entist Sees It.

the experienced dentist, vaguely ex- his face. He came to in a nurry. he cases of temporary insanity, I supploring the depths of his victim's spluttered. soul with a small saw toothed "'Do you feel better?" I asked crowbar, via a wisdom tooth, "is him. You had a little fainting spell." that the patients all seem to think a sleep. that your main idea is to injure "He had actually gone to sleep untheir feelings as much as possible, der an operation that would have and that the work on the tooth it- caused most men intense suffering. self is entirely secondary. Ah! Hurt | At first I thought it was a case of to exercise his lungs.

"I saispected I was getting rather from him : whose theory has been satisfactorily invariably experience a refreshing demonstrated. "As I was saying-all | nap. Yours, etc., Peter Smith." right, I'll go easy-dentistry is the Painless dentistry wouldn't be in most unpopular profession with the it. What's that? No. I know that is ONE CANADIAN LOST HIS PURSE saw from the distorted mouth and turned and ran as if the old boy him- marching to the skirl of the pibroch, woman's invitation. She herself did waited while the victim had gulped self were after him, and I laughed so which did not seem in the least un not know she was dying, but others eyes were grey, and once seen ever to educational excellence. and gasped himself back to a con- that I almost bored a noie through common to the Canadians' ears, the did. dition of self-control. Then he pick the cheek of the patient in the chair. contingent passed through the two Vera Douglas' exploits in life haunted scribe her is to say that in figure and far enough to get dislocated. I used to have one patient who kept tabs on everything I did, and told me her views on it explicitly whenever she got a chance to talk. She'd

". Now. I just know that you went further than there was any need of the collar, shouted, 'Come right in, I'm that the height of enthusiasm was the collar, shouted, 'Come right in, I'm that the height of enthusiasm was a short of the many disappoint. in that upper right molar. And you waiting for you, and the next moment reached. After the many disappointneedn't have used that fine probe found myself lying half in, half out of ments of the week, the long anticiin the lower tooth. It hurt dread- the hallway, with my visitor on top of pated was granted at last. Most of nervous patient always makes me Yes, I'm nearly through. O-pen! nervous. What's that? Tender "That kicking habit that you have The Canadians certainly look a serthere? All right, I'll give it slightly developed sometimes costs a viceable lot of men, and for average time to cool off. It was curious, by dentist money. That hand mirror, for height, perhaps, excel any yet landed the way, the way that woman quit instance. I carelessly left the handle here. They are almost to a man dressme just as I was pondering some way sticking out over the edge of the ed in khaki and are armed with the to make her quit. She had an ap- stand, and while I was working at Lee-Metford and short bayonet. Their 9.80 I had one of my prize eccentrics, something, and my patient did the it was noticeable that they did not a merchant whose main idea in life is rest. I never saw a man's leg fly wear the khaki puttles so general with that he hasn't got any time to waste. up more quickly. The mirror turn. those engaged in the campaign. No So he just sits tight in the chair with ed a dozen flip-flaps and landed on more flattering comment on the effihis hands gripped on the arms and the plain glass side, smashing the ciency of the regiment could be made takes all that is coming to him with- glass to bits. If the magnifying mir- than to point out that it was only yesout a groan, and the perspiration | ror had been down, it would have cost | terday morning that the men disemcozes out and forms little dewdrops | me several dollars. Some day en I | barked, and the military authorities under his eyes, but he never wants get time, I mean to write a mono- have already despatched them to the of the chair he took one long breath nerves to leg-action Yes, experience The occasion was a rare one, and and started in upon a course of ob has taught me to keep breakable ar- the public would have gone through jurgation that astonished me, accus- ticles out of the way when I'm deal- ten times the amount of discomfort tomed as I was to his efforts. Just as | ing with a sensitive person; but I've | and inconvenience in order to give he was in the middle of it, my nervous known a man to leap out of the chair | their fellow-colonists a good send-off.

a withering eye. have agreed with her. But as his last loss, for I don't charge a patient for make themselves as comfortable as ongue with this buzzer." aggested that if the dentist was bring for corns he begin at the other end. asiented the operator, selecting a triple-jointed corkscrew appliance and driving into the abyss again. 'You're a rather sensitive subject. Just a moment, now, and it'll be done. People vary in their sensibility to pain. I've got one patient: he's a writer, by the way, and I've always understood that writers were more nerrous than other people, but this man comes in here, sits down and goes through the whole thing as peacefully as if he were getting a haircut. His teeth are in bad shape, too, and I've been working at them for three weeks, on and off. Last time he was here I tackled a particularly bad wisdom tooth, and when I was about half through cleaning | doesn't like that sign," he said. zer and asked him if it was very pain. patient the man who owns that buildful. He didn't answer, and his head ing and rents it to Baggs & Banger.

"The worst of this business" said up the cup of water and dashed it dead nerve, but it wasn't. All his troubles. The victim had risen from the teeth were that way. But he was a chair, with a repressed shrick of phenomenon. In all my practice I've agony, but immediately sank back, never came across any one else who explaining that he had only done it was lulled to slumber by my operawhat a testimonial I could have got near the nerve there," remarked the "'Dear Sir,-Your methods are so operator with the gratified air of one gentle that under your treatment I public that exists, unless possibly not quite painless, but I'd rather you dog-catching beats it. The doctor who | wouldn't elbow me in the short ribs. heals your other diseases is hailed It's just as easy to howl and I'll stop, | tains the following report of the deas a friend of humanity, but the man If all patients were like my literary parture of the Canadians from Cape who boisters up your failing dental friend, dentistry would be a delight- Town. system is remembered only with the ful profession to follow. Most people profound hope that he'll never be met | are at the opposite extreme. The with again. Do you see a grateful best instance of that in my experience orders to fall in about noon, the that we loved each other so madiy. public come smiling happily into the is the case of a young fellow who is dentist's parlor to be looked over! noted as a dashing and plucky foot-Well, I guess not When the public ball player on one of the big college arrives here it is pretty generally teams. For several mornings in suchanging onto its jaw with both hands cession I saw this chap, through the and wishing it were dead. All it wants | front window, come around the cornas soon as it sees the forceps it a moment, put his hand to his face flying. As the men approached the ample-I feel discouraged. changes its mind and invents immediate and then walk on still more swiftly. road also the news went around like "But I shall get well, and then I'll ate and hitherto forgotten appoint- Then he nerved himself up to the a flash, and soon the route to the go back to my country and be good. ments. Excuse me. If I'd known you point of mounting the steps, but town was lined by an enthusiastic Meanwhile come and comfort your poor were going to kick, then I'd have when he reached for the bell his cour- crowd. Farewells were waved from Vera." moved that bracket. Hope you didn't | age forsook him and away he went. On | the balconies, which did not pass un-He removed his infinitesimal buzz terminedly up, rang the bell, and then cers. Headed by a bugle band and His highness did not accept the dying pointment at 10 one morning. At a cavity I touched the button or equipment is most complete, although any letup. As soon as he gets out graph on the relation of the dental front. dame arrived, and as he paused for and set to work to smash things like At about 2 p.m. the troops were wind she stalked in and fixed him with a crazy man. In fact, he was crazy ordered to entrain, the order being for the moment just from nervous carried out in a marvellously short "Horrid! Horrid! she cried, and if strain, but a dash of water in the face space of time. The men crowded into she'd only waited till he got through | quieted him down. Such breakages | the carriages drawn up on either he'd have been penitent, and would usually are reckoned in profit and side of the yard, and proceeded to repaired tooth was still ringing the the result of what is really involun. circumstances would permit. Aerated

"'Horrid?' he said, 'You're the hor- down, please. That'll do, O-pen! | the onslaught made upon both. Proridest thing I've encountered vet. "One source of profit is assaving for visions and delicacles of various sorts. You're worse than the darned dentist, gold. This nickel pan that you are from biltong to gingerbeer, were look after their interests. he said, and then he tore loose a few using when you wash your mouth hurried into the van, and Mr. J. D. more yards and she went out under isn't used when I'm working on teeth | Cartwright was busily engaged in full sail. I afterwards found her side that have been filled with gold. I storing cases of chocolate. One of the curls in the hallway. Next day she have a special receptacle for that. | Canadians suddenly discovered that he sent for her bill and enclosed a tract After filing or cutting into the gold had left a purse containing $25 in I heard from her. Then I got a leton the evils of swearing. I suppose filled tooth I have the patient wash a fruit shop, and a friendly crowd ter saying that she had been ship question. she thinks that I'm still mourning her out his mouth into a small pan, and hastened to render what assistance wrecked on a barren island. Everyone loss. If you jab my hand that way every month or so that pan is as they could. A police-sergeant was you're likely to tear a hole in your sayed for gold. You'd be surprised to forthcoming, and took down the deknow how much these gold filings | tails and the name of the trooper-The victim gave a hollow moan and come to in a year. I won't tell you his address for obvious reasons was the amount, but I have enough gold left rather an open question. It on hand after each washing to pay to be hoped that the lost money will heard little from her, I think maybe turnips intil't, and carrots intil't, for all breakages, and usually some | be forthcoming at once. That cavity does go rather deep," over for new instruments. There, that's all for the present. Come back next Tuesday.' "Doctor," said the victim, for the first time achieving coherent speech, "I wish you'd have that sign changed | " had" him. before I come back. It's been running through my head like an agonizing shire Dumpling, don't they?" asked refrain to the rhythm of that infer- the genial advocate.

He pointed to a large and glaring signboard, which, in a direct line from the dentist's window, prociaim- Dumpling?" ed from a housetop that Baggs & Banger were prepared to sell flags and banners at low prices. The dentist glanced at the huge blue and white lettering and chuckled.

"You're not the only one that out the tooth I withdrew the buz- couple of months ago I had as a pretended indifference to the operations was just a bluff, and that he'd sat there still through pure grit until nature gave out and he feinted.

It wave me are not the worst the worst the worst they are the sponsore three mornings and he really part of three mornings and he really or valuables, and will try to secure what he can of his daughter's belongings.

It wave me are not the worst the worst they will try to secure what he can of his daughter's belongings.

It wave me are not the worst the worst they could not say whether they have been removed to a sanitarium.

The Duke of Argyll is seriously ill through pure grit until the girl left any money or valuables, and will try to secure what he can of his daughter's belongings.

The Duke of Argyll is seriously ill through pure grit until the girl left any money or valuables, and will try to secure what he can of his daughter's belongings. see his lips forming the lines; lat Inverary, Scotland,

Baggs & Banger, Flags and Banners, Flags and Banners, Baggs & Banger,

"The last day, when I told him ! was through, he rushed out of here Her Comet-Like Career Ended like a madman. A young woman was my next subject, and while I was cutting into her tooth I heard her murmur:

"'Oh, I'm so glad," "I felt pretty sure she didn't refer | HER LAST to my operations, so I looked around Banger with an axe. When he had finished he danced on the fragments and disappeared. It was one of those pose. On his next visit to me I asked him about it, and he grinned sheepishly, and said that he'd had to pay "'Fainting nothing,' he said, 'I had the damages, but it was worth while. A week later the sign was replaced, and I guess it'll stay there till I get rich enough to hire that roof and put up a moving picture plant to keep La Comtesse Malakoff." the minds of my patients off their Great Enthusiasm Over the Colonials There.

the following morning he pranced de- noticed by the men nor by the offi-"On the whole, I think that the wasn't an advertising dentist. Think which came the two Maxim guns, ac. gregation protested against it. out and see that it doesn't stretch with professional dignity, but I knew town the crowd increased, as did the and mining securities. that sooner or later I'd have to tackle enthusiasm, and all along the route Such jewels and other effects as steps came up to the entrance, then take part in the farewell. The march relatives. there was silence for a moment and a | continued along Bree street and down suppressed groan. It must have been | Wales street, but it was not until Adten seconds later that the bell rang, | derley street was reached, where a Out I jumped, grabbed my man by large crowd had already gathered, fully. You dentists are so careless.' me. No; he hadn't knocked me down, the large houses had been gaily dec-"It got so bad that I finally took but the horror of being at last in the orated with bunting, and every balto keeping her mouth full of cloths clutches of a dentist had proved too cony was draped. Every point of on the pretence of keeping her teeth much for him, and he had fainted vantage was immediately taken up dry. Then she'd give her little lec- dead away. After I'd revived him, I by large crowds, and the throng in the ture all in one chapter at the fin- was so rattled that I didn't want to streets, on seeing the mounted police ish, and the way she could remem- do any work, but to my surprise he in- round the corner, immediately lined ber separate operations was some sisted, and once I got started, I found up. The pent-up patriotism was let thing wonderful. Finally, she were him no worse to handle than the aver- loose, and the vociferous cheering was on my nerves so that I had to get age patient. That water too cold? kept up till the whole contingent rid of her or I'd have gone crazy. A | Well, don't spout like a whale, please. | had passed down and entered the rail-chimes, he had some wrath left over, tary action. And there are sources | waters and fruit were forthcoming, and he gave her the benefit of it. of income that make up for it. Bite and the weather more than justified

The Witness' Retort.

The present Lord Chancellor was cross-examining a shrewd bucolic witness some years ago, who rather

"They sometimes call you a Devon-

"I believe they do," replied the witness.

"But you are not a Devonshire The witness waited till the laughter occasioned by this inquiry subsided, then he slowly drawled out "Hey, but if I had been a doompling you lawyers 'ud a' gobbled I up afore long lists of notable sufferers from tish ambassador in Paris to investi-now !"-Tit-Bits.

sold the farm in Logan ind took a small piece of land in Mitshell. She Sadly.

PATHETIC LETTER.

making kindling wood of Baggs & New York, who died here at Christhas been traced.

Douglas. She had married an adventurer, who called himself Malakoff, and who is now in jail in Algiers. Her parents fondly believed her to be a real countess, and a person of consideration in London and Paris society Their letters were directed to "Mme.

The World correspondent ascertained that her father was Stephen Douglas a farmer at Mitchell, Ont., and this cable was sent to find mm."

'Madame Malakofi died here to-day Can you identify her? Else all pro perty will be seized by state." On Dec. 28th came the answer:

"Madame Malakoff is my daughter Maria Douglas. Am writing." There was evidence that these simpl people, not knowing that the daugh ter's triumphs were of the underworld, were about to leave their home for Paris, expecting to see the exposi-The Cape Argus of Dec. 1st con- | tion under the most brilliant auspices A PATHETIC LETTER.

Here is a letter Vera wrote to the Grand Dirke Vladim'r when he was here five weeks ago:

The Canadian contingent received | "It was at this season last year amanding officer having previous. "Do you remember the crowds that ly intimated his readiness to depart. | lined up when we came out of the Notwithstanding the early start, opera? Do you remember Monte Carlo which was commenced about 12.30 | the Riviera, the sweet moonlit nights o'clock, the residents of Green Point on our dear yacht only one year ago and Somerset Road were not unpre- "Come and see whether you can repared, and from many of the resi- cognize me. I am so constantly ill now is to be rid of that tooth forever, but er, walk swiftly up as far as this, stop dences an abundance of bunting was that sometimes—as to-night—for ex-

that kills story. She always lived

HE DESERTED HER.

ed out another triumph of inquisi- "For two days my timid young giant lines of enthusiastic spectators and her after death, for her body was not bearing she was a luchess. torial invention and went on a still didn't make his dash and return, but took the route as arranged. The regi- given sanctuary in the American tions. For once I regretted that I ment was in two divisions, between Church. Members of Dr. Morgan's con- gree the art of dress. In Paris the women are the worst. Not that on the third day he rounded the corner companied by their squads, and these It was impossible to discover what her gowns. they don't stand the pain as well, again, looking so worn and hollow immediately attracted attention, the had become of Vera's own resources. for they stand it better and they eyed that I determined to fix him up physique of the gunners and their There is everything to show that sh have a great deal more courage in in spite of himself. As luck would soldierly appearance being much ad was well-to-do. Her jewels were famwas not one that did not court her facing the music. Little wider, have it, an appointment for that hour mired. The second detachment was ous. Men of celebrity had showered patronage. She frequented the places please. Yes, they stand it better, had failed, so I was ready for him headed by the Cape Garrison Artil her with gifts. Stock brokers had of highest reputation, and wherever but they're more unreasonable and right then. Stationing myself near the lery Band, the whole line extending speculated for her and won. It was she went conducted herself as a lady. they take it all at heart and lay it outer door, I waited for the bell to from the hospital road down into known that from time to time, in her up against you. Jaw hurt? I'll look ring. My plan wasn't exactly in line Waterkant street. On entering the carciess way, she had bought callway woman.

> ure in the gay life of New York before the job, and the longer I waited the shops, stores and workshops were for- could be found are now under the seals she went to Paris and is well rememharder would be the work. The foot- saken by men and women anxious to of the state, pending the arrival of bered here.

> > The Aged Father's Story. A Mitchell despetch to the New York World says: Stephen Douglas. her father, told the story of her life sitting in the unpretentious story and a half frame house which shelters im, his wife and two of their eight children who remain at home. Vera Maria, the youngest daughter, was born here in Motchel! 25 years ago, and was reared in the village. der father was a farmer.

"She was the smartest, quickest one of the family," said Stephen Douglas "She could work in the kitchen with her mother or she could entertain company and be a lady in the parlor. When 16 years of age, Vera learned stenography, when she left home and went to Chicago.

"Right from the start she earned $20 to $25 a week. Vera wrote home regularly, and came back a few times to visit her country home. She remained in Chicago less than a year, then went to New York.

"When little more than 18 years of age Vera went to London. I received letter from London in September, 1893, which was from Sir William Manners, of Kensington Square. He wanted my consent and that of my wife to his marriage with our daughter. He said she had accepted him. "I did not know anything about him, whether he was a nobleman or An Odd Early Experience of the a ruffian. My daughter was smart, though, and I knew she would know what to do. Sir William said in his letter that he was rich and that my daughter would never want for any. thing. He said he had poor health bert, dressed in a simple manner, and was travelling to improve it. "Well, I had a letter from my daughter afterward, saying she had married him. She said she did not said that she wanted to come to Canada on a wedding trip, as she thought Highlander was attending to the the Canadian air would do her husband good. They had some diamond mines in South Africa, though, and went there on their wedding tour to

"She salled from Southampton for | "Hodge-podge, sir," was the Africa, and it was a long time before ply. was lost but herself and her maid, turnips intil't, and carrots intil't, her husband and his servant. Her husband died there and she returned to England.

"For the last two years we have | "Why, there's mutton intil't, and the Malakoff stopped her letters. It andwas hard to write to her, too, for if "Yes. I see: but what is intil't?" we got a letter from her at one place and did not answer quick she'd be that the Prince was serious, he regone. She had a house in New York, plied-"There's mutton intil't, and understand, and was sometimes at turnips intil't, and-"

Long Branch.

"We had a letter from a doctor inquirer; "but what is intil't-insome time ago, who said he was treat- til't ?" ing my daughter for an injury in the "Man," yelled the Highlander, branhead that she had received in a trip dishing his big ladle, "am I no tellin" to Cairo. Afterward we heard from | ye what's intil't. There's mutton him again saying that she was bet- | intil't, and-" ter Than we heard that she was worse, Here the interview was brought to a and last that she was dead.

close by one of the Prince's suite, who "I think there's something mighty fortunately was passing, explaining queer about that girl's death. Where to His Royal Highness that "intil't" are those Malakoffs? Why didn't they simply meant "into it," and nothing take charge of her? I think maybe more. she had some money and that's what's the matter. I am going to look this thing up and get it all straight." The English newspapers contain Mr. Douglas will write to the Bri-

ful. He didn't answer, and his head dropped forward on his chest. All of a sudden it occurred to me that the of it. Well, he sat here for the worst a sudden it occurred to me that the of it. Well, he sat here for the worst and the death lists are about a sudden it occurred to me that the of it. Well, he sat here for the worst and the death lists are about that they could hardly see the spot and the sobs stifled their voices until the find out if the girl left any money and the sobs stifled their voices until the cheeks are about that they could hardly see the spot and the sobs stifled their voices until the course of all that medical knowledge sug-

When Miss Douglas first left home of Senator Mason and others

That was about ton years ago. Later That was about ten years ago. Later she went to Chicago. While there she insisted on her parents giving up the the Chicago police force. The father was always very kind to ler parents.

she had employed.

decided upon.

the actress.

beautiful and charming woman.

do not wish my name linked with

"I wish to impress upon you one thing however." Miss Robinson continued, "and that is that Vera Douglas is not a proper subject for a pace quietly and modestly. She never drank or smoked cigarettes, nor did

"She was wonderfully beautiful. Her be remembered. The best way to de-

"Then she understood to the last deleading tailors were proud to make the famos restaurants of Paris. There

She was a refined and accomplished

Vera Douglas was a conspicous fig-

When she appeared here she was about 20 years old. She was a pro-

George Kessler, the champagne agent.

that Kessler, wishing to part from her in an original and charming way, engaged a passage for them both to Europe. He allowed her to think that he was going with her, and even accompanied her of board ship. Leav-

William Manners." The ill-fated Vera

Douglas was evidently striving to explain her great prosperity. She of the Duke of Rutland, and is inti-

The "Count Malakoff." who married Vera Douglas, is not a nobleman,

WHAT'S INTILIT?

Prince Consort in Scotland.

ment of the vessel, and among many other things the cooking. Approaching the "galley," where a brawny by the savory odors of a pot of was preparing.

what is intil't?"

'hodge-podge," which the Highlander

"What is that?" asked the Prince,

"How is it made?" was the next

"Why, there's mutton intil't, and

"Yes, yes," said the Prince, "but

The man looked at him, and seeing

"Yes, certainly, I know," urged the who was not known to the cook.

of Europe.-N. Y. World.

mately associated with English hisgangplank, and she sailed alone.

"The same thing may be said as to she go into any promiscuous company.

offered to get the only son a place on M. A. Sadler's Strong Words on the Subject.

larton, near Mitchell, died a few years PRACTICAL EDUCATION FALLACY,

Paris cable: The origin of Vera Paris cable: Vera Dinglas, the ing the last 2,000 years has civilized roof opposite was my late patient Douglas, the famous beauty, once of beautiful Canadian woman who has Europe passed through so dark and beautiful Canadian woman who has beautiful Canadian whom who has beauti had lords, dukes and princes in her difficult a time of intellectual change. train, and whose escapales had been We cannot evade this fact even if mastide, abandoned by her grand duke the theme of the gossip of two con- we would. You can already trace its and all her rich admirers save one, timents, has been burish at Saint consequences in public and in pri-Germain, a suburb of this city. The vate affairs. Like all spiritual changes Her real name was Vera Maria lot in which the coffin was depositing it has material results. It is beginning ed was bought for $300 by R. H. to affect men's ideals of the outy of Henning, an Australian millionaire, state to state, of employer to em-There was a short service at the ployed, of one class of the com-American Church of the Holy Trin- | munity to another, of individual to ity. Not more than 15 persons were individual. It has been accompanied there, and when the hearse drove by an immense increase in the ataway the only friend to follow the tractive force of material wealth. body of the unfortunate woman to It may portend grave mischief in the the grave was the last maid whom future. But, on its brighter side, it is driving us back in upon ourselves. And the more certain we are at This is the Mitchell Ont., girl of heart that light will come to us at whose career and sad death in Paris. last, if we patiently work towards it. deserted by her wealthy admirers, the more carnestly shall we plead the Times has given full reports. for those kind of education which It was understood that the parents prepare the rising generation to look would have her body shipped home. the great problems of life bravely in but this it appears has not been the face, modestly, courageously, honestly, helped by faith and guided by knowledge, without superstition and without conceit.

Among the New York women to Education must be practical in the whom Vera Douglas the Mitchell, sense that we do not want it to pro-Ont., girl, who died in Paris the other duce pedants and dilettantes. We do not want it to be thought the pink day was known, is Anna Robinson, of culture to be too fastidlous for She opened her eyes fery wide when common tasks. Education, whatever the name of Vera Dorglas was menelse it does for us, ought to fit us tioned to her by a Whrle reporter at to bear a more useful part in the her home, No. 4 West Twenty-eighth practical duties of life. It ought, that is, to produce some return, but we ought to take a long view about the "I have met Vera Douglas," she said, "and remember her as a most return, and not forget that some of the very best investments are those was introduced to her in New York of which the return is long deferred, and later saw her in Paris. But I or perhaps entirely indirect.

No great system of education has ever thriven on pecuniary self-interest alone. Nor can it ever so thrive.

Education aims, it is true, at training aptitude and at giving knowledge, but far more ought it to aim at producing a reverent attitude of mind and heart, and at deepening and strengthening character. And character rests on self-discipline and on faith. These are the true springs of beware of degrading it by working for lower aims. England is happily not the country which is most in danger of falling into this error. All over our history one lesson is writ large-that the English nature has a mystical as well as a practical stie, and no system of education will be appropriate to us that starves the one or ignores the other. Our chief danger lies in our finding in the money making aim the line of least resistance among the various conflicting iteals of education in its highest sense. But I would earnestly plead against any such shrinking from our difficult task. Think what would be the outcome of a national system of education the dom nant aim of which nounced brunette. Later her hair was the pursuit of individual selfwas changed to a golden tint. One of interest. It would inflame every hidher most assiduous admirers was den kind of base de ire. It would slacken all the obligations which link us to He gave her many jewels, and she one another in family life, and in caused him to suffer the pangs of jeal- every other form of common service. The more efficient such education ousy. The story of her departure hinges on this situation. It is said | the more poisoners. It would embitter the feelings of the weak toward the strong, of the poor toward the rich, of the lowly toward those highly placed. Between nation and nation it would engender destrust and treachery and brigandage. And in the ing her in her state room to step up end, I am persuaded, it would injure, on deck, he also stepped down the perhaps fatally injure, even that material prosperity which it was de-There is no such person as "Sir | signed to promote and increase. Nothing but mischief could ever come of at if we dedicated our education, with coneal her real manner of life from phrases however fair, and under pre-

sound, for Manners is the family name | chester, England. USED CORPSE FOR CARD TABLE

"the least erected spirit that fell from Grewsome Game in Which Two Soldiers Indulged Long Ago. but a blackleg and swindler of the "I have seen gambling in nearly her parents and at the same time to texts however specious, to mammon.

selected a title with an aristocratic | Heaven."-M. E. Sadler, M. A., Man-higher rank, well known to the police all its forms," said an old employee of the Post-office department to a man the other day, "but I think the most unique performance I witnessed along that line was a of seven-up during the civil was a member of an Ohi that had a part in some During one of the earlier visits of the fighting of the who four years' Royal familty to Balmoral, Prince Ai- struggle. Among my comrades were three privates who were devotedly attached to one another. They were was crossing one of the Scottish lakes the Aramis, Porthos and Athos of the in a steamer, and was curious to note regiment, with D'Artagnan left out. everything relating to the manage-During the days in camp they were inseparable and they spent most of the time playing seven-up. They did not gamble, for it is doubtful if their friendship would have remained as culinary matters, he was attracted steadfast if money had been laid on the cards. "The trio made a compact, which was sworn to over a drumbead, that if one of them was killed in battle the remaining two would play a game of seven-up on his dead body. Of course, the agreement was made with all the daredevil carelessness of the soldier, but it was as binding as if it had been an oath-bound pledge on a more serious subject. Possibly they never thought they would have to execute it. At any rate, it was known throughout the regiment that the contract had been made, and it was the subject of more or less comment. "But the time came when they were called upon to perform the agreement. It was at the bloody battle of Stone River that one of the triumvirate died with a bullet through his heart. He was one of those chosen to add to the awful carnage of the day. Then came the opportunity to see the true mettle of the soldier of that day. The other two carried the body of their dead comrade off the field when the fighting was over and laid it in their tent. I was there when they came in. They looked at the lifeless form for a long, long time and at the same moment each looked at the other. "'Get the cards, Jake,' said one. "The pack was produced, the cards were shuffled and dealt. The faded blue coat of their comrade, with the The physicians of Montreal are bullet hole through the chest, was puzzled over the case of Eva Rock, the table on which they played. The an 18 year-old girl, who has been tears rolled down their cheeks so bear sections of

Then there ment of his at small bequests In the env there was loo adoption of Ralph Carpent gether with m transaction. Mr. and Mr. eled a good d married life, far southwest. a little child a mining dista died soon nite and he had be

MARKAGA CONTRACTOR OF THE PARKAGA CONTRACTOR

care which co wild region. 2 come immedia child, and pros father's conse This was not ter, and the b Francisco, who Mr. and Mrs. have been born ever known u been an adopt Walter was nny one by t stances, he wa Mr. Carpenter but looking b ize how disapp ed man must ! return which him for all the had invished how he n ed his ov gratitude and the indifferen

his supposed as

Edmund C.

speechless by

was a thunder

him elicetonly further to of ponditions of " These paper tion, I will res once," Mr. Fr now this will n bated, and the sion of all you tained, among that you have property into gion of shortly Now this m father has a must all be rei and I will see -now mark ) is a very imp very magnanin thon-if you ag trouble in this goodings will b Mr. R chardson aggressive mee has so long sus of son to his l Gordon, also,

.. Will Ron st attempt to les restitution line ardeon? "Yes, I shve "Of course ] that every pr to prevent yo banks said, w. mance, "and no lety of a tri

you have done

you agree to o

"Yes, I agree

further need of day." Edmund Car abrupt dismiss He shot one gid ice at Walter him with rea his eyo rested sort of deeps Ruby's averted turned and w room, too the > to care to kee deflance. It may as w he was closed delivered half Fairbanks' 1 since it had to to do immedia suddenly disa; and was never Years all and Ruby we they heard ing a desipo gambling reso noble bequest from his adop There was a this discovery he of course was told not that he had n Mrs. Gordo. and while th Ruby told ab Carpenter's v concealed II, taking an oil to Forestval

He found M purchaser of take possessio ber; meanw There and get order for an fortunately. been disturbe The good o ply horrwed happened to ] joyed to know the long miss It was eas: gles returned Mr. Conant's.

"Can you c

My worldly a leve of money. own rull, as your supreme gentle care at are giving my This from been ill for ner been taken directly to he in the alty, w upon accompa she had been a tions, and as sister-in-law slightest injur "Of course, ready, Estello will confess, t