TO RENT.—The Blacksmith Shop, and tools, vice, drill, anvil and bellows in Upper Town, with wagon and paint shop above, lately occupied by F. Nester. Terms very reasonable. Apply to Jos. Sharp, Administrator. A stable in connection if required.

We present our readers with a supplement this week containing Sir Wilfrid Laurier's great speech in reply to the charges of Sir Chas. Tupper on the policy of the government. It is marked by sincerity and vigor throughout, and was a necessary quietus to reckless and vague charges.

WHERE ARE WE AT?—If we did not see the days get longer, see the sun climb higher noon by noon, see Mr. Gorbline (who has seen a robin) preparing for Horticultural distributions, see our milliners talking spring openings, see the rush to Manitoba begin, we would be apt to think our old earth had got a tilt putting us in the arctic regions. Continuous sleighing up to date, to-day, Wednesday, snowing and blowing a hurricane, roads and streets with winter drifts on. "Our Lady of the Snows" is showing off; and giving the "late man" a chance to get his legs in. Not one of our correspondents mention "sap runnin'" yet.

THE BEST SEEDS ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY.—We cannot too strongly nor too often urge the supreme importance of planting seeds that are perfectly pure and fresh. Seeds that are offered at cheap prices are almost invariably of doubtful origin and uncertain age, sure to cause the planter disappointment and loss. The thoughtful planter's only sure lies in buying seeds sent out by a conscientious and trustworthy house. A vast number of gardeners have (and have had for years) the utmost confidence in seeds that bear the name D. M. Ferry & Co., Windsor, Ont. The present generation of planters, can hardly remember the time when Ferry's Seeds were not on sale everywhere each year and as regularly planted by thousands, with the greatest faith in the unvarying quality of the seeds and in the integrity of the firm that grew them. Every planter, whether already a buyer of Ferry's Seed Annual for 1899. It is mailed free to any one who writes for it.

A FIRE EXPERIENCE.—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Milligan will not forget for a while the fire-fighting they did last Monday. Mr. M. was just home at his usual afternoon hour, when his wife hearing something fall upstairs and going to investigate, gave the alarm of fire. In some way fire had got from the chimney to the ceiling lath and burning that through it fell into the bed room and before discovered had burned a bureau and contents, destroyed some valuable clothing, and in a few minutes more would have become unmanageable. Mr. Milligan, by desperate efforts kept it in check with pails until help arrived, and after much furniture &c. had been hoisted out of doors, the fire was got under control. One room is well gutted and several others are greatly injured by fire and water. The loss will be considerable, and Mrs. M.'s housecleaning will be earlier and heavier than she looked for. Mr. and Mrs. M. desire to thank all who lent willing and valuable aid. The Brigade turned out promptly, but were not needed.

REV. MR. JANSEN'S FAREWELL.

On Sunday morning last, a congregation fuller than usual assembled in the Presbyterian church here. It was Rev. Mr. Jansen's last morning service, and to some country members the last occasion they would have of listening to him who faithfully has discharged the duties of pastor for the last seven years.

The Reverend gentleman took his text from 2 Peter 3: 13, 14 and very ably and eloquently, and with a warmth produced by the approaching separation he pointed out the way to that "new heaven and new earth wherein dwelleth righteousness," and hoped that in the great common meeting place of the future they might "be found of him in peace, without spot and blameless."

His last service in the evening was attended by a large number from other churches in town, who from various motives wished to hear Mr. Jansen before leaving. Seldom has the church been so full, the aisles were seated with chairs and even a standing room in the body of the church could not be secured. Intense interest centred in the discourse for it was freely expected that Mr. Jansen would make a reference to the severance of the pastoral tie, and so he did. His text was from Acts xix, 17, where Paul sent for the elders, who represented the Christian people of Ephesus to bid them good bye. The warmth and the pathos of that separation, where the apostle left harmony and good will to go forth to meet persecution, was placed in strong contrast to his own experience, where he charged he was being driven away by persecution. With great vigor and intense earnestness he reviewed his seven years' work in Durham, claiming that though for the last two years he had endured persecution, he had not failed at all times to the best of his ability to declare unto them the whole counsel of God. He justified his earnestness and devotion to the cause of reformation, and assuming that his attitude on this question had caused offence to some, he regretted it for their sake but could not recede himself from any position he had taken on that burning question. He deplored with a fullness approaching to bitterness, an alleged lack of sympathy he had a right to expect, and hoped the future might yet bring him tidings of results for good traceable to his work amongst them. While thus charging a few with dereliction of duty, Mr. J. very wisely refrained from mentioning names.

Rev. Mr. Jansen has, during his stay here, endeared himself to many, and the estrangement of some has taken place, it is never charged as the cause a lack of Christian zeal or neglect of pastoral or pulpit duties. In the hour of sorrow Mr. Jansen was a man to be relied on, where he could minister sympathy or consolation he was never found wanting, and we had the means of knowing that more than once material comforts were placed where they were needed without the hand that gave them being seen. Though difference of opinion exists as to the wisdom of his resignation and other acts of the last few months, there is practical unanimity in good wishes for the future, and we hope that Mr. Jansen's devotion, ability and experience will yet meet with appreciation in some other field of usefulness.

In the afternoon he took leave of the S. S. children affectionately shaking the hand of each as they left the church. A meeting of the session is to be held on Saturday at 3 p. m., when they will meet with the interim moderator, Rev. D. L. Campbell, Drumore, who will also occupy the pulpit the following day.

Easter Novelties at MacFarlane's Drug Store.

Success comes to those who persevere. If you take Hood's Sarsaparilla faithfully and persistently, you will surely be benefited.

NOTICE.—Parties indebted to Wm. Black, hardware merchant will confer a favor if they call and settle as their accounts are all made out.—W. BLACK.

Laidlaw's Millinery Opening will take place on Wednesday and Thursday of next week, April 5th and 6th, when the latest in up-to-date millinery outfittings will be on view.

The Northern Business College, Owen Sound, opens for the Spring Term on April 4th. College circular will be sent to any person interested who will request it. Young people cannot do better than spend a few months in this practical institution. C. A. FLEMING, Principal.

RECOVERED.—The gratifying intelligence comes that Rev. Mr. Little is making a satisfactory recovery. Sunday last he persuaded the doctor to allow him to take the morning service, and this tonic would, no doubt, do him good. The Chatsworth people, as well as his old charges, have all shown a warm sympathy for him in his illness, and will rejoice at his restoration.

WHAT SHE BELIEVES.—"I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla is a good medicine, because I have seen its good effects in the case of my mother. She has taken it when she was weak and her health was poor and she says she knows of nothing better to build her up and make her feel strong." Bessie M. Knowles, Upper Wood Harbor N. S.

Holstein.

On Friday evening last the Canadian Order of Foresters gave an oyster supper in honor of three of their members that are leaving for the West. They are Brothers T. R. Tribe, Duncan Paul and N. Rozel, whom we are sorry to see leave us. The Brethren with their wives, sisters and sweet-hearts turned out in full force to spend an evening together, and they did so in fine style. The tables were set in the Temperance hall, which were loaded down with all the different delicacies to which the ladies deserve credit; also oysters in galore to which all seemed to enjoy this as being the treat of the season. Your worthy scribe being present can testify to the quality of the oysters, having sampled them in two different forms, that is to say cooked and otherwise. After all had done justice to themselves and the tempting viands, part of the tables were cleared away and a nicely prepared program was gone through with, Brother W. J. Sharp presiding. Mr. Sharp in calling the meeting to order said, we as Brother Foresters and our wives and a few invited guests were here to do honor to three of our Brothers who are about to leave us in a few days for the far West. Our Court in Holstein has been struggling along under difficulties for a number of years, but to-day we have a membership of thirty-one and in good shape financially. The program was now gone through with, the first was an instrumental by Miss Tena Orchard and a selection by Dr. Brown. Recitation by Miss M. Scott, and song by Mr. and Miss O'Connell. Brother Rev. J. M. Miller being called said he had enjoyed the supper, and being a Forester for a number of years could say that the Canadian Order of Foresters he believe to be the foremost fraternal society now in the Dominion of Canada, with its large membership and a surplus of over $700,000 to pay death claims, and the lowest death rate of any other society of its kind. He was sorry that the Brothers were leaving us, but if they could do better in the West by all means that was the place to go, and he joined in wishing God's blessing to be upon them in their new home. [The foregoing was the omitted correspondence referred to last week.—EDITOR.]

Off for the West—N. Rozel and family and M. McGilivray with two cars of stock and household effect and Harry Caldwell with a car of hogs, all for Dauphin, Man.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

To Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Tribe.

Dear Friends—

Having learned of your purposed departure from our midst at early date we, a few of your many friends and neighbors desire in some small way to express our appreciation of you by something tangible.

During your long residence in our midst, we have learned to know and respect you for the many traits of character you possess. We have always found you kind and obliging to friends, generous and affable to all.

No doubt it is a matter of business that concerns yourselves that has caused you to remove from our midst, and it is business in every age of the world that has been the chief pioneer in the march of man's civilization. Blessings follow everywhere in its advancing footsteps. It travels over no blood-stained fields to secure its noble ends, but everywhere brings man into friendly and harmonious intercourse. It removes local prejudices, breaks down personal antipathies and binds the whole family of man together by strong ties of association and of mutual and independent interests. It brings men together, and towns and cities are built, it makes man venture upon the seas and ships commerce over the world, and makes the affairs of men mighty.

We trust that this business enterprise into which you have already embarked may prove fully up to your most sanguine expectations, now in token of our special regard for you, we present you with these Time Pieces, accept them, not for their value intrinsically, but in good faith given, and we pray that the "Great Giver" may abundantly bless you and your family in that distant land, and may you eventually reach that land where 'time' is not reckoned by hours. Signed on behalf of the contributors.

(ANDREW SEIM, H. HAM.)
