THE SOUTH GREY FAIR

Fair to be held here next week belongs to the farmers and to be a success it requires a wide patronage. The citizens are generally good patrons and will be sure to attend are not pretending to compare it ceeding further it may be interest- recently out of six applicants as the with the Toronto Exhibition or any ing to note that about three miles principal of Wetaskiwin school at of the other big fairs. If every farmer in the adjacent townships and every citizen in the town would contribute to the exhibits we would have a big Fair for a small town and country. you have nothing on exhibition don't | Sackville. grumble at the management for the smallness of the show; better grumbie at yourself for not helping to make it bigger. It is everybody's duty to enter into a friendly rivalry, not for the value of the prizes, but for the benefits resulting from the rivalry. Whether you have anything to exhibit or not come out for the sake of seeing your friends and neighbors and for the sake of the society-your society-which we all know is in need of any assistance you can give financially or otherwise. Let the attendance be record-breaker.

WITH THE WEEKLY PRESS IN THE MARITIMES

Last week we left our readers at New Glasgow and the three adjacent towns of Stellerton, Trenton and Westville. From New Glasgow many of the party motored some twelve cured a load of fruit. or fifteen miles north to Pictou harbor, but on the side opposite the of days recently at Aldershot. town apparently five or six miles distant. On the way here we passed | Continuation schools arrived in due through a Micmac Indian reserve, time to commence work on Tuesday and had the driver wait while we Misses Davidson and Floyd are in the got snapshots of a quartette of Indian children and afterwards of the Indian Chief in uniform.

Leaving New Glasgow we went west to Trenton, a beautiful Nova Scotian town of 7.000 inhabitants. For want of time we were unable to see the place, but learn it is in a good mixed farming district. It, like other Nova Scotian towns, has wide streets, beautiful homes, magnificent parks and is well provided with churches and educational institutions, including the Provincial Agricultural College and a Model Farm of 220 acres. Manufacturing is carried on extensively in woollen mills, a condensed milk factory, woodworking industries, hat, cap, clothing, too, is carried on extensively. Situated at the head of Cobequid Bay a glance at the map will give an idea of the excellence of its location as a distributing centre for its many and varied productions. The natural park comprises a thousand acres and its diversity of scenery is in striking contrast to the flat table land on which Truro stands.

From Truro we go in a northerly direction to Amherst, a city of about through. There will not, however, 12.000. This is a beautiful little city occupying a position at the head of Cobequid Bay and only a few miles from the boundary line between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. it makes the pathway of the tiller The Cobequid Bay is an eastern arm of the Bay of Fundy and from Amherst in a northeasterly direction it is only eleven miles across the neck of land to the Northumberland Strait which separates Prince Edward Island from the mainland. It was at this point that an unsuccessful attempt was made many years ago to construct a mraine railway for the ry, but so long as we give truthful purpose of conveying ships from the facts we feel that we are only dutihead waters of the Bay of Fundy to fully speaking. Amherst is of considerable interest to Grey County and Durham residents, for it was here that the famous 147t7h Bat- Brown. talion was stationed prior to leaving for overseas to take their part in the Hanover, also Miss Mary Cameron of Great War.

From Amherst we metowed to Sackville, in New Brunswick, a distance of eight or ten miles. The course lay through the marshlands of Cobequid Bay. These marshes or flats are very fertile and are protected from the sea by miles and ad Mrs. James Miller, Glenelg, a son. miles of dykes. Over a century and a half age fierce contests for supremacy were held here between the English and the French. A short distance to the northwest is all that remains of Fort Cumberland. This was a French fort and known as Fort Beausejour (Beautiful place to rest). When taken by the English in 1755 the name was changed to Fort Cumberland. It was raining quite briskly as we motored over the dykelands, but this did not prevent us from walking through a field and up a steep hill to take a look at the fort. A short distance from us was the site of Fort Lawrence, an English stronghold from which the attack was made when Beausejour was cap-It should not be forgotten that the tured. (Our own correspondent.) Grain harvest is pretty well rounded up in this vicinity, but most of the sweet clover is still in the field and will probably await stook threshing.

The cool spell of a week ago drove most of the cottagers at the lake back to their snug homes in town, and now the popular summer homes ing and carriage factories. Lumber- by the lakeside will remain in dismal silence until another year slips by.

Getting More Out of Your Farm

TF you could increase your production a little and reduce your expenses even slightly, it might mean the difference between a fair living and failure in some seasons.

Sheep, poultry, hogs, and a regular "milk cheque" have saved the day for many a farmer when his crops have failed.

Shelters from the heat, rain or snow for your live stock and protection from the weather for your outbuildings, machinery and implements, will minimize your losses and reduce your yearly repair bills by many a dollar.
