Tributes to the world-genius of Burns are continually cropping up. The latest is in Toronto where steps are being taken to erect a monument to his memory.

"A monument to Burn's we'll raise!" Toronto Scots have said .-Young Canada's first cairn of praise

To Scotland's honored dead! Let grateful hear, s and willing hands Pay tribute to his name, Till soon within Toronto stands

His monument of fame!

One hundred years since Burns died, And hundreds more may roll Still shall be be Auld Scotia's pride High on her honored scroll;

His songs have won the human heart Whereever shines the sun-Great High-Priest of Poetic art Thy work was nobly done?

True poets never die! But on and on their measures flow As boundless as the sky!

Glad songs of Hope and Love and Truth Shall never know decay-Burns lives in an eternal youth, While empires pass away.

His song of Hope have cheer'd the slave In many a dark domain. Glad echoes roll from waye to wave, And bids them break their chain.! "Man's inhumanity to man Makes countless thousands mourn!" Burns taught the Brotherhood of Man, The tyrant laught to scorn! His songs of love are sung to-day

On every foreign shore, And shall with human heart hold sway, Till time shall be no more! Their dove-note mild can soothe a child Or play the lover's part

In court or cottage-love beguiled-They woo and win the heart. His songs of truth all creeds uphold-"A man's a man for a' that!" An honest man's as good as gold, An' nane can yet misca' that!

He had his faults and so have we, His virtues let us cherish; His songs are sung from sea to sea-Burns' name shall never perish.
