Coast Motor Tour

1. The C. P. S. S. Motor Princess. 2. Chuckanut Drive, a link in the Pacific Highway. 3. Dance floor on the ferry.

NOT only have Bellingham, Wash., and Victoria, B.C., been brought into closer connection and more friendly relations by the recent inauguration of a ferry motor transport service by the new Canadian Pacific "Motor Princess", but western tourists as a whole have been provided with a new route to the Capital City of British Columbia, and one that has the alluring charm and refreshing diversion of a three and a half hours' water trip. The new water route for touring motorists from the mainland to Vancouver Island forms the base of a triangle which provides a circuit tour from Victoria through Nanaimo and Vancouver and via the beautiful Pacific Highway through New Westminster and Bellingham to Oregon and Washington destinations. This tour takes one through some of the most beautiful scenery on the continent. Exhilarating sea breezes are enjoyed along the whole route, which is through country the climate of which is so delightfully equable, that the semi-tropical foliage is pleasing to the eye and fragrant the year round. In addition, the ferry links the wonderful roads on Vancouver Island with the California Bee Line, the western arc of the great 6,000 mile circle tour which embraces twelve national parks in the United States and three in Canada, and of which the Bank-Windermere Highway through the Canadian Rockies, to be officially opened on June 30th, forms one of the most delightful parts. The ship which has made this Mainland-Island-Circle tour possible was specially designed for the service and possesses many distinctive features. She has parking space for 50 automobiles on two decks and accommodation for 250 passengers. A saloon, smoking room, restaurant, dance floor and deck spaces for promenading have been fitted up for the convenience of the travelling public, and the vessel is equipped with twin diesel engines which ensure a speed of 14 knots in all weathers.

Sciatic, Rheumatism and Lumbago Banished

Read Mr. Burrell's Story of Health and Strength Found in Dreco—This Splendid Body-builder Went to the Root of His Ailments and Corrected Them.

A year and four months of intense suffering brought to a happy ending by Dreco, is the story of Mr. F. Burrell of 509 Ottawa Avenue, London, Ont. Mr. Burrell is a working man with a family to support and like many another man in his circumstances was compelled to hide his sufferings as best he could and carry on with his daily toil. His wife alone knew the effort it was costing this plucky man as he left home each morning, determined to see the day's work through. Medicine after medicine was tried without result, until at last Mrs. Burrell heard of Dreco and persuaded her husband to try it. Let her tell of the wonderful results that this natural corrective achieved in two short weeks.

"My husband suffered for the past year and four months with sciatica, lumbago and rheumatism. He had terrible pains across the back, just over the kidneys, so that at times he could hardly get around. He was constantly taking laxatives, his appetite was miserable and very seldom did he get a restful night. Nothing helped him until two weeks ago I heard of Dreco and persuaded him to try it. Now he is like a new man. The pains in his back and limbs are almost gone, his bowels are like clock-work, and he sleeps like a tired child. No other remedy has ever gone to the bottom of his trouble like Dreco. It has worked wonders and gladly do we praise it."

Dreco brings immediate relief to men and women. It tones and regulates the whole system by the action of the herbs, roots, bark and leaves from which it is carefully compounded. No one need endure the miseries of an impaired digestive system, ailing kidneys or torpid liver when a few bottles of Dreco will bring health, driving from their systems the noxious gases and poisonous acids that cause biliousness and rheumatism.

Dreco is pleasant to take, effective, and contains no mercury, potash or habit-forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Durham by McFadden's Drug Store, and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

THE STORY OF A LOST PURSE
Flaherty Advance.

Last Christmas Miss Beatrice Thistlethwaite, Toronto, left her purse on board when getting off the train at this station. The purse contained over $30 and a cheque for a substantial amount. The lost articles were advertised in The Advance at the time. Shortly afterward Miss Thistlethwaite received a letter from a young woman in Owen Sound asking her what she would give for the return of the cheque. Miss Thistlethwaite got in touch with the Owen Sound police and by means of a decoy letter the young woman was captured when securing her letter at the post office. The young woman had written under an assumed name. She denies knowledge of both purse and money, but has turned over the cheque. It is expected that before the trouble is over she will decide that it is wisdom to also turn over the money.

HARD LUCK

(By Edgar A. Guest.)
Ain't no use, as I can see,
In sittin' underneath a tree
An' growin' that your luck is bad,
An' that your life is extra sad;
Your life ain't sadder than your neighbor's,
Nor any harder are your labors;
It rains on him the same as you,
An' he has work he hates to do;
An' he gets tired, an' he gets cross,
An' he has trouble with the boss;
You take his whole life through an' through,
Why, he's no better off than you,
If whinin' brushed the clouds away,
I wouldn't have a word to say;
If I made good friends out o' foes,
I'd whine a bit, too, I s'pose;
But when I look around an' see
A lot o' men resemblin' me,
An' see 'em sad an' see 'em gay,
With work I do most every day,
Some full o' fun, some bent with care,
Some havin' troubles hard to bear,
I reckon, as I count my woes,
They're 'bout what everybody knows.
The day I find a man who'll say
He's never known a rainy day,
Who'll raise his hat right up an' swear
In forty years he's had no care,
Has never had a single blow,
An' never known one touch of woe,
Has never seen a loved one die,
Has never wept or heaved a sigh,
Has never had a plan go wrong,
But allus laughed his way along;
Then I'll sit down an' start to whine
That all the hard luck here is mine.

DEATH OF JOHN STOVEL

On Wednesday morning, May 29, Mr. John Stovel of Winnipeg passed away at Rochester, Minn. Some three weeks before he had gone to the famous hospital of Mayo Brothers for treatment for goitre and had undergone an operation successfully. It was found that he was then suffering from internal cancer and it was following an operation for this that he died, says the Mount Forest Representative.

Mr. Stovel was born in Mount Forest 65 years ago, being the second son of the late H. H. Stovel. He learned the printing business in The Confederate office. Nearly 40 years ago he went to Winnipeg, and with his brothers established one of the largest printing houses in the West, and indeed in Canada. He served with the 90th Winnipeg Regiment in the Riel rebellion in 1885 and represented Winnipeg in the Manitoba Legislature in 1921-22 as a Liberal. He was a man of intelligence and force of character, an ardent Baptist, of robust physique and of very temperate habits, never using liquor or tobacco.

He married Margaret McCannell, also formerly of Mount Forest, who survives with three sons, Mac, Carlton and Vernon, and one daughter. Two sons are married and in the business which has now as its head Chester, his only surviving brother. Two sisters are left, Mrs. J. J. Cook, Mount Forest, and Mrs. S. B. Blackhall, Winnipeg. The remains were taken to Winnipeg for interment.

been almost universally written in law, and the agency of the automobile as a deadly weapon in such hands has been recognized in some commonwealths by stiffening the penalties for motor killings and maimings.

The sentences are severe, but by no means unwarranted. The drunken automobilist is not in full possession of his mental and physical faculties and is, therefore, a potential menace to the life and limb of every user of the highway. Any plea that he is irresponsible is answered by the fact that he is responsible for his responsibility.

WALKERTON MEN FINED FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT
(Walkerton Herald and Times.)
Six local young men who set off rockets and firecrackers on the main street here on the night preceding the 24th of May and which bombardment awoke the occupants of the flats from their slumbers, were summoned to appear before Magistrate McNab on Friday afternoon on a disorderly charge laid by Night-watchman Swanston. Pleading guilty to the offence on Thursday last the sextette were treated as a single offender and a fine of $10 and costs or $18 in all, was levied, which made a rate of $3 each that the celebrants had to pay for violating some by-law or other by putting on this demonstration on the front street.
