Mrs. Scott-Raff is a clever elocutionist. -Toronto World.

Schools close this Thursday evening, for the Easter holidays and reopen Monday April 23rd.

Lucas, Wright & Batson will close their Durham Office until the end of the Parliamentary Session at Toronto, after which time Mr. Batson will be at their Durham Office every Monday as usual.

W. Calder Massey Harris Agent intends to have a large delivery of two car loads of Bladders, one car of Drills, one car of Mowers, Disc Harrows and Bakes on Tuesday next Fair days.

PATRICK.—Nothing too good for the Irish just now. The Duke of York's baby son is to be called Patrick if the Queen has her way. When the warmth of the English people to Ireland equals that of the Queen, Ireland will be happy.

FOR $1.00.—The Review and Weekly Globe will be sent to Jan. 1st, 1901. Will our friends make this offer known to non-readers of either. The two papers for $1.00 to the end of the century.

The teacher of U. S. No. 6, Elderslie and Sullivan, had occasion to punish one of his pupils recently. In order to get even, the pupil with a companion went to the school on the following Saturday and knocked off plaster, punched holes in the blackboards, tore tablets and did damage to the extent of $20. The boys' parents will have to foot the bill.—Ex.

ST. GEORGE'S DAY.—An exchange points out that as April 23 is St. George's Day, it should be specially honored in view of the gallantry displayed by Shropshires Devons, Cornwalls &c., in the South African War. By all means, and from present appearances the war will hang out till next November, when there will be an opportunity of honoring St. Andrew's day. Thistle, Rose and Shamrock forever.

BIBLES FOR BOERS.—The New York Herald of March 17 says: "According to our special cable despatch from London this morning, the British and Foreign Bible Society intends to provide all Boer prisoners with Bibles in Dutch." The New York Observer suggests that a red line be placed in these books, at Luke xiv, 30-31: "What king going to make war against another king, sitteth not down first and consulteth whether he be able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand? Or else while the other is a great way off, he sendeth an ambassador and desireth conditions of peace."

FISHING FOR SUCKERS.—The O. Sound Times last week under the above heading has a scathing article on fake advertising schemes, such as trade bulletins, hotel registers, painting on bar room ceilings, &c. and generally against transient and ephemeral advertising by outsiders, strangers and fakirs. We fancy O. Sound must be more gullible than Durham in this respect, though no doubt Durham has its opportunities too. Only last week an agent of a Toronto printing house was in town trying to secure orders for commercial stationery printing, and as the object is always to secure 5000 or 10000 quantities at a rate per 1000 is quoted which of course is lower than usually quoted by local printers on quantities of 1000 or less. It is reported that a business man in a neighboring village to the west gave a $75 order to this Toronto firm and we have no doubt that for such an order local houses would be prepared to give as good returns as the outsider, who pays no taxes and aids no local institutions, materially or otherwise.

—Chatsworth News.
 The village was saddened on Thursday last by a message announcing the death of Aggie McRae at Hamilton that morning. The deceased was a daughter of Mrs. McRae of Durham and a sister of Mrs. Elliott of this place and with whom she lived for some years. For two years she was an efficient teacher in our school and only gave up her position to seek higher education. During her residence here she was a favorite with all who knew her, and although she has been afflicted for some time with enlargement of the heart and it was known that she could not get better, still the news of her death was a shock to her many friends here. At the time of her death and for some time previous she was living at the home of her uncle, Mr. Geo. Kutherford, in Hamilton, but her remains were sent to Durham on Friday and she was buried on Saturday, the attendance at the funeral being very large. The floral offerings were numerous from Hamilton and Durham friends. Master Percy Elliott of this place attended the funeral on Saturday.

Weather bulletin is unavoidably held over.

Mrs. Scott-Raff shows rare skill in her "Character Sketches" Town Hall Tuesday 17th.

Good General Servant wanted to go to Hamilton in a family of two. Apply at this office.

Peat fuel has been tried by several Walkerton residents and with very indifferent success. The House of Refuge people burnt a ton of it in two days.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Last Thursday, Mr. Kress Sr, while going down the cellar stairs, slipped, and in the fall had the misfortune to break his hip bone. He has suffered a great deal, but is now resting easier.

TENDERS WANTED.—For extension and improvements on Durham Presbyterian Church. Tenders for the above will be received by the Managers until Saturday, April 21. Plans and Specifications at McFarlane's Drug Store, Durham. Tenders may be either for parts of the work or for the whole.

The Massey Harris Co. have got out a new Light Binder for the coming season. It has been thoroughly tested and is the easiest running binder in the world. Every farmer should see it.

"Songs of the Empire" as sung by Miss King is well worth the price of admission to the Concert in the Town Hall Tuesday 17th.

THE ENLARGED TORONTO STAR.—The Toronto Daily Star having installed a fast press, with a capacity of 24,000 copies an hour, the paper has been enlarged and greatly improved. It is now regarded as the leading afternoon paper in Ontario. A great feature of the Star is Sam Hunter's cartoons—the best, by the way, to be seen in any paper in Canada. Mr. Hunter's political subjects are enjoyed by politicians of both sides. The humor which he introduces into the cartoons makes them as palatable to Conservatives as they are to Liberals. The Star is a great paper.

THE LATE DONALD McDONALD.—On Tuesday morning of this week Donald McDonald, (Constable) passed away at the ripe age of 71 yrs. Although for many years a great sufferer from Rheumatism, he was always a healthy man and only took to his bed a few weeks ago. He was one of the old and respected pioneers of Bentinck having settled west of Rocky Saugeen nearly 50 years ago and about 30 years ago moved to Durham, where he was for many years constable and health inspector. He leaves as chief mourners his wife 3 sons and 3 daughters. Donald, Hugh and George, the two latter with us, and Mrs. Tait Toronto, Mrs. Wilcoxon and Mrs. Wm Harbottle, Sault Ste. Marie. He is to be buried, to-day, Thursday at 2 p. m.

NOW THE DEVIL'S TURN.—The editor of the Chesley Enterprise reviews Sheldon's attempt to publish a Christian daily paper and finds little to commend and much to condemn. This interesting paragraph shows: "As an advertising scheme it was a great success, and has led the editor of the Bloomington Star to experiment on the opposite extreme by turning over his office and paper for one week to the devil. No church notices, reading matter or advertisements of a religious nature will appear in the Star while the devil is having full swing. We have not the slightest doubt that the devil's edition for one week will be as great a financial success as Sheldon's. We would like to get hold of a few copies, because Old Nick is not the first to presume that he could run a newspaper better than the editor."

THE LATE MISS KATIE FIRTH.—On Sunday morning last after two months' patient suffering Miss Katie Firth, of Zion, Glenelg, a young lady of great promise, breathed her last. Deceased was taken ill in January and though seen to be seriously ill, certain rallies she made gave hope of possible recovery but such was not to be. She bore her sickness very patiently and with Christian fortitude, and her removal at the threshold of mature life, with many graces and gifts which endeared her to all, both young and old, is deeply regretted. She was just 2 months over 21 years of age, and was the youngest of three daughter and three sons, children of Wm. Firth and his first wife, Katherine McFayden, a sister to the McFayden's of the 2nd Concession. As a worker in Church and Sunday school she will be greatly missed. The funeral took place on Tuesday at Zion cemetery and was largely attended, her pastor, Rev. Mr. Ferguson conducting touching and appropriate services. Losing her mother at her birth, she was brought up with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Firth, to whom she was much attached, and who loved her devotedly in return. Her brothers Hugh, Joseph, and Wm. John and sister Minnie are all near by, her eldest sister Martha is Mrs. Dedde, of Berkley.

THE MILLINERY OPENINGS.

The word "April" Latin scholars tell us comes from "Aperio," to open, and it is generally explained that this name was applied to that season because then the buds began to open to the genial warmth of Spring. This may be correct but we have a lingering suspicion this week, that 'Aperio' must have been taken from the practice of some old Roman Milliners who no doubt had something more brilliant for the heads of Roman maids and matrons than the folded cloth or cloak or toga which pictures of the time represent. Yes, no doubt, patrician or plebeian paterfamilias would open his eyes (as his modern compeer does) as he opened the door of some ancient millinery establishment on opening day in a far away B. C. year before the opening of the Christian era. And as he gazed on the gorgeous colors and now forgotten shapes of the time among which his wife or daughter was revelling, no doubt his heart opened, and by and by his purse would open, and perhaps as he heard the price his eyes would open again still wider. Yes, this must be the meaning of Millinery "opening."

Anyway the season is with us again of lovely shapes and "creations" in ladies' headwear and even here we learn with some surprise, the war has made its mark in a larger display than usual of dark effects in touch with English fashions, where many are in morning. However on entering the establishment of

S. F. MORLOCK.

We find everything as bright as ever with the draping arranged by the artistic eyes and hands of Miss Slack, presenting an attractive appearance. Bright ribbons on a background of lace were pleasantly arranged, and full supplies of standard millinery, such as sailor and walking hats, etc., etc.

The first we notice is a large picture hat, made of black shirred chiffon with a full edge of black satin straw braid, three black tips gracefully falling at the left side, a rich cluster of pink silk morning-glories catching it up at the left side, handsome pair of black chiffon ties caught with a rhinestone buckle finishing it at the back.

There is a pretty thing in the popular "Hobbs" hat made in burnt orange and black, black chiffon shirred facing. The flaring front is trimmed with burnt orange tacked chiffon having a beautiful bunch of black flowing ospreys caught with a black chiffon rosette in front.

Turbans are an attractive style this year, and a striking one which never fails to catch the eye is a Spanish turban made in violet and cream, huge rosettes in front along with a massive bunch of double violets. The soft roll going around the crown is draped with handsome cream lace caught with a rhinestone buckle at back.

Then we have something new in a Tuscan Stray Sheperless trimmed with bands of black velvet ribbon, huge rosettes of white chiffon, black ospreys and orange blossoms completing a beauty.

Then there is the "Amazon", and the "Unique" the former in pastel pink, the latter in pastel green, with attractive trimmings. A Child's Leghorn hat, with rosettes and dainty flowers in front should be seen, and so should a swath of Misses Hats, Ladies' bonnets, Mourning turbans &c. &c.

IRELAND & CO.
 Passing up stairs into the cozy and well-lit rooms of this new and enterprising firm we find Miss Dick in charge, and loyally had she worked in the British and Canadian colors with the usual gay drappings and adornments of her fine millinery exhibit.

We notice first amongst her display a large hat of black fancy straw, the brim faced with folds of black tulle finished with a bunch of pastel blue roses and trimmed with a cluster of black ostrich tips.

Less noticeable perhaps, but to us more attractive was a Panama sailor trimmed on right side with the lower bow and strap of black velvet ribbon and 12 rhinestone buckles finished with a large bunch of black double violets.

The Fontainebleau in Tuscan white horsehair and white chiffon is both swish and stylish. The brim is of sailor shape over which is drawn a scarf of Tuscan braid and white chiffon. The crown and side crown is composed of crown and side crown is composed of same in pearl effect. On the left side is an immense 'chou' of white chiffon and aigrette; on band is a bow of white fawn velvet.

Miss Dick has been gratified at the success attending her first work in Durham and in visit to her tasteful show-rooms will repay anyone interested in millinery.

MISS CULBERTSON.
 Miss Culbertson's modest little sign-board in a quiet part of the town is not the only drawing influence to her show rooms. As usual her fine taste and knowledge of the community's needs in millinery has been used to provide a display which is fully up to the average.
