At Home

Come in & Chat Awhile

A Happy New Year to all readers of

NEW YEAR RESOLUTION

Anyone can make and keep

When I cannot see the sun;

Over troubles that are past;

Things will all come right at last

When I ought to smile instead;

George Matthew Adams, a writer of thought-provoking articles has given an idea for a New Year resolution that is worthy of deep appreciation. He says, "In this New Year, if there is anything that should, above others, do-happiness and enjoyment out of the

"The green grass of early spring, the vacations, the quiet rain dripping from new-ploughed ground, the neigh of a horse, the wag of a dog's tail or the turn of his head, the look in people's faces, anxiously awaiting the arrival of someone beloved at the railway sta-of large affairs and many of them look

"that they have lost one of the great gifts of God and Nature-the ability

This is indeed a timely thought for each of us to consider seriously as we turn the last page of the old year and gaze upon the clean new page of an-things is in the range of everyone, and no one need lack happiness for the Fern Rossman gives us a prayer for daily earnestness in her poem "This is us of many talents we all have, which,

if used, will make each day, God's

Short

PLANES OF OTHE R.C.A.F.

and how to spot them

LIERE is another of the Royal Air Force's mighty air

The Short Stirling is a mid-wing monoplane with a fuselage of approximately rectangular cross-section.

There is a single fin and rudder and the aircraft is powered by four radial engines mounted on the lead-a double tail wheel. The length is 87 feet, three inches, the wing span is 99 feet and the height is 22 feet, nine

There are bow and stern gun turrets.

The main undercarriage is retractable and there is ing edge.

weapons that reach out far to strike at the enemy.

APPROVED BY THE ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE

want of small things to enjoy.

to enjoy small things."

tion—a pienie in some selected spot."

gence and enthusiasm.

-Author unknown.

Into quarrels I may shun.

Here's a New Year resolution

It will help one's constitution.

I will try to keep from fretting

I will try to keep from getting

I will try to keep from grieving

I will try to keep from sighing

I will try to keep on trying

To deserve to get ahead.

I will try to keep believing

And enable one to sleep

the "At Home" corner.

-Ruth Raeburn.

Readers

sion that is COMFORTd SAFE.

is your eyes must have L attention at REGCLAR Our service is reliable.

Patterson, R.O. list in Eye Examination RNEY'S STORE

SESDAY, DECEMBER 3

pointments 1-5.30 p.m. rs contained substances that wheels and started fires.

reen does everything in his nake his wife happy. even argues with her."

ANK FACTORIES

British tank factories, and working for the British tank workers. They are unical school before startmen are seen at work on dows, you dust off cards, you unpack nerchandise showter necessary jobs of your business. of all-contacting ly that you are in d. Do you do that at you are going siness if you don't r your service at the job spasmodic-and thousands of -all medium for ocal newspaper. A the homes of your town but the surasy enough for anyoffers you the finest business message ks won't miss your ey look for their IT REGULARLY, ere) REGULARLY.

ey are buying fairly check up, especially ace REGULARLY."

ARITY IN ADVER-

North East Egremont

Mr. Bill McNalty is spending Christmas week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McNalty.

Mr. Peter McDonald of Collingwood spent Christmas day with his daughter, Mrs. J. D. Campbell and family.

rM. Colin McMillan spent Christmas with friends in Toronto.

laid up with a bad cold and was threat- now Sentinel. ened with pneumonia. We hope he will soon be well again.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Harrison entertained the members of the Harrison families to Chrstmas dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Campbell entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Hargrave to Christmas dinner. Visitors Christmas evening in the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kinsman of Collingwood, Misses Mraie and Marjorie Kinsman of Toronto and Mr. Clarence Kinsman of Boothville. Miss Marie remained over Friday.

Wife: I'm reading a mystery book. Husband: Why, that looks like our household budget. Wife: It is.

THIS IS THY DAY

Ey Fern Rossman

minate our lives, it is to try to get more Dear God, today I promise this: To do Thy work alone. common things, the small things about Not once to shirk the little task; I'll know it as Thine own.

us everywhere. All about us are common things full of beauty, full of mys-As Thou didst wash Thy comrades' feet tery, full of wonder and satisfaction, I'll stoop in humbleness too, if we could but note with intelli- To do whatever Thou shalt ask,

With Thine own graciousness returning birds from their Southern And at the close of this Thy day I'll listen for Thy voice; tree leaves, silent snew, the smell of And if I hear, "Well done!" my soul Will secretly rejoice.

TALENTS

By Evelyn Gage Browne

Mr. Adams speaks of meeting men You have no talent? Say not so. A weaker brother you can lift worn and weary. Their eyes seem to say And by your strength help him to go Renewed and blessed—this your gift.

> No talent? Some one needs a word Of courage, kindness, love, and cheer Which only you can speak-to gird His spirit against grief and fear.

other year. The enjoyment of small Yours is a special gift that none But you can use. Oh, lift your heart!

So much of good will be undone Unless you do your own great part.

Thy Day" and Evelyn G. Browne tells You are God's helper day by day; He comforts, guides, and speaks through you;

day, for He needs each one of us" in He needs just you in this blest way. No talent? Oh, that is not true!

In Other Communities Taken From Our Exchanges About People of Your Acquaintance.

"V" On a Citron.

ship has furnished us with the most Harry Gomm. recent "V". This time the letter ap-Mr. and Mrs. Dick Regan of Caledon pears very clearly on the rind of a Christmas guests, the latter's brother, East pent last week with Mrs. J. M. citron. The citron was grown by W. S. Allan and Murray and Mr. Tom Har- McGuire and was noticed by Jean Mcgrave. Sorry to hear Murray Allan is Guire recently while peeling it.-Luck-

Had Fortunate Escape

escape from serious injury late one afternoon last week. She had disposed of a dental chair owned by her late husband and was awaiting a transport to call and pick it up., Mrs. Newton moved it too near the head of the stairs and down it tumbled, taking her with it. When the tumble ended Mrs. Newton was helplessly pinned down by the heavy chair, and for half an hour her calls for help went unheard. Mrs. Morgan Henderson finally heard her calls, and although unable to move the chair, soon secured help to free Mrs. Newton, who suffered a severe gash in her leg as well as other minor injuries. Lucknow Sentinel.

Small Boys Had Narrow Escape

from death and one of them must have Mr. and Mrs. McQueen of Egremont. a bruise or two, so that his mother, at We take this opportunity of extendleast, will know who he is. On Tues- ing to all a wish for a Happy New day morning, a one-horse delivery Year. sleigh went around a downtown corner far too fast. Around the corner, hidden from view, was another sleigh, with two little boys, under five years the delivery sleigh was not able to stop parents and brother. in time, so it reared its front legs down on the other sleigh, its hooves just missing the little boys. One of them was knocked off the farm sleigh and fell in front of the light delivery sleigh and before the horse finally got settled down, the child was under the runner. When the sleigh was lifted up off his body, spectators expected he would be badly hurt, but he walked away off up the street without even

Children Tumbled into Cistern

of Mrs. Pearson (the former Dorothy Tanner) prevented a double drowning evening recently with Ronald Mactragedy on Sunday morning last when Donald. the two small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Disch fell into the large cistern beneath their home, which is the former Fred Forsyth property near the west-end bridge. It appears that Mr. and Mrs. Disch had motored to Kitchener to spend the week-end, leaving their children, Jacqueline, aged one and a half years, and Ruth, aged four, in charge of Miss Florence Hesch. Shortly before eleven o'clock the latter, on returning to the lower floor after attending to domestic duties upstairs, was surprised not to find her charges in the room and sighting an open cold air grate and hearing the Sabbath school and a pageant, splashing in water, was horrified when she realized that the youngsters had fallen through into the cistern in the cellar. Rushing onto the street to raise an alarm she encountered Mr. and Mrs. Pearson, who reside next door, and who were just emerging from home on their way to Sunday morning worship at St. Paul's United church. Sensing the situation they entered the Disch domicile and on peering into the aperture spied the younger of the twain floating on top of the water. The drowning infant was pulled to safety and being already in an unconcious condition. Mrs. Pearson took charge, and after forcing water from the lungs of the litle tot applied artificial respiration which soon proved effective. The older girl had disappeared from sight and Mr. Pearson, procuring a flashlight, hastened to the cellar, and after forcing his way between the floor and the top of the cistern wall, dove, fully clothed, into the chilly water which was about eight feet deep, but failed to locate the girl. On a second attempt, the Councillor discovered the body at the opposite side of the cistern and managed to bring it to the surface. Like her sister, the youngster was in an unconscious state and Mr. Pearon again put to effective use her knowledge of First Aid acquired through nursing experience. Dr. Robinson, who had been summoned, soon arrived on the scene, but it was some time before the girl showed signs of reviving. Eventually normal respiration was restored, but several hours later, due to shock, the girl developed a temperature which rose to 104, and 2 doctors were in attendance for a time, Both children, however, have since fully recovered from their close brush with the grim reaper and are none the worse for the harrowing experience.-Walkerton

Herald-Times.

Bunessan

Misses Margaret and Flora McFarlane of Toronto spent Christmas week with Mr. and Mrs. Neil McFarlane and Charles.

Miss Marion Gomm of Toronto spent an enjoyable Christmas holiday at the Miss Jean McGuire of Huron Town- home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ewing had as Mr. and Mrs. Stonehouse of Woodford; also Mr. and Mrs. Edwards of Leith. Mr. Ewing's niece, Mrs. Edwards remained for a few days' visit.

Miss Marajory Brown of Toronto spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. Mrs. G. A. Newton had a fortunate and Mrs. William Brown of the Glen. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Beaton visited with the latter's mother, Mrs. Boakes, at Schomberg Christmas Day.

Christmas visitors with Mr. and Mrs. E. Mead were the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Hooper, also her brother, Mr. and Mrs. George Hooper of North Egremont.

tained a number of friends on Monday this idea may mean to us. evening.

gation held their services last Sunday vention have been applied to producat the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie tion, there have been demonstrations Beaton. Next Sunday the service will of the manufacture of needs and wants be at Mr. Henry Beaton's when the that impressively support the view new minister will be in charge.

Two little boys had a narrow escape spent Christmas Day with their sister,

Crawford

Miss Kae Bolton of Hespeler spent old, sitting on the back. The horse in the Christmas holiday here with her

Mr. and Mrs. G. Brown and children and Mr. D. MacDonald of Durham were Sunday visitors with Mr. and of thirty hours or less. Mrs. D. A. MacDonald.

Mrs. Cameron McDougall.

Mr. Dan Stinson of Tisdale, Sask., the hours of labor of some. ing the family all home for Christmas to buy the goods and services produced at the same time.

Mr. Stewart McMullen of Hamilton The quick action of Councillor Mel. spent Christmas Day wiwth his sister, Pearson and effective First Aid work Mrs. Will Anderson.

Mr. Dan Edge of Edge Hill spent an

Mrs. R. Twamley, Misses Etta and Inez of Durham, Mr. and Mrs. George Twamley of Aberdeen, Mr. and Mrs. George Cammidge and children ate Christmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Twamley and family.

The annual Sunday school Christmas entertainment was held last Tuesday evening. The church was filled to capacity. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Summerell was chairman and a fine sacred progrm wsenjoyed. Two splendid playlets, "A Christmas Wish" and "Crisis in Santa Claus Land" by the children of "The Light on the Hills" by the seniors were special numbers. Candy and gifts were distributed by the teachers and superintendent, Mr. Alex. J. MacDonald. A lovely Bible and Book of Daily Readings were presented to the superintendent by the junior classes. Mr. MacDonald expressed his sincere thanks to the children for the gift.

OUR FOOD SUPPLY

WRITTEN SPECIALLY FOR C.W.N.A. NEWSPAPERS By JOHN ATKINS, Former Journalist

No. 12--NO EASY WAY

who let others do their thinking, that most of us could get by with very little work, if any, if our politicians were smart enough. Unfortunately, it is too often good politics to foster that belief. It is being mooted as a partial remedy for post-war ills.

Some see coming an economic system that relieves everyone of the pain of whatever effort is required.

The amazing advances of science and invention have led figure-minded economists to conclude that it would be very simple to produce all that men require with very little work in a very short time. The great majority of us Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ewing enter- have been too busy to consider what

In Canada and the United States The Glenelg Centre Baptist congre- where the advances of science and inthat somebody could produce somehow Mr. Charles and Miss Mary Kennedy enough for somebody. But Canada and the United States have never yet pr duced and distributed enough of everything for everybody. President Roosevelt says that at the peak of U. S. prosperity one-third of the people were ill-housed, ill-clad and ill-fed. Canada is little different in that regard.

There is no doubt that a physically fit, highly intelligent, well educated people, living in an ideal world from which any and every raw material could be secured at will, could, in the course of fifty years, produce its needed and most of its wants in a work-week Hospital, suffering from a fracture of Canadians are not such a people. Be-Miss Ruby Manley of Vesta is hol- fore we get too far in policies which idaying with Mr. and Mrs. W. Bolton. permit the few to do less for more, it Mr. and Mrs. Mel. Hunsberger of would be wise to take stock of what has Hanover were recent guests of Mr. and happened to the whole people as a result of our efforts to unduly shorten arrived home in time for Christmas | Most Canadians, on the farms, in the Peter's R. C. church had sold tickets probably saved by the intelligence of and expects to spend the winter here. forests, in fishing boats, in small busi- was won by Joseph Gillen of Dornoch. the horse and the fact that he wore a It was the first time in years that Mr. ness, in the professions, and in the The ticket was drawn by Mr. Norman heavy winter ski suit.—Fergus News and Mrs. Stinson had the joy of hav- homes, work long hours to earn enough Kerr of Varney.

The belief is growing, among those short hours of the few must be paid for by the long hours of the many. All who work longer hours would welcome the nation-wide application of the 48-hour week, the 40-hour week, all of which exist in Canada for some workers. Everyone would be deilghted with the 30-hour week.

The 30 hour week would cut the farm work-week in half. It would do as much for many other occupations. But it would raise the cost of living in Canada to an impossible figure. It would reduce production to the point of poverty. It would increase rather than abate suffering.

No question of health, leisure or recreation is involved in the eight hour day, or in the forty-eight hour week that provides a half-holiday on Saturday and a day of rest each week. The production of Canada with an average work-week of forty-eight hours would not provide an adequate national income. Reduced hours of work increase costs; costs that can only be met by those who work longer or harder; costs that rise every few years to the point where the value of short-hour goods is so out of line with long-hour goods that exchange breaks down and we have depression. Why not have a national minimum work week of fortyeight hours until everyone in Canada can enjoy it.

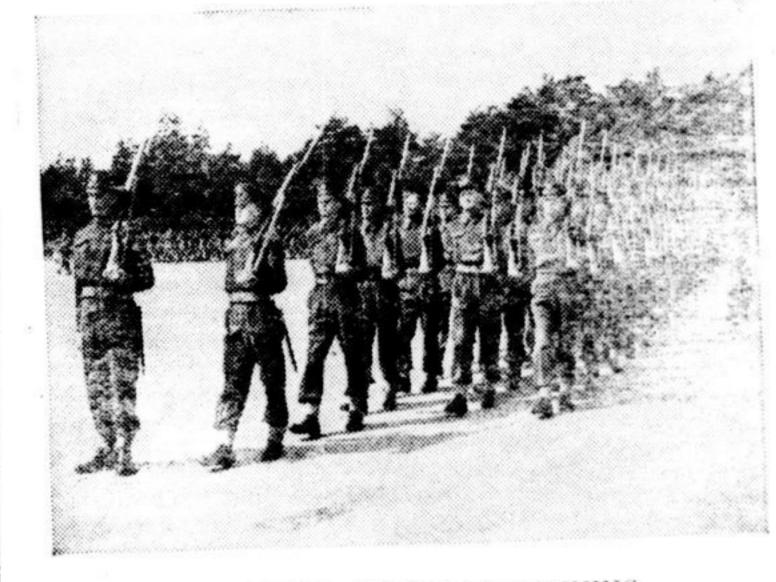

FRACTURED HIP IN FALL

Mrs. Alex. C. MacDonald of Elmwood is a patient in the Hanover Memorial the left hip. The injury is the result of a fall at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herb Dirstein.

WON CHEISTMAS CAKE

The Christmas cake, on which the ladies of the Altar Society of St.

by those who work shorter hours. The Chronicle Ads. Bring Results.

SCOTS GUARDS IN TRAINING

That famous British regiment, the Scots Guards, whose glorious fighting tradition has marched step by step with the history of the British Empire, inspires newcomers to its ranks with its high standard of service and efficiency. Here Scots Guards in training are seen on the parade ground. Even in battle dress they preserve the traditional smartness of the Guards.

