JA HUNTER

ON A HOLIDAY JAUNT.
POINTS OF INTEREST IN AND AROUND
EDINBURGH AND MANCHESTER.

Edinburgh, Scotland, July 9, 1900.—We landed at Liverpool shortly after seven o'clock on the morning of the 3rd inst. and, as soon as we got through with the custom house officials went out to arrange for our return ocean passage and to get a glimpse of the first English city in which we had set our foot. On our way we met an elderly Englishman whose coat showed indications of having seen a considerable amount of service, who greeted us with an amused grin which seemed to say you Canadians call us "greenhorns" and "tenderfeet" but it is our turn to laugh now. One of the first things to strike the visitor is the narrowness of many of the streets adjoining the walf. We saw some fine stone houses, and one beautiful square, but our stay in the city was too short for us to gather any true conception of its size or beauty.

Soon we were on our way to Manchester, a distance of about 40 miles, which we travelled in three-quarters of an hour. The country through which we passed is flat and in places somewhat low-lying. Such fields as there are are small. In this land of factories there is hardly room for the farmer. Tall chimneys and factory smoke are everywhere. Every mile or so there is a village, or town, and every village has one or more, tall chimneys. Cotton spinning and cotton weaving are the chief industries of this part of the country.

Manchester itself is a substantial city built mostly of dark red brick. Its very soil is dark red. In the smoke of its many factories and chemical works every building soon becomes a dingy black. For one cause and another Manchester's trade is not at its best just now. A short crop of cotton has raised the price of the raw material that many of the mills are not running much more than half time. In addition to this the war in South Africa has damaged the trade, and the anxiety and trouble in China threatens to close for the meantime Manchester's best market. One of the city's most interesting buildings is the cathedral, which dates back to the sixteenth century. Its every window is a study, only the artist's brush has so entirely covered the glass as to produce within "the dim religious light." Under it the dead of a former age lie buried and the slabs which record the names and the deeds of such as found sepulture there have become so worn with the feet of later generations as to render many of the epitaphs unreadable.

On Saturday we set out for Edinburgh by the Midland Railway, which has its course along the watershed of the country. Fields enclosed by bridges, and often surrounded with trees, stretched out below us on either side, rising in gradual slope to the summit of the distant ridge. At times the train moved along the surface of the earth, sometimes the embankment raised it above the surface, and every few miles it tunneled its way under the hill. Onward, ever onward, we went. The green hedges gave place to stone dykes, the fertile fields to stone-covered and rocky soil. The many old kilns we passed, together with an occasional modern one, revealed the fact that we were in a limestone country. Onward still and the Cheviot Hills came into view and the train was at last supplied in the shape of two houses of accommodation for travelers and large commodious stables attached with moderate charges; kept by C. McMillan and C. Drumm respectively.

THE KING OF ALL KIDNEY MEDICINES

Is Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablet. A medicine designed purposely for the kidney and bladder. One that once used holds a steady place in every heart and household. Curing the terrible pains, aches, soreness and nervousness caused by kidney trouble; soothing the irritable bladder troubles of the aged, and the nightly troubles of childhood. A medicine sure, safe, and pleasant in effect. One that by its singleness of purpose appeals to the common sense of every reasonable thinking individual. A medicine always backed by written proof like the following.

Mr. Fred Ineson, 19 Char'les St., Toronto Junction, says,—"Latterly I had been suffering from a constant lameness in the small of my back, and much of the time it was accompanied by a dull aching across my hips. My kidneys were not right I know; I had much annoyance from the secretions. I was not getting any better; the remedies that I had been using seemed to be unable to remove the difficulty. Nearly two months ago I heard of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and got a bottle. I am pleased to say that I had struck the right thing at last. Both the lameness across the kidneys and that grinding pain in my back were removed. My Kidneys were invigorated, and I am recommending the Tablets to my acquaintances."

Any reader of this paper can test the merits of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets free by enclosing two cents postage for trial package to the Pitcher Tablet Co., Toronto, Ont. Regular size 50c per bottle.

pulled up at Carlisle, where Mary, Queen of Scotland was imprisoned by her cousin, Elizabeth of England, where many a raid from the north terminated. Soon we crossed the Eek and saw Netherby Hall, from which the gallant knight stole his lady love after she had just vowed to be another's. With her mounted on his charger beside him he rode on.

He staid not for brake, he stopped not for stone. He swam the Eek River, where ford there was none.

"There was racing and chasing on Canobie Lea, But the lost bride of Netherby ne'er did they see.

Through the Scott country we passed. Away at some distance we saw the roof of Abbotford. But trains stop not that curious passengers may view interesting scenes. Melrose and Portobella were soon left behind. Under the Calton Hill the train rushed. There was a moment of darkness and in the returning light we saw Edinburgh.

WORKING FOR CANADA.

We were much pleased to be favored lately with a copy of the Canadian Gazette, published in London, England, and pleased to see in it a sketch of "A Spring Tour in Manitoba" by J. J. Haslett, son-in-law of Mr. Thos. Lauder of this town, and a man who has done a very great deal for the West. He is employed in the government Colonization offices and has now a wide experience of the North West and of transportation matters.

Arriving in Winnipeg April 16 in "warm spring-like weather," and "seeing all my passengers located or about to be so" he started on a trip for purposes of comparison. He says: "Taking the Deloraine branch, I went through Morden, Crystal City, Clearwater, Boissevain, Whitewater, Deloraine, Souris, Brandon, Carberry, Portage la Prairie, etc.—everywhere prosperous towns and hamlets. The farmers must be doing well, if we may judge by their finely built houses and outbuildings. Another noticeable thing is the small groves of trees planted around the house and buildings, giving each place a very nice appearance, as well as being of great benefit during the cold weather of winter and the warm summer. Everywhere is to be seen magnificent thoroughbred stock. Mr. Greenway, ex-Premier of Manitoba, of Crystal City, carries off the palm, he having a cattle in the western country. He is a prize-winner not only in Canada, but also at the State fair of Minnesota, held at St. Paul. No farmer in the West works to better advantage than Mr. Greenway, utilizing his straw for feeding purposes, and thus having plenty of fertilising matter for his large farm. Mixed farming is now almost universal throughout the West, instead of exclusive wheat-growing, as in early days, and this mixed system enables the farmer, no matter what the season may be, to push through with a profit.

At all the small towns we noticed stores and shops, with splendid large brick schools and churches, which impress upon you the fact that the residents are permanent and prosperous.

Coming back to Winnipeg, I spent several days looking around and making notes on the improvements going on. In 1899 over 1,500,000 dols. was spent in new buildings in Winnipeg; and the total for 1900 will be ever that amount. Winnipeg population is increasing so fast that a few more years will see it over 100,000; it is now 55,000. This is destined to be one of the great, greatest, cities in the Dominion. Coming east to Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, and Montreal, one sees everywhere how prosperous Canada is.

To close, I can only reiterate what I have have often said before, Manitoba and the North-West offer great opportunities to the man possessed of small capital and pluck. Stay with the country after settling, and it will reward you with comfort and luxury in your older days.

ADVERTISING PAYS

provided that the advertiser is able to do what he advertises to do and a man is a fool to pay good money for advertising what he is not able to carry out for the public soon find out that such a man is a deception and a fraud. I am not professing to do business 'for fun or entirely for the other fellow's benefit but I have found during the twenty years that I have been doing business in Hanover and Durham that I can make the most money for my self by doing the very best I can in every instance to save money for my customers. Every customer who once does business with me to his own profit continues to patronize me and gives me, not only his business, but his influence and this accounts for the very large business that I am doing to-day. Farmers are now busy and will not be paying much attention to business affairs while busily engaged on their farms. Some of them, however, will require to borrow money and I wish to say that I am at present lending at five per cent and in some cases at less. I am also paying closer attention than ever before to the collection of old debts and claims placed in my hands will be collected if it is possible by any means in the world to get the money—no charge for my trouble if nothing collected. I also buy old notes. I have had great success in settling up and arranging business entanglements and difficulties and in making settlements with creditors and any such business placed in my hands will be faithfully attended to the profit, I think, of them who deal with me. I have always a number of farms in hand which I am able to sell at very low figures and on very easy terms. After so long a residence in this locality I have formed a connection with all the leading Loan Companies and when they have farms in hand for sale they are placed in my hands and I am thus always in a position to offer bargains. I have always on hand farms and other properties belonging to myself which I am always ready either to sell or exchange for other property. Just now I happen to have a splendid 100 acre farm and a very fine 64 acre farm, both well situated in Bentinck and each having good buildings. I will sell them or trade them. I also offer at a sacrifice Lot 28, Con. 2, W. G. R., Bentinck, 100 acres, belonging to a man who has gone out west and is bound to sell at some price. I place insurances in good companies at lower rates and in fact attend to all kinds of financial business. My rule continues to be "Always prompt—never negligent.
