Diamond Cut Diamond_

THE ROUT OF THE ENEMY.

CHAPTER XXXVIII, ungainly appearance was compensated a lady upon." field. Miles was on a weedy-looking news that Geoffrey had brought back It was not usual for her to read for by his clever performances in the party set forth in the best of spirits. two days in negotiations, and interwords he finally dissolved into tears, house to enable him to join them with- story of man's rebellious love, of wodeclared himself to be a miserable, broken-down old man, whose daughter Out of compliment to this fine old broken-down old man, whose daughter out any very great exertion.

Following is the text of the resolutions to the whole partial man's purity and devotion. That love, tion of which the Prime Minister gives would be deplored by all.

man, testily. "You come and dine to- er. night, Geoffrey, and we will have a . It would be impossible to conceive a of insensibility. bottle of the '47 port."

'I can't come and dine, sir, with an easy mind, unless you will make me some sort of a promise."

promise! Tut, tut, how these boys do ened background to the sleek, shining great desire for that "long rest" tion, convene one or more joint sittings. The Secretary of State then moved irritate me!" He spoke, angrily, but coats of the horses, and the brilliant wherein the problems of life shall per-Geoffrey could see very plainly that flashes of scarlet flecking the glade plex us no more, and all its sadness the further consideration of such bill County Railway bill. he was not angry at all-he was only with moving points of flame until they be hushed forever in the great sleep or amendments and a question whether

ing to the warming effects of that ory of man, had seldom been known ond. It was a sound that once heard TRIBUTE TO MR. IVES. generous fluid, or to the extreme meek- to be drawn blank, a fine fox had been is never forgotten-a duil, regular reday-a state of mind in him which al- ally large one for Hillshire, made as |-the sound of a runaway horse. the sight of the earnest brown eyes Moor-the rider, Angel Dane. which had been able, occasionally, to flashing smile which always had an indescribable influence upon him-whe-

Geoffrey, eagerly. "Pooh! pooh!! How can I take him weakening strength to restrain. back, you young donkey! when I've Of that headlong flight, Angel in just sent him away, and when Trichet after-days, remembered but little; is hardly out of the country? I am fields, trees, houses, flew by her in cried Geoffrey, excitedly.

hated Albert Trichet with a more that Geoffrey was probably following happy. deadly hatred than he did, but know- her. This was, however, but dimiy During the long weeks of nervous ing that which he had plotted and ar- borne in upon her mind. Only two prostration, which for Angel Dane folranged, he was the last person in the things, indeed, remained with a vivid lowed upon that terrible day, Geoffrey world who would have given expression consciousness before her-one was her watched over his suffering wife with a faithful and valued servant. I have pending doom which must inevitably grief, he yet learned to silence his own a high opinion of Albert Trichet's tal- lie before her-the almost certainty of sorrow in order to soothe and comfort ents-here is to his prosperous voyage a violent death. Soon this idea was her; and when she was strong enough to America," and he raised his glass to the only one left in her mind-she saw to hear his confession he laid bare all

"No, I cannot take Miles Faulkner her-all her childish sins, all her wo- her. back, and the hundred and twenty man's weaknesses, small things passed | And so time went on, and the gaping | The question arose in the discussion pounds a year he has lost with his by and unrepented of, words spoken wound, that was such an agony at whether it would not be a cheaper and place would neither make nor mend long ago and forgotten-all stood out first, closed up, and became in a fash- better investment to put up a new him. But I am thinking, Halliday, with a fearful and supernatural dis- ion healed. that we want a manager badly at tinciness out of the rush of ever-deep- And one day a little Matthew Dane money to maintain the present vicera-Lyons, the business there has been very ening darkness that seemed to be clos- came into this world of trouble and gal residence. slack lately, that fellow Dupres is no ing in about her on every side. | brought a great deal of happiness and | TRIBUTE TO MR. GEOFFRION.

erything-a foreman has not weight On the Monday morning, quite a gay enough either, we want a manager. little cavalcade set forth from Hidden There's that nice little house outside

And so this was the great and good the book was a novel. hair and began by swearing by all his good old sportsman, who, at eighty "Jane Eyre." Rose had just finished gods that nothing-no, nothing !- years of age, still pottered out upon it, and as she leant across the stile, would ever make him consent to such an historical iron-grey hunter, and fol- with her, fingers loosely slipped a beggarly marriage for his daugh- lowed the hounds for an hour or so, amongst its pages, she was thinking ter, but after long persuasion and many when they came near enough to his deeply upon the strong, passionate ner would take Miles back again and make things generally easy for him, he at Weldon was an almost monthly oclonger.

Then Geoffrey tackled his uncle. He sions, presiding herself, in her snow- ing heart, is beautiful and touching North America act, 1867, respecting . found the old man in a strangely mys- white hair, draped with a black lace in the extreme; but Rose de Brefour, the powers of the Senate of Canada in terious mood. He would reveal noth- Mantilla, at the top of the table, in whilst she acknowledged the poetry of the making of laws are unsatisfactory ing; he would promise nothing. He re- the long-banqueting hall, where an am- it, told herself that it was not true and should be brought more into harfused to give any reasons for his sen- ple repast, open to all comers, was al-

"But it is a serious matter to Miles," at an end, and the red-coats were tervenes to bring them together, for the amendment of the said act in for western points." His object in zie-Mann deal. As to Alaskan boundurged Geoffrey, "he is engaged to my mustering thickly in the tangled hol- Heart-broken they part—and heartsister-in-law, and if he is to be left, low that lay between the smooth green broken forever they remain apart- provision as follows:glades of the park on the one side, and only that love grows colder and dim-Whoever said he was going to be the opean heath country, beyond the mer, and passion becomes silent, when bill which the Senate rejects or fails to consent. He looked upon the bill as a arbitration, war. The attempt at left in the lurch?" interrupted the old boundaries of the property, on the oth-

in twos and threes under the fine old all toil and struggle for happiness, and or amends the same in a way not ac- and the bill was passed, and elm trees of the park, the clear, blue- of how few gain the prize-there came cepted by the House of Commons, the the amendment lost on a vote of thir-I sin't going to make any sort of grey of the atmosphere making a soft- upon her a great weariness of soul-a Governor-General may, by proclamaty-ty-three years to there a nays. pretending to be. He could make noth- united in a mass beneath the shelter which nothing earthly can break or such bill by adding a clause pro- in his appeal to the people of Canada of the little wood, beneath which the disturb, Eventually, he did, as he was asked, hounds-a low, level pack-were closely Then far, far away, upon her ears members of the two houses present into force until the act respecting the While distinctly discouraging the progo and dine at Cromwell Road, and the kept in hand by the huntsman, and there broke a distant sound that—as and voting, and the vote of any such Grand Trunk Railway in the same three partners, the two old men and made together a dash of speckled white she took heed of it and listened, at first joint sitting shall, as respects such bill connection is brought into force by the Yukon country, he did not say the young one, discussed a couple of against the red earth of the bank bebottles of the famous '47 vintage behind them. Very soon, in that neverly-increasing interest—seemed to grow tween them; and whether it was ow- failing covert, which, within the mem- nearer and nearer to her at every sec- der the existing constitution.

his table of the only creature on earth in the annals of Hillshire Hunt? All like rapidity.

defy and withstand him, and the rare but with that ominous shake of the set features, the wide-opened grey was well aware that members on both refuse a fiat. head which Geoffrey had already no- eyes, the white parted lips, the pant- sides would join in an expression of Hon. David Mills-We never refuse ticed in him, and pulling and snatch- ing bosom and labouring breath, the sympathy to the family of the late Mr. a fiat where it should be issued. ther all this it was, which produced the much to-be-desired effect, I am unable fushion wind. One quick shock of refashion. Angel dropped her hands to rushing wind. One quick shock of re- late Senator Sanford. is, that Matthew Dane insensibly thawad and softened, and that when dinner was over and the servants had left half dozen fields all went fairly It was Geoffrey's wife! an imperious nod from her spouse had wake of her husband. But just as into her mind-no swiftly-formed in- late Senator Sanford. Mr. Ives was a an imperious nod from her spouse had wake of her husband. But just as into her husband wake of her husband with whom he had formed an an imperious nod from her spouse had they came to within a few lengths of tention, no debating with herself as acquaintance and friendship as a strugdenly delivered himself of the follow-"Well, Halliday, I understand that pig-headed little girl of yours insists gel, with the object of keeping him business, agriculture and mining, was this young scoundrel here, who has He took the fence safely indeed, but splendid instinct is theirs—one God- subscribed to this expression of sympamarried Angel. I like Angel the best, with a sort of fury, and at a place you know, I always did, and always of his own selection, not hers; and shall; she's better looking for one upon alighting at the further side of them with an everlasting crown. thing, and she and Geoffrey will al- it, got down his head, shot off wildways come first with me. As to this ly at a terrific pace, past Geoffrey, ways come first with me. As to this ly at a terrific pace, past Geoffrey, great enthusiasm of superhuman selfother girl of yours, she's a bit of a who was hanging back a little to see sacrifice burning in her soul. vixen. I fancy, but I think you had what had become of him. In short, better let her marry Miles Faulkner he fairly bolted, and Angel entirely lost all control over him. on," here interpolated Joseph Halliday, regaining her hold upon him, for he with a miserable and rueful expres- took the next two fences well and eashaps guiltless of a certain cunning as- him into a lane. The Moor, with appar- forward and dragging her down with "No, I daresay you don't," replied guish himself in the field, turned short fall, plants both his knees with the ently no further ambition to distinold Dane rather crossly, "but then, you off to the right, and, leaving the hunt whole force of his weight upon her far behind, galloped madly down it in | chest and ro'ls over the prostrate form "You will take him back, sir?" creid a mingled condition of rage and ex- stretched before him upon the ground, citement, which proved far beyond her till the delicate body is crushed, and head right on to the grass by the roadside, and knew, shaken and harden clarks that mean Alban. Tricket had alive, and that she was saved!

Rose de Brefour had been leaning House, at an early hour, in order to the town, you know, lying empty, it upon a stile leading from the field inbe in good time at the meet at Wil- wouldn't cost much to furnish it up to the road; she was not far from her again. If you like to do it up for the own little house, and had sauntered Geoffrey rode the chestnut, he had young people I'll make Miles manager out for an afternoon walk. She carrimounted Dulcie upon his second horse, out there, and will see that he has a ed a book in her hands, which she had a plain-looking bay, whose somewhat sufficient income to keep his wife like been reading, although she was not old crock, hired from the livery stables in his pocket to Dulcie and Miles on novels. She shrank perhaps a little at Lilminster, a thin, rakish thorough- the Saturday night. It will be imag- from records of human love and human bred animal, now showing decided sains ined how joyfully he was welcomed, happiness, since love and happiness of age and over-work, whilst Angel was and with what rapturous thanks he were forever forbidden to her. Somefor the first time mounted upon The was overwhelmed. No wonder that the times, indeed, it gave her a dull, achfour riders started forth with happy ing pain to dwell on these subjects, A "southerly wind and a cloudy sky, faces from the door on Monday morn- so that wisely she seldom opened gave promise of all that the hearts of ing; three of them at least shone with books of fiction. The book she had sportsmen can desire, and the little genuine inward contentment, and the been reading to-day, however, was one fourth was contrained to mirror back which holds its undying sway alike Geoffrey had returned from town the satisfaction which he had been in- over every man and woman to whom late on Saturday night, having spent strumental in bringing to the others. English literature is dear. A book so two days in negotiations, and interof Hillshire Hunt. The hounds assem- that it may well deserve to be reckon-There had been, of course, what Dulcie bled in a lovely bit of rough park scen- ed amongst the first, if indeed, not the called "A Row." Mr. Halliday ran his ery, a sort of wilderness inside its very first itself, of all the novels of hands despairingly through his white-wooden palings. Sir Alfred Wildon, a English , literature. This book was like impulse-one unhesitating rush thy. to her certain destruction with all the sacrifice burning in her soul. him in the hurricane vehemence of his the woman's life is stamped out, and the noble heart is silenced and stilled for evermore.

lightning-like confusion; her brain | She had died so that he might live "Then it was that despicable hound!" reeled and whirled with the rush of to forget her! That had been her the air, and with the hopeless bewild- prayer, and the Great God had heard commission lately recommended in commission lately recomm His uncle laid his fniger against his erment of her position. Faintly now and granted it. Geoffrey Dane lived, nose and there was a sort of twinkle in and then she heard the thud, thud, of and although he never forgot, yet in his eye. No man on earth, for certain, another horse behind her, that told her process of time he learned to be own fast-failing strength, and the all the tenderness of a mother. Half-side, and knew, shaken and bruised clerks that poor Albert Trichet had members. The House, he felt, would members. The House, he felt, would members. and battered as she was, that she was died of swamp fever in South America, hardly realize at once the magnitude the old tyrant had never been quite of the loss sustained. Mr. Geoffrion had h mself again. Conscience sometimes no taste for active political life, alwakes up in an unaccountable fashion; though throughout his lifetime, a session than the speeches which were and now and then, although human strong party man, and it had been made Saturday morning on the Alasjustice fails to detect a crime, the sin- only out of the abundance of his heart kan boundary question. Sir Charles ner himself is brought to a due sense that he had consented to enter parliaof it by gentler and more merciful ment. He was a man of extraordinary language, but unmistakable in mean-sad word "Never."

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

What the Legislators of the Country are Doing at Ottawa. SENATE REFORM.

Following is the text of the resoluhad deceived and defied him; in spite English gentleman, who paid his fif- back by every consideration, human notice in connection with the govern-

Those who have loved in valuate not government, and praying that Her treated the matter airily, and declined When the party from Hidden House thus appropriately united-no miracle Majesty may be pleased to recommend ened all under an ever-thickening pall the House of Commons, then, if the amendment would not be objectionable ness and depression of Joseph Halli- found, and the whole field, an unusu- iterating sound, muffled yet ringing sudden and sad demise of the Hon. W. wished, take the Grand Trunk road B. Ives, in whom the House had lost via Richmond to get into Montreal. ways filled the soul of his chief with speedily as possible for the widely Keenly alive all at once to what this one of its ablest members, a man who. The House again divided, the amenda fiendish delight-or whether Mrs. opened park gates close at hand. | might mean, and what catastrophe it as a lawyer, a business man, a legislater | ment for a hoist being lost on a vote Dane contributed to it by an exhibi- Of that run, of how straightly ran might chance to foreshadow, Rose and an administrator of a public de- of thirty-five nays to sixteen yeas. tion of extra tearfulness and nervous- the fox, of how gallantly pursued the sprang eagerly over the stile, and partment had snown himself energetic The Senate has shelved the Redistriness, due, no doubt, to a secret know- hounds of what fences were negotiat- strained her eyes with a strange new and capable. His loss would be great bution bill. Mr. Mills spoke in favor ledge of the subject under discussion, ed, of who fell, and who was in at the sense of excitement towards the quar- indeed to his party, and the event of the bill at some length. While or whether, perhaps, more than all else, death, I do not propose to write in ter whence these ominous sounds were tended to impress the lesson how frail speaking on the constitutionality of it was not owing to the presence at detail. Are not these things inscribed now approaching her with lightning- and slight is the tenure by which we the bill, Mr. Mills was interrupted by hold our position here. He was aware Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who asked if who had ever got at that small shriv- that I intend to do now is to describe All at once she saw it, far away in that the government would have conelled thing which physiologists would the career of one particular horse, of the distance. The wildly galloping sented to an adjournment of the House tion to the courts for determination have called Matthew Dane's heart, and one particular rider. The horse is The horse and the pale-faced rider, coming to mark this deplorable event had it Hon. David Mills replied that any- in their ways, as a rule, than those of onwards, ever at that awful pace- not been for the position of public one could take it there. The Moor started off at a good pace, soon she was able to distinguish the business and the time of the session. He Sir Mackenzie Bowell-You would London manners. In his book "Lancaparliament had sustained in the sudden swerved a little, and made as though she was going to do it. Those glorious gling young lawyer visiting the same he would follow another horse, and An- martyrs, who, from the world's found- circuits. He was a man who, from an pig-headed little girl of yours insists ger, with the object of keeping him atton, to its close, have give, their lives to save those of othupon having her own way. I rather bim the object of keeping him atton, to its close, have give, their lives to save those of othupon having her own way. I rather bim the object of keeping him atton, to its close, have give, their lives to save those of othupon having her own way. I rather bim told his story to the archdeacon: ers, are not prone, I reckon, to reason able to speak on these matters with the less they cross mine, you know, like This was the signal for his rebellion. about what they do. One grand and authority of an expert. He willingly

So Rose de Brefour sprang forward | The Prime Minister proposed the second reading of his bill for the preserva- third reading of his bill extending unlic works. The measure was one which extinction from 1902 onward of the A rush across the road, a frantic the government had largely been in- government bounties upon iron and lives?" I asked a pedestrian snatch at the bridle of the maddened duced to bring in through the revela- steel made in Canada. she's set upon it."

She did not despair for some time of strength of her woman's arms—and into the state of health of men arms.

Sir Charles Tupper repeated what he into the state of health of men em- had said on a former occasion in supthe deed is accomplished. Angel is ployed on the construction of the port of the government policy in this with a miserable and rueful expres- took the next two lences well and easapply to all public works under the Mr. Haggart, ex-Minister of Rail- in her Sunday attire. To make it plain jurisdiction of parliament. The bill had ways, dissented from the view of his whom I meant, I said to her already been fully discussed in the chieftain, and thought no more foreign > finally received its third and final LOBSTER FISHERIES.

nection with the season.

a concession could not be made to In- and a ship channel, River St. Law- "Oh, you're the bishop, are you're verness in this matter without its be- rence, $78,000. There is an appropria- she said. "He's here—he's been exing extended to the adjacent counties tion of $2,000 for a judge for an ad- pecting on you. You'll find him in the of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Is- ditional provisional judicial district kitchen." land. The Canadian lobster fisheries court of Ontario. Following are some Ushered into the kitchen, I found an were worth safeguarding, and exper- interesting appropriations :- For en- old and fine-looking man seated by the "Albert Trichet is, my dear nephew, other a vague horror of a terrible, im- distracted by his own unutterable elsewhere had been destroyed through 1000; balance of legal fees and dish. $5,- fire, smoking a long churchwarden elsewhere had been destroyed through 600; balance of legal fees and disburse- pipe. lack of protection.

RIDEAU HALL EXPENDITURE. In committee of supply, Mr. George his ligs, then suddenly, as he set it nothing, heard nothing, thought of his heart to her, knowing that in Paylor attacked the government for penses printing voters lists, $34,000; you've done." down again upon the table, his manner nothing else. It seemed to her that Death, Angel would forgive the woman purchasing without tenders glassware her whole life came up again before he had loved and who had died to save and crockery from a Montreal company to the value of $1,505.

building than to be forever laying out influence, of great talents, of sound ing. The idea set forth by him was Geoffrey and Angel live with this judgment, of sterling character, of kind in substance that it was time to do old man now in the great house in heart, of fair mind and of unique per-beart, of fair mind and of unique per-more than indulge in amiable and endless palaver with our American sonality in the sphere in which he

IN THE SENATE.

the third reading Senator DeBoucherville moved a six months' hoist, urg-ment can take the question to the It chanced that soon after Bishop

Sir Mackenzie Bowell-If the Minis-Hon. David Mills-The hon, gentle- on the benefaction of a manufacturer, Sir Mackenzie Bowell - I ought ciple of the bill, and had the mandate of the people to introduce the measure The amendment was then declared carried, by a vote of 36 to of the church a mile away. It impress-

IRON AND STEEL BOUNTIES.

The discussion on the bill lasted into than is actually necessary for mixing church?" the evening sitting, and the measure with our own Canadian ores. SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES.

commission lately recommended in con- below St. Mary's current, $500,000, and peated my question: grain elevator and storage, $250,000, "Can you tell me where Mr. W. Is. The Minister of Fisheries replied that Levis graving dock is voted $117,000, who built this church for ballot frauds, $1,941; expenses of com- to me. "Nowt like bein' in good time. mission Redistribution Act, $5,000; ex- There'll be a snack o' something when factory, required for shell boxes, $1,-000; monuments for battle fields, $250; It was all a very simple matter to general service medals $10,000; arms, this old manufacturer, who still smokammunition and defence for equipment | ed his pipe by his kitchen fire, and so slack lately, that lellow Duples is no like pipe by his kitchen fire, a good statever: he blunders over ev- She never even saw a tall figure that pleasure along with him, not only to The Prime Minister rose to the mel- $33,000 revote, $128,000; rifle ranges, it seemed to his people as well rose up suddenly before her in the way his parents, but to a certain grim, old ancholy task of announcing the death colonial, side tracks, rolling stock and colleague colonial, side tracks, rolling stock —never heard the shout of warning in her path, or felt the sudden swerve that carried The Moor right from one side of the road to the other. Then all at once came a shock and a crash! his parents, but to a certain grim, old gentleman, now well stricken in years, the Hon. C. A. Geoffrion. For the section of his esteemed friend and colleague, of his esteemed friend and coll In truth, since the day that he broke ment and removed one of its most es-

Nothing more startling or import-has been sold again, and strangers sit. moved. In Montread he left a void cousins. They being in practical posin the long low library where Geoffrey which it will be difficult to fill. In session of the disputed territory, are Dane once long ago told his love in his professional career, extending over only too willing to keep up the discusthe gloaming hour to the beautiful a period of thirty years, he had been sion indefinitely, while in the meanwoman who loved him, but who could popular with the beach and bar alike. time American miners are taking out never become his own.

So the book was turned over, and life As a personal friend of the late Mr. traders are employing all the comwent on the same, only, that—as she Geoffrion for upwards of thirty years, mercial advantages. Sir Charles paid had said-across that folded page the he could say that he had never heard his respects to English statesmen in hand of One who is more mighty and him give utterance to an unkind word. a manner which will, probably not knows better than we. His puppets, He was an honorable man, and his afford them any great pleasure. He had written in indelible letters the one whole like was spent in doing good. told them in good round terms that SIR CHARLES TUPPER. his long years of experience and Sir, Charles Tupper, though he had observation had taught him that not enjoyed the same acquaintance the abiding weakness of the powers with the late Mr. Geoffrion as the leaden of the House, had seen enough. consult the feelings and wishes of the of him to justify him in associating United States altogether too much. He himself with every word that had fall-en from the Prime Minister's lips. He determination to have no more meetwas known to be one of the ablest, sion unless and until this quistion was most influential and most important members of parliament. His death in a filer way of settlement. By way was more than a party toss? it was a of meeting the situation as . it now loss to the whole parliament which stands, he suggested that the Governway from Kitimat Arm in British Colnad deceived and defied him; in spite English gentleman, who paid his inof which statements, he was induced at ty pounds subscription, and was as keen last to admit that if his serious consideration, number notice in connection with the governand defied him; in spite English gentleman, who paid his inlast to admit that if his serious consideration, number notice in connection with the governand divine, had, notwithstanding all, ment's proposition for Senate relast to admit that if his serious consideration, number notice in connection with the governand divine, had, notwithstanding all, ment's proposition for Senate relast to admit that if his serious consideration, number notice in connection with the governand divine, had, notwithstanding all, ment's proposition for Senate relast to admit that if his serious consideration, number notice in connection with the governand divine, had, notwithstanding all, ment's proposition for Senate relast to admit that if his serious consideration, number notice in connection with the governand divine, had, notwithstanding all, ment's proposition for Senate relast to admit that if his serious consideration, number notice in connection with the governand divine, had, notwithstanding all, ment's proposition for Senate relast to admit that if his serious consideration is a serious consideration of the last connection with the governlast to admit the governlas jects. He assured the Government of did not see how he was to hold out any currence; and Lady Weldon invariably longer. the bill be passed Senator Clemow Sir Wilfrid Laurier evidently moved that the clause compelling the thought that the remarks made by government to transfer to the Grand Sir Charles with reference to a rail-Trunk Railway at Montreal, all un-consigned western-bound traffic, be ment and he enlarged upon it at some amended by adding thereto the words, length to show that the leader of the When the party from Hidden House thus appropriately united—no miracle arrived upon the scene, this feast was is worked for them—no providence inshippers a right to prevent the trans- were only three possible modes of setcontemplated the possibility of war, It would be impossible to conceive a more charming picture as the horse
And as she stood thinking of it—of the Senate again rejects or fails to pass.

House of Commons at the next following and would remove what he considered a hideous feature of the Sir Wilfrid's remarks on the point more charming picture as the horse and as she stood thinking of the point the Senate again rejects or fails to pass bargain. A division took place were of the nature of the physician's statement, that "while there's life there's hope." From his general tone it was evident that he does not ex-Britain and the United States. There The Hon. David Mills moved to was a distinct note of discouragement shall be decided by a majority of the viding that the bill should not come to be patient for a few months longer. posal to exclude American miners from

A RICH MAN'S SIMPLICITY.

bably by non-intercourse.

policy might be contemplated. He confined himself to a contention that such action would almost certainly lead to retaliation, to be followed very pro-

Church and Smoked His Pipe in the Kitchen. In England the people of the north are much more simple and democratio the south, who are more affected by shire Life of Bishop Fraser," Archdeacon Diggle gives an interesting picture

Fraser came into his diocese, he had to consecrate one of the finest churches in South Lancashire. It had been built lars. When the bishop returned from the consecration he was lost in won-

I got out at B. station and after a waik of twenty minutes came in sight ed me with its nobility. I was on my way to the house of Mr. W., the man The Minister of Finance secured the who had built the church, and I expected to find a fine mansion.

"Can you tell me where Mr. W. "Oh, aye," he answered, "in you cottage against you bank,

Thinking there was some mistake, I went on, and presently overtook agail 'Can you tell me where Mr. W. lives ore should be recognized by the bounty |-the gentleman who built this

"That's his house," she said, pointing to the same cottage. "I'm going to the consecration.

There is an appropriation of nearly Still I was sure there must be an Dr. McLennan, Inverness, on motion a million dollars for harbours and error, but made my way to the door to go into supply, complained of an rivers. Montreal, under the heading of the cottage. An old woman, simply injustice to his county in connection of transportation facilities, gets $750, dressed, answered my summons, I dar-ments in connection with Manitoba "So you've come, have you?" he said leather trunks for new members, $220; "You have done nobly by the dis-Paris Exhibition, $175,000. Towards trict, Mr. W ., - I said, grasping the old compiling historical data in regard to man by the hand. He returned my the Acadian families in Canada, $1.- hearty squeeze, but seemed surprised. 400; drill ground, and site for an arm- "Naw, naw," he said. "I made the ouryy at St. Thomas, $6,000; cartridge population here by my mills, so I mun

CANADA.

Geo. Ashdown has been e of Modern, Man. Miss May Smith commi at Stony Mountain, Man, Picton has voted to rais a nev electric light plant The Gaspesia has been John's, Nfld., for salvage Robert G. Ingersoll, the free-thinker, died sudden William Mullen, aged last night. The losses of the insura ies by the recent Quebec A returned Klondiker drowned in the Thames

Bays that $12,000,000 will of the Yukon this year. The Manitoba Legislat take a Sunday car vote. J. H. Hall, a well-to-d ing himself, near George An English boy named employed on a ranch Manitoba, accidentally po on Saturday.

Palgrave, committed suit

The Gurney-Tilden and Co. works in Bamilton their stove-moulders a 16 crease in their wages.

The Manitoba Legislat mit Winnipeg to vote street car question, Crop forecasts which appear in Manitoba she is heading out well, a generally are favorable The Elder-Dempster to carry the mails. Qu Miss Ada H. Patterson Hospitas, Atlanta, Ga., pointed lawy superinter Winnspeg General Hosp Several members of Rifles who failed to al Niagara are being pros at the Brantford Ponce

A Cardiff deputation trade with Canada. Toronto, Ottawa and o Humphrey Guest, thief who has spent a son, was sentenced to pendentary at Belleva Mr. John Robinson, p ling street school, Bra signed his position, to lar one under the H iron girders and colum new Grand Trunk gen Montreal has been dis next year. Halifax Board of T the Dominion Governm whistling buoy at the e fax harbour and a in bro Island. As soon as the stre railway deals at Hami completed by the Ca Syndicate, it will turn the line to Guelph. The will of W. W. John, N. B., disposes $655,000 personalty, St a home for incur-$100,000 out of it. The Governor-Gene Minto have been in Camp. No. 82, Sons attend their Caledo Chatham, on Monday A gailant railway l disaster on the Canad tracks at Kamloops by across a stream to wa by fire. The harbor Commis real are now making t provements in reading ed increase in traffic deepening of the cana completed this fall. Lt.-Gol. Hoimes, D. quested the City Cour pay $2,000 as an adva payment of the expen called out in conseq street car troubles.

Owing to the difficul

Jennie, the little de ael Blakeney, of Halif ran a rusty nail init poisoning set in and jaw supervened, from rible suffering she di The manufacturers cluding the Cocks Massey-Harris Compa ous Engine Company donate the city $2,5 poses of flood preven It is stated that th real paid $120,000 f of the Canada Papel Boxer estate adjoin street, Montreal, wh short time ago for its premises. J. Hughes, a Kans some skins, and s While the man was led regularly on hin grave beforehand. The increased traion Bridge Co., has agement upon buildi their works at Low addition will give t increased capacity f tons per year, or abd

in British Columbia

a quarter-breed over

crease in their prese In the Manitoba ier Greenway said: tention of the Gove duce this session a ing the sale of into the full extent of province. It is the duce such a measur sion of the next Le Ottawa City Cou the proposal of the t that, conditional up to run Sunda, cars to the city should for 25 cepts, and the