Teaching By Pictures

Last Friday afternoon were invited by Principal Sanderson of the public school to see the new method of teaching by motion pictures.

The Public School Board has purchased a moving picture machine for use in the schools and reels are sent every two months for use one day and to be returned the next. Four forms of the school had been shown the pictures in the principal's room and they were dismissed and the other three forms were then given views of copper and nickel mining in New Ontario, the effect of fresh air on the respiratory and circulatory system, the Great Desert and oases of Africa, and the wonderful natural scenery of New Zealand.—Chesley Enterprise.

A Miniature Prairie Fire

While strolling over "Bill" Wilson's farm, west of the village, on Sunday afternoon, one of a party of youths carelessly dropped a lighted match among the dry grass on some new land at the rear of the farm. After going a distance some of the boys happened to look back and discovered the grass to be on fire. Despite their frantic efforts to smother it out, the fire spread rapidly, and but for the timely arrival of some neighbors it is likely the affair would have ended less fortunately. As it was the flames were controlled when only a few feet from a line-fence, and when about three acres had been burned over. This should be a lesson to one boy, at least.—Fordwich Record.

In His Hundredth Year

Thursday last was a balmy spring day, and Mr. Thomas McBeath, of Goldie street, who that day passed into the 100th year of the morning air as he stepped out for his customary walk about his home whenever weather will at all permit. With his health and spirits as buoyant as that of many who are thirty years younger, Mr. McBeath is still enjoying life to a very full degree, his chief enjoyments being, next to the privilege of being surrounded by members of his family in his home, the reading of books and meeting and conversation with his many friends.—Paisley Advocate.

Change Not Popular Here

The change in the C. N. R. time table, which came into effect on Monday, and which results in the noon mail getting in here at 12:19, or fifteen minutes later than formerly, is not the most popular arrangement that was ever put across here. Where formerly the citizens could get their mail en route to work at 1 o'clock, now the peasantry can't get next to their stuff much before supper without a special trip back to the Post Office Department. If the King Government want any local support at the next election they want to smoke up on their mail service.—Walkerton Herald-Times.

Death Claimed Young Man

Death claimed a promising young business man of Hanover in the person of Mr. Albert J. Gehring, who passed away last Wednesday evening, April 25, in the Hanover Memorial Hospital at the early age of 28 years and 10 months, death being the outcome of kidney trouble which necessitated an operation about two weeks ago, from the effects of which he slowly sank. Albert was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gehring and was born in Formosa, moving to Hanover with his parents about 16 years ago. He was employed at John Sandlos & Son's grocery store for over ten years. About 2 years ago he bought out the grocery business of Mr. C. Bruder, in the west end of town. About the same time he married Miss Josephine Hoffarth, of Karlsruhe. Surviving are his grief-stricken widow, his parents, one sister, and four brothers.

Garage Entered

Some time during Friday night or early Saturday morning a thief or thieves entered the office of McLaughlin & Lloyd, which is also the office of Graham Bros., coal dealers, and broke open a desk from which they secured a sum of money well over $300. As many are in and out of the office it would be well known that the cash is kept in the desk, and the thief took advantage of such knowledge. The police are working on the case. As Messrs. McLaughlin & Lloyd have been in business only a year or so, they could ill afford such a loss. It is to be hoped the miscreants are captured.—Kincairdine Review-Reporter.

An Old Spinning Wheel

Mr. Geo. Lampman is displaying in his store window a spinning wheel that was made 125 years ago by his great grandfather. This instrument is quite a novelty to the young folk of today and attracted much attention. With the finest of machinery doing the work today, the young folk have a lesson to learn on patience, of which their forebears were gifted with to slowly turn out the yarn on spinning wheels, which was just the first step in the making of their home-spun clothing.

The spinning wheel mentioned was made by Frederick Lampman and given to Mr. George Lampman's grandmother.—Kincairdine Review-Reporter.

Well-Known Carrick Man Passes

After a very painful illness, extending over a period of nearly a year with neck and facial cancer, Mr. Joseph Seifried passed to his reward last Saturday afternoon. Deceased had been staying for some time at the home of his son, William, and it was here that his death occurred. Mr. Seifried was in his seventy-first year and was born in Waterloo County. About thirty years ago he moved to Carrick and purchased lot 1 on the 6th concession. He was an honest, industrious man, and enjoyed the friendship and esteem of all who knew him. He is survived by four sons and two daughters. The funeral took place on Monday morning to the Mildmay R. C. Cemetery.—Mildmay Gazette.

New Officer Here

Provincial Constable Joseph Nelson arrived in town on Tuesday and assumed his duties as representative of the Provincial Police Force in the southern part of Bruce County. He succeeds Provincial Officer Widmeyer, who was transferred to Wiarton, with jurisdiction over the northern part of the County. Mr. Nelson, an ex-service man, comes with a reputation as an experienced and efficient officer. During the past couple of years his work has been confined principally to Dufferin County. Mrs. Nelson arrived with him. They will take up residence here.—Walkerton Telescope.

By-Laws Endorsed by Ratepayers

The property owners of Dundalk voted on Monday on two money by-laws, the one to raise on debentures $2,500 for improvement of the town hall, and the other for $2,000 for cemetery purposes. The former on town hall was quite close, the vote standing 47 to 49, a majority of two in favor of the by-law. The cemetery by-law had a majority of 41 on a vote of 70 to 29.—Dundalk Herald.

Swimming Pullet in Euphrasia

James Manarey of the eleventh line, Euphrasia, has a white wyan-dotte pullet which is just a little bit different to the usual run, in that she swims. The other day when it was time to return to the roost instead of walking around a pond which was between her and the henhouse, she waded right into the water, swam across and shook the water from her feathers when she landed on the other side. Perhaps she is preparing for the exhibition swim in Toronto.—Markdale Standard.

Professor Katz Died in Toronto

Professor Katz, a well-known optical specialist, died in the General Hospital, Toronto, on Tuesday, April 24, after an illness of only a few days from pneumonia. The "Professor", as he was styled, has been coming to Arthur regularly for some twenty years, and enjoyed a splendid patronage. His remains were interred in the Jewish cemetery, Toronto, on Wednesday. He is survived by his widow, who for twenty years has been a crippled invalid in a New York hospital, and one daughter.—Arthur Enterprise.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE ELECTED OFFICERS

spent thousands of dollars after they had control and the natives showed little appreciation. Britain was the best at colonization, Germany was too hard, and Americans were considered easy because of their liberality, but the British seemed to have the right knack for leadership and authority. The Spanish did not even try colonization, but went into new territory and took all they could get. This idea of graft was so prevalent among the natives of the Philippines that some time would elapse before they could be trusted to take over municipal management.

The British are respected in the Orient and if a person could say he was British he could travel in comparative safety. Manila and Singapore are now two of the most modern cities in the world. Manila had the world's largest refrigerators. Singapore is an island and one hundred years ago it was purchased by a British knight for Britain and made a port of call. The biggest rubber plantations in the world are there, also great tin mines. This development was due to British and Chinese, for the natives would work for a living and nothing more.

He spoke on the cheapness of board, the way coconuts are used, the size of bamboo, the water buffalo as a beast of burden, of Zanzibar being called the "Port of Missing Men" and why it received this name, and other viewpoints. Mr. Irwin seemed to think he had little to tell that would be of interest but he didn't hear all the expressions of appreciation by those who listened to his stirring story of impressions and of experiences in the Orient as a soldier and sailor.

After this address, the election of officers for the coming year took place and a splendid meeting closed with a social half-hour.

The officers: President, Mrs. W. Glass; Vice Presidents, Mrs. J. Hamilton, Mrs. J. A. McGirr; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. J. F. Giles; Auditors, Mrs. C. Moore and Miss L. McComb; Board of Directors, Mrs. W. Glass, Miss A. Weir, Mrs. H. Huggill, Mrs. T. Henderson; Program Committee, Mrs. Cross, Mrs. W. Mather, Mrs. F. W. Moon, Mrs.

W. Smith; Choir Leader and Organist, Miss Leah McComb; Assistant Choir Leader, Mrs. H. Huggill.

Captain (to gunner): "See that man on the bridge five miles away?"

Gunner: "Ay, ay, sir."
Captain: "Let him have a twelve inch in the eye."
Gunner: "Which eye, sir?"

After seeing the type of men some ladies throw themselves at, one cannot brag about their aim in life.
