SHIRLEY MASON COMING IN NOTED FOX PICTURE

Shirley Mason, the dainty Fox Star, will be seen at the Veterans' Star Theatre to-morrow and Saturday in her latest starring vehicle, "Youth Must Have Love," which was directed by Joseph Franz.

Miss Mason's latest production is based on the story of a young man unjustly accused of the murder of an old miser, who had gained wealth and position through the unfortunate circumstances of others.

How Earl Stannard, the young man is vindicated through the neverfailing faith and untiring aid of girl provides a romance of intrigue and adventure that promises to surpass all of Miss Mason's previous pictures for exceptional entertainment.

The story carries the audience through a series of unusual incidents and dramatic sequences to powerful climax. Among the many thrilling incidents in the play are the robbery of the old miser by his nephew, who causes his death while attempting to escape; the accusing finger pointed toward Earl Stannard; his daring escape from a pursuing posse; how a girl, bringing him food each day, is the cause of his hiding-place be-Mr. D.
