Fish at Eugenia

The bogey of "no fish at Eugenia" has been broken at last, and that by no less a person than Mr. John Tomlinson of Toronto, who is a member of the Toronto Angling Association and is also fly-casting champion of Canada. During the past few days he has been staying at the Munshaw House at Eugenia and his trips on the hydro lake were productive of some lovely catches of fish. While on his way to Toronto on Tuesday Mr. Tomlinson showed us one of the finest catches of fish we have seen for some time. The fish were all one pound in weight or over and were caught with nothing else than equipment made especially for fly fishing and his skill in casting the fly. He secured his limit in the three days' fishing and goes back to his work in the city with the knowledge that the fish are in the lake just waiting for an expert to coax them up to the lure.—Flesherton Advance.

Factory Addition Almost Completed

Work on the new addition to the Trux Company's factory is progressing satisfactorily. It will be occupied next month, it is expected. This week the brick work, which corresponds with that of the main building, was completed. The dimensions of the addition are 60 by 84 feet. It is two storeys in height. The ground floor will be utilized by the ruffing out department, where the ripping, cutting and dressing of the lumber is done. The veneer plant and storage will be situated upstairs.

The additional space available when this work, which is being carried on under the supervision of Mr. R. E. Trux, head of the firm, is completed will provide for a want much felt by the company, particularly during the last few years.

Walkertonians view with satisfaction provision for an increased volume of business which has been made by the town's oldest industry.—Walkerton Telescope.

Taught 55 Years in One School

Miss Mary E. Sharpe, teacher of the second class in Teeswater public school, who has resigned after 55 years service in one school has set a teaching record for Ontario, if not for the whole Dominion. Miss Sharpe first taught school in Teeswater in 1873, and but for one year at the grammar school in St. Catharines in 1880 has taught continuously in Teeswater.—Hanover Post.

Keeping Order at Wasaga

The decision to patrol Wasaga Beach this summer by a member of the provincial police will be welcomed not only by the summer residents, but by many of the visitors. Tales that have come down the line of the goings on of certain parties and their behavior, especially on Sundays have shown the need for better supervision of that attractive resort. There is evidently no branch of the Lord's Day Alliance at Wasaga and it would be a pity if its reputation were spoiled.—Alliston Herald.

Robbery at Wlarton Store

On Wednesday morning, Mr. R. Ward, on coming down to the Wellington Produce Co.'s store, of which he is manager, found that $200, which he had left in his desk, had been stolen. He immediately notified the local Chief and also Prov. Officer Widmeyer to this effect. Mr. Ward found that the door to the cellar had been forced, which, in all probability, was the way the culprit had effected an entrance to the building.

The robbery looks like an amateur job, as $30 in silver, which was in the till at the time, was overlooked.

Investigation of the robbery is going on, but at time of writing no convictions have been made.—Canadian Echo, Wlarton.

Post Office at Big Bay Robbed

Mr. Russel Robinson's store and post office at Big Bay was robbed of one hundred dollars in cash, and a quantity of cigars and cigarettes, last Wednesday night. The robbers first tried to get into the place through the glass in the front window, but failed to remove the putty successfully, so they went around to the side of the house and took the screen off an opening which permitted them to enter the cellar and from there they were able to get up into the main store through a trap door.

Although Mr. Robinson and his family reside in the building, he states that he did not hear any noise or commotion about the place.—Canadian Echo, Wlarton.

A Gallant Rescue

Leaving his horse in front of Mr. J. Strader's home on Victoria street one day last week, Mr. Albert Nicholson had the chagrin of seeing the steed start off for home with Mr. Cove's 4-year-old son sitting in the rig and shouting frantically for help. Crossing over to Colborne street the equine was getting up speed and as the women of the neighborhood sensed the situation and the peril of the child some of them were shouting and others swooning as the case might be. Hearing the rumpus, Mrs. Frank Eidt, who had won several prizes as a lady driver at different fall fairs in this section put into use her equestrian abilities on this occasion, and as the beast tore by her home she rushed to the roadway and reaching into the buggy grabbed hold of the lines and was dragged about half a block before she pulled the runaway into the curb and stopped the procession. As a spectacular and timely bit of child rescue work, her stuff will stand some beating in this neck of the woods.—Walkerton Herald-Times.

Man Arrested at Markdale

Three Dundalk young people returning from a dance at Balm Beach had an exciting experience Monday night or early Tuesday morning. A little north of Markdale a large car passed them and stopped when one of the occupants got out and signalled them to stop. The driver of the Dundalk car stepped on the gas and drove on to Markdale where the Village Constable was informed of the occurrence. After a little investigation the car started on its way south and when about opposite Annesley church the large car again appeared and the occupants again tried to stop the Dundalk car. The constable then arrested a stranger who came to Main Street from the direction the trouble took place. He was in possession of a bottle partly filled with liquor and gave his name as Love. His liquor permit was made in the name of O'Neil and he worked on an extra railway gang as Holmes. Later in the day he was handed over to Provincial Constable Denton who will make a thorough investigation before proceeding with a prosecution on the charge of having liquor in an illegal place. The Dundalk party left for home at day-break, glad that Markdale provides protection for all who travel this way during the night hours.—Markdale Standard.

Ebenezer the Victors

Ebenezer won the honors among the school sections of the Durham Road, Bentinck, when they defeated Hutton Hill in a final game at Allan Park on Tuesday evening. There was a large crowd of spectators present. The game was closely contested until the latter stages, when Ebenezer assumed quite a substantial lead. They now meet Lamlash, winners on the second line of Bentinck.—Hanover Post.

Took Traffic Census

Jack Burke and Frank Scheerer completed, on Tuesday, the census of the traffic on the highway between Hanover and Walkerton. Between 800 and 1,100 passed along that stretch of roadway daily. The census was started last Wednesday.—Walkerton Telescope.

Presentation to Band

Citizens have subscribed to a fund, for the purpose of purchasing a silver cornet, to be presented to the Band, in recognition of its accomplishments at Stratford, some time ago, and here on June 9 when the local band took second place in the contest of eight organizations of the district. At a concert in the Town Hall on Friday, July 7, the cornet will be presented, also the shield won at Stratford and the medals indicative of honors in the competition here.—Walkerton Telescope.

Injured in Fall from Hay Load

Mr. Simon Lambertus, who while unloading a stack of hay off his wagon in the barn on his farm near Otter Creek on Friday afternoon, was precipitated off the load when the hay-fork rope he was pulling suddenly snapped and sent him hurtling backwards on to the barn floor, a distance of 12 feet. Lighting on his head, he was unconscious for a time, but later revived. A bruised back and a badly wrenched neck were the outcome of the fall from which he is slowly recovering.—Walkerton Herald-Times.

Dragged in Harrow

Mr. William Courtney, concession 2, Haron township, was the victim of a peculiar accident on Monday morning the 16th, which almost cost him his life. He was harrowing in a field at the back of his farm, doing the work with a team of colts. A rein became unbuckled and he went to the head of the team to repair the break in the harness. The horse took fright and leaped against him, knocking him down. Fortunately the horses did not trample him, but he was caught in the harrows and dragged a considerable distance.

Mr. Courtney managed to free himself and get as far as his home before his strength deserted him. The doctor was called and it was found that Mr. Courtney had three ribs fractured and was badly bruised and suffered from shock. He will be confined to his home for some time, but was fortunate in escaping as lightly as he did.—Kincairdine Review-Reporter.

Vandals Visit Town

Walkerton was visited recently by persons of a very contemptible type, for it is not thought that the vandals who robbed the flower beds at the High and Public schools and Mr. John Rowland's residence, and stole over one hundred feet of hose and the spray from the property of Dr. Thomas Sinclair, belonged to the town.

An officer of the Horticultural Society stated that, during the many years that organization has maintained flower beds at different places in the town, this is the first time anyone has tampered with them to any extent. The same applies, pretty generally, to private grounds.

During Saturday, June 30, or Sunday night, thieves visited the two schools mentioned. From the bed at each they pulled out by the roots and carried away about 50 geraniums and cannas plants. On Monday afternoon Miss Nelson observed the destruction. Mr. Rowland thinks the large rose bed on his grounds was tampered with Sunday night, when the family were away. That morning it was complete. About 20 beautiful plants were taken. The vacant spots were noticed on Monday by Mr. Havill.

Miss Sinclair says that they did not miss the hose until Tuesday, but have little doubt that it disappeared Sunday night. To date no information has been secured that would lead to the prosecution of the vandals.—Walkerton Herald-Times.

Cat Hits Culvert

A Hanover youth by the name of Chalmers, living in the west end of the town, suffered severe injuries last Saturday night when his car hit a culvert on the side of the road about a mile and a half this side of Elmwood. The road runs through a swamp at this point, and the culvert is right at the side of the road. Chalmers, we understand, was blinded by glaring headlights of a car approaching him, and turned out too far, striking the culvert with full force. He was thrown through the windshield and suffered many head injuries.—Hanover Post.

The Late Walter Kerton

The late Walter Kerton passed away in Collingwood hospital on June 28th, at the early age of 48 years. He was suddenly taken ill while in the west and came as far as Collingwood on his way home, and entered the hospital there, where all efforts to save him from the fatal disease were in vain.

He was born on his father's farm near Maxwell, where he resided until seventeen years ago, when he moved to Feversham, where he has since resided.

He leaves to mourn his loss two sons, Harry and Bert, both of Feversham, also three brothers, William in the West and Marshall of Flesherton and Charles of Feversham.—Flesherton Advance.

Mrs. Mella of Ceylon Passed Away

There passed away at Ceylon on

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the M.E. church South of Asheville, N. C., is leading the anti-Smith faction which, in session at Asheville has pledged itself to defeat the party's Houston choice by any "honorable means."

Tuesday afternoon an old resident of that village in the person of Janet Anderson MacCauley, beloved wife of Mr. John Melia, at the age of 82 years and 3 months, The funeral is to take place on Thursday afternoon, July 19th. Service at the house at 2.30 p.m., after which interment will take place in the McNeil Cemetery, Priceville.—Flesherton Advance.

Henry Was Shocked

Last Friday night one of the main electric power lines leading from the Otter Creek substation to Formosa, broke at H. Schill's corner on the Elora road. When Mr. Schill noticed the trouble on Saturday morning he hurried down to Andrew Schmidt's to telephone to Formosa, but maintaining a close watch for the highly charged wire, which lay along the roadside. He was suddenly thrown to the ground, the induction caused by the dampness carrying a distance of six feet or more to the centre of the road where Henry was walking. He was able to rise and got away to a safe distance without any further bad effects.—Mildmay Gazette.

It will pay you to advertise in The Chronicle.

OLD TIMERS

By Douglas Malloch
Youth laughs at us old timers,
And maybe youth has cause,
For when your hair gets white and thin
You don't expect applause,
Perhaps we're not so handsome,
But when youth gets old as us
Then youth won't wonder why.

For we have fought the battles,
And we have led the van,
And made this life an easier road
For many a younger man.
And he will do tomorrow
A lot of things that pay
Because old timers thought them out
And tried them yesterday.

We know the world is changing,
The ways of trade are new;
Men put new labels on their goods,
New roofs on houses, too,
But till the old foundation
That some old timer laid
Remains the cornerstone of all
The progress men have made.

So gather 'round, old timers,
The friends of long ago,
The fellows folks were glad to meet,
The fellows good to know,
Some try their friends to purchase,
But seldom friends acquire,
For friendship, like all other gold,
Must first go through the fire.

We've known the snows of winter,
We've known the rain of spring,
But when your heart is warm within
That doesn't mean a thing,
We've made a little money,

We've lost a whole lot more,
But money was not all we sought
Nor all we hungered for.
For youth will talk of friends,
But age will talk of friends,
For friends are all that make you rich,
Or matter when life ends,
So gather 'round, old timers,
And talk about the past,
For memory is the only wealth,
The only wealth to last.

So here's to us, old timers,
Whatever youth may think,
Yes, here's a toast to fellowship,
In fellowship to drink,
Youth laughs at us old timers,
So soon upon the shelves,
But if youth will not drink to us
We'll drink the toast ourselves.

MAN BADLY INJURED BY SPIRITED HORSE

Monday's Globe contained the following under date of July 22 regarding George Hillgartner of Hanover, well-known horseman: George Hillgartner of Hanover, well-known in race-track circles throughout Canada and the United States, sustained severe internal injuries yesterday. He was conveying two race horses to Kitchener in an open motor truck. One of the animals leaped over the rack of the truck, striking Mr. Hillgartner, who was standing on the running-board at the time, and throwing him with considerable force on his face to the ground.

Price puts it in the lowest class Quality in the highest

THE "Bigger and Better" Chevrolet is motor-dom's most striking illustration of the difference between "cheapness" and "low-price".

Chevrolet is low-priced, beyond doubt . . . lower-priced than ever before in all Chevrolet history. But, so far from being "cheapened", Chevrolet has been improved—in appearance, in performance, in value! If quality, instead of price, were the means by which cars were classified, Chevrolet would take its place in the higher ranks.

Everything about the "Bigger and Better" Chevrolet . . . from the big, luxurious Fisher Bodies with their smart, stylish lines, to the powerful Chevrolet engine with its countless new refinements . . . everything bespeaks a high standard of quality that has never been sacrificed for any price advantage.

The Chevrolet you buy is, first of all, a bigger and better car. That it is also an outstandingly low-priced car is an additional important advantage, gained through Chevrolet's volume production and its association with General Motors.

Call around and drive this Quality, Low-Priced car today.

The G.M.A.C. . . . General Motors' own deferred payment plan affords the most convenient and economical way of buying your Chevrolet on time.
