COMING TO THE COAST.

Canadian Chinese Missionaries are Coming to the Coast.

As is well known, the Presbyterian Church in Canada has a large number of missionaries in the Provnce of Honan, China. Considerable anxiety is felt at the present time with reference to these. A cable from Cleefu, via London, England, on July 2nd, reported that missionaries were making their way to the coast from all northern provinces; that a steamer sent out by the American and other consuls at Cheefu had arrived at Cheefu on Saturday last with 73 refugees, comprising 33 Americans, 29 English and 10 Canadians from Honan and Shentang: that others were coming to the coast, for whom another steamer had been sent, and that the Japanese had offered Japanese transports to convey the missionaries and others to Japan. Rev. Dr. Warden on Tuesday cabled to the American consul at Cheefu asking for definite intelligence regarding the Canadian missionaries. No reply has thus far been received to

In yesterday's papers there was a cablegram from Shanghai, via London, to the effect that Jamleson, the engineer of the Pekin syndicate, had telegraphed from Kiafang that he and his party of engineers and Canadian missionaries were retiring to Siangyan and thence to Hankow.
