

DURHAM REVIEW.

C. Ramage, Editor and Proprietor.

Thursday, October 12, 1899.

WELL DONE, PRICEVILLE!

The officers of the Artemesia Agricultural Society may well be gratified at the success attending their exhibition last Wednesday. The weather was superb, and the exhibits in general show no sign of deterioration but rather incline towards betterment.

The hall in a few points may have been inferior to other years, but the exhibit of fruit and roots was decidedly superior. The roots in the opinion of many surpassing any local exhibition this year.

The harness exhibit was an extensive one Messrs Watson, Priceville and McMillan, of Dromore, dividing the honors. Mr. McMillan deserves great credit not only for his excellent articles, but for the enterprise he displays in coming 9 miles to show what Dromore can do.

The sheep, in numbers, were behind some years, but in quality the judges thought it up to the mark. Wm. Meads is king in Cotswold while Alex. Muir shines in the Leicester classes. J. Spicer in the Fine Wool had close competitors in Jas. Geddes, Arthur Sealey and John Fairbairn. Cattle classes well represented, Fairbairn's fine gray bull taking first here as in Holstein. The team shown by the same man took 1st prize also. The judging of the horses in the ring was the most popular feature of the day, and the crowd admired the many fine teams and drivers. The interest reached a climax in the "best lady driver" competition; when Mrs. (nee Miss Hazard) found that she alone of the three competitors got no prize, she gave an exhibition of driving not on the programme, by driving over the grounds in wild fashion, sometimes coming near the crowd, but skilfully controlling the horse and keeping her seat in the vehicle. The directors we believe were quite gratified at the judging by our townsman Wm. Black and his colleague.

To directors and Secy. we are indebted for press favors, and must congratulate them on the success attending their efforts.

Dugald McLean, as usual has a fine exhibit of footwear with not the slightest evidence that his hand is losing its cunning.

Secy. Brodie is easily the largest prize taker at the show especially in grain and fruits, with a good second in J. I. Graham.

Our good old mother earth, was almost clad once more in her snowy mantle but our young winter did not long remain. It has left beautiful weather in its place.

On Sep. 23th another of our Crawford people was laid in their last resting place in the person of Mrs. Joseph King. Mrs. King was for some time past troubled with cancer, which terminated her earthly career. She leaves behind to mourn her departure a husband and 3 children, who have the sympathy of this community.

Who were the lads from the South who took their girls to see the decorations of the Crawford Church after Harvest Home.

The treat of this season was the Harvest Home given by the Crawford Presbyterian Church on Sep. 23th. In spite of cold, sleet and darkness a large crowd assembled who all express their pleasure at being present. A good supper of fowl, cakes and pies in abundance, was partaken of in the Methodist Church, after which they crossed over to the Presbyterian Church which was tastefully decorated and which indicate the taste of Crawford ladies. Every thing was beautiful and suitable for the occasion. A good programme, of speeches, recitations and singing was rendered after which all went home saying they were glad they went. Proceeds amounted to $31 which will be used in making the church comfortable for the winter.
